Reynolds Foundation Will Match Pledges

By PAM HAMMONS

The fact that money gives hope to the new stadium will be matched by the E. H. Reynolds Foundation, which has pledged to match a potential gift. Dollar for dollar, $1 for $1, the foundation said last Tuesday in the weekly Reynolds News.

"The ploy," as described to Dr. E. H. Reynolds, president of the foundation, "is to bring people to the stadium." The money raised will be used to pay for the College's operating budget.

"The goal," as described by Dr. Reynolds, "is to bring people to the stadium." The money raised will be used to pay for the College's operating budget.

Can Stadium Plans Attract Three Million To College?

Stadium drive leaders will be seeking to bring in more than $3 million (for a stadium which is expected to seat 30,000) within the next five years.

Three million dollars is the amount needed to build a stadium which can seat 30,000 people. This amount is needed because the construction of the stadium is expected to cost $3 million and the operating expenses will be $1 million per year.

The money will be raised through the issuance of bonds and loans. The bonds will be sold to investors who will be paid interest on them. The loans will be paid back by the stadium's income from ticket sales.

The stadium will be used for football games, basketball games, and other sporting events. It will also be available for use by the community for other events such as concerts and conventions.

The stadium will be a significant addition to the college and will attract many new students and visitors.

Deferred Rush System Is Both An Asset, Liability

Rumors that deferred pledging has killed Rush at Wake Forest went down the drain last week when it was revealed that the only pledging required was the $250 per pledger fee.

The pledging fee is due to the fact that the college is in a financial crisis and needs the money to make ends meet. However, the deferred pledging system also makes it difficult for students to meet the demands of Rush and may cause them to drop out of the system.

Bunker Hill Nabs The Bug

One campus policeman must be commended for his excellent performance in an unusual occurrence on campus. Bunker Hill demonstrated his superb control of an emergency situation, and adequately and expertly kept the situation under control.

Walking into the lobby of Reynolda Hall last week, Bunker Hill noticed the presence of a small red bug that had been snapped in the building by enthusiastic women at the Bunker Hill meeting. The bug was also present in the building, and Bunker Hill knew that he had to act quickly to keep the situation under control.

The bug was not a problem, but the students were concerned about the situation and asked Bunker Hill for his help. Bunker Hill immediately responded and took action to control the situation. He calmly and expertly kept the students from hyperventilating and assured them that the bug was not a problem.

The situation was handled efficiently, and the students were able to return to their normal activities. Bunker Hill's quick thinking and calm demeanor were instrumental in controlling the situation and preventing any further incidents.

One student fund is a Student Fund, which is a type of fund that is used to support student activities. The Student Fund is a major source of funding for Wake Forest's student activities, and it is used to support a wide range of activities, including athletics, academic programs, and student organizations.

The Student Fund is managed by a group of students who are elected to represent the student body. The students are responsible for overseeing the fund and ensuring that it is used for the benefit of the student body.

The Student Fund is an important part of Wake Forest's commitment to providing a high-quality education to its students. The fund is used to support a wide range of activities that help to enhance the student experience, and it is a key component of the college's efforts to provide a supportive and enriching environment for its students.

With the growth of Wake Forest's student body, the College is constantly looking for new ways to support the needs of its students. The Student Fund is one of the ways in which the College is able to provide funding for student activities, and it is an important part of the College's commitment to providing an education that is both challenging and rewarding.

LETTERS

(All letters are to be signed; names will be withheld on request of the writer's union.)

To Pie In Sky

To the Editor:

I would like to express my disappointment at the way the College has handled the stadium project. This September, I was very interested and excited about the potential of building a new stadium, and I joined with many other students to advocate for the new stadium.

However, I have been disappointed in the way the College has handled the situation. The College has yet to answer any of our major needs, and it has not provided any real solutions to our problems. I believe that the College is more interested in education than in athletics, and I feel that students need to be more involved in making decisions about the College.

I hope that you will take this letter into consideration when planning future projects at the same time. Our College should not be a place where students are simply passive observers. I believe that students should be actively involved in making decisions about the College, and I hope that you will consider this in the future.

Cox Says Churches Need New Piety Model

The Christian Church needs a new model of piety that is different from the traditional model, according to Cox. The model should be more inclusive of all members of society, including those who are not traditionally considered part of the Church. This new model should also be more focused on social justice and community service.

Wider Involvement

Cox advocates for a broader definition of who is considered a member of the Church. This includes anyone who identifies as Christian, regardless of their background or lifestyle. This approach would help to bring more people into the Church and make it more relevant to modern society.

DEACS who are GREEKS

By TOMMY BAKER

Freshman predicament

Larry Robinson's evaluation of the fraternity system, which appeared in last week's Old Gold and Black, was fairly sound and well-balanced, but most important of all, it was a fair evaluation.

Freshmen, like all students, must resist some of the negative aspects of the fraternity system, but must not discount the many valuable contributions the system has made to college life.

Freshmen who are sensitive to the values of the system will find ways to resist some of its negative aspects. They should not think that the system is a whole or an entity, but should look at the system component by component.

Lester became a member of the fraternity system, and, though Robinson's letter probably caused some problems, he doesn't remember it too well.

Fraternity Boom During Rush Week

Elections, Parties Mushroom

Fraternities continue to boom during this week of the annual rush period.

The size of the fraternity system is growing rapidly, and the number of men joining fraternities is increasing.

The trend towards larger fraternities is in part due to the popularity of Greek-letter organizations, which provide a social atmosphere for the students.

The fraternity system is not without its problems, however, and it is important for students to be aware of these issues.

Freshmen and sophomores are usually more concerned with their social lives than about the很多 aspects of the fraternity system.

Most freshmen and sophomores are unaware of the many responsibilities that come with being a member of a fraternity, and the most important of all these responsibilities is that of the pledge.

Pledge:

People must be selected carefully for the position of pledge, and the system is in need of more supervision in this area.

Larry Robinson, a freshman, brought up his problems with the fraternity system, but he also brought up many positive aspects of the system.

The fraternity system is not without its problems, however, and it is important for students to be aware of these issues.

Larry Robinson became a member of the fraternity system, and, though Robinson's letter probably caused some problems, he doesn't remember it too well.

Top Players Sign Grants

A three-playing with the Fair South Carolina, the Deacons turned to the Tigers of Clemson, hoping for some victory that would raise their rank in the ACC.

However, the Tigers squad playing before a sellout audience scored a point too strong for the Deacons, and ended up a 23-17 loss.

Up For Grabs

The Deacons played against an opponent throughout the game, and until midway through the time. The score being 17-17 at that time.

However, the Tigers began to steadily pull away, taking the lead with 17-17 left in the game. The score was 23-17 until the final second, when Bob Leonard connected with the Deacons for a touchdown.

One Error Too Many

The score was even at 23-23 and then again at 40-40 with fifteen seconds remaining. Playing for one point, the Deacons kicked an off-balance shot that dropped to offer the Deacons a chance to win.

Second Half

With 30 seconds left on the clock, John Leonard snorted over the rink, and it was finally halted.

Because of the increase in the number of players, the Tigers think that their team's strength will be better than the Deacons' for this game's season. With more experience, Jim Brown's team is capable of winning the game, but the Tigers were favored to win.

The Tigers have shown a greater overall strength and the increase is death in a manner that has been a reality in recent years.

One thing that is certainly impressive about the Tigers is that Wake Forest has not signed a man since he was associated with the college—and that it was 1968. As a result, several high-powered recruiting moves would have left him in a shock, state of disrepair. The Deacons' success has been due to the second line, but the Tigers were favored, in the Deacons' season scoring game of the year. This is because John Leonard had 34 points in the second half, and Leonard connected for an off-balance 18 points in the second stanza.

DICK ANDERSON

New Zealand also featured two freshmen from Bloomfield, Mass., Chuck White, a 6-0, 185 pound halfback and Terry Griswold, a 6-1, 185 pound defensive end. Both freshmen have played in seven of the games this season and are expected to be starters next year. Anderson invaded our off-side coverage, but was held in check by Chuck Wachtel, from Watertown, who is a 5-11, 220 pound halfback.

Not igniting the normal fuel, the Wake Forest players have also added Paul Snyder and Jim Broadway to their list of players, headed by Carlton Pate, a freshman from Burlington, North Carolina, who was the outstanding linebacker in this year's high school season.

So, although the recruiting was not as tremendous as this year's recruiting efforts, and the results have not been as impressive as one would have expected, the value of the annual football talent search.

Swim Team Grabs Third Win Of Year

The Deacons' tenacious win, until recent competitive meets, was continued last week. Dick Anderson and Skip Brinkley each won two events to lead the team in the ACC.

It was the third victory in a row for the Wake Forest men. The other two previous victories were over Wake Forest and Duke. The Deacons took the 225 yards freestyle relay, and the 225 yards freestyle.

Joe Theriault, weighing 217 and a half pound, began with eight points, while his teammate, Buck Jones, swam on the Deacons' team, and finished with 19, and Jim Broadway, a 6-1, 185 pound guard. He played 150 points in the second stanza.

Swim Team Grabs Third Win Of Year

The Deacons' tenacious win, until recent competitive meets, was continued last week. Dick Anderson and Skip Brinkley each won two events to lead the team in the ACC.

It was the third victory in a row for the Wake Forest men. The other two previous victories were over Wake Forest and Duke. The Deacons took the 225 yards freestyle relay, and the 225 yards freestyle.

Joe Theriault, weighing 217 and a half pound, began with eight points, while his teammate, Buck Jones, swam.

One of the more interesting developments of the season has been the growth of the Wake Forest football team. In fact, the Deacons have shown a greater overall strength and the increase in depth in a manner that has been a reality in recent years.

One thing that is certainly impressive about the Tigers is that Wake Forest has not signed a man since he was associated with the college—and that it was 1968. As a result, several high-powered recruiting moves would have left him in a shock, state of disrepair. The Deacons' success has been due to the second line, but the Tigers were favored, in the Deacons' season scoring game of the year. This is because John Leonard had 34 points in the second half, and Leonard connected for an off-balance 18 points in the second stanza.

Ackerman Displays Pool, Class Talents

By BURT MARTIN

Ackerman, a tall, lean, and quick Delaware junior, has provided some exciting moments for Wake Forest fans this season. Ackerman, a Sophomore from Roanoke, Virginia, has been a key player for the Deacons in several games. He has shown great speed and quickness, which has helped him to get to the hoop quickly. Ackerman has also shown a good ability to get to the foul line and has been able to make several key shots in important games. He has been a valuable member of the team and has helped to lead the Deacons to some impressive victories.
