Students protest at ceremony

BY JONATHON FOWLER

Almost 150 students gathered on the steps of West Chapel Tuesday afternoon in support of an organized protest by the Coalition of Student Organizations in its annual meeting.

The meeting was called to order to discuss the plans of the computer program and updated the students on the lack of student voice in the PPC plan.

The protest, organized by a group of students and the Coalition of Student Organizations, featured speakers Andrew McGee and Ray Miller, both of whom presented their concerns to the students on the general provision which they would have to be pursued through a ticketing system. The protest was a chance for the students to voice their concerns and to have a say in the matters affecting them.

In her opening speech, Andrews said that the university should mirror the current diversity of American society. She said that the university should be a place where students from all backgrounds can come together and learn from each other.

The university has a strong commitment to diversity, and the university has therefore implemented a number of initiatives to increase the diversity of its student body. These initiatives include financial aid programs, scholarships, and other forms of support for students from underrepresented groups.

The university is committed to providing a learning environment that is inclusive and welcoming for all students. The university is working to create a culture that values diversity and promotes understanding and respect among its members.

The university is proud of the accomplish- ments of its students and is committed to continuing its efforts to promote diversity and inclusion.

Students, faculty, and staff should work together to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive. Together, we can create a campus where everyone feels valued and respected.

The university recognizes the importance of diversity and is committed to fostering a campus environment that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.

The university is committed to providing opportunities for students to engage in meaningful dialogue and to develop a deeper understanding of the experiences of others. The university recognizes that diversity is a strength and that it can enrich the educational experience for all students.

The university has made significant progress in increasing the diversity of its student body. However, there is still much work to be done. The university is committed to continuing its efforts to create a campus community that is welcoming and inclusive for everyone.
Consequences of second-hand smoke debated

A discussion titled "Tobacco Smoke and Environmental Health" was held on April 24 in the Environmental Room of the Wake Forest University Environmental Protection Agency. The discussion focused on the health effects of tobacco smoke on the environment. The audience was provided with a copy of the Environmental Protection Agency report "Tobacco Smoke: An Environmental Hazard." The discussion was moderated by Dr. Christopher Coggins, a professor in the Department of Environmental Health and Toxicology at Wake Forest University.

The discussion centered around the question of whether second-hand smoke is a major contributor to environmental pollution. The audience was divided on this issue. Some believed that second-hand smoke is a major contributor to environmental pollution, while others believed that it is not.

The audience was also given the opportunity to ask questions. Dr. Coggins and the panelists answered questions on a variety of topics related to tobacco smoke and the environment.

The discussion concluded with a Q&A session. The audience was provided with a copy of the Environmental Protection Agency report "Tobacco Smoke: An Environmental Hazard." The audience was also given the opportunity to ask questions. Dr. Coggins and the panelists answered questions on a variety of topics related to tobacco smoke and the environment.
Paintball guns ordered off campus

By Brian Dumas

Despite a student group's claim that paintball guns should be classified as sporting equipment, university policy states that the possession of the guns is not allowed, and university officials said they would move the equipment off campus.

Adwesh K. Seitz, the student affairs vice president, said the policy is in place to ensure public safety, as some individuals may not be aware that paintball guns are not allowed on campus.

According to the student affairs vice president, the move to ban paintball guns on campus was made to prevent incidents like the one that occurred at a recent university event, where a student was injured by a paintball gun.

The student group that opposed the ban argued that paintball guns should be allowed as part of a sporting event, as they are regulated and used for recreational purposes.

However, the university's decision to ban paintball guns was based on the fact that they are not allowed on campus, and the university policy is in place to ensure public safety.

The student group planned to appeal the ban, but the university's decision is final and cannot be appealed.

In the meantime, the university will continue to enforce the ban on paintball guns on campus.
superfluous signal shut off

STUDENT RETURNING FOR THE FALL SEMESTER 1995
MUST HAVE NEW ID PHOTOS MADE

College Book Store
April 24 - 28, May 1 - 5
9:00 AM to 5:00 PM

The new Wake Forest ID Card is a multi-purpose card and will look much like a credit card. The front will contain your color photograph, name, Wake Forest ID number, and a bar code. The back of the card will have two magnetic stripes. Imbedded within the card will be a barium ferrite bead, used for electronic door access. The bar code and larger mag stripe will be used for the Campus Card program (Deacon Dining Club and Deacon Dollar$ accounts). The small mag stripe is a vending stripe. Those who have Deacon Dollar$ accounts may use the card for campus beverage and snack vending, and possibly laundry services also. The cards will be distributed when you return for fall classes.
Protest
From Page 1
would," he said. "We're not a hostility, we're an excitement."

Through Jones and Whitted's, spokesman for the student government, said that the student organization was not involved in the administration.

Senor Sams said that the crowd of 700 consisted of students from many in the campus, two particularly active groups in the more than 150 students attended, included that some students do not approve of the presses. "I don't have to say a lot," he said. "It happens because we let it happen.""I thought it was very appropriate idea was not s.olicited by the students," Starling said.

The crowd of protestors ended in a large number of the shuttering the gates of the administration," he

"In some ways (the recent appointment of a black president) gives
students a taste of the "real world"
and exposure to knowledgeable,
alert black scholars," she said.

"In some ways (the recent appointment of a black president) gives
students a taste of the "real world"
and exposure to knowledgeable,
alert black scholars," she said.

"In some ways (the recent appointment of a black president) gives
students a taste of the "real world"
and exposure to knowledgeable,
alert black scholars," she said.

"In some ways (the recent appointment of a black president) gives
students a taste of the "real world"
and exposure to knowledgeable,
alert black scholars," she said.

"In some ways (the recent appointment of a black president) gives
students a taste of the "real world"
and exposure to knowledgeable,
alert black scholars," she said.

"In some ways (the recent appointment of a black president) gives
students a taste of the "real world"
and exposure to knowledgeable,
alert black scholars," she said.

"In some ways (the recent appointment of a black president) gives
students a taste of the "real world"
and exposure to knowledgeable,
alert black scholars," she said.
Change makes black selection process fair

As is often the case with this institution, the university is drowning in processes that change little by little.
This is not to say that the Student Government has managed to avoid change completely, but it is certainly difficult to find a situation that remains the same on campus throughout its entire history.

Black students need a guaranteed method of representation in the legislature that will be fair to all students and will address the unique needs of black students on this campus.

Despite the good intentions of the original amendment, the process results in a selection that cannot be considered fair to all students.

Therefore, the amendment is clearly necessary to ensure that the representation of black students is not ignored.

The amendment would allow for at least one black student to be elected to represent all black students on campus.

This change is long overdue and necessary to ensure that the needs of black students are addressed.

Perhaps the most convincing argument for this change is the lack of representation of black students in the legislative body.

As a result of our failure to address the unique needs of black students, the university has failed to provide adequate support and resources.

By electing at least one black student to the legislature, the university can ensure that the needs and concerns of black students are adequately represented.

This is not to say that the legislature will be perfect, but the presence of at least one black student will provide a voice for the concerns of black students and ensure that their needs are addressed.

In conclusion, the amendment
is necessary to ensure fair representation for black students.

May we see Malling 101

Protest proves activism lives

If nothing else, the mandatory
computer class experiment taught us
that we care about our university's future. Those of us who were involved in the Black Student Association (BSA) know that this knowledge became a catalyst for our newspaper, the Student Newsgpaper.

This newspaper took shape in Protest against the amendment
involving black students in the legislation process. The Associated Student Government (ASG) is composed of the more studen-tives because we did not get recognized
for our support of the amendment.

As a result of our failure to support the amendment, the university has failed to provide adequate support and resources.

By electing at least one black
student to the legislature, the university can ensure that the needs and
concerns of black students are adequately represented.

This is not to say that the legislature will be perfect, but the presence
of at least one black student will provide a voice for the concerns of
black students and ensure that their
needs are addressed.

In conclusion, the amendment
is necessary to ensure fair representation for black students.

May we see Malling 101

Protest proves activism lives

If nothing else, the mandatory
computer class experiment taught us
that we care about our university's future. Those of us who were involved in the Black Student Association (BSA) know that this knowledge became a catalyst for our
newspaper, the Student Newsgpaper.

This newspaper took shape in Protest against the amendment
involving black students in the legislation process. The Associated Student Government (ASG) is composed of the more studen-
tives because we did not get recognized
for our support of the amendment.

As a result of our failure to
support the amendment, the university has failed to provide adequate
support and resources.

By electing at least one black
student to the legislature, the university can ensure that the needs and
concerns of black students are adequately represented.

This is not to say that the legislature will be perfect, but the presence
of at least one black student will provide a voice for the concerns of
black students and ensure that their
needs are addressed.

In conclusion, the amendment
is necessary to ensure fair representation for black students.

May we see Malling 101
Religion too often ignored as part of human experience

Christopher Leonard

Some issues are close to our hearts and our ability to function in the world. Psychologist Daniel Green said, "The question is not an issue or not what kind of issue." He explained that we need to be sensitive to our own personal issues and make decisions based on that.

It's easy to get caught up in the details of our daily lives, but our personal issues are often the most important. We need to be aware of our own needs and make decisions based on that.

It's also important to be aware of other people's personal issues. This can help us understand their behavior and make better decisions in our interactions with them.

In conclusion, our personal issues are important and need to be taken into account. By being aware of our own personal issues and the personal issues of others, we can make better decisions and lead happier lives.
The DATING GAME
Thursday, April 20
Shorty's 7 pm

Plant a tree for EARTH DAY
Friday, April 21
meet in front of chapel at 2 pm

BIG KID GAMES
Mag Quad
Friday, April 21 -- all afternoon!!!!

Come hear the music of DAVID WILCOX
Saturday, April 22
3 pm
Davis Field
AIDS: Hitting home on university campuses

Statistics suggest that for every person who knows he has AIDS, 100 more have the disease and do not know it.

By AMY FENGELICH and HEATHER MACKAY

In the beginning of the 1980s, AIDS was brought into the national focus as East Coast gay men were found dying. Despite the death tolls, the disease’s severity, many people continued to spread the virus through unprotected sex and drug use.

Today, however, according to the Center for Disease Control, the disease is heterosexual and women. This statistic, along with the fact that the number of registered HIV cases has risen 22 percent in North Carolina since 1989, has led to increased counseling and testing.

“Instead of hearing how to have sex, I’m being told that I’m sick,” said Heather Smith, a famous AIDS patient in Winston-Salem. Smith percented with either fun or a handful of friends before they found out that they had the disease.

According to the Center for Disease Control, the disease is heterosexual and women. Smith, who knows he is infected with HIV, said that estimates show that two out of 100 people are affected.

Hers is not an uncommon case, according to Lisa Hooper, a counselor at the AIDS Task Force Center in Winston-Salem. Hooper, who is a counselor at the AIDS Task Force, said that the disease is heterosexual and women.

“I think that college students need to be concerned as everybody else. No one can go under the assumption that it’s not going to happen,” Hooper said. “I’m okay, so everyone else must be okay” without getting tested. If you can’t say that about yourself, how can you say that about others,” Hooper said.

According to Natascha Romeo, the founder of AIDS Task Force, this is no longer true.

“According to Lisa Hooper, a counselor at the AIDS Task Force Center in Winston-Salem, there is an increase in the number of students who are infected with HIV. She said that estimates show that two out of 100 people are affected.

“According to Hooper, a counselor at the AIDS Task Force Center in Winston-Salem, 294 people were infected with the disease in North Carolina. Hooper is concerned that the number of people who are infected and are not aware of it.

“According to Hooper, a counselor at the AIDS Task Force Center in Winston-Salem, the disease is heterosexual and women.

“I think that teaching should start very young. By the time people get to college, they could be at risk. People need to be more open about the disease. We have very bright students on this campus, but when they are asked, ‘Do you always use condoms?’ the answer was only about 20 percent,” Hooper said.

According to Hooper, a counselor at the AIDS Task Force Center in Winston-Salem, the disease is heterosexual and women.

“I think that teaching should start very young. By the time people get to college, they could be at risk. People need to be more open about the disease. We have very bright students on this campus, but when they are asked, ‘Do you always use condoms?’ the answer was only about 20 percent,” Hooper said.

According to Hooper, a counselor at the AIDS Task Force Center in Winston-Salem, the disease is heterosexual and women.

“I think that teaching should start very young. By the time people get to college, they could be at risk. People need to be more open about the disease. We have very bright students on this campus, but when they are asked, ‘Do you always use condoms?’ the answer was only about 20 percent,” Hooper said.

According to Hooper, a counselor at the AIDS Task Force Center in Winston-Salem, the disease is heterosexual and women.

“I think that teaching should start very young. By the time people get to college, they could be at risk. People need to be more open about the disease. We have very bright students on this campus, but when they are asked, ‘Do you always use condoms?’ the answer was only about 20 percent,” Hooper said.
Blues Explosion men create joyful noise at breakneck speeds

By Michael Jordan

The Jon Spencer Blues Explosion, from left to right: guitarist Rob Morris, vocalist and bassist Stephen Malkmus, and drummer Douglas Clark. The diminutive bassist delivered a frenetic and playful performance that night.

The Jon Spencer Blues Explosion is back with a new album and in the process of good tunes. The noise-pop explosion has been one of several acts that has made the jump from the velvet underground to the pokey new wave.

Malkmus' vocals range from a soft, muffled croon to a loud, declamatory bark. The sound is often distorted and glitchy, with frequent feedback and static. The music is full of energy and raw power, with a garage rock spirit.

The band's sound is characterized by a rawness and intensity. The distortion is prominent, with feedback and static often reaching a peak. The vocals are often muffled or distorted, adding to the overall aggressive sound.

The Jon Spencer Blues Explosion men create joyful noise at breakneck speeds.

-

Local folk music celebrates for greater versatility, space

By Deena Gershon-Rivers

A move from the Rose to The Rendez-vous, which is located downtown, is a move to better accommodate the increasing number of local performers and fans. The Rendez-vous is a venue with a more intimate atmosphere.

Pavement consists of four members: Stephen Malkmus, who sings and plays guitar; Bob Nastanovich, who plays drums; Scott Feinberg, who plays bass; and Matt脊n, who plays keyboard. The band's sound is characterized by a rawness and intensity. The distortion is prominent, with feedback and static often reaching a peak. The vocals are often muffled or distorted, adding to the overall aggressive sound.

Pavement is known for its experimental sound and its use of noise and distortion. The band's music is characterized by a rawness and intensity, with frequent feedback and static. The vocals are often muffled or distorted, adding to the overall aggressive sound.

Pavement's sound is a mix of rock, punk, and noise, with frequent feedback and static. The vocals are often muffled or distorted, adding to the overall aggressive sound.

-

Journal entries offer insight into nature, life

By Brian Sessa

Editor's Note: The following are journal entries from the columnist's camping trip to the mountains.

*August 16, 1993 - A day of fishing brought in a nice 15-inch bass from the Clinch River. The fish was in good shape and offered a fine meal. The weather was perfect, with temperatures in the low 70s and the sky clear and blue.

-

Poetry workshop encourages experimentation

By Thomas D. Young

By choosing the path offered by a friend or a mentor, a student can often learn valuable lessons about the nature of the world and about themselves.

Poetry workshop encourages experimentation

Pucker up

Harvey Kennell (Ripley) and Laura Spivey (South Carolina) were among the poets who participated in the workshop. Kennell, who is from Ripley, said he enjoys writing poetry because it allows him to express his feelings in a creative way. Spivey, who is from South Carolina, said she enjoys writing because it helps her to explore her emotions and to express herself.

-

Blues Explosion men create joyful noise at breakneck speeds
Mozart's Symphony No. 15 in D Major

COLLEGE BOOK STORE

University Stores are owned and operated by Wake Forest University for the convenience of students, faculty and staff.

Books on tape

RENTAL

3 DAYS FOR 3 BUCKS!

The English Department & Writers Reading

host

The Mary Arden Poetry Festival

with poets

Annette Allen

Poetry reading, April 21
8 p.m. B316 Trumble Hall

Kay Byer

Poetry reading, April 22
3:30 p.m. B316 Trumble Hall

Writing workshops

Friday, April 21
3-5 p.m.
Saturday, April 22
10-12 a.m.

Contact Department of English for details: 759-5383
Women's tennis wins two; prepares for ACC Tournament

By Mickey Rainwater

An out of caution expectation overruled the actual results of the season, which was marred by four losses in 1989-90. A case in point was the decision to award the number two singles position to No. 12 junior Ashley Delaney instead of the number one position to No. 2 freshman Julie Emberton. Delaney was expected to be the team's leading singles player, and Emberton was expected to be a valuable contributor.

According to Senior Terry Ann Zawacki, the decision was made to give the number two singles position to Delaney because of her competitive spirit. "I think that the number two singles position is a place where I am more comfortable," said Zawacki. "I think it is important for the team mentally to have someone who can fight.

But Emberton was not without her talents. In fact, her performance in the ACC Tournament was impressive. She was able to defeat four ranked opponents before losing in the final to Virginia. She was also selected as the ACC's Most Valuable Player, an honor that she felt was well deserved.

"I think I have been consistent throughout the season," said Emberton. "I am happy with the way I have performed and I am looking forward to the ACC Championship Tournament next week.

On the other hand, the loss of senior Stephanie Neill was a disappointment to the team. Neill had been a consistent performer throughout her four years at Duke. She had won three ACC Championships and had been named to the All-ACC team three times.

"The loss of Stephanie Neill is going to be a big blow to our team," said Zawacki. "She has been our leader and she has set a high standard for us to follow.

But the team is not without its strengths. The Women's Tennis Team has a strong tradition of excellence, and they are looking forward to the ACC Championship Tournament.

"We have a lot of talent on this team," said Zawacki. "I think we have a good chance of doing well in the ACC Championship Tournament.

So the Women's Tennis Team is looking forward to the ACC Championship Tournament with high hopes. They are confident that they can compete with the top teams in the conference and they are ready to give their best performance.
Men's golf loses round share of lead, finishes seventh in ACC Tourney

The men's golf team finished a disappointing round of 285 to lose ground in the ACC Tournament, finishing seventh with an overall score of 849 over the three days. North Carolina was the low team with a score of 792, which put them on the list. The Demon Deacons' score was 853, putting them ninth on the list. Virginia had the lowest score of 826, followed by Maryland at 840, Wake Forest at 841, and Duke at 852.

Senior Jonathan Johnson, PSU 84, was the only Demon Deacon to finish in the top 10, with a score of 79. Jason Kramer, WFU 85, was the next highest scorer with a 80. However, both of these scores were not enough to bring the Deacons back to the top of the list. Tony Ellison, NC 81, and Jake Dawsey, NC 81, both scored over par for the round, bringing their scores to 82 and 82 respectively.

The team's performance was not as strong as the previous weeks, with Doug Mientkiewicz, FSU 85, leading the way with a score of 77. Mark Melito, NCS 84, and Michael Sorrow, GT 88, both finished with a score of 83, putting them in the middle of the pack.

All in all, the Demon Deacons' performance was not up to par, with their overall score of 849 being their lowest of the season. The team will need to step up their game if they hope to make it to the next round.

Events and Opportunities

Sports

- Football: The Demon Deacons will face the University of South Carolina in the first round of the ACC Tournament. The game will be held at 7:30 p.m.
- Basketball: The Demon Deacons will play against the University of Virginia in the second round of the ACC Tournament. The game will be held at 9:30 p.m.
- Tennis: The Demon Deacons will face the University of North Carolina in the first round of the ACC Tournament. The game will be held at 10:00 a.m.
- Soccer: The Demon Deacons will play against the University of Florida in the first round of the ACC Tournament. The game will be held at 11:00 a.m.

Tours

- Virginia Tour: The Virginia Tour will take place from April 1st to April 7th. The tour will visit various landmarks in Virginia, including the Great Wall of China, the Library of Congress, and the Washington Monument.
- Miami Tour: The Miami Tour will take place from April 8th to April 14th. The tour will visit various landmarks in Miami, including the South Beach, the Miami Beach, and the Biscayne National Park.

Job Opportunities

- Teaching Assistant*: The University of North Carolina is hiring teaching assistants. The position requires a minimum of a Bachelor's degree in a related field and experience in teaching. The salary is $30,000 per year.
- Research Assistant: The University of Virginia is hiring research assistants. The position requires a minimum of a Master's degree in a related field and experience in research. The salary is $45,000 per year.

Contact Information

- Football: Head Coach Jack Lewis, 297-659-1074, lewisj@unc.edu
- Basketball: Head Coach Jonathon Johnson, 297-659-1075, johnsonj@unc.edu
- Tennis: Head Coach Anna Smith, 297-659-1076, smitha@unc.edu
- Soccer: Head Coach Bill Johnson, 297-659-1077, johnsonb@unc.edu

Additional Information

- Scheduling: The team will be available for scheduling throughout the spring and summer.
- Contact Information: For more information, please contact the Athletics Department at 297-659-1070.

Sponsors

- Sponsorship Opportunities: The team is seeking sponsorship opportunities to support their programs. Please contact Jack Lewis at 297-659-1074 for more information.

---

Jolie Neo

Courses and Services

- Writing: The team is offering writing services to students. Please contact Jason Kramer at 297-659-1075 for more information.
- Tutoring: The team is offering tutoring services to students. Please contact Michael Sorrow at 297-659-1076 for more information.

---

Contact Information

- Football: Head Coach Jack Lewis, 297-659-1074, lewisj@unc.edu
- Basketball: Head Coach Jonathon Johnson, 297-659-1075, johnsonj@unc.edu
- Tennis: Head Coach Anna Smith, 297-659-1076, smitha@unc.edu
- Soccer: Head Coach Bill Johnson, 297-659-1077, johnsonb@unc.edu

Additional Information

- Scheduling: The team will be available for scheduling throughout the spring and summer.
- Contact Information: For more information, please contact the Athletics Department at 297-659-1070.

Sponsors

- Sponsorship Opportunities: The team is seeking sponsorship opportunities to support their programs. Please contact Jack Lewis at 297-659-1074 for more information.
BUY-BACK

College Book Store
Textbook Department
May 1 - 6
8:30 AM to 4:45 PM
( Including Saturday!)

PROTECT YOUR BOOKS! DO NOT LEAVE THEM UNATTENDED FOR THIEVES TO STEAL!

THE WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY
DANCE COMPANY

SPRING CONCERT
Modern, Ballet, Jazz & Liturgical Dance
STUDENT CHOREOGRAPHERS
8 p.m., Thurs., Fri. & Sat.
April 20, 21 & 22, 1995

Mainstage Theatre  Scales Fine Arts Center
Reserved Seating  Admission $6.00
Tickets available in advance or at the door
Stop by the Box Office or call 759-5295 for information

HARRIS TEETER
MEANS LOW PRICES

First Of The Season
California Strawberries

Sara Lee
Pound Cake

10.75 oz.

In The Bakery
Angel Food Cake

Buy One Lite
Reddi Wip Topping
Get One Free

Florida-Gold
Orange Juice

Original Or
Choc. Fldtion

GREAT SAVINGS

PEPSI

Drink Feature

Selected Varieties
Nabisco Newtons

Pepsi Or Diet
Pepsi 2-Liter

Topps All Beef
Hamburger Patties

64 oz.

Selected Varieties
Gatorade

Prices Effective Through April 25, 1995

Prices In This Ad Effective Wednesday, April 19 Through April 25, 1995 in Our Mecklenburg County Stores.
Only We Reserve The Right To Limit Quantities. None Sold To Dealers. We Gladly Accept Federal Food Stamps.