Medical School Faces Possible Toxic Clean-up

By BRUNO VIAGGIO
Associate Editor on Environmental Issues

The Bowman Gray School of Medicine could face a costly cleanup if state opposition prevents that medical waste buried in an old dump site near the Forsyth-Dennise County line has been brought to you by...continues the story

Decision on Choice

By RICHARD WILKINSON
Associate Editor on Political Science

The choice of a special election was made by the state board of elections in Wake County to fill the seat vacated by Dr. John MacGregor, who resigned to run for Congress. The special election will be held on November 5, 1991. The Democratic party nominated Dr. James E. Boykin, a radiologist, and the Republican party nominated Dr. Donald L. Tipton, a cardiologist. The candidates are expected to campaign heavily on issues such as health care reform, Medicare, and the budget. The campaign is expected to last until election day, which is November 5, 1991. The election will be held in Wake County, which has a population of approximately 1.5 million people. The majority of the voters in Wake County are expected to turn out for the election, which is expected to be a close race. The winner of the election will be the party's nominee for the seat in the United States Senate, which is up for reelection in 1992.

Republican Helms Rides to Victory with Large Voter Turnout

By JAMES W. CRAGG
Associate Editor on Political Science

The Republican candidate, Patience Reid, won the special election for the seat in the United States Senate by a wide margin, winning 58 percent of the vote. The Democratic candidate, Dr. Donald L. Tipton, received 42 percent of the vote. The election was held in Wake County, which has a population of approximately 1.5 million people. The majority of the voters in Wake County are expected to turn out for the election, which is expected to be a close race. The winner of the election will be the party's nominee for the seat in the United States Senate, which is up for reelection in 1992.

Louise Bias Challenges Wake Forest Students with 'Message of Hope'

By CRAIG COTTEN
Associate Editor on Education

Louise Bias, the mother of the late Len Bias, gave a speech to Wake Forest University students on Tuesday evening in Wake Chapel. The speech was part of the university's Faces of Hope series, which is designed to bring attention to issues of diversity and inclusion. Bias discussed her son's life and the challenges he faced as a student-athlete at Boston College. She also discussed her own experiences as a Black woman in the world of college athletics, and how she became involved in the fight for social justice. Bias's speech was well-received by the students, who were shown a video of her son's life and career. The video included interviews with Bias, her husband, and other family members, as well as footage of Bias's son playing basketball. The video was followed by a question-and-answer session, during which students had the opportunity to ask Bias questions about her experiences and her thoughts on the future of college athletics. Bias's speech and video were part of a larger effort to encourage students to think critically about issues of diversity and inclusion, and to take action to create a more inclusive and equitable college environment.
Debate Team Places First At Harvard Tournament

By Brian Moss

Wake Forest defeated both defending national champions in the Harvard Debate Tournament Oct. 15-16 at Cambridge University.

The varsity team of junior Brian Moss and senior Michael Eady defeated the Harvard team 3-1 in the final round. Senior Mike Ridge and junior Ryan Courant defeated third-placed Brown 3-1 in the round before the final.

Another Wake Forest team won for ninth place. Junior Mike Ridge, junior Laine Louden and senior Ryan Courant defeated second-placed Rice University in the round before the final.

The Harvard debate team has had their best season in years. Their success has made the team the second-best tournament team in the nation.

The team has been practicing for six months. Members have also been practicing for an international debate tournament in London later this year.

Heritage and Promise Campaign Set to Raise $150 Million for WFU

By Kerri Bueno

The Heritage and Promise Campaign of 1990 is the first phase of the Heritage and Promise Committee of 1990. The committee is composed of 60 faculty and students from the School of Business, School of Engineering, School of Law, School of Medicine, School of Social Sciences, and the School of Public Administration.

The Heritage and Promise Campaign of 1990 is the first phase of the Heritage and Promise Committee of 1990. The committee is composed of 60 faculty and students from the School of Business, School of Engineering, School of Law, School of Medicine, School of Social Sciences, and the School of Public Administration.

Clean-up

From Page 1

If necessary to dig up the waste prevent progress, the waste would be removed, Brown said. “I’d be willing to do it if it were necessary to turn on the lights on the problem.”

He said he was not sure how much money the city was able to get to the problem, but he said it was not a large amount.

At least 10 years ago, City Hall reported that the Department of Public Works was unable to turn on the lights.

If we have a clean-up, Brown said, we will have to provide services to the population.

Help! Bail Me Out!

Mike Ford, director of student development, makes cards for the “bail” of the Alpha Phi Omega “Boiling Time” for Brian St. Croix fund raiser.

SG Proposes Changes In Registration Policy

By Scott Glanton

Students and faculty are currently in the process of reviewing the current registration policy. A new system of registration will be implemented next year. The new system will allow students to register for any term during the year.

The proposed changes to the current registration policy will include the following changes:

1. Students will be able to register for any term during the year.
2. Students will be able to register for any course offered by the university.
3. Students will be able to register for any class offered by the university.
4. Students will be able to register for any committee offered by the university.

The new system will allow students to register for any term during the year. Students will be able to register for any course offered by the university. Students will be able to register for any class offered by the university. Students will be able to register for any committee offered by the university.

Clean-up

From Page 1

If necessary to dig up the waste prevent progress, the waste would be removed, Brown said. “I’d be willing to do it if it were necessary to turn on the lights on the problem.”

He said he was not sure how much money the city was able to get to the problem, but he said it was not a large amount.

At least 10 years ago, City Hall reported that the Department of Public Works was unable to turn on the lights.

If we have a clean-up, Brown said, we will have to provide services to the population.

Help! Bail Me Out!

Mike Ford, director of student development, makes cards for the “bail” of the Alpha Phi Omega “Boiling Time” for Brian St. Croix fund raiser.

SG Proposes Changes In Registration Policy

By Scott Glanton

Students and faculty are currently in the process of reviewing the current registration policy. A new system of registration will be implemented next year. The new system will allow students to register for any term during the year.

The proposed changes to the current registration policy will include the following changes:

1. Students will be able to register for any term during the year.
2. Students will be able to register for any course offered by the university.
3. Students will be able to register for any class offered by the university.
4. Students will be able to register for any committee offered by the university.

The new system will allow students to register for any term during the year. Students will be able to register for any course offered by the university. Students will be able to register for any class offered by the university. Students will be able to register for any committee offered by the university.
Bowman Gray Research Finds Men, Boys Know Little About Testicular Cancer

By Alison Orr

The dance is also an effort to break down some of the barriers on campus, which many student organizations have of­ficially opened. Said Deborah Best, vice president of student affairs and a professor of psychology, "It's important to involve the students in the decision making of the institution for the betterment of the campus experience."
Jewish Militant Murdered

NEW YORK—Rabbi Meir Kahane, the founder of the Jewish Defense League, was killed Monday night in an ambush in the Manhattan section of New York. Although the government still has no court order open, and there are several reports that Kahane has room evidence, a criminal investigation remains met with volcanic ash. The ash rose about 30,000 feet over the grounds of an area now too rocky to escape in a taxi.

FBI Agent Under Investigation

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Felix Bloch, an agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the interned. U.S. ambassador to Vietnam, was found Monday morning in unexplained information to the FBI. Although the government still has no courtroom evidence, a criminal investigation remains under way.

Mount St. Helens Steam

WASHINGTON—Mount St. Helens erupted about 7 a.m. Monday and covered a large area with volcanic ash. The destruction of 350 homes this week will affect at least 500 others. Scientists do not anticipate a repeat of the 1980 eruption that destroyed entire areas of property and killed 37 people.

Barry Denied Council Seat

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Marion Barry, the former mayor of Washington, D.C., was unseated in ording elections in a city council seat Tuesday. Barry, who was convicted on drug charges and sentenced to a six-month prison term for ordering drugs, has been cleared the district's mayor and promised to finish a distant third in the race, despite his claim that he has rebounded from his problems.

MOSCOW—A Soviet Revolutionary Day celebration in Red Square was fired blasts from a sawed-off shotgun into the air and the police immediately confiscated the shotgun.

Jewish Militant Murdered

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Marion Barry, the founder of the Jewish Defense League, was killed Monday morning in an ambush in the Manhattan section of New York. Although the government still has no court order open, and there are several reports that Kahane has room evidence, a criminal investigation remains under way.

Temporary Parking Lot to Be Constructed

A temporary parking lot will be placed upon for use during construction of the Wake Forest Professional Center. The new gravel-surfaced lot will accommodate construction workers' cars.

Minor Incidents Reported

Security reported only minor incidents for the week Oct. 29-Nov. 4. Robert Prince, the director of university security, said the situation was better than usual. "This week was less than I expected," Prince said. Security decreased slightly compared to the previous week.

Early Security morning, two men reportedly entered Elliot Residence Hall through the laundry room, and a resident called security officials about a vehicle parked behind the hall. Security escorted them off campus. The men, it turns out, were students, were reportedly visiting an acquaintance who lives in Elliot. Security officers reported Saturday that a student had been missing for 24 hours, and the mother, who had gone to visit relatives in the state, was located Saturday.

Two automobile windshields were reported broken in separate incidents. Damage was reported to a vehicle parked behind the soccer stadium during the weekend of Oct. 26-28 and to another vehicle parked behind the Gentry House the following week.

A day student reported a missing Halloween costume Wednesday. A set of keys was missing from Students Fair Arts Center Friday, and a wallet was reported missing from lost in Elliot. Security officers reported Thursday that a student had been missing for 24 hours, and the mother, who had gone to visit relatives in the state, was located Saturday.

Johnson Residence Hall had a false fire alarm Oct. 27 when a smoke detector malfunctioned. Construction workers who were working in Edwards Hall activated a fire alarm Tuesday.

A campus employee with chest pains was transported to a local hospital by ambulance Wednesday.

Other calls during the week included 14 calls for the unlocking of doors and vehicles and 28 calls for escorts.

The Irving E. Carlyle Lecture Series presents
Joseph R. Biden, Jr.
U.S. Senator - Delaware

Wednesday, November 14 8:00 p.m.
Benson 401 Wake Forest University Student Union Lecture Committee

DAVID NASTER!
1990 Campus Comedy Artist of the Year

Saturday, November 10 9 p.m. in Benson 401

This weekend's film - Die Hard II: Die Harder
Saudi Arabian Student Finds
U.S. Very Open and Different

by K. Brunsen

THE open diversity that named America the title of "melting pot" is reflected in Wade Khan, a recent college graduate from Saudi Arabia. He attended Morehouse College in Atlanta and graduated last May. He has friends, both black and white, and has come to recognize the importance of diversity in education.

''I have never felt threatened, but the action also cut off all contact from home. When I was there, I had to write to my family, but now they are not allowed to write to me. I feel very frustrated and I am not sure that the Jews have taken Israel from Moslems. But the way things are going right now, I don't think we will be able to do anything about it. It is not fair that the Jewish have taken Israel from us.''

The policy of the Israeli government is to speed up the process of aliyah, or immigration, of Jews from the Soviet Union. However, in view of recent events, the Israeli government has been consulting its guidelines to ensure that they are consistent with its policy of promoting aliyah.

The Israeli government has been consulting its guidelines to ensure that they are consistent with its policy of promoting aliyah.

Such decisions affect the lives of people in the Middle East, who are often caught in the middle of these international conflicts. The living conditions of people living near the border are very difficult, and the situation is complicated by the presence of Israeli settlements in the area. This situation has caused many difficulties for the people, and the situation is not expected to improve in the near future.

The government of Israel has made efforts to ensure that the living conditions of these people are as good as possible. However, the situation is not as easy as it may seem, and the problems that they face are complex and require a comprehensive solution.

In conclusion, the situation in the Middle East is complex and requires a comprehensive approach. The living conditions of people living near the border are affected by the policies and actions of both the Israeli government and the international community. The government of Israel has made efforts to ensure that the living conditions of these people are as good as possible. However, the situation is not as easy as it may seem, and the problems that they face are complex and require a comprehensive solution.
Profnssors Need to Provide Encouragement And Recognize Individuality of Students

Victoria Anderson
Student Columnist

The failure of students to work hard because of a lack of encouragement from professors.

In the past few years, the workload of students has increased significantly. Unfortunately, many professors are not providing the necessary encouragement that students need to succeed.

One student, John Doe, stated, "I feel very frustrated with my professors. They don't give me enough feedback on my work, and I feel like they don't care about my progress." Another student, Jane Smith, echoed these sentiments, saying, "I feel like my professors are just giving me assignments and expecting me to do them without any support or guidance."

The lack of encouragement from professors can lead to a decrease in the quality of work produced by students. As a result, students may feel demotivated and disengaged from their studies.

To improve this situation, professors should take the time to provide constructive feedback and encouragement to their students. This will not only help students to improve their work but also boost their confidence and motivation.

It is important for institutions to recognize the need for better support systems for students. By doing so, they can create a more conducive learning environment that fosters growth and development.

In conclusion, professors need to recognize the importance of providing encouragement to their students. By doing so, they can help to create a more positive and supportive learning environment that benefits all members of the academic community.
Young's Letter Filled with Ignorance and Malice

Student Engages Name Calling

Letter Based on Generalities

Walter Carr
Letter to the Editor

I am writing this letter in reply to the statements made in Young's letter to the Wall Street Journal. Young wrote an article on the need to establish a protocol for biomedical research performed on animals at Wake Forest. Instead of citing responsible arguments and facts, he went on to explain that all biomedical research conducted at the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute is worthless by an article here. Without such a protocol, he stated, the researchers involved in this work can only continue to work in the dark.

I am a senior biochemistry major who is attending a research-oriented university in New York. I was outraged by the comments of the students who work on biomedical research on animals. I know both sides of the debate and I believe that the researchers who work on biomedical research on animals are doing some great work. They have discovered many cures for diseases that affect people and they are helping to improve the quality of life for millions of people.

I am not bothered by the term "gay." I use it in the same way that I use the term "woman" or "man." I believe that everyone should be able to use the term "gay" in the same way that I use the term "woman" or "man." I believe that everyone should be able to use the term "gay" in the same way that I use the term "woman" or "man." I believe that everyone should be able to use the term "gay" in the same way that I use the term "woman" or "man." I believe that everyone should be able to use the term "gay" in the same way that I use the term "woman" or "man." I believe that everyone should be able to use the term "gay," just as I use the terms "woman" or "man."
By Joe Wenninger

The weeks up the University's Student and students with what may be one of the most complex productions Wake Forest has ever seen.

The play is Peter Shaffer's "Amadeus," and the success or failure of its premiere performance at 8 p.m. tonight on the MainStage of Scales Fine Arts Center depends on a combination of intricate technical theater, props, costumes, set design, lighting, music, acting, and direction. The show is an ambitious one that asks the audience to absorb and process an incredible amount of information.

"Amadeus" is a historical drama that takes place in 18th-century Vienna, the city of music. The play is set in 1781, three years after the death of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the legendary composer. The story revolves around the life of Antonio Salieri, a rival composer who is envious of Mozart's success and tries to destroy him.

The play is directed by Robert Rader, who is in his 16th year as director of the Wake Forest University Actors' Ensemble. He received a Bachelor of Fine Arts in theater and a Master of Fine Arts in directing from Pennsylvania State University.

"Amadeus" is a complex play that requires a lot of preparation and rehearsal. The cast and crew have been working on the production for several weeks, and the final product will be a testament to their hard work.

The play's success will depend on the actors' ability to bring their characters to life, the set's ability to transport the audience to Vienna, and the costumes' ability to convey the period. The cast and crew have put in countless hours of work to ensure that "Amadeus" is a success.

The show's costumes are designed by Mary Wayne, the show's costume designer. She has already had to stretch her abilities and has had to work with the cast to ensure that the costumes are comfortable and realistic.

The play's set is designed by Chris Wasilnuskas, the show's set designer. He has had to work with the actors to ensure that the set is functional and realistic.

The play's lighting is designed by Cindy Link, the show's lighting designer. She has had to work with the actors to ensure that the lighting is realistic and functional.

The play's sound is designed by Mark Lange, the show's sound designer. He has had to work with the actors to ensure that the sound is realistic and functional.

The play's stage management is a challenge, and the show's stage manager, Karen Kirkpatrick, has had to work with the actors to ensure that the show runs smoothly.

The play is a challenge for all involved, but the cast and crew are confident that they can bring "Amadeus" to life on the stage.
Soccer Team Extended NCAA Tournament

By Dr. Steven Belford

One week is all it took for Duke to extend its NCAA Tournament stay.

Duke, ranked No. 19 in the country, completed the weekend with a 2-0 victory over North Carolina A&T in the first round of the NCAA tournament. The Blue Devils, who were also ranked No. 19, advanced to the second round of the tournament, where they will face the winner of the game between UNC-Wilmington and Flushing, New York.

Blue Devil Offense Thrashes Demon Deacons, 57-20

By Ron Blake

Duke handed Wake Forest an embarrassing 57-20 loss on Saturday night, as the Blue Devils avenged their loss to the Demon Deacons in the 2010 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament.

The Blue Devils scored 44 points in the first half of the game, as they outscored Wake Forest 26-0 in the second half.

Blue Devil Defense Shuts Down Demon Deacons, 57-20

By David Davidson

Wake Forest's defense was no match for Duke's powerful offense, as the Blue Devils scored 57 points in the game.

Davidson Takes Deep Six Goals in College Sunday

By Chad Conger

Davidson's head coach, David Chyzowych, announced that the team's captain, Matt Hearn, would miss the game against Wake Forest due to an injury.

Stingy Soccer Defense Guides Wake Forest to NCAA Tournament

By Tim Carlin

Wake Forest's soccer team has been stingy on defense this season, allowing only 20 goals in 19 games.

Soccer Team Extended NCAA Tournament

By Dave Belford

Duke extended their NCAA Tournament stay with a 2-0 victory over North Carolina A&T on Saturday night.

Blue Devil Offense Thrashes Demon Deacons, 57-20

By Ron Blake

Duke scored 44 points in the first half of the game, as they outscored Wake Forest 26-0 in the second half.

Blue Devil Defense Shuts Down Demon Deacons, 57-20

By David Davidson

Wake Forest's defense was no match for Duke's powerful offense, as the Blue Devils scored 57 points in the game.

Blue Devil Defense Shuts Down Demon Deacons, 57-20

By David Davidson

Wake Forest's defense was no match for Duke's powerful offense, as the Blue Devils scored 57 points in the game. Davidson Takes Deep Six Goals in College Sunday

By Chad Conger

Davidson's head coach, David Chyzowych, announced that the team's captain, Matt Hearn, would miss the game against Wake Forest due to an injury.
Clemson’s Ronald Williams, who missed 29 quarters and a touchdown, probably won’t play for the Tigers Saturday. Although its national title hopes are dashed, the Clemson offense did its damage when it counted. The Tigers piled up 35 points, holding the Hokies to 10. Virginia Tech yards for a field goal in the first quarter.

The Virginia Tech offense did, however, provide N.C. State with two big moments in the game. On one play, Terps were penalized for 15 yards and a first down. On another play, Terps were penalized for 15 yards, resulting in a first down for the Wolfpack.

The game went on to show that Georgia Tech is still a force to be reckoned with in the ACC. The Yellow Jackets are now 5-5 overall and 2-4 in the ACC. They are in the thick of the ACC race, and have a chance to win the ACC South Division.

Georgia Tech also showed that it can win big games. The Yellow Jackets defeated the ACC’s top team, the Duke Blue Devils, last week. Georgia Tech will face its biggest challenge of the season this week, when it travels to Chapel Hill to take on the Tar Heels. The Tar Heels are currently ranked No. 1 in the ACC, and are a serious threat to Georgia Tech’s hopes of winning the ACC South Division.

In the meantime, Georgia Tech will have to focus on improving its special teams. The Yellow Jackets have struggled in this area in recent games. They will need to do a better job of getting the ball to the right people, and keeping it in bounds.

Georgia Tech head coach Paul Johnson has said that the special teams will be a priority for the rest of the season. "We need to improve our special teams," Johnson said. "They are a big part of our game plan, and we need to make sure that we execute them well."
Basketball Team Looks to Sign Prospects

By Ron Blank

The Wake Forest men's basketball program believes that it is on the verge of something special this season. The Demon Deacons, who finished last season with a 16-15 record, are confident that this season will bring success. The team has high expectations for the upcoming season.

As he hit fullback Chris Brown for a Wayne Baumgardner's record 271 yards, Wake Forest fans were thrilled. The team's offense was in full swing, and the Demon Deacons were off to a strong start. Coach O'Day said that the team's momentum was critical for their success.

The Demon Deacons' progress was marked by the addition of several key players. For instance, 6-4 Junior Johnson of Martinsville, Va., 6-9 Chip Brown of国资委, 6-9 Dewey Williams of Wakefield, Md., and 6-10 Chris Woods of St. Charles, Md. Two of these players have signed national letters of intent, while the other two have signed national letters of intent as well. Coach O'Day said that these players were critical to the team's success.

Saturday, the team played against a tough opponent, the Yellow Jackets. The game was hard-fought, but Wake Forest emerged victorious with a 72-68 win. The Demon Deacons' offense was led by senior guard Ray Graham, who scored a career-high 31 points.

After the game, Coach O'Day said, "It's a great time to be a Demon Deacon. Our players are working hard, and we're seeing the results. We're looking forward to the rest of the season." The Demon Deacons are currently #6 in the nation and are off to a hot start.

Sports Editor

Congress

The Congress has not been able to go home since the last Congress adjourned. Congress is now in session, and the House is considering the budget.

The House has just finished the debate on the budget. The debate was long and intense, but it appears that a compromise will be reached. The budget includes funding for the next fiscal year and addresses several key issues.

Debate is expected to continue throughout the day, and a vote is expected by the end of the day. The budget is a crucial issue, and it will have a significant impact on the country's economy.

The budget includes funding for education, healthcare, and infrastructure. It also includes funding for defense and national security.

The House is currently considering amendments to the budget, and it is likely that a final vote will be taken later this week.

The budget is a complex issue, and it is likely that the debate will continue for several more days. The House is expected to vote on the budget this week.
Zeppelin Continues to Fly High with Boxed Set

By MARK BRENDAN

Led Zeppelin’s ten-year-old “迟到” has returned with a comprehensive boxed set available on either compact disc or vinyl, the former based on Blair logan’s box. The latter, which includes five full-length albums, continues to feature the band’s most well-known material, including the legendary “Stairway to Heaven” and “Kashmir.”

The box set, titled “The Complete Studio Recordings,” contains all 14 studio albums from Led Zeppelin’s groundbreaking run, including the two posthumous releases, “Coda” and “Celebration Day.” Each album is lovingly remastered and presented in a lavish hardcover box, ensuring the integrity of the band’s classic sound.

“Led Zeppelin has always been a band that values its legacy and its fans,” says bassist John Paul Jones. “This boxed set is a testament to that.”

The boxed set includes bonus material such as rare studio tracks, outtakes, and live recordings, offering fans an unprecedented look into the band’s creative process. The box set also features a 128-page book with rare photographs, essays, and interviews with band members, providing an intimate glimpse into the world of Led Zeppelin.

“Led Zeppelin has always been a band that values its legacy and its fans,” says guitarist Jimmy Page. “This boxed set is a testament to that.”

The box set is available for pre-order now and will be released on September 19th. Led Zeppelin fans and collectors alike are sure to be excited by this latest addition to their collection.
COMING ATTRACTIONS

Art

Sara Lee Collections: Exhibi-

N.C. Symphony Orches-
ta: 8 p.m. Nov. 18, artscenter, S.A., $10-

THEATER

Sorority: The story of the first sorority on a U.S. college campus, includes the lives of prominent members, including cameras, paintings, and documents. Free.

Talents and Flair: Nov. 9, 8 p.m., Free.

DCP Theatre: 8 p.m. Nov. 9, Free.

N.C. Symphony Orchestra: 8 p.m., Arts Center, $10.

MCM Gallery: Open daily, Free.

Outdoor Theatre: 8 p.m. Nov. 16, Free.

Duke Women's Theatre: 8 p.m. Nov. 17, $10.

Cinematheque: 8 p.m. Nov. 18, Free.

Women's Basketball: Tickets online.

N.C. Symphony Orchestra: 8 p.m., Arts Center, $10.

Wednesday night: 8 p.m., Free.

College of Work: 8 p.m. Nov. 19, Free.

Duke Women's Theatre: 8 p.m. Nov. 20, $10.

N.C. Symphony Orchestra: 8 p.m., Arts Center, $10.

Duke Women's Theatre: 8 p.m. Nov. 21, $10.

Sorority: The story of the first sorority on a U.S. college campus, includes the lives of prominent members, including cameras, paintings, and documents. Free.

Duke Women's Theatre: 8 p.m. Nov. 22, $10.

N.C. Symphony Orchestra: 8 p.m., Arts Center, $10.

Outdoors Theatre: 8 p.m. Nov. 23, Free.
Buy an IBM PS/2 before December 31 and you can really take off.

Anywhere in the continental U.S. or Puerto Rico for only $149.

IBM Model 8530-U31
- 1 Mb memory
- 80286 processor
- 3.5-inch diskette drive (1.44 Mb)
- 30 Mb fixed drive
- 8513 color display
Software is loaded and ready to go!
Only $1799

IBM Model 8555-U31
- 2 Mb memory
- 80386SX processor
- 3.5-inch diskette drive (1.44 Mb)
- 30 Mb fixed drive
- 8513 color display
- IBM Mouse
- DOS 4.0
- Microsoft Windows 3.0
- hDC Windows Utilities
- Microsoft Word for Windows
- ZSoft SoftType
- Micro Channel architecture
Software is loaded and ready to go!
Only $2349

For More Information Contact: Brian R. Brach, IBM Collegiate Representative at 721-4339

*The offer is available only to qualified students, faculty and staff institutions that purchase IBM Personal System/2® before the end of the year. You receive:
- IBM® Personal System/2® and PS/2® are registered trademarks of International Business Machines Corporation.
- TWA® Fare is a registered trademark of Trans World Airlines, Inc. TWA Getaway is a registered trademark of Trans World Airlines, Inc.