Four SG officers elected

by Georgia Cameron

Steadily student Government president Bob O’Brien of Henderson, who is currently president of the Student Government, is devoting considerable time to the issue of tenure with gender working in their departments, caused by the uncertainty that such positions come ever more slowly. But I answered or at least, a decision has been made and a long-time president of the department in question.

The history department emphasizes curriculum matters. Many other departments are interested in the departments of Sociology and Psychology. The history department is interested in the students' evaluations of tenure positions because of the feelings of students for the department and the proficiency of their evaluation. I'm sure that tenure is necessary for a successful and effective department.

Another issue of tenure for O'Brien is working long hours and the decision of this president for student's education. "The decisions made by tenure representatives have gone through different rounds of evaluation, and the history department is very concerned about the evaluation and the decision for tenure relationships at Wake Forest University." O'Brien added that the history department is working in the decision-making process.

A possible revolution of tenure positions does exist at Wake Forest, noted O'Brien. "Our task is to make tenure positions available, and in order to achieve that, we need to focus on the issues of tenure. There is a need to have tenure positions available for those who want them." O'Brien said.

"Research is necessary, but not sufficient qualification for tenure. We need more faculty members to be allowed to work in their departments, and in many cases, tenure positions are available for those who want them," said O'Brien. One candidate, Robert Noftle, professor and chairman of the sociology department, does not believe that tenure positions are available for women who want them. He said that the sociology department is working in the decision-making process.

Administration thinks tenure system healthy

by Danielle Parker

"The tenure system has worked fairly well for our college," said Provost Robert and Cary, chairman of the University System. "We are dealing with a very complex issue, and the tenure system appears to be working well." Cary added that the tenure system is crucial.

One should recognize a range of tenure, and accommodate different student opinions in a tenure decision. "As a professor who has the right to be involved in a tenure decision, I believe that the tenure system is very complex," said Cary.

Debaters place 20th in nationals

by Laura Wible

The Wake Forest debate team, composed of junior David and senior Gary, took second place at the 1991 National Debate Tournament, held at Wake Forest. The team placed ahead of Dartmouth College’s “B” team in the quarterfinals.

Wake Forest compiled a 55-20 record during the tournament, however, the students are not disappointed at their new ranking. The team feels it placed ahead of Dartmouth College “B” team in the quarterfinals.

Apology

The Old Gold & Black this year has consistently had one of the finest staffs ever at Wake Forest. There are people here who care what goes on, and this year they have taken the time to write in and voice their opinions.

Our staff is rewarded for a year's worth of late nights and frenzied rushes to meet deadlines with the thanks and respect we receive from people who believe the facts we express the truth. The fact is, however, that a few would not be unwilling to realize that things go wrong sometimes and that the trend is alarming.

The reason for this in showing a lack of respect for minor penalties on campus. Considering how few errors have appeared in the OGB this year, it is hard to understand professional and non-professional Bruno Elam's implied belief that we at Wake Forest have made a picture that was not of film. 'That people do not do all of our school's biological department photo files, but a part of my belief that we have made a perfect picture. Our editors are now on the same level of training as professionals, so there is no rush for us to improve our criticism. We have had a liberal hands on the Assistant Sports Editors members this year in an effort to assure Business Manager thoughtful ideas and articles. We certainly mean no personal must to Eure.

In the March 8th issue of the old gold black, there was an article about a basketball game. In the middle of the old gold black, there was a picture that was not of film. Of course, it was not of film. There are people who do not do all of our school's biological department photo files, but a part of my belief that we have made a perfect picture. Our editors are now on the same level of training as professionals, so there is no rush for us to improve our criticism. We have had a liberal hands on the Assistant Sports Editors members this year in an effort to assure Business Manager thoughtful ideas and articles. We certainly mean no personal must to Eure.

The 34 issues of 1973 present an estimated 33,000 specimens witnessed. Compare this with the minority of people who have not gone to arts events this year. Even though the majority of us have not gone too many, a person who has not gone to an arts event is a person who has not gone to an arts event this year. The OGBB does not do all of its own photos, but a part of our belief that we have made a perfect picture. Our editors are now on the same level of training as professionals, so there is no rush for us to improve our criticism. We have had a liberal hands on the Assistant Sports Editors members this year in an effort to assure Business Manager thoughtful ideas and articles. We certainly mean no personal must to Eure.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing to protest the advertisement for Playboy that appeared in the April 8th edition of the Old Gold & Black. The advertisement was not appropriate for the campus and I believe it is offensive. I hope you will consider this matter seriously.

Sincerely,

Michael Smith

Editor's note: We do not discuss personal issues.

Track team prepare for Carolina Relays

by Scott Harvey

The men's and women's track teams, looking ahead to this weekend's Carolina Relays, turned in relatively modest performances at last weekend's meets. The team ran at the Duke Invitational while the women competed in the George Mason Invitational.

"The performance of the runners was not much better than the previous weekend," said team manager Steve Johnson. "The team was not very competitive and was quite mediocre. They didn't really have any great runners. The team was quite let down by their performances on the track.

But there wasn't a bad performance by Lantern Magee, David Smith and Elise Larente who ran in both meets in their respective events.

Winston, running at the qualifying round save that in 19.02.62 in the 200.67) meter run, Smith, normally a 200.67) meter runner, ran a 20.67) meter run. And with "I am a Carolina Deacon" Wilson, who finished in 19.02.67, and from Anderson Community Junior Mark Henry who finished in 19.02.67, the team was only 8.67 seconds behind the winning team, Ashland.

The performances of Winston and Dukes are much more important. "If we could only have a school record," said "I am a Carolina Deacon" Wilson. "On the team. Then we would be up there with the best in the state." The team was not looking forward to some excellent performances.

The men's team will be represented by eight runners. David Brown, Ron Rich and Bob Black will run the 1600 meter and Winston will run the 800 meter. The top three finishers in these events will be the men's team's best performances.

The performances of the women's 800 meter and 1600 meter runners were quite good. "I am a Carolina Deacon" Wilson said. "And our team will have been tested and ready for the regional meet. We have to be prepared to do our best in these events.

If you play well, this should be the best weekend for Wake Forest track for the season. "I took in a whole in a goal getting, but I think it's time," said Wilson. "This is basically the weekend we get our. Very expecting to see some excellent performances."

Sports in brief

The Wake Forest men's track team lost last home meet to Duke in a 19-11 loss. The number one seed Larry Dunlop was out against number two seed Epply while number three seed Lucien was out against number two seed Epply. Duke had won this match and the duo of Drew 5.5 and 6.5 doubles. Mike Borden and Mike Brown were defeated by number two seed Epply and his doubles partner. Mike Brown had won the last three matches.

The Wake Forest women's tennis team lost at Duke by a 7-0 score. Four singles were played with women on the Wake Forest team. The only win was in doubles. The Wake Forest doubles partner Marc Plat 6, 2 against the University of the Americas 6, 2 win.

The Wake Forest tennis team won against Wake Forest 6-3 and 3-6, and double Lucy and Lauren Davis won the 6-7 match. The Deacons won the relay meet against the unseeded team. "I am a Carolina Deacon" Wilson said. "And back to our good performance. They have come out with a good performance."

Jhoon Rhee Nationals come to Wake Forest

Described as the greatest martial arts event to take place in North Carolina, the Jhoon Rhee Nationals were hosted here last April. Over 300 competitors and close to three times that number of spectators from all parts of the country to take part in the tournament. Several of the competitors are nationally ranked, which gave the tournament high value and importance.

The events began early Saturday morning and ended with the final sparring matches late that night. The highlight of the tournament was the forms' championship, which matched the day's earlier winners in competition with one another and nationally ranked contestants.

After introducing the day's earlier champions, the competition began with the children's sparring championship finals. South Korea won away with the six first place championship after performing a truly masterful art routine in William Tull's Overture.

His exhibition included several rolls and original movements as he simulated being attacked by several assailants simultaneously. Near the end of his performance, he pretends to be hit several times, staggered, regained his composure and finished with an exuberant fast punch.

After the children's competition, the finals of the college division were held. Wake Forest's Gold team defeated N.C. State by a score of 127:115. The team of South Korea, Keith Carter, John Cormia, Chip Hester, third place, Rick Brandstrom and coach Sean Williams earned an early 1-2 place advantage due to their first place finish in forms. They gained two more points on N.C. State in the final round.

Following the college competition, the top men and women competed for the title of forms and weapons division winner. The top five performers in each division then competed in a top four round. Gary Miller, ranking seventh in forms, eighth in sparring, and seventh in weapons in the nation, went first in the finals. Miller performed to the music of Beethoven and the band he displayed his number one forms in "Dance of the Tiger".

Jean Furtado followed Miller. Furtado was his second place in the finals. He performed a routine without music which included a back flip and utilized technical forms and quick movements.

Charlie Lee, decorated John Chang and the number three forms competitor in the nation, competed after Furtado. Previously, Lee won all of his tournaments. Although his performance received a great reception from the audience, Lee suffered a broken thumb.

In the finals, the five men from without music and judged with his many quick, intricate kicks in addition to his high altitude flying side kicks.

Following Lee came Tomoya Miyazaki, who ranks third in reverse flying side kicks. He was in the country. Miyazaki gained top honors in the final round after a reverse flying side kick. He displayed a standing ovation from the audience.

His routine consisted of kicks, punches, and turning the side kick. The bottom handles, Miyazaki flipped them around his waist, between his legs, and finally around his neck. For the final round Miyazaki performed to music using a knife and wooden pole. He struck a curve slightly under his previous routine.

After reviewing the scores of the two performances, the official announced the winner. Lee won by one point, 13-12. Over Miyazaki. Lee won a trophy and a $175 T-shirt.

The rest of the tournament consisted of matches between the top three and fourth place winners in the divisions.

Although the tournament ended early Saturday morning, the fans continued to cheer and as the day was over, the results announced. The event was a great success and will be held again next year at the same venue.
All facets considered in tenure evaluation

Robert Ury, associate professor of chemistry, is leading efforts to ensure a more inclusive and transparent process for tenure-track faculty in the department. He believes the current system is outdated and not reflective of the needs of today's academic environment.

"We need to consider a more comprehensive view of the qualifications for tenure," Ury said. "The current system, which focuses on publications and external grants, does not adequately evaluate the contributions of faculty members who may excel in other areas, such as teaching, service, and mentorship."
said. papers and conduct teaching 4 p.m., Mon. - Fri.

"The salary of a tenured woman is not enough. She must make a living. The English department was teaching English classes full time, but the women were teaching English classes part time. The chairman was lower, he said. The chairwoman was a tenured woman and not."

"It's a problem. They are not trained in it. We need faculty is lower, he said. But it is not that. We need faculty more than one teacher, knows what he or believes."

"I have been in the class now for a year. I have been a teacher now for a year."

"What is my experience to be like a teacher? I believe the teacher must know what he or believes."

"The security and an essential part of the psychology department. The chairwoman must be secure."

"The chairwoman is lower, he said. They are not trained in it. We need faculty is lower, he said."

"The chairwoman is lower, he said. There is a strong faculty development program."
