Germaine Bree To Speak On Albert Campus Thursday

Germaine Bree, professor in the Department of English at the University of Missouri, will be the speaker at Wake Forest's Institute of the Humanities annual Winter Lecture. She will also deliver a lecture on April 1 titled "Maugham: The Political Aspects of His Life and Work" in the Stowe Auditorium. Her address at the University of Missouri included an address on "William Makepeace Thackeray's Art of Writing," in addition to her last minute change of the title for the Wake Forest lecture. She has previously been the recipient of the New York Times Book Award.

Attorneys of the University are pleased to report that the law in the state is now in favor of the ability of the law school to have a law library. This library will be a valuable addition to the wake staff and several of its students are expected to be able to read it.

In addition to Flaut and Scraggs, the Flaut and Scraggs noted that they have had a very good year and are looking forward to a great year. They said that the Flaut and Scraggs are the only group that is planning to have a great year.

Atkinson, Lowery

Candidates Seek Jobs

By Clyde Dorsey

Jerry Atkins, a junior of Kannapolis, will be the candidate for the job of Student Body President of Wake Forest for the upcoming year. Atkins is a member of the Wake Forest Student Affairs Committee and is the current Student Body President.

Atkins is running unopposed in the election and will serve as President of the Student Body.

During his campaign, Atkins has emphasized his goals for the upcoming year, which include improving the student body's facilities, increasing student involvement in campus activities, and addressing the needs of minority students.

In addition to Atkins, two other candidates have expressed interest in running for the position of Student Body President. These candidates are John Free, a senior of Wake Forest, and John E. Hedges, a junior of Charlotte. Both candidates have expressed interest in addressing the needs of minority students and increasing student involvement in campus activities.

The election will take place on Monday, April 18, and the winner will be announced on Tuesday, April 19.

Dorsey Heads New College Union Slate, Unites Plans

By Clyde Dorsey

Dorsey, a senior of Wake Forest, will be the candidate for the position of College Union President for the upcoming year. Dorsey is a member of the College Union Committee and is the current College Union President.

Dorsey has emphasized his goals for the upcoming year, which include improving the student body's facilities, increasing student involvement in campus activities, and addressing the needs of minority students.

In addition to Dorsey, two other candidates have expressed interest in running for the position of College Union President. These candidates are John Free, a senior of Wake Forest, and John E. Hedges, a junior of Charlotte. Both candidates have expressed interest in addressing the needs of minority students and increasing student involvement in campus activities.

The election will take place on Monday, April 18, and the winner will be announced on Tuesday, April 19.
Fraenkel: German Unity Would Lessen Tensions

JFK Institute Head Speaks

Dr. Max Fraenkel, director of the JFK Institute at the Free University of Berlin, said that the consolidation of Germany would improve the negotiating position of the West Germans.

Fraenkel, professor of political science at the Free University, said that since the Berlin Wall was built in 1961, the ability of Berliners to move between the two German states has been severely restricted.

He said that the Berlin Wall is a symbol of the division of Germany and that its removal would improve the position of the West Germans in negotiations with the East Germans.

Fraenkel also said that the consolidation of Germany would be a significant step toward reunification.

Americanization and the U.S. Force

A native of Germany, the speaker said that the Americanization of Berliners would be a significant step toward reunification.

He said that the Americanization of Berliners would help to reunify Germany and that it would also help to improve the negotiating position of the West Germans.

Fraenkel also said that the consolidation of Germany would be a significant step toward reunification.

Controversial Labor Leader Will Speak

J. William Fulbright, former Senator from Arkansas, will speak at Wake Forest University on Tuesday evening.

Fulbright, who is a member of the American Studies Association, said that the consolidation of Germany would be a significant step toward reunification.

He said that the consolidation of Germany would be a significant step toward reunification.

Sun, Police Burn Daytona Vacationers

By Jacky Lambert

Staff Writer

All the joys of a week at the beaches from palm trees, the sea and the sun began to fade as the vacationers approached the end of their stay in Daytona Beach.

Several hours were usually spent each day on the beach, with the sun's rays beating down on the vacationers. The sound of the waves was soothing to the ears.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.

The crew of the American Studies Association spent the week in Daytona Beach, with students from around the country. The crew consisted of young people who had just arrived from the beaches in their uniforms.

They spent the weeks doing research and writing papers. Some of the students even went to the beach to relax.
Coeds Enjoy A Snowy Easter During Short European Tour

(Editors' note: Manuscript author Dave Craven and two friends spent Easter vacations in Europe, where Dave attended the wedding of a friend's brother.)

In Heidelberg, we spent the morning on the Rhine's banks and walked across the old city bridge to the University. Among the entertainments we went to was a horse-drawn carriage ride called "The Fledermaus," another laugh, Vivian and Doug crouched full of university bloom. I'm sure in Germany we smiled and we traveled on to Belgium, where we made Ester's home in Belgium and stayed for the night.

We took all-day trips to places, where we found everything in all the places. She drew up to the Innsbruck theatre, and with the snow melted and the towers of the old castle and tower up the steep mountain road, there were pink flowers of color. We had two hours while the mountain and the valley had to get us through customs.

After the sunset, the Colonnade Ministerial Cabinet secretary's art tour, we visited the Bastei, and the low street level of the city. We had never seen the city American, except what looked like it in the water, in Frankfort, America, Germany, and the picture.

We didn't have to walk through the palace, we were strolled through the three pieces. It was one big house after the other, and near the Hall of Hesse was a famous painting of the first president. We walked through the whole country, we visited the stately seats of power, the home of the king and queen.

We took a pilgrimage to the Museum of Art, where we saw many masterpieces, and left our cars outside. We were quite tired, but the car was under the guidance of our own driver and we had to go at our best, and had to be pulled out for a bit. Instead, we called a taxi and went back to the hotel.

Elster Services

Roster Friday we attended services at a famous Protestant church in Munich. Since we couldn't understand the sermon, we left early and ate chocolate Easter eggs in all churches and enjoyed the lovely weather. We then walked around the old city of Munich, and our train left for Paris, and spent the night looking for a place to stay.

In Heidelberg, we spent the morning on the Rhine's banks and walked across the old city bridge to the University. Among the entertainments we went to was a horse-drawn carriage ride called "The Fledermaus," another laugh, Vivian and Doug crouched full of university bloom. I'm sure in Germany we smiled and we traveled on to Belgium, where we made Ester's home in Belgium and stayed for the night.

We took all-day trips to places, where we found everything in all the places. She drew up to the Innsbruck theatre, and with the snow melted and the towers of the old castle and tower up the steep mountain road, there were pink flowers of color. We had two hours while the mountain and the valley had to get us through customs.

After the sunset, the Colonnade Ministerial Cabinet secretary's art tour, we visited the Bastei, and the low street level of the city. We had never seen the city American, except what looked like it in the water, in Frankfort, America, Germany, and the picture.

We didn't have to walk through the palace, we were strolled through the three pieces. It was one big house after the other, and near the Hall of Hesse was a famous painting of the first president. We walked through the whole country, we visited the stately seats of power, the home of the king and queen.

We took a pilgrimage to the Museum of Art, where we saw many masterpieces, and left our cars outside. We were quite tired, but the car was under the guidance of our own driver and we had to go at our best, and had to be pulled out for a bit. Instead, we called a taxi and went back to the hotel.

Elster Services

Roster Friday we attended services at a famous Protestant church in Munich. Since we couldn't understand the sermon, we left early and ate chocolate Easter eggs in all churches and enjoyed the lovely weather. We then walked around the old city of Munich, and our train left for Paris, and spent the night looking for a place to stay.

In Heidelberg, we spent the morning on the Rhine's banks and walked across the old city bridge to the University. Among the entertainments we went to was a horse-drawn carriage ride called "The Fledermaus," another laugh, Vivian and Doug crouched full of university bloom. I'm sure in Germany we smiled and we traveled on to Belgium, where we made Ester's home in Belgium and stayed for the night.

We took all-day trips to places, where we found everything in all the places. She drew up to the Innsbruck theatre, and with the snow melted and the towers of the old castle and tower up the steep mountain road, there were pink flowers of color. We had two hours while the mountain and the valley had to get us through customs.

After the sunset, the Colonnade Ministerial Cabinet secretary's art tour, we visited the Bastei, and the low street level of the city. We had never seen the city American, except what looked like it in the water, in Frankfort, America, Germany, and the picture.

We didn't have to walk through the palace, we were strolled through the three pieces. It was one big house after the other, and near the Hall of Hesse was a famous painting of the first president. We walked through the whole country, we visited the stately seats of power, the home of the king and queen.

We took a pilgrimage to the Museum of Art, where we saw many masterpieces, and left our cars outside. We were quite tired, but the car was under the guidance of our own driver and we had to go at our best, and had to be pulled out for a bit. Instead, we called a taxi and went back to the hotel.

Elster Services

Roster Friday we attended services at a famous Protestant church in Munich. Since we couldn't understand the sermon, we left early and ate chocolate Easter eggs in all churches and enjoyed the lovely weather. We then walked around the old city of Munich, and our train left for Paris, and spent the night looking for a place to stay.

In Heidelberg, we spent the morning on the Rhine's banks and walked across the old city bridge to the University. Among the entertainments we went to was a horse-drawn carriage ride called "The Fledermaus," another laugh, Vivian and Doug crouched full of university bloom. I'm sure in Germany we smiled and we traveled on to Belgium, where we made Ester's home in Belgium and stayed for the night.
Elections Deserves Attention

Student government elections are with us once again. This year, though, we have heard a great deal of comment and speculation about the shape of the election procedures by the student body.

The requirements of party filling, the absence of rival candidates, and party registration were modified to meet the needs of the campus.

It is regrettable that one party was formed on the campus this year. This is a far better than a non-party system, but the results are being greatly diminished by a formation of a second party. Certainly a second party was desired by no one more than by the leaders of the Student Party. There are many reasons why no second party was formed. Formation of parties is a necessity for the government of 1963, for lack of a core group to head a second party, and a shortage of qualified candidates is another reason.

Any discussion of the success of the primary system will take into consideration the fundamental fact that the new election procedures were made to accommodate a non-party system. To the great test, the committee has had no opportunity to consider the necessity of a second party. The Student Party held Thursday's election by a vote of 867.94 votes out of a registration of 1460. The vote was a most cre table victory for the party, for the offices that were up for election were in addition to the election of the Student Party with little, if any, competition.

The party group did an excellent job in preparing the Non-Party primary which should have been a grander experience than it was. We realize several elec to the "inernous" novice and
tests, but the committee should have announced the responsibility of administering this, the first non-party primary system.

Many candidates had no oppor tunity to exercise their right to vote. Some had no opposition in the general public, while others were entered for office this year than in 1962. Many of them did not remember that the percentage of invalid and covered offi ces this year was up in the last election. It is regrettable that no one is interested in their party. The number of no-hitters is too high to be true. It is not true that every candidate is interested in the interest of the public. There is no one to blame but themselves. In some cases, election of the party primary was paramount to election of the general public. The good turn in the results of the Student Party and the non-party is to be expected. Many candidates were selected because there was not enough of a party of their classmates in an election in which the student will attend.

At election day approach, let us all remember to work carefully the platforms and opinions of the candidates. Let us study what they have to offer. Let us be informed and determined in what de tends the student's effort in t will move. Let us analyze the candidates that are running without support or without qualified support. As a matter of point, we cannot vote and hold the election to the Student Party with little, if any, competition.

The primary group did an excellent job in preparing the Non-Party primary which should have been a grander experience than it was. We realize several elec
to the "inernous" novice and
tests, but the committee should have announced the responsibility of administering this, the first non-party primary system.

Many candidates had no oppor tunity to exercise their right to vote. Some had no opposition in the general public, while others were entered for office this year than in 1962. Many of them did not remember that the percentage of invalid and covered offi ces this year was up in the last election. It is regrettable that no one is interested in their party. The number of no-hitters is too high to be true. It is not true that every candidate is interested in the interest of the public. There is no one to blame but themselves. In some cases, election of the party primary was paramount to election of the general public. The good turn in the results of the Student Party and the non-party is to be expected. Many candidates were selected because there was not enough of a party of their classmates in an election in which the student will attend.

At election day approach, let us all remember to work carefully the platforms and opinions of the candidates. Let us study what they have to offer. Let us be informed and determined in what de
tends the student's effort in
t will move. Let us analyze the candidates that are running without support or without qualified support. As a matter of point, we cannot vote and hold the election to the Student Party with little, if any, competition.

The primary group did an excellent job in preparing the Non-Party primary which should have been a grander experience than it was. We realize several elec to the "inernous" novice and
tests, but the committee should have announced the responsibility of administering this, the first non-party primary system.

Many candidates had no oppor tunity to exercise their right to vote. Some had no opposition in the general public, while others were entered for office this year than in 1962. Many of them did not remember that the percentage of invalid and covered offi ces this year was up in the last election. It is regrettable that no one is interested in their party. The number of no-hitters is too high to be true. It is not true that every candidate is interested in the interest of the public. There is no one to blame but themselves. In some cases, election of the party primary was paramount to election of the general public. The good turn in the results of the Student Party and the non-party is to be expected. Many candidates were selected because there was not enough of a party of their classmates in an election in which the student will attend.

At election day approach, let us all remember to work carefully the platforms and opinions of the candidates. Let us study what they have to offer. Let us be informed and determined in what de
tends the student's effort in
t will move. Let us analyze the candidates that are running without support or without qualified support. As a matter of point, we cannot vote and hold the election to the Student Party with little, if any, competition.

The primary group did an excellent job in preparing the Non-Party primary which should have been a grander experience than it was. We realize several elec to the "inernous" novice and
tests, but the committee should have announced the responsibility of administering this, the first non-party primary system.

Many candidates had no oppor tunity to exercise their right to vote. Some had no opposition in the general public, while others were entered for office this year than in 1962. Many of them did not remember that the percentage of invalid and covered offi ces this year was up in the last election. It is regrettable that no one is interested in their party. The number of no-hitters is too high to be true. It is not true that every candidate is interested in the interest of the public. There is no one to blame but themselves. In some cases, election of the party primary was paramount to election of the general public. The good turn in the results of the Student Party and the non-party is to be expected. Many candidates were selected because there was not enough of a party of their classmates in an election in which the student will attend.

At election day approach, let us all remember to work carefully the platforms and opinions of the candidates. Let us study what they have to offer. Let us be informed and determined in what de
tends the student's effort in
t will move. Let us analyze the candidates that are running without support or without qualified support. As a matter of point, we cannot vote and hold the election to the Student Party with little, if any, competition.

The primary group did an excellent job in preparing the Non-Party primary which should have been a grander experience than it was. We realize several elec to the "inernous" novice and
tests, but the committee should have announced the responsibility of administering this, the first non-party primary system.
Farm Founder, Duke President To Speak

Dr. Clarence Jordan, founder of the Ezonkan Farm in Arden, Ga., will speak Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the auditorium of The School of Divinity. Jordan is a member of the board of trustees of Duke University, a director of the Ezonkan Farm in Arden, Ga., and a member of the Institute of Ethnology. Jordan was born in the backcountry of North Carolina, where he lived for many years before moving to Arden, Ga., where he has been engaged in the wholesale and retail trade of textile and other products. Jordan is a member of the board of trustees of Duke University, and a member of the Institute of Ethnology. Jordan was born in the backcountry of North Carolina, where he lived for many years before moving to Arden, Ga., where he has been engaged in the wholesale and retail trade of textile and other products. Jordan is a member of the board of trustees of Duke University, and a member of the Institute of Ethnology.

CD Alert Is Success

A Civil Defense practice alert was conducted on campus last Thursday to determine the efficiency of the entire Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center.

Allen Coordinates

The result of two years of planning by the Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center was a successful practice alert last Thursday. The alert was conducted to determine the efficiency of the entire Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center.

Alien Coordinator

The alert was conducted to determine the efficiency of the entire Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center.

WF Students Return From BSU Retreat

Members of the Baptist Student Union (BSU) returned to campus last Friday from a week-end retreat at Hightower Lodge in the mountains. The BSU is a student organization that deals with the religious and spiritual needs of students. The retreat was conducted to determine the efficiency of the entire Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center.

Wake Coeds Enter Contest

The News and Observer reported that Wake Forest women who have been chosen to be members of the Wake Forest Women’s Club are now preparing to make their entrance into the club. The club is a social organization that deals with the cultural and social needs of women.

Said Coordinator

The coordinator was conducting the alert to determine the efficiency of the entire Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center.

EAGLE SHIRTS ARE AVAILABLE

Brock-Stroud

Roast Fresh Pork with Pineapple Glaze

Chicken Fried Steak

Oriental Beef

Almond Cookies

Oriental Tea

Deals!

KELLY'S JET SYSTEM HAMBURGERS

MEXICAN NIGHT

be in god's service...

2nd Annual National Retirees Convention, will speak at Millard Scott Community Center.

Forty-One Nights in Paris and Being a Civil Defense Coordinator

The first Civil Defense Coordinator of the school has been appointed. The coordinator will be responsible for the operation of the Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center.

“Derby Day” Dance To Highlight Week

Highlights of the 7th annual Magnolia Festival will be the “Derby Day” Dance to be held April 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Auditorium. The dance is being sponsored by the Magnolia Festival and is a semi-formal affair.

Wake Coeds Enter Contest

The News and Observer reported that Wake Forest women who have been chosen to be members of the Wake Forest Women’s Club are now preparing to make their entrance into the club. The club is a social organization that deals with the cultural and social needs of women.

Said Coordinator

The coordinator was conducting the alert to determine the efficiency of the entire Civil Defense Committee and the Millard Scott Community Center.

EAGLE SHIRTS ARE AVAILABLE

Brock-Stroud

Roast Fresh Pork with Pineapple Glaze

Chicken Fried Steak

Oriental Beef

Almond Cookies

Oriental Tea

Deals!

KELLY'S JET SYSTEM HAMBURGERS

MEXICAN NIGHT

be in god's service...

2nd Annual National Retirees Convention, will speak at Millard Scott Community Center.
Greek Week ends this week with the return of a favorite part of the history of Greek Week. Yet for formerly nonexistent high school faculties, remnants of the week still remain within us. These are the faculty and students of the fraternity system. It is the standard for any fraternity service and idealism as the future.

Dr. Charles Hendrix, a former student of the University of North Carolina, was an on-campus expert in the art of handling fraternity freshmen. He said that possibilities provided in the various social functions are available to everyone, especially freshmen. He asserted that the junior and senior years should be a time of partaking in the various social functions of the fraternity. Of course not all Dr. Hendrix's freshmen had to be willing to accept for the junior and senior years, but Dr. Hendrix, like many others who represented the University of North Carolina, was obviously in the minority. The standard for any fraternity service and idealism as the future.

The response to the field of antithesis, bondage: there is a standard for any fraternity service and idealism as the future.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

The lecture, problem. Observe, obviously ironically why only words, what he said might be that dance. Now the audience obviously no prude, realists, everyone. But one which, like the defense, distinguished the consequences. 111 external employees, artists, office supplies, artist supplies, and leather goods.

DINAH SPRINKLE, sophomore of Old Dominion, attended the lecture. Of course not all Dr. Hendrix's freshmen had to be willing to accept for the junior and senior years, but Dr. Hendrix, like many others who represented the University of North Carolina, was obviously in the minority. The standard for any fraternity service and idealism as the future.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.

In a week of general frivolity and practice of the interfraternity system, there was 'hydrogen bombs,' a chemical explosion of the interfraternity system.
Wake Is Ranked No. 3 In Country

BY BOB LIPFER
SPORTS WRITER

Ralph Martin, the catcher of the Duke baseball team, has been named to the All-American team by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. This is the first time in the history of the sport that a catcher has been named to the All-American team.

Lowercase names have been used to avoid confusion between the catcher and the pitcher. The catcher's duty is to receive the ball from the pitcher, and to assist in fielding ground balls and line drives. The catcher's stance is behind the batter, and they are responsible for blocking pitches and throwing out base runners. The catcher's motto is "a good glove, a good arm, and a good head for the ball."
In Vacation Tourneys

Sigel Paces Wake Golfers

By BILL BENTZ

The Wake Forest golf team outshined its rival, the national power, the Carolina golf team, last week by finishing in a tie for second in the South Carolina Intercollegiate Tournament at Columbia, South Carolina.

Four Wake Forest golfers placed in the top ten, led by Dave Turner, who placed fifth. Other top finishers for the Deacons were Rick Hartley, who tied for second, and Dave Turner and Dick Foakes, who finished in a tie for third.

The tournament was held at the Country Club of Georgia on Thursday and Friday.

Tennis Tournament

Daily Herald

The Wake Forest tennis team placed third in the Southeastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament at the University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia, last week.

The Deacons were led by Bob Loper, who placed first in the singles competition, and the team placed third in the team competition.

The tournament was held on the campus of the University of Georgia.

Tracksters Place Well in Relays

The Wake Forest track and field team placed third in the University Relays at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida, last week.

The Deacons were led by Jay Hackett, who placed first in the 400-meter hurdles, and by the 4x400-meter relay team, which placed second.

The tournament was held on the campus of the University of Florida.

McKinney Fires Aides; Stuns Murdock, Bryant

By ROB LOPER

The announcement that both Wake Forest basketball coaches had been fired resulted in a 29-1 record for the basketball team. The firing of Coach John C. McKinney and the hiring of Coach Jack Murdock were both unexpected.

There is one叙述 fact: Kenneth L. (Bones) McKinney had been fired from Wake Forest, although the former owner of the basketball team, Mr. Murdock, was retained.

In the University of Virginia basketball tourney, the Wake Forest basketball team placed second, behind the University of Virginia, and ahead of the University of North Carolina.

In the South Carolina Intercollegiate Tournament, the Wake Forest basketball team placed third, ahead of the University of South Carolina and the University of South Carolina.

In the Southeastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament, the Wake Forest tennis team placed third, behind the University of Georgia and the University of Florida.

In the Southeastern Intercollegiate Relays, the Wake Forest track and field team placed third, behind the University of Virginia and the University of North Carolina.

The tournament was held on the campus of the University of Florida.

The tournament was held on the campus of the University of Virginia.

The tournament was held on the campus of the University of Florida.

The tournament was held on the campus of the University of Virginia.