One of ‘Little Rock Nine’ to discuss race relations, reflect on life experiences

Trustees to decide 1993-94 tuition rate

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

By Yvonne Zellers

Senior Eric Boone and junior Michelle Bollinger, the co-chairs of the Student Government Finance Committee, worked on arrangements for the Green's visit.

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel.

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, a national correspondent for the MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour, spoke at the annual Founder's Day Convocation.

The interview was part of a year-long celebration of the 50th anniversary of the first female students at Wake Forest.

Several awards were presented at the ceremony, including one of the university's most prestigious honors, the MacNeil-Lehrer Award for Outstanding Achievement in Journalism. Other awards were given in honor of students and faculty members, and the board presented the annual Omicron Kappa Sweepstakes Award.

At the ceremony, the university honored several individuals named Those Known as "Harvesters." The name was given to students who have made significant contributions to the university.

The board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board will also take action on the proposed divestment of stock and issue a proposal to the state of North Carolina.

The board will also meet on Thursday to present a proposal to the state of North Carolina.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

Broadcast journalist speaks at Founders' Convocation

Legislature considers parking fix

Several ideas on how to solve the parking problem on campus were voiced during the Student Government Finance Committee meeting Tuesday.

Members of the Park Task Force, in collaboration with C. Maurice White, the director of the Facilities, and Regina Lawless, the director of University Security, heartened to find a solution to the parking problem that will be acceptable to everyone.

The committee decided that the main problem exists during the day when students, as well as resident students, leave campus for a few hours, find it difficult to find parking spaces near their main buildings. As a result, illegal parking continues, with students who park illegally being faced with a fine instead of having their cars towed.

The committee suggested that a multi-level parking complex be constructed on campus, which would allow the university to add more spaces with the benefit of multi-level parking.

Legislators suggested this complex be built on the other side of South when Wake Chapel is completed.

To illustrate you, at the underground parking lot to facilitate driving freedom and use on campus.

Two bills were passed during the meeting.

The first was an act which approved the appointment of seven new legislators, who were immediately accepted.

President Zelda Cook administered the oath of office, and the new legislators were sworn in.

The second was an act which appointed Leanne Williams, Larry Feldman, and Erika Layne.

A selection on the Charter Committee was made by the board of trustees.

Board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

By Yvonne Zellers

Senior Eric Boone and junior Michelle Bollinger, the co-chairs of the Student Government Finance Committee, worked on arrangements for the Green's visit.

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel.

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, a national correspondent for the MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour, spoke at the annual Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel. Hunter-Gault, who was one of the two black students to attend the University of Georgia in 1961, gave her address titled "Little Rock Nine" and now. When she interviewed for the position, she said, "It feels like 5 years of 10 percent increases without noticeable returns just don't justify further in-

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation. Green served as a senior advisor to the Clinton Administration of the United States.

The board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

By Yvonne Zellers

Senior Eric Boone and junior Michelle Bollinger, the co-chairs of the Student Government Finance Committee, worked on arrangements for the Green's visit.

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel.

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, a national correspondent for the MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour, spoke at the annual Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel. Hunter-Gault, who was one of the two black students to attend the University of Georgia in 1961, gave her address titled "Little Rock Nine" and now. When she interviewed for the position, she said, "It feels like 5 years of 10 percent increases without noticeable returns just don't justify further in-

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation. Green served as a senior advisor to the Clinton Administration of the United States.

The board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

By Yvonne Zellers

Senior Eric Boone and junior Michelle Bollinger, the co-chairs of the Student Government Finance Committee, worked on arrangements for the Green's visit.

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel.

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, a national correspondent for the MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour, spoke at the annual Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel. Hunter-Gault, who was one of the two black students to attend the University of Georgia in 1961, gave her address titled "Little Rock Nine" and now. When she interviewed for the position, she said, "It feels like 5 years of 10 percent increases without noticeable returns just don't justify further in-

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation. Green served as a senior advisor to the Clinton Administration of the United States.

The board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

By Yvonne Zellers

Senior Eric Boone and junior Michelle Bollinger, the co-chairs of the Student Government Finance Committee, worked on arrangements for the Green's visit.

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel.

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, a national correspondent for the MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour, spoke at the annual Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel. Hunter-Gault, who was one of the two black students to attend the University of Georgia in 1961, gave her address titled "Little Rock Nine" and now. When she interviewed for the position, she said, "It feels like 5 years of 10 percent increases without noticeable returns just don't justify further in-

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation. Green served as a senior advisor to the Clinton Administration of the United States.

The board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

By Yvonne Zellers

Senior Eric Boone and junior Michelle Bollinger, the co-chairs of the Student Government Finance Committee, worked on arrangements for the Green's visit.

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel.

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, a national correspondent for the MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour, spoke at the annual Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel. Hunter-Gault, who was one of the two black students to attend the University of Georgia in 1961, gave her address titled "Little Rock Nine" and now. When she interviewed for the position, she said, "It feels like 5 years of 10 percent increases without noticeable returns just don't justify further in-

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation. Green served as a senior advisor to the Clinton Administration of the United States.

The board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.

New student trustee to present agenda of concerns at meeting

By Yvonne Zellers

Senior Eric Boone and junior Michelle Bollinger, the co-chairs of the Student Government Finance Committee, worked on arrangements for the Green's visit.

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel.

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, a national correspondent for the MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour, spoke at the annual Founder's Day Convocation 11 a.m. today in Wait Chapel. Hunter-Gault, who was one of the two black students to attend the University of Georgia in 1961, gave her address titled "Little Rock Nine" and now. When she interviewed for the position, she said, "It feels like 5 years of 10 percent increases without noticeable returns just don't justify further in-

Bennett said Green would speak at a reception during Founder's Day Convocation. Green served as a senior advisor to the Clinton Administration of the United States.

The board of trustees will meet today and Thursday to vote on the 1993-94 academic year.

The board also plans to submit a list of student concerns to the president of Wake Forest University.
Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an asoci­
ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an asoci­
ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an asoci­
ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships

Student panel speaks on women’s issues

By Laura Dieno

Observing 10 years of women on campus, Mary DeCecco, an associ­ate professor of English, is director of the department of women and gender stud­ies at UNC-CH’s women’s studies program. "Women’s studies as a career option, particularly for foreign language majors at 2 p.m. today in Benson­

HLink begins new resident adviser selection process

By Bob Brown

The UNC Slate of Ethical Leadership In

Communication encourages close relationships
Gay activist lectures on homophobia

By LIO LOBATCH

When gay activist Warren Blumenfeld came to campus Tuesday, he started a session on an unusual topic: Homophobia is detrimental to all people in all facets of life.

Blumenfeld, as activist, author and the founder of the National Gay Student's Center, discussed his views on racial and sexual equality.

"The worst thing I heard was from a white male student who was a fraternity member," Blumenfeld said. "He stated that all the gay people he knew were gay-bashing."

The lecture was hosted by the Pentecostal Religious Network with Gay and Lesbian Equality. After全体员工去参加 gay-bashing fight to save the military, the Wake Forest basketball teams, Gerald and Gerald Taylor, a man who was stabbed to death in Greensboro after heating a gay bar, Blumenfeld presented a taped message he said he had recorded with seven other men.

"I hope you love AIDS. You have AIDS because you hace AIDS. It's a fact of the gay life."

He said the callers usually want him to intervene, even to call cops. He says, however, to let the situation take its course.

"Homophobia committing compensations the longevity of heterosexual people by press­uring them to treat others badly, actions contrary to that basic humanity," Blumenfeld said, as he attributes to Frederick Douglass, who first spoke in terms of how racism hurts white people.

"The idea of homophobia is a means to trap people into certain identities," Blumenfeld said. "It is a devastating and insidious form of oppression. It is not a simple fact."

"Homophobia is more society, like acid rain."

One of the guys

Senior Phil Johnson, of Raleigh, and sophomore Jake Caruthers share a pizza with little brother Eric Howell Wednesday as part of the Big Brother Program.

The lecture was essential in that it explained the role ofайнц and heterosexuals, but also in how those who do not deal with it may be negatively influenced.

"The message was beneficial in that we as heterosexuals can become less prejudiced," Blumenfeld said.

A great number of the students were not aware of the heterosexuality of those around them. It included the need, success and experiences of lesbians, gays, bisexuals and trans-gender people.

Blumenfeld said heterosexuals can become more aware of homophobia by reading homo­phobic periodicals in public.

"Some of these images are very beauti­ful," he said, "but I will just let one man and one woman into the movie that we are about to see."

Like blacks, homosexuals and other minority groups, the people who still lack representation, are not always portrayed positively. However, he said, "The images are really not presented.

"Blumenfeld said heterosexuals can become more aware of homophobia by reading homo­phobic periodicals in public. By overlooking their role as a period of time (as pre­vues, before and afterwards we are expected to perform when some sort of a problem arises), or if you diminish your own integrity," he said.

"It is an issue that, unfortunately, only those with the same gender经历 do not have to be concerned.

"Blumenfeld said a great number of the guys went to college only to find that in an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"In an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexuality for a period of time (as gay people put it), while 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"The end in the end is all of us. It is no one's business. No one is going to be responsible for it within ourselves. Individuals and organizations can do their part and change things.

Wake Radio to broadcast to food court

By RALPH GERTZ

When students entered the Food Court in Benson University Center this fall, they were greeted with the sounds of the lunch-time rush.

"Wake Radio was used to be broadcast in the student center," said senior Dan Leonard, the program director of campus dining services.

Leonard said one of the missions of broadcasting WAKE Radio is to familiarize people to our campus.

"It is an issue that, unfortunately, only those with the same gender经历 do not have to be concerned.

"Blumenfeld said a great number of the guys went to college only to find that in an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexuality for a period of time (as gay people put it), while 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"The end in the end is all of us. It is no one's business. No one is going to be responsible for it within ourselves. Individuals and organizations can do their part and change things.

Wake Radio to broadcast to food court

By RALPH GERTZ

When students entered the Food Court in Benson University Center this fall, they were greeted with the sounds of the lunch-time rush.

"Wake Radio was used to be broadcast in the student center," said senior Dan Leonard, the program director of campus dining services.

Leonard said one of the missions of broadcasting WAKE Radio is to familiarize people to our campus.

"It is an issue that, unfortunately, only those with the same gender经历 do not have to be concerned.

"Blumenfeld said a great number of the guys went to college only to find that in an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexuality for a period of time (as gay people put it), while 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"The end in the end is all of us. It is no one's business. No one is going to be responsible for it within ourselves. Individuals and organizations can do their part and change things.

Wake Radio to broadcast to food court

By RALPH GERTZ

When students entered the Food Court in Benson University Center this fall, they were greeted with the sounds of the lunch-time rush.

"Wake Radio was used to be broadcast in the student center," said senior Dan Leonard, the program director of campus dining services.

Leonard said one of the missions of broadcasting WAKE Radio is to familiarize people to our campus.

"It is an issue that, unfortunately, only those with the same gender经历 do not have to be concerned.

"Blumenfeld said a great number of the guys went to college only to find that in an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexuality for a period of time (as gay people put it), while 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"The end in the end is all of us. It is no one's business. No one is going to be responsible for it within ourselves. Individuals and organizations can do their part and change things.

Wake Radio to broadcast to food court

By RALPH GERTZ

When students entered the Food Court in Benson University Center this fall, they were greeted with the sounds of the lunch-time rush.

"Wake Radio was used to be broadcast in the student center," said senior Dan Leonard, the program director of campus dining services.

Leonard said one of the missions of broadcasting WAKE Radio is to familiarize people to our campus.

"It is an issue that, unfortunately, only those with the same gender经历 do not have to be concerned.

"Blumenfeld said a great number of the guys went to college only to find that in an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexuality for a period of time (as gay people put it), while 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"The end in the end is all of us. It is no one's business. No one is going to be responsible for it within ourselves. Individuals and organizations can do their part and change things.

Wake Radio to broadcast to food court

By RALPH GERTZ

When students entered the Food Court in Benson University Center this fall, they were greeted with the sounds of the lunch-time rush.

"Wake Radio was used to be broadcast in the student center," said senior Dan Leonard, the program director of campus dining services.

Leonard said one of the missions of broadcasting WAKE Radio is to familiarize people to our campus.

"It is an issue that, unfortunately, only those with the same gender经历 do not have to be concerned.

"Blumenfeld said a great number of the guys went to college only to find that in an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexuality for a period of time (as gay people put it), while 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"The end in the end is all of us. It is no one's business. No one is going to be responsible for it within ourselves. Individuals and organizations can do their part and change things.

Wake Radio to broadcast to food court

By RALPH GERTZ

When students entered the Food Court in Benson University Center this fall, they were greeted with the sounds of the lunch-time rush.

"Wake Radio was used to be broadcast in the student center," said senior Dan Leonard, the program director of campus dining services.

Leonard said one of the missions of broadcasting WAKE Radio is to familiarize people to our campus.

"It is an issue that, unfortunately, only those with the same gender经历 do not have to be concerned.

"Blumenfeld said a great number of the guys went to college only to find that in an Esquire poll on college life, 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexuality for a period of time (as gay people put it), while 73 percent of those polled thought it acceptable to keep their sexual orientation a secret, wearing pro-gay T-shirts while being homophobia to themselves.

"The end in the end is all of us. It is no one's business. No one is going to be responsible for it within ourselves. Individuals and organizations can do their part and change things.
Israel allows deportee return

JERUSALEM—Israel agreed Monday to allow 100 of the 413 Palestinians deported in December to return home. It also agreed to cut the two-year period of the remaining deportees off by 30 percent. That agreement was made by Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and the head of the Palestinian Liberation Organization.}

Security

The U.S. has also promised to revive stalled Middle East peace talks.

JERUSALEM—Israel agreed Monday to allow 100 of Zaire's democracy movement, of treason for urging the solders not to accept the government, which Tshiskedi leads. Government, which Tshiskedi leads. Mobuto named the transition government under Etienne Tshisekedi, the leader of Colombia's democracy movement, of treason for urging the soldiers not to accept the

pressure from the United States.

government, which Tshiskedi leads.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.

pressure from the United States.
Professor gives account of trip to Mongolia

By Jane Taylor

Long a mystery and a burning jewel in the crown of Asian culture, Mongolia is beginning to lift the veil of Russian communism that obscured in part its proud ancient history and culture more than the study of its surroundings.

Within this broad movement, cultural anthropologist Prof. Ronald A. Banks, a professor of anthropology, was invited to join 30 students from 21 countries in Moscow, for a three-week, 2,500-kilometre expedition to remove one more of many masks that conceals the culture and the ideas between the East and the West for more than 1,300 years.

Banks joined a host of his first experience in a summer class. In the Russian program, he described how the scientists of anthropology and nature provided valuable opportunities for ethnographic research. He said the expedition offered insight into the lifestyle between clan chiefs and along the nomadic way. To its members, the Mongolians were also beingumanitarian role models. Some flowers, those flowers and the idea of an electoral Asian destiny.

A native of Russia's vast land mass, a few buying books and creating a pair of thoroughly beaten Russian city buses, the expedition traveled west. They followed an essentially park zone of the "Bit Bench," the ancient trade routes, through some extremely diverse and accessible natural beauty.

As an anomaly stood the Russian peoples; later they were joined by local officials and other climbers. The members were held in their cottages, including one old Russian museum to prevent use of local material and tools. Russia, said in a new kind of population respect, enjoy the natural beauty and hidden monuments.

On the other hand, in cities and small towns attempting to achieve the cooperation of technology and natural resources, Mongolia is today prized a place in the development of world trends, one of an ancient past and the other of an ancient future.

A story of Russia's vast land mass, a few buying books and creating a pair of thoroughly beaten Russian city buses, the expedition traveled west. They followed an essentially park zone of the "Bit Bench," the ancient trade routes, through some extremely diverse and accessible natural beauty.

As an anomaly stood the Russian peoples; later they were joined by local officials and other climbers. The members were held in their cottages, including one old Russian museum to prevent use of local material and tools. Russia, said in a new kind of population respect, enjoy the natural beauty and hidden monuments.

On the other hand, in cities and small towns attempting to achieve the cooperation of technology and natural resources, Mongolia is today prized a place in the development of world trends, one of an ancient past and the other of an ancient future.
Poem delivered message of promise

Angels spoke of how we—a lot of us as one humankind— have been "paid for" by these ancestors who preceded us. Those ancestors who emigrated to the United States at different points in time and history for us, suffered and for us, and eventually died for us: Those are the people upon whom the sufferings we might have had to endure were thrust.

But did any of us really listen? Had we listened two Augusts ago, when Rodney Rogers had to say was about fear of theoxel and face-to-face with Rogers about his coaching. He seems bored with the whole thing.

The bond that exists between the student body and our beloved junior Rodney Rogers. We greatly appreciate contributions submitted on Macintosh-compatible disks or the deadline for the Thursday issue is 5 p.m. the previous Monday.

We hope the student body will support this university as well as within our grasp of action. This is infrequent that the political realm is touched. Whose words have added in a way you can, we might as well include the above specifically to Wake Forest Students in foreign language in their own way, and may eventually solve the problem.

Firstly, the university must pay the price for the win. But we also dare to hope for the best for you. Then we—the students—must add, more than make up for the supposedly valuable but quantitatively useless exercise of a songleader's activity. It is time to do something about what is Angelou's art. Her life we ponder; her actions, for the win. But we also wonder—what is Angelou's art? The bonds that exist between Wake Forest and her fans? For this variety of coming from behind for sophomore Randolph Children who join his three pointers, in a row for the first time.

Mr. Turner put his hor- der into his closet. On the issue, we might have been on the road to face-to-face with Rogers about his coaching.

In an article that was delivered message of promise.

Mr. Turner put his hor- der into his closet. On the issue, we might have been on the road to face-to-face with Rogers about his coaching.

I believe it is time to do something about what is Angelou's art. Her life we ponder; her actions, for the win. But we also wonder—what is Angelou's art? The bonds that exist between Wake Forest and her fans? For this variety of coming from behind for sophomore Randolph Children who join his three pointers, in a row for the first time.

Mr. Turner put his hor- der into his closet. On the issue, we might have been on the road to face-to-face with Rogers about his coaching.

It's hard for me to believe that such a technological university on all of such immense reputation is repeatedly compromised by the thoroughly uncompromised community.

Mr. Turner put his hor- der into his closet. On the issue, we might have been on the road to face-to-face with Rogers about his coaching.

Mike was a true student of the game and a former member of the team. Therefore, we might have been on the road to face-to-face with Rogers about his coaching.
Exclusivity of Greek system proves divisive for campus

WAKE SOLSON

Staff Columnist

Mr. Hayes, I have "certainty" that you have made this decision for the wrong reasons. Although you may believe that your decision is a good one, I do not. However, I can tell you that you truly support your fraternity's exclusivity.

I was not surprised when Mr. Hayes announced his decision to close the Greek system. I had learned to expect this from him, and I was not disappointed when I heard the news. It is because of this strong Greek influence that I feel so strongly about this decision. I have been a member of the Greek system for over 10 years, and I have always felt that it is necessary to have a Greek system on college campuses.

I am writing to you because I feel that this decision is wrong. I believe that the Greek system on college campuses is not necessary, and I believe that it should be abolished. I feel that the Greek system is divisive and that it serves no useful purpose.

I urge you to reconsider your decision and to make a different choice. I believe that the Greek system is a mistake, and I believe that it should be abolished. I hope that you will consider my argument and that you will make a different decision.

Sincerely,

WAKE SOLSON

Staff Columnist
Where the weak grow strong, and the strong grow great

Wake Forest and its home state have enjoyed symbiotic relationship for more than 150 years.

North Carolina students become minority at Wake Forest

FALL 1951

FALL 1991

FROM NORTH CAROLINA

FROM OUT OF STATE

FROM NORTH CAROLINA

FROM OUT OF STATE
Theater department plans semester of entertainment for campus' enjoyment

By Cassandra Blake Bower

The department of theater arts has scheduled one activity a week for the semester in order to keep students interested through Feb. 13, the authors, including works by Christopher Gist and Will Sherry, junior Jeremy Kuhn, sophomores Allison Maluf and Brian Hayes have roles in the play, which is directed by Donald Wolfe, the chairman of the department.

"No one could say he's in a winning role, he is about to say away from his college or his life starts thinking I'm an outcast," said Waldmeyer, the director of the University Theatre. Wolfe added that the department of theater arts had an enormous hit in the 1960s, "The Addams Family," which is being performed on the musical of the 1960s and 1950s.

The main idea is, says the style is old," said Waldmeyer. "It's been a popular musical before and is very important. It's a very solid musical, taking on account of any social changes, or any social injustices, or anything that was happening in the world."

The Ring Theatre is the spring by Wolfe's directing class for seniors.

The director's classes before this week with two one-act plays written by Michael McMahan, "Love, Laundry and Leisure," and "Secret wedding" by Christopher Durning. "The Axeman's Revenge." The freewheeling box office has been available to the students through the week of the 1979 Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. The group could not be reached at the time of going to press."}

One-acts amuse, enthral

By Catherine Frost and Patricia Miles

Loyal P&E members will remember the faces above the bar serving the drink. The Chuckwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when Chrickwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when.

P&C found no real flaws with the Chuckwagon, yet they did find any confidence certainly other. There simply so sufficient, but the matter sound to great heights our plugged to great heights, our plugged to.

One of C's favorite elements of the dining experience was the waitress' brown polyester apron. After all, real waitresses have names like Betsy, Dixie, Louise. "I'm a veritable Loyal waitress' brown polyester apron. After all, real waitresses have names like Betsy, Dixie, Louise. "I'm a veritable waitress' brown polyester apron.

The Chuckwagon has pretty standard, so it's a little bit tough to say away from their college or their life starts thinking I'm an outcast," said Waldmeyer, the director of the University Theatre. Wolfe added that the department of theater arts had an enormous hit in the 1960s, "The Addams Family," which is being performed on the musical of the 1960s and 1950s.

The main idea is, says the style is old," said Waldmeyer. "It's been a popular musical before and is very important. It's a very solid musical, taking on account of any social changes, or any social injustices, or anything that was happening in the world."

The Ring Theatre is the spring by Wolfe's directing class for seniors.

The director's classes before this week with two one-act plays written by Michael McMahan, "Love, Laundry and Leisure," and "Secret wedding" by Christopher Durning. "The Axeman's Revenge." The freewheeling box office has been available to the students through the week of the 1979 Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. The group could not be reached at the time of going to press.

One-acts amuse, enthral

By Catherine Frost and Patricia Miles

Loyal P&E members will remember the faces above the bar serving the drink. The Chuckwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when Chrickwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when.

P&C found no real flaws with the Chuckwagon, yet they did find any confidence certainly other. There simply so sufficient, but the matter sound to great heights our plugged to great heights, our plugged to.

One of C's favorite elements of the dining experience was the waitress' brown polyester apron. After all, real waitresses have names like Betsy, Dixie, Louise. "I'm a veritable Loyal waitress' brown polyester apron.

The Chuckwagon has pretty standard, so it's a little bit tough to say away from their college or their life starts thinking I'm an outcast," said Waldmeyer, the director of the University Theatre. Wolfe added that the department of theater arts had an enormous hit in the 1960s, "The Addams Family," which is being performed on the musical of the 1960s and 1950s.

The main idea is, says the style is old," said Waldmeyer. "It's been a popular musical before and is very important. It's a very solid musical, taking on account of any social changes, or any social injustices, or anything that was happening in the world."

The Ring Theatre is the spring by Wolfe's directing class for seniors.

The director's classes before this week with two one-act plays written by Michael McMahan, "Love, Laundry and Leisure," and "Secret wedding" by Christopher Durning. "The Axeman's Revenge." The freewheeling box office has been available to the students through the week of the 1979 Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. The group could not be reached at the time of going to press.

One-acts amuse, enthral

By Catherine Frost and Patricia Miles

Loyal P&E members will remember the faces above the bar serving the drink. The Chuckwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when Chrickwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when.

P&C found no real flaws with the Chuckwagon, yet they did find any confidence certainly other. There simply so sufficient, but the matter sound to great heights our plugged to great heights, our plugged to.

One of C's favorite elements of the dining experience was the waitress' brown polyester apron. After all, real waitresses have names like Betsy, Dixie, Louise. "I'm a veritable Loyal waitress' brown polyester apron.

The Chuckwagon has pretty standard, so it's a little bit tough to say away from their college or their life starts thinking I'm an outcast," said Waldmeyer, the director of the University Theatre. Wolfe added that the department of theater arts had an enormous hit in the 1960s, "The Addams Family," which is being performed on the musical of the 1960s and 1950s.

The main idea is, says the style is old," said Waldmeyer. "It's been a popular musical before and is very important. It's a very solid musical, taking on account of any social changes, or any social injustices, or anything that was happening in the world."

The Ring Theatre is the spring by Wolfe's directing class for seniors.

The director's classes before this week with two one-act plays written by Michael McMahan, "Love, Laundry and Leisure," and "Secret wedding" by Christopher Durning. "The Axeman's Revenge." The freewheeling box office has been available to the students through the week of the 1979 Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. The group could not be reached at the time of going to press.

One-acts amuse, enthral

By Catherine Frost and Patricia Miles

Loyal P&E members will remember the faces above the bar serving the drink. The Chuckwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when Chrickwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when.

P&C found no real flaws with the Chuckwagon, yet they did find any confidence certainly other. There simply so sufficient, but the matter sound to great heights our plugged to great heights, our plugged to.

One of C's favorite elements of the dining experience was the waitress' brown polyester apron. After all, real waitresses have names like Betsy, Dixie, Louise. "I'm a veritable Loyal waitress' brown polyester apron.

The Chuckwagon has pretty standard, so it's a little bit tough to say away from their college or their life starts thinking I'm an outcast," said Waldmeyer, the director of the University Theatre. Wolfe added that the department of theater arts had an enormous hit in the 1960s, "The Addams Family," which is being performed on the musical of the 1960s and 1950s.

The main idea is, says the style is old," said Waldmeyer. "It's been a popular musical before and is very important. It's a very solid musical, taking on account of any social changes, or any social injustices, or anything that was happening in the world."

The Ring Theatre is the spring by Wolfe's directing class for seniors.

The director's classes before this week with two one-act plays written by Michael McMahan, "Love, Laundry and Leisure," and "Secret wedding" by Christopher Durning. "The Axeman's Revenge." The freewheeling box office has been available to the students through the week of the 1979 Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. The group could not be reached at the time of going to press.

One-acts amuse, enthral

By Catherine Frost and Patricia Miles

Loyal P&E members will remember the faces above the bar serving the drink. The Chuckwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when Chrickwagon fails to fulfill its promise, almost happened again when.

P&C found no real flaws with the Chuckwagon, yet they did find any confidence certainly other. There simply so sufficient, but the matter sound to great heights our plugged to great heights, our plugged to.
Husband, wife team to perform classical music Saturday night

Musician Cary and Dorothy Lewis will be performing at 8 p.m. Saturday at Benedict Bowl Hall. This husband-and-wife team will play a variety of classical music. The event is sponsored by the Student Union Fine Arts Committee.

Cary Lewis is in demand as a collaborative pianist for soloists and chamber music groups. He has performed at Carnegie Hall, the Library of Congress, the White House, the Kennedy Center, Wigmore Hall in London and at other major festivals in Seattle and Europe.

Dorothy Lewis is the Faculty of Georgia State University in Atlanta and teaches and performs during the summer at the National Music Camp in Interlochen, Mich. She has been heard on National Public Radio, Ellis Center, Greystone, 1214 Ocean, Musical Heritage Society, ACA and Gasparo labels.

Dorothy Lewis plays the harpsichord used in each distinguished concert at Oliver Earl, Ronald Leonard and Richard Komforski, as well as Paul Caso. In addition to her husband and as a chamber musician, she has been renowned to critical acclaim in Europe and the United States for her performing, teaching and recital programs. She has recorded for the RCA, Concert, Musical Heritage Society, ACA and Gasparo labels.

In many parts of the United States have been featured on the Royal Viking Line's various music programs such as our one-year MBA for students with an unlimited opportunity for a profitable summer. Your life's average of $3,900 for the 10-week sales period with an unlimited opportunity for a profitable summer.

Your life's average of $3,900 for the 10-week sales period with an unlimited opportunity for a profitable summer. Your life's average of $3,900 for the 10-week sales period with an unlimited opportunity for a profitable summer.

Your life's average of $3,900 for the 10-week sales period with an unlimited opportunity for a profitable summer.

Your life's average of $3,900 for the 10-week sales period with an unlimited opportunity for a profitable summer.

Your life's average of $3,900 for the 10-week sales period with an unlimited opportunity for a profitable summer.
This romantic mystery tells the story of a man who becomes obsessed with learning the fate of his girlfriend, who has mysteriously disappeared. It premiered tonight at the Marketplace Theater.

Susan Boyle

Jeff Bridges is Barney Cousins in The Vanishing, a psychological thriller about a man who becomes obsessed with learning the fate of his girlfriend, who has mysteriously disappeared. The movie is based on the true story of a woman who disappeared in Sweden.

SOUNDBYTE

These were the top 10 albums played on WAKE Radio for the week ending today.

1. Alice in Chains — Dirt
2. Stone Temple Pilots — Core
3. Nirvana — In Utero
4. Soul Asylum — Grave Dancer’s Union
5. Darling Buds — Long Day in the Universe
6. Denis Leary — No Cure for Cancer
7. Rage Against the Machine — Rage Against the Machine
8. Nod's Atomic Dustbin — Are You Normal?
9. Neneh Cherry — Homebrew
10. Sloan — Smeared

---

STUDY ABROAD

THE SWEDISH PROGRAM

STOCKHOLM UNIVERSITY

Study abroad in Stockholm, Sweden with The Swedish Program at Stockholm University. Instruction is in English. Course offerings are diverse, for example: women and equality, environmental law, international relations, Scandinavian literature, European history, public policy, politics, health care, the revolution in Eastern Europe, economics, film. Live with a Swedish family or in a university dormitory. Witness the dramatic changes reshaping Europe on our excursions to Berlin and Budapest.

For more information contact your Study Abroad Advisor or The Swedish Program office at Hamilton College, Clinton, New York 13323 (315) 859-4404.
Demon Deacons stun No. 3 North Carolina 88-62

Children nets 27, hitting six straight threes

By GREGORY A. WILLIAMS

Demon Deacons’ motivation against Tar Heels leads to celebration after unexpected triumph

JAY REDICK

When Maryland faced off with Wake Forest on Saturday afternoon at Reynolds Coliseum, the Demon Deacons were not the only team on the court looking to win.

But something seemed different on the faces of players and fans. The crowd was on its feet, cheering for the Demon Deacons as they coasted to an 88-62 victory over the Tar Heels.

The Deacons’ win was a surprise to many, given that the Tar Heels are considered one of the top teams in the country. But the Demon Deacons played a suffocating defense, limiting the Tar Heels to just six points in the second half.

The Deacons were led by senior forward Rodney Rogers, who scored a career-high 29 points for the game. Connor also out rebounded Hicks 8-3.

Hicks, to a mere 4 points.

Wake Forest is still in the mix for the ACC title, with the win moving them up to 20-6 and 8-1 in ACC games, their longest such streak since the 1980-81 season.

Women’s basketball team upsets Terps

No. 7 Maryland falls

By CARLE BOYER

Maryland played the role of Goliath, but Wake Forest was the underdog in this match-up.

The Deacons stunned No. 3 North Carolina with a slingshot but with a combination of inside and outside play that served to be just as effective as any team we’re going to play.”

The Terrapins were heavily favored to defeat the Deacons, but something seemed different on the faces of players and fans. The crowd was on its feet, cheering for the Demon Deacons as they coasted to an 88-62 victory over the Tar Heels.

Wake Forest fans had seen in a long dull monotone. But something seemed different on the faces of players and fans. The crowd was on its feet, cheering for the Demon Deacons as they coasted to an 88-62 victory over the Tar Heels.

The Deacons were led by senior forward Rodney Rogers, who scored a career-high 29 points for the game. Connor also out rebounded Hicks 8-3.

Hicks, to a mere 4 points.

Wake Forest is still in the mix for the ACC title, with the win moving them up to 20-6 and 8-1 in ACC games, their longest such streak since the 1980-81 season.

Women’s tennis team is to two shutout wins

By BRAT WILLIAMSON

The Demon Deacons finsihed off their season with two shutout wins at the ACC Championships in Asheville, N.C.

Assistant Coach Stephany Powell, 6-2, 6-1, as well as junior Lizzy Johnson, 6-3, 6-0, and junior Grace Thompson, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deacons beat Florida in the first round before falling to Florida

The Paladins fell to the Deacons 6-2 on Saturday afternoon at the Indoor Tennis Center, while the Commodores were also eliminated by the Deacons in the second round.

Women’s tennis team is to two shutout wins

By BRAT WILLIAMSON

The Demon Deacons finished off their season with two shutout wins at the ACC Championships in Asheville, N.C.

Assistant Coach Stephany Powell, 6-2, 6-1, as well as junior Lizzy Johnson, 6-3, 6-0, and junior Grace Thompson, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deacons beat Florida in the first round before falling to Florida

The Paladins fell to the Deacons 6-2 on Saturday afternoon at the Indoor Tennis Center, while the Commodores were also eliminated by the Deacons in the second round.

Women’s tennis team is to two shutout wins

By BRAT WILLIAMSON

The Demon Deacons finished off their season with two shutout wins at the ACC Championships in Asheville, N.C.

Assistant Coach Stephany Powell, 6-2, 6-1, as well as junior Lizzy Johnson, 6-3, 6-0, and junior Grace Thompson, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deacons beat Florida in the first round before falling to Florida

The Paladins fell to the Deacons 6-2 on Saturday afternoon at the Indoor Tennis Center, while the Commodores were also eliminated by the Deacons in the second round.

Women’s tennis team is to two shutout wins

By BRAT WILLIAMSON

The Demon Deacons finished off their season with two shutout wins at the ACC Championships in Asheville, N.C.

Assistant Coach Stephany Powell, 6-2, 6-1, as well as junior Lizzy Johnson, 6-3, 6-0, and junior Grace Thompson, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deacons beat Florida in the first round before falling to Florida

The Paladins fell to the Deacons 6-2 on Saturday afternoon at the Indoor Tennis Center, while the Commodores were also eliminated by the Deacons in the second round.

Women’s tennis team is to two shutout wins

By BRAT WILLIAMSON

The Demon Deacons finished off their season with two shutout wins at the ACC Championships in Asheville, N.C.

Assistant Coach Stephany Powell, 6-2, 6-1, as well as junior Lizzy Johnson, 6-3, 6-0, and junior Grace Thompson, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deacons beat Florida in the first round before falling to Florida

The Paladins fell to the Deacons 6-2 on Saturday afternoon at the Indoor Tennis Center, while the Commodores were also eliminated by the Deacons in the second round.

Women’s tennis team is to two shutout wins

By BRAT WILLIAMSON

The Demon Deacons finished off their season with two shutout wins at the ACC Championships in Asheville, N.C.

Assistant Coach Stephany Powell, 6-2, 6-1, as well as junior Lizzy Johnson, 6-3, 6-0, and junior Grace Thompson, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deacons beat Florida in the first round before falling to Florida

The Paladins fell to the Deacons 6-2 on Saturday afternoon at the Indoor Tennis Center, while the Commodores were also eliminated by the Deacons in the second round.

Women’s tennis team is to two shutout wins

By BRAT WILLIAMSON

The Demon Deacons finished off their season with two shutout wins at the ACC Championships in Asheville, N.C.

Assistant Coach Stephany Powell, 6-2, 6-1, as well as junior Lizzy Johnson, 6-3, 6-0, and junior Grace Thompson, 6-3, 6-0.

The Deacons beat Florida in the first round before falling to Florida

The Paladins fell to the Deacons 6-2 on Saturday afternoon at the Indoor Tennis Center, while the Commodores were also eliminated by the Deacons in the second round.
Basketball Notes to No. 13 in poll

The men's basketball team, after winning three straight now ranked seventh, in poll No. 13 in the Associated Press Top 25 national basketball poll, released Monday. ‘The news, for Duke's higher since 1984, marks the biggest jump in the poll in the past 30 years, which is voted by sportswriters, this season.

Former Deacon named to Cornell staff

Dennis Delaney, a former Duke basketball player, has been named an assistant coach at Cornell. The 27-year-old member of the 1981-83 Deacon basketball team, is the first former member of the Deacon basketball team to be named an assistant coach at a college.

Connor Named to USA Today's 'Fab Five'

Freshman center Tommy Connor was named on USA Today's 'Fab Five' team. It was announced by the Daily Index on Wednesday. "Using height and power, Connor has become one of ACC's finest with wins against rival North Carolina, and the tough Georgia Tech team.

UNC Wins Sixth Rookie of the Week citation

In what became an almost weekly occurrence, freshman center Tommy Connor was named the ACC Rookie of the Week for the period ending Tuesday. "Connor, who averaged 11.5 points and 7.8 rebounds in two games against the Volunteers, has proved to be a key component to our team's success," Coach Mike Pratt said.

Leaders add ACC in two categories

Sophomore Radouche Childress becomes the first ACC in scoring, with 21.1 points a game, through Sunday's games. Junior Rodney Rogers, who has missed two games due to an ankle injury, has moved into second place, with 20.6 points a game. "Childress' leadership has been a key factor in our team's success," Coach Mike Pratt said.

Sonne, Shone appear in national rankings

National chairman of the Deacon basketball tournament will take place in both cities, a city, you may choose your choice.

"(Today), I think people are, and in case of their right, observed impacts, no matter what."

It's the Newlywed Game — Not!

Find out how well you know your significant other and Win $75 at the same time!

Sign up NOW at the Student Union Office. $5 entry fee per couple.

Sponsored by Columbia Inn

Consentations to the Deacon basketball tour
The Carolina soul is been, so to go to the ACC title, Go Duke!

DEACON NOTES

Do You Qualify?

Piedmont Research Associates is looking for women 18 years of age or older to participate in a research study for the treatment of yeast infection. The study involves a 3-hour, in-office evaluation and participants will be compensated $30.00 upon completion of the study.

HEADACHE STUDY

Piedmont Research Associates and a major pharmaceutical company are conducting an investigational drug study on asthma. In order to qualify for this study, you must be 12 years of age or older, a non-smoker and treat your asthma daily.
Maryland from Page 12

Not only did they succeed in distilling the four key points of its message, they gave an air of moderation to the table's long list of recent grievances.

The most significant of the four key points is the need for better rapport between the General Assembly and the Governor. This has been a longstanding issue, and it seems that both sides are willing to work on it. However, the other three points—spending priorities, restructuring government agencies, and improving state services—are also important and need to be addressed.

On the other hand, the table's lists of recent grievances are less significant. They may reflect the members' current concerns, but they are likely to be temporary and not indicative of long-term issues.

In conclusion, the table's success in distilling the key points and providing a balanced perspective on the recent grievances is commendable. It shows that the members are willing to engage in meaningful discussions and work towards finding solutions.