Columnists Cite Incorrect Information on Violence at Wake Forest

"Ordinarily, I would not take a journalistic initiative of your moment for a reaction, but the concern that is in the air is growing so much that I can no longer be silent," said Karen Musgrave, a founding member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., as she addressed a faculty assembly at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Musgrave was speaking on the matter ofWake Forest's new security policy that limits students' access to certain buildings and dormitories. The policy has been met with criticism from students who believe it infringes on their rights and freedoms.

Musgrave, who is a professor of history at the university, said she felt that eliminating this privilege was very unfair. She believed that the security measures were not necessary and that they would only further alienate students.

"I think it's important to recognize that this is not just a question of safety, but also of fairness to our students," she said. "We have a responsibility to protect our students, but we also have a responsibility to respect their rights and freedoms."

Musgrave's comments were met with support from other faculty members, who also expressed concerns about the new policy. Some feared that it would lead to a decrease in the feeling of safety on campus, while others believed it would lead to an increase in anxiety and stress among students.

However, university officials defended the new policy, saying that it was necessary to ensure the safety of all students.

"We have to balance the need for safety with the need for freedom," said University President Charles Herreid. "We believe that this policy is the best way to do that."
Cardiac Rehabilitation Center Provides Treatment, Improves Health

By Brian Blake

Jimmy Robertson rolled through three packs of cigarettes a day. He weighed 192 pounds, sported a 30-inch waist and had a blood pressure of 180 over 120. He also had a heart attack in 1977. Before that, he said, his doctor told him that he had a 5 percent chance of living another 10 years. "I was told, 'you're dying,'" he said.

Robertson, 47, a shipbuilding helicopter maintenance technician for the Marine Corps in Jacksonville, attended the Cardiac Rehabilitation Program, a nutritional evaluation, psychological counseling and exercise. "I've made a believer out of me," Robertson said. Since then, he has lost about 34 pounds. "It's a whole different life," he said. "I'm eating better with a lot of fruits and vegetables." He has cut back on the cigarettes and only has a beer every once in a while. "I do a lot of different things," he said. "I'll do a lot of different things."

Robertson is not alone. About 20 students have participated in the program, which started in January. "I think people are starting to realize the importance of what this is," said Walce Tyndall, a nursing student who leads the program. "People are starting to realize that it's important to have a healthy lifestyle."

The program includes regular check-ups, exercise programs, nutrition counseling and stress management. "It's really important to have a healthy lifestyle," Tyndall said. "It's really important to have a healthy heart."

Robertson said that he is doing much better since he started the program. "I'm doing much better," he said. "I'm eating better. I'm exercising. I'm doing a lot of different things."

SECURITY BEAT

■ April 9-15

Three incidents of car breaking and entering and home burglary took place between 15 May and 16 June.

In each, someone smashed a window to gain entry to steal a radar detector or stereo system. Two occurred on Lot 12, one on Lot 1.

Several cases of vandalism occurred last week, involving parking signs, mailboxes and emergency telephones. Twice, newly installed parking signs were pulled out of the ground.

In one incident, Wake Forest students were apprehended carrying a sign away. One of the signs was broken.

Two students were apprehended carrying two new fire lane signs from the parking lot between Taylor and Davis.

A fire lane sign between Kittice and Prioleau streets was destroyed.

A mush bumper was knocked over and torn on the east side of Reedy Hall.

The number of the emergency telephone on Lot 12 was cut off and made useless. A pull-tab type telephone has been ordered to replace it.

Five alarms were set off in Taylor and Davis because of a false alarm.

Security officers answered three false emergency calls from Davis and Taylor, and two from three. The callers reported security issues, including broken windows and mailboxes.

A gym security officer discovered around 3:55 p.m. April 13 that a door from a student's room to the swimming pool had been broken open. The incident is under investigation.

Security answered 44 calls. Thirty-three were for incidents and complaints, 25 were for security issues, giving false names and numbers.

Annually since 1920, the Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society inducts new members. New members were nominated and chosen for membership for the Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society inductees for the academic year 1990. To be eligible for admission, students must have completed at least 30 semester hours and must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.5 or above. In addition, they must have been enrolled at Wake Forest University at least two semesters prior to the date of their inductee ceremony. Only Wake Forest students enrolled at Wake Forest University at the time of inductee ceremony on May 10, 1990, will be eligible to become Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society members.

New Signs Stolen, Vandalized

By Rocky Lantz

Several signs newly placed around campus have been tampered with in recent weeks, and some of them will have to be replaced. A new sign near the parking building between Prince and Hickory streets was vandalized last weekend. Another sign near the student center was damaged over the weekend.

"I don't know who caused the damage," says Police Sergeant Gary McGehee. "Several signs are already at the department that need to be replaced, and now we have to start all over again."

"We're on high alert," said Robert G. Prince, the director of university security. "It's like a war zone out there."

Prince said that the number of vandalized signs has increased recently. "In the past, we had a few problems with signs being stolen or damaged, but now it's become a real issue," Prince said.

"We need to increase security measures," said McGehee. "We're planning to install more cameras and increase patrols in areas where signs have been targeted."

Prince added that he doesn't know who is responsible for the vandalism. "It could be anyone," he said. "We need more tips and information from the public."
Housing Horrors

The Kitchens Keep Mounting

The most dreadful fact of your time stems from簪 indicated by the prevention of students who were housed on campus. The situation was so bad that the university was forced to take action.

Or, one can begin by adding all those third-year students. Incidentally, who was being "treated" in the housing issue (the most recent incident, who had been released their immediate housing needs and their desire to stay in the residence halls.

If you are keeping score, add eight victims to the list. The second victim had no choice but to leave the housing facility. The third victim was forced to leave because of overcrowding.

RSU and A&F Lounges Vanish in Profound Misunderstanding

The brothers of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity--they are responsible for providing the lounges at the High Point Study Center. However, they have not been providing them...the university administration decided to permanently close the lounges...the lounges in question were once again made available to the students this past summer. However, due to the University's new no-drinking policy, the lounges now have a new set of rules governing their use. As a result of these changes, the students are not able to use the lounges as they were before. The university administration has stated that they will no longer provide the lounges, as they feel that the students are not using them properly. The students are upset about this decision, as they feel that they have been using the lounges for many years and that it is unfair for the university to suddenly change the rules. The students are currently trying to find a way to keep the lounges open, as they feel that they are an important part of the community.

AFO's Purpose Was Defined, Ignored and Subsequently Discarded

The purpose of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity was to provide a safe and respectful environment for the students. However, due to the university's new no-drinking policy, the fraternity has been forced to change its purpose. The fraternity is now focusing on providing a safe and respectful environment for the students, as well as promoting leadership and community involvement. The fraternity is currently working to implement a new no-drinking policy, which will allow the fraternity to continue to provide a safe and respectful environment for the students.

Rumors Are A Raunchy Business

There is no doubt in my mind that the university administration is using the rumors as a way to control the students. The rumors are used to create a climate of fear and uncertainty, which allows the administration to control the students. The rumors are also used to create a sense of division among the students, which makes it easier for the administration to divide and conquer. The administration is using the rumors as a way to control the students, and it is important for the students to speak out against these rumors and stand together.

Ethics in Question

It is in my ethics to express opinion regarding the problems we all currently face. The problems we all face are so significant that I feel compelled to speak out. I believe that it is important for us to recognize the problems we face and to work towards solutions. Journal Policy Crael

According to a study done in 1973 by the American Psychological Association, women are less likely to be published in scientific journals than men. The study found that women were less likely to be published than men in the fields of psychology, sociology, and economics. Ethics in Question

It is in my ethics to express opinion regarding the problems we all currently face. The problems we all face are so significant that I feel compelled to speak out. I believe that it is important for us to recognize the problems we face and to work towards solutions. 500 Moravian Band Members Play Easter Morning
Sun Rises with 5,000 in Attendance at Service in Old Salem

By Jerome Weigh
\(\text{Winston-Salem Journal}\)

A few minutes after 8 a.m., the sun was rising over Hillside Avenue just as the Moravian Band entered the grounds of Old Salem. The band, consisting of 500 members, played Christmas carols as they marched through the streets of the renovated 18th-century village.

The service, held in the area designated as "God's Acre," was attended by about 5,000 people, including many who had not participated in the ceremony.

The service was held at the Moravian Village, the site of one of the oldest Moravian communities in the United States.

The sun began to rise, and the service began. The band played Christmas carols as the sun rose, and the crowd gathered to watch.

The service was held in honor of the Moravian community's heritage and history.

The sun rose over God's Acre, and the service continued. The band played Christmas carols as the sun rose, and the crowd gathered to watch.

In the fall, Derrick Simanis has been the only Wake Forest representative to participate in the men’s NCAA tennis tournament. Following his success in the fall season, Simanis continued to play throughout the winter with the men’s tennis team. Simanis’ success has been attributed to his dedication and hard work.

In the fall, Simanis played on the tennis team as a junior and senior. During his junior year, Simanis was ranked 30th in the nation and 11th in the nation. This season, Simanis has continued to improve his game and is currently ranked 10th in the nation.

Simanis’ dedication to tennis has led him to become a role model for other student-athletes at Wake Forest. His hard work and success have inspired his teammates to work harder and strive for success.

Wake Forest’s track team received quite a bit of publicity generated by the Duke Spring Invitational April 14 in Durham.

Joe Hurley led the men with a third-place finish in the 1500 meters, "the fastest in Wake Forest’s history."

The 1500-meter race was taken up for this weekend’s ACC Championships, in which he will compete in the 10,000 and 5,000 meters.

"The race was a test for him."

the "platinum" portion of the discipline. Simianis has succeeded in achiev- ing his priorities. He is popular among his contem- poraries for his foreign language skills. For example, he is able to speak Irish, although he indicates that he can’t understand Irish. He also speaks English and French as his first languages. Simianis is known for his hard work and for his ability to juggle his academic responsibilities with his other activities.

Simianis is involved in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program to allow Wake Forest’s students to become Big Brothers or Big Sisters. Simianis is a member of the program.

Simianis spends about three hours a week with his Big Brother and Big Sister. He says that he would recommend the program to all Wake Forest’s students.

"Being a Big Brother and Big Sister is a lot of fun. You get to make a difference in a child’s life."

DEACON NOTES

Renner to Play in All-Star Game

Deacon senior Todd Renner was selected to play in the NCAA College Senior Bowl this Saturday in St. Louis. The senior is one of 40 seniors nationwide to be selected for the game.

Scrimmage to Cap Spring Practice

The Wake Forest football team will play its annual spring scrimmage game on Saturday at 1 p.m. in Groves Stadium. Admission is free.

Track Program Signs Armbrust

Bret and Kyla Armbrust of Winston-Salem have both signed national letters of intent to attend Wake Forest next fall. Head Track Coach John Goodridge said.

Bret won the mile race at the North Carolina State Indoor Championships in February.

In addition, Jennifer Flanagan of Albany, N.Y., has signed with the program.

She is also the national scholastic indoor champion in the mile.

Liberty scored three runs in the seventh.

Braun walked, and Kulp's double scored Braun. Todd Spain walked to load the bases and, with two outs, Cary McKinnon walked, scoring Braun. Swisher followed with a single, and Kulp and Spain scored.

For the Demon Deacons in the bottom of the seventh, Sawkiw singled, and Mason's single brought Mason to second. In the ninth for Liberty, Kowilcik's groundout knocked in Shabosky. Austin followed with a home run, scoring Kowilcik and Mason. In the bottom of the seventh, Wake Forest's Chris Kowilcik homered for the Demon Deacons, who were the beneficiaries of five errors and nine walks by the Deacons.

With one out, consecutive singles by Austin and Cox and Martz, before Coghill flied out to right field. Westman and Shabosky walked, advanced to second and third on a wild pitch, moved to third on a wild pitch. Marzano walked, and a passed ball put Shabosky to third.

Radford Highlanders 4-2 April 12 at Dedmon Center Park in Radford, Virginia.

The Demon Deacons defeated the Terrapins 13-4 to take the rubber match of a three-game series on Saturday at Hooks Stadium. See last week's edition for details.

Engaging Performances Make Play Worth Price of Admission

By Jim Smeal

If you have some time to kill, as are the entertainment fans at tonight's Twinsburg Theatre production of "The Beaux's Stratagem," you might as well try their audience participation section.

The play, which began at 8 p.m. on Friday night at the Twinsburg Theater, is a 1777 play by British playwright Colley Cibber. It is about a young man named Algernon Moncrieff who, along with his friend Charles Surface, is trying to win the heart of a young woman named Berthe. The two are aided by a group of friends who are also trying to win the affections of various members of the society.

The play is well-written and well-performed, but it is not without its flaws. The actors' accents are not always consistent, and some of the lines are delivered in a way that makes them difficult to understand. However, the overall atmosphere of the play is enjoyable, and the audience participation section adds a nice touch.

People interested in seeing this play should try to attend it. It is a fun and entertaining way to spend an evening, and it is sure to provide a good time for all who attend.

Your Honor, I Object by Donald Kennedy

"Your Honor, I Object" is a law book that explores the moral worth of a society. The book examines the role of judges and lawyers in society, and how their actions can either strengthen or weaken the rule of law. The book argues that the legal system is not a perfect reflection of society, but rather a product of it. "Your Honor, I Object" is a thought-provoking read for anyone interested in the legal system or the role of the judiciary in society.

"While Nicks' voice has lost much of the effervescence characteristic of her '70s work due to the maturing development of nodes on her vocal chords, her singing has gained an interesting rasp. Both Fleetwood Mac's studio disc, and the live disc, feature hints of the high notes. However, Nicks' vocals have been well matched, and her combination will undoubtedly prove successful. The options "Love Me" is already included on Fleetwood Mac's album. "Save Me" and "You Know", a duet with Stevie Nicks, has also been recorded. The concert will be held at the school's auditorium.

Maurice Monohan

Comments: "The Honoree Code is the long-standing tradition of the upholding of high values for every individual in the University. Wrong or right, each student must comply with these values. Comprehend the responsibility of the best students who exhibit not only a high quality of learning but a highly respected character. As a student, this is a tradition I must—and will gladly—carry on."

Nama Rogers

Comments: "I was chosen to run for the Judicial Board because I feel the student judicial process and school constitution are an integral part of our university and traditions."

Marc E. Dalton

Experience: Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity; Student Senate; Junior and Senior Class Council; delegate to and governor at College-wide Student Government; Dean’s List; Coordinator, Wake Forest Marching Band; Project Encourage Community Volunteer.

Comments: "The Judicial Board plays a crucial role in protecting the rights of all students and making sure that they are given a fair test. I feel that the Judicial Board serves the body and the community well in this role. I have that insight into all sides of an issue and to decide on the fairest way for the individual as well as the University."

Shelley Hale

Experience: Judicial Board 88-'90; report and former Perspectives Editor for Gold and Black Student Advisor; LEAD program coordinator; nuclear reactor plant intern.

Comments: "Service on the Judicial Board this year has given me experience with Wake Forest's social regulations and Honor Code, and I feel that the experience I have gained would enable me to serve the Board and the university community well in the future."

Blackmon Huckshae

Rising Senior

Experience: Judicial Board member '88-'90; Legislation '87-'88; LEAD participant '88-'89; 5-Benner Center Advisor '89; Executive Board member; Sigma Pi Epsilon Fraternity Advisor.

Comments: "I chose to run for election of the Judicial Board because I feel it is in a true channel of self-government for the student. Unlike other committees, boards, and bodies I have been involved with, the Judicial Board is completely under student jurisdiction and control. I feel being part of such a promising system and the potential I have can help to lead me to fulfilling my goals and dreams.

Charles Lambert

Experience: judicial board member '88-'90; Legislation '88-'90; LEAD participant '88-'89; Benner Center Advisor '89; Executive Board member; Sigma Pi Epsilon Fraternity Advisor.

Comments: "I chose to run for the Judicial Board because I enjoyed serving on it last year. Wake Forest is unique in that we have a student run system, and I believe student involvement is important in maintaining the system.

Bob Ramsay

Rising Junior

Experience: Safe Riders Kappa Alpha Order Chair; Circle of Honor; Judicial Board participant; Phi Delta Theta Admissions Committee.

Comments: "I chose to run for judicial board because I enjoyed serving on it last year. Wake Forest is a vital aspect of student government and I believe the Judicial Board should be a vital part of the judicial integrity of this community.

China Tyson

Rising Junior

Experience: High School Student Government Director; HOSA chapter at high school; international officer of junior class in HOSA; National Honor Society.

Comments: "I would be honored to be a part of the Wake Forest Judicial Board for many reasons. It is a great opportunity to learn and grow as a leader. This is an important responsibility, because when a student must appear before the Judicial Board, it would be most valuable for them to speak to impartial students in stand of their teachers or administration. I personally would like to get involved with the Student Government in any way possible, be it helping out in the office or being a member of a committee. I believe that the Judicial Board would give me a chance to serve a crucial role in making Wake Forest a better place for all of us."

Charlotte Kane

Experience: Judicial Board 87-'90; 89-'90; 3-Secondary Education; 3-Member of ISC; 3-President of ISC; 3-President of Student Union; 3-President of Student Union Films Committee; 3-Member of ISC.

Comments: "The Student Union Council is an integral part of our university. It is important that the campus community understands the role of the Student Union Council and how it operates.

Bradley Robinson
