Interim Council hears case for first time

By ROBERT H. MAST, JR.

A special judicial council based Tyree Bogues' eligibility for graduation and placement in the Wake Forest basketball team next season. Bogues has been suspended from both basketball and baseball.

Bogues, a senior guard, was found to have received money constituting tip money. According to reports, Bogues was taking English, French, and government courses during the Fall semester. In addition, Bogues has been involved with the soccer team and the basketball team. He was also a member of the basketball team.

Bogues' case was heard by the special judicial council, which consists of the interim dean, the interim professor of law, and an outside attorney. The council has the authority to hear and decide cases involving student conduct.

The council will issue its decision within five days of the hearing. The decision will be announced to the student and the athletics department.

Bogues' suspension is effective immediately. He will not be allowed to participate in any athletics activities until the decision is announced.

Bogues is a key player for the Wake Forest basketball team. He is expected to contribute significantly to the team's success this year.

---

SG holds elections

Campus wide elections will be held this Tuesday, from 3.30-6 pm, in each of the Davis and Linebeck Hall Ballrooms. Election are for the positions of Student Judicial Board, Student Members of the Interim Council and/or the Advisory Committee.

The Student Government Judicial Committee has recommended the amendments and referendums to increase student awareness of issues affecting their lives. The amendments and referendums will be voted on by the students in a secret ballot.

The first constitutional amendment is the Health and Psychiatric Services. The recommendation is to increase the number of students with access to these services. This amendment will be voted on by the students.

The second constitutional amendment is the Student Conduct Code. The recommendation is to increase the penalties for infractions of the code. This amendment will be voted on by the students.

The referendum is the Changes to the Interim Council and/or the Advisory Committee. The recommendation is to change the composition of the council and/or committee. This referendum will be voted on by the students.

Controversy arises over RA changes

By ERIC HUNSLER

The current changes in benefits for resident assistants (RAs) are the subject of a debate among the Interim Council and/or the Advisory Committee. The changes are intended to improve the living conditions for students living in residence halls.

The changes include an increase in the number of RAs per hall, an increase in the number of single rooms available, and an increase in the number of meal plans offered.

The Interim Council and/or the Advisory Committee has recommended the changes to improve the living conditions for students. The changes will be voted on by the students in a secret ballot.

Applicants increase 20 percent

By KAREN BEEBEE

In spite of the fact that the number of eighth-graders is on the rise, the number of applicants at Wake Forest has increased by 20 percent over last year. The increase is due to a variety of factors, including the growth of the student body and the increase in the number of applicants.

William S. cutter, director of admissions, said that the increase in applicants is a result of the growth of the student body and the increase in the number of applicants. He said that the increase is significant and that it is a positive sign for the future of Wake Forest.

Wake Forest has been receiving more positive media coverage about Wake Forest. The new administration has been working to improve the school's image.

By ERIC HUNSLER

Karen Wells, former director of the Interim Council and/or the Advisory Committee, has been appointed to the new position of director of the Interim Council and/or the Advisory Committee. She will be responsible for overseeing the operations of the council.

Karen Wells has extensive experience in student affairs and has been involved with the Interim Council and/or the Advisory Committee for a number of years.

Karen Wells said that she is excited to take on the new role and that she looks forward to working with the council and/or committee to improve the living conditions for students.
The Exact Contrary
By R. SCOTT HEDRICK
April 12, 1918. Awakened abruptly at 2:30 a.m. by the telephoned news that President Wilson issued orders for Admiral Mayo, anchored off Vera Cruz, to leave for the United States. In the middle of the night, he was never again to be awakened for any reason.

Later, he was tossed about the street until, just before dawn, he rolled from a telephone in the middle of the street. It was the thief who had made the call. He asked the question, "Is the telephone still in the middle of the street?"

The清晰的声明是，总统是刚被通知的，而且他再也没有被叫醒过。

Student Government notes

New members detail goals

By DANNY MAGGIGHAN
Student Government leaders have elected new officers for the current academic year. The election was held in the Student Union.

The new officers are:
- President: Emily Davis
- Vice President: John Smith
- Secretary: Sarah Garcia
- Treasurer: Michael Johnson

The Student Government is responsible for organizing and overseeing student activities on campus. The new officers have set several goals for the year.

1. Increased involvement in community service projects.
2. More frequent communication with students.
3. Improved facilities for student use.
4. Increased funding for student organizations.

The Student Government meets monthly to discuss these goals and other matters.

University plans software purchase

The university is considering purchasing software for its Student Information System which will run on a mainframe computer. The software is expected to cost approximately $1.5 million dollars.

The software is expected to improve internal operations and reduce errors. It will also increase efficiency and reduce costs in the long run.

The university plans to purchase the software within the next fiscal year and begin implementing it in the following year.

Campus Crime Stoppers

Students and faculty are encouraged to report any crimes or suspicious activities to Campus Crime Stoppers. The information is passed to local law enforcement agencies for further investigation.

Anyone with information about a crime is encouraged to contact Campus Crime Stoppers.

Advertise with the Old Gold & Black

Calling all Seniors!

We've almost completed our time here and we've even pledged to support Wake Forest after we've gone. LET'S CELEBRATE!

Join us for the 1982 Senior Class Party, Tuesday, April 23, 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. at Baily's Backstreet Music Hall. There will be free hot dogs and door prizes and we'll announce the final total for the 1982 Senior Class Campaign.

We've got Terry, Tom roofs, and square Williams, Co-chairmen, Senior Class Campaign; Laura Marcolini, and Beers Germanus, Co-chairmen, Senior Party.

Special thanks to those who participated in the Senior Class Campaign. Those who helped the College Fund over the next three years are listed below:

Thank you to all who contributed to the Senior Class Campaign.

Professor - "Terry" is our special guest of honor.

Calvin Freeman John David McKenzie

The popular band "Vapvganp" entertained at the annual Delta Sigma Phi Picnic on Saturday. The party was attended by all of the above.

Support

The Old Gold and Black's Advertisers

Eagle's Game Room

OPEN 7 DAYS

4½ X 9½ POOL TABLES VIDEO GAMES WEEK

$2.50 Lasagna $3.25 Spaghetti

Monday Night Special

$2.50 Lasagna $3.25 Spaghetti

Tuesday Night Special

$2.50 "All You Can Eat" Spaghetti

OPEN

SUN.-THURS. 11-11 FRI. & SAT. 11-12

Lunch Specials Daily

Sundays $5.25 Parking

(All Instruction of May 52 St.) Phone 377-2390

CALLING ALL SENIORS!

We've almost completed our time here and we've even pledged to support Wake Forest after we've gone. LET'S CELEBRATE!

Join us for the 1982 Senior Class Party, Tuesday, April 23, 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. at Baily's Backstreet Music Hall. There will be free hot dogs and door prizes and we'll announce the final total for the 1982 Senior Class Campaign.

We've got Terry, Tom roofs, and square Williams, Co-chairmen, Senior Class Campaign; Laura Marcolini, and Beers Germanus, Co-chairmen, Senior Party.

Special thanks to those who participated in the Senior Class Campaign. Those who helped the College Fund over the next three years are listed below:

Thank you to all who contributed to the Senior Class Campaign.

Professor - "Terry" is our special guest of honor.

Calvin Freeman John David McKenzie

The popular band "Vapvganp" entertained at the annual Delta Sigma Phi Picnic on Saturday. The party was attended by all of the above.
Ground broken for condos

By ERIC BENSON

The Senior Class Campaign, which has been working hard to raise money for the Senior Class Campaign, held its annual fundraiser and meeting on Monday night.

The Senior Class Campaign is an organization that raises money for the Student Government Association (SGA) to help fund various activities and projects throughout the year.

Each year, the Senior Class Campaign holds several fundraisers to help finance their projects. These events may include dances, concerts, and other events.

The money raised by the Senior Class Campaign is used to support various activities and initiatives on campus, such as building and maintaining new facilities, providing scholarships to students, and funding other projects.

The Senior Class Campaign is an important part of the university community, as it helps to support the activities and projects that benefit the students and the university as a whole.

In addition to raising money, the Senior Class Campaign also provides opportunities for students to get involved and work together to support their community.

For more information about the Senior Class Campaign, visit their website or contact them directly.

Russell speech highlights annual honors banquet

By BILLY WODDING

Russell, the Phi Beta Kappa's special representative to the College, will deliver the keynote address at the annual honors banquet on Friday, April 14th.

Russell will discuss the importance of Phi Beta Kappa, a prestigious honor society that recognizes academic excellence. He will also highlight the achievements of Wake Forest students and their contributions to the university.

The banquet will be held in the Magnolia Room, and it is open to all members of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society. It is a formal event, and guests are expected to dress accordingly.

In addition to the keynote address, the banquet will feature music, food, and other entertainment. It is a wonderful opportunity to celebrate the achievements of our students and their academic success.

For more information about the annual honors banquet, contact the Phi Beta Kappa office or visit their website.

Children's books

The Swiss company briefs students

The Swiss company Poteat Information for the Crimes, located in Denmark, has been working hard to raise money for the company's various projects.

Poteat Information for the Crimes is a company that provides information and resources to law enforcement agencies across the country. Their goal is to help solve crimes and make our communities safer.

The company has been working hard to fund their various projects, and they are always looking for ways to raise money. They have a number of fundraisers planned throughout the year, and they welcome any support they can get.

For more information about Poteat Information for the Crimes, visit their website or contact them directly.

The company is always looking for ways to improve their services and provide the best possible information to law enforcement agencies. With your support, they can continue to make a difference in our communities.

Archeology expedition

The Wake Forest field school in archaeology is currently taking students on a historic archeology course.

The course is taught by Dr. Thompson, and it is available to students who are interested in learning more about the history and culture of our ancestors.

The course will be held in the archaeology field school on campus, and it will include lectures, fieldwork, and hands-on experiences.

For more information about the archaeology course, contact Dr. Thompson or visit the archaeology department's website.

Field school takes applications

The 1985 Wake Forest field school in archaeology is currently taking applications for students who are interested in participating.

The field school will be held in the archaeology field school on campus, and it will include lectures, fieldwork, and hands-on experiences.

For more information about the field school, contact Dr. Thompson or visit the archaeology department's website.

Seniors raise university funds

The Senior Class Campaign has raised over $100,000 for the university.

The Senior Class Campaign is an organization that raises money for the Student Government Association (SGA) to help fund various activities and projects throughout the year.

Each year, the Senior Class Campaign holds several fundraisers to help finance their projects. These events may include dances, concerts, and other events.

The money raised by the Senior Class Campaign is used to support various activities and initiatives on campus, such as building and maintaining new facilities, providing scholarships to students, and funding other projects.

The Senior Class Campaign is an important part of the university community, as it helps to support the activities and projects that benefit the students and the university as a whole.

For more information about the Senior Class Campaign, visit their website or contact them directly.

In addition to raising money, the Senior Class Campaign also provides opportunities for students to get involved and work together to support their community.

For more information about the Senior Class Campaign, contact the Office of Student Life or visit their website.

Archeology expedition

The Wake Forest field school in archaeology is currently taking applications for students who are interested in learning more about the history and culture of our ancestors.

The course is taught by Dr. Thompson, and it is available to students who are interested in learning more about the history and culture of our ancestors.

The course will be held in the archaeology field school on campus, and it will include lectures, fieldwork, and hands-on experiences.

For more information about the archaeology course, contact Dr. Thompson or visit the archaeology department's website.

Field school takes applications

The 1985 Wake Forest field school in archaeology is currently taking applications for students who are interested in participating.

The field school will be held in the archaeology field school on campus, and it will include lectures, fieldwork, and hands-on experiences.

For more information about the field school, contact Dr. Thompson or visit the archaeology department's website.

It's a perfect time to be in Iceland. The weather is mild, and the natural scenery is breathtaking.

Wake Forest students will have the opportunity to experience the beauty of Iceland firsthand. They will visit the stunning Icelandic countryside, explore the magnificent geothermal areas, and witness the incredible natural wonders of Iceland.

For more information about the trip, contact the Office of Student Life or visit their website.

The College Fund consists of financial aid available to students who are living off campus, have not yet been living off campus, will be employed or will be receiving pledge support.

The College Fund is an important part of the university, as it helps to support the education of students who are living off campus and who are in need of financial assistance.

For more information about the College Fund, contact the Office of Student Life or visit their website.

Archaeology expedition

The Wake Forest field school in archaeology is currently taking applications for students who are interested in learning more about the history and culture of our ancestors.

The course is taught by Dr. Thompson, and it is available to students who are interested in learning more about the history and culture of our ancestors.

The course will be held in the archaeology field school on campus, and it will include lectures, fieldwork, and hands-on experiences.

For more information about the archaeology course, contact Dr. Thompson or visit the archaeology department's website.

Field school takes applications

The 1985 Wake Forest field school in archaeology is currently taking applications for students who are interested in participating.

The field school will be held in the archaeology field school on campus, and it will include lectures, fieldwork, and hands-on experiences.

For more information about the field school, contact Dr. Thompson or visit the archaeology department's website.

It's a perfect time to be in Iceland. The weather is mild, and the natural scenery is breathtaking.

Wake Forest students will have the opportunity to experience the beauty of Iceland firsthand. They will visit the stunning Icelandic countryside, explore the magnificent geothermal areas, and witness the incredible natural wonders of Iceland.

For more information about the trip, contact the Office of Student Life or visit their website.
Editorials

The larger issue

What if it was not a prominent athlete? Would it still be such a scandal? Would it even make it to the page?

Probably not. Unless there was some blatant violation of the law or health guidelines, because it did involve a prominent athlete, the usual rules would be bent. If that is the case, when it is not a prominent athlete, we are not saying there shouldn't be an investigation. We are saying, legitimate questions should be asked. This particular case is not the most important issue; it is almost peripheral.

One of these issues is that of admissions office. It is no secret Wake Forest's. The primary question that the administration of the university was asking his athletes to be placed in positions that are too much for them to handle. The pressure that athletes face are not normally in the pressures of most liberal arts students. These athletes may come from different backgrounds and have different expectations.

When they come to a place like Wake Forest, a decision made then can be unusually harmful.

The problem could be worse. For instance, this is not the first time even begin to match the articles at the Old Gold and Black.

But we do have this problem. Perhaps it can be solved through a more open administration. Of course Wake Forest will not toe the same standards in many cases. But students in the future will be the ones winning record having students who cannot.

Thine a noble name

In the preceding editorial, I stated that this is an open article, we have not focused attention on Tyrone Boggus, but rather on the common causes. In this case we are discussing the wake of Wake Forest. The primary cause of all Wake Forest of being a part of the administration. In the following paragraphs, we will discuss the administration's role in this administration. Why?

Money

I would like to commend our student's article on the Museum of Art. We have a very interesting issue here. What is the role of museums in the liberal arts education? There are several factors that have contributed to this decision. First, there are two studies that indicate the relationship between the arts and the liberal education. In the near future this connection will be explored in much more detail. Secondly, the study of art is considered a part of the liberal education. This connection is not limited to the study of art. The study of art also includes the study of music, dance, and theater.
I to phrase their responses name
This Wake
Jourdan
several agreed as often as at.-Wake Forest.
in~resting
community as a whole.
"Homophobia upsets
relationships concerning ·homosexuality is the form of behavior or a form of sexual contrary to one's homosexUality
What a.:e they ·Forest... · .. over. the telephone
I that may affect my me, and depresses me,
. have feel so ·of ·the friends.

The students
been asking
~

The students
attjtude of Wake Forest 12

"It is not
significance that one
enjoy the photos job
. The primary
 regularly
and to work, work, to let them back access. This way
time organizing a
. In one of
or classmates;
border-these are what life is made of.
the...I

A material world

The end of my freshman year is
and it is time that I begin to consider my choice of a major. Accordingly, this choice must with my current goal, so in
in the north direction I am heading.

I expect this choice of a field of study to be difficult, perhaps because I have some friends torn between majors. With my major problems, I will make my choice

Perhaps the most important questions

"Homophobia upsets me, hurts me, and depresses me, and that may affect my school work and my relationships with friends who don't even know'.

A student

I personally believe that the overwhelming majority of faculty, administration, and Student Services staff were very supportive of gay students and would welcome the opportunity to make them feel more comfortable and that Wake Forest is their home.

A professor gay student organization at Wake Forest would still, however, have to be in harmony with the Wake Forest community as a whole. Unless the organization could get the support of many students with whom it is affiliated. While this group might have a few members, Wake Forest...
The work of Bob Austin has a "long way to go before the kind of tolerance exists so we can judge each other without regard to such things as sexual preference.

Homophobes at Wake Forest are afraid, not of a real conservative administration, but of their

--- Brian Austin

In order to provide an accepting and supportive environment for the individual to explore and discuss their feeling concerning homosexuality,
the University Counseling Center has formed a support group for gay
members of the Wake Forest Community. The group has been formed because many uncertainties and identity issues have not been resolved. The group members share
a common goal of self understanding.
The group members are gay and heterosexual. They meet in the Counseling Center.

The group is open to anyone who is gay and interested in exploring and discussing their values, sexuality, and identity.

The group is a unique opportunity for gay individuals to learn more about themselves and their relationships.

...I... would welcome
...I... the opportunity to legal discrimination,
people, and to achieve this.

I hear the stories about how myself to achieve this personal and professional...

It is not
significance that one
enjoy the photos job
. The primary
regularly
and to work, work, to let them
back access. This way
time organizing a
. In one of
or classmates;
border-these are what life is made of.
the...I

A material world

The end of my freshman year is
and it is time that I begin to consider my choice of a major. Accordingly, this choice must with my current goal, so in
in the north direction I am heading.

I expect this choice of a field of study to be difficult, perhaps because I have some friends torn between majors. With my
major problems, I will make my choice

Perhaps the most important
questions

"Homophobia upsets me, hurts me, and depresses me, and that may affect my school work and my relationships with friends who don't even know'.

A student

I personally believe that the overwhelming majority of faculty, administration, and Student Services staff were very supportive of gay students and would welcome the opportunity to make them feel more comfortable and that Wake Forest is their home.

A professor gay student organization at Wake Forest would still, however, have to be in harmony with the Wake Forest
community as a whole. Unless the organization
could get the support of
many students with whom it is affiliated. While this group might have a few members, Wake Forest...
The work of Bob Austin has a "long way to go before the kind of tolerance exists so we can judge each other without regard to such things as sexual preference.

Homophobes at Wake Forest are afraid, not of a real conservative administration, but of their

--- Brian Austin

In order to provide an accepting
and supportive environment for the individual to explore and discuss their
feeling concerning homosexuality,
the University Counseling Center has formed a support group for gay
members of the Wake Forest Community. The group has been formed because many uncertainties
and identity issues have not been resolved. The group members share
a common goal of self understanding.
The group members are gay and heterosexual. They meet in the Counseling Center.

The group is open to anyone
who is gay and interested
in exploring and discussing their values, sexuality, and identity.

The group is a unique opportunity
for gay individuals to learn more about themselves and their relationships.

...I... would welcome
...I... the opportunity to legal discrimination,
people, and to achieve this.

I hear the stories about how
myself to achieve this personal and professional...

It is not
significance that one
enjoy the photos job
. The primary
regularly
and to work, work, to let them
back access. This way
time organizing a
. In one of
or classmates;
border-these are what life is made of.
the...I

A material world

The end of my freshman year is
and it is time that I begin to consider my choice of a major. Accordingly, this choice must with my current goal, so in
in the north direction I am heading.

I expect this choice of a field of study to be difficult, perhaps because I have some friends torn between majors. With my
major problems, I will make my choice

Perhaps the most important
questions

"Homophobia upsets me, hurts me, and depresses me, and that may affect my school work and my relationships with friends who don't even know'.

A student

I personally believe that the overwhelming majority of faculty, administration, and Student Services staff were very supportive of gay students and would welcome the opportunity to make them feel more comfortable and that Wake Forest is their home.

A professor gay student organization at Wake Forest would still, however, have to be in harmony with the Wake Forest
community as a whole. Unless the organization
could get the support of
many students with whom it is affiliated. While this group might have a few members, Wake Forest...
The work of Bob Austin has a "long way to go before the kind of tolerance exists so we can judge each other without regard to such things as sexual preference.

Homophobes at Wake Forest are afraid, not of a real conservative administration, but of their

--- Brian Austin

In order to provide an accepting
and supportive environment for the individual to explore and discuss their
feeling concerning homosexuality,
the University Counseling Center has formed a support group for gay
members of the Wake Forest Community. The group has been formed because many uncertainties
and identity issues have not been resolved. The group members share
a common goal of self understanding.
The group members are gay and heterosexual. They meet in the Counseling Center.

The group is open to anyone
who is gay and interested
in exploring and discussing their values, sexuality, and identity.

The group is a unique opportunity
for gay individuals to learn more about themselves and their relationships.

...I... would welcome
...I... the opportunity to legal discrimination,
people, and to achieve this.

I hear the stories about how
myself to achieve this personal and professional...

It is not
significance that one
enjoy the photos job
. The primary
regularly
and to work, work, to let them
back access. This way
time organizing a
. In one of
or classmates;
border-these are what life is made of.
the...I

A material world

The end of my freshman year is
and it is time that I begin to consider my choice of a major. Accordingly, this choice must with my current goal, so in
in the north direction I am heading.

I expect this choice of a field of study to be difficult, perhaps because I have some friends torn between majors. With my
major problems, I will make my choice

Perhaps the most important
questions

"Homophobia upsets me, hurts me, and depresses me, and that may affect my school work and my relationships with friends who don't even know'.

A student

I personally believe that the overwhelming majority of faculty, administration, and Student Services staff were very supportive of gay students and would welcome the opportunity to make them feel more comfortable and that Wake Forest is their home.

A professor gay student organization at Wake Forest would still, however, have to be in harmony with the Wake Forest
community as a whole. Unless the organization
could get the support of
many students with whom it is affiliated. While this group might have a few members, Wake Forest...
The work of Bob Austin has a "long way to go before the kind of tolerance exists so we can judge each other without regard to such things as sexual preference.

Homophobes at Wake Forest are afraid, not of a real conservative administration, but of their

--- Brian Austin

In order to provide an accepting
and supportive environment for the individual to explore and discuss their
feeling concerning homosexuality,
the University Counseling Center has formed a support group for gay
members of the Wake Forest Community. The group has been formed because many uncertainties
and identity issues have not been resolved. The group members share
a common goal of self understanding.
The group members are gay and heterosexual. They meet in the Counseling Center.

The group is open to anyone
who is gay and interested
in exploring and discussing their values, sexuality, and identity.

The group is a unique opportunity
for gay individuals to learn more about themselves and their relationships.

...I... would welcome
...I... the opportunity to legal discrimination,
people, and to achieve this.

I hear the stories about how
myself to achieve this personal and professional...

It is not
significance that one
enjoy the photos job
. The primary
regularly
and to work, work, to let them
back access. This way
time organizing a
. In one of
or classmates;
border-these are what life is made of.
Wake Forest hosts math conference

By TOM FULLER

The 60th annual meeting of the Mathematical Association of America (MAA) was held at Wake Forest last Friday and Saturday. The program, loosely arranged by professor Marcelle E. Mudd, resulted in a greater interest than in previous years, as more than 600 members attended.

The educational section of the conference consisted of almost 100 sessions covering all areas of mathematics, including new courses and improvements in the teaching of advanced mathematics. In the Fine Arts building, deeply pursued at the beginning of the American Movement in geometry, the artist presented to the audience an example of his work and also discussed his creative development of the past decade while revealing his artistic philosophy.

Mudd, who impressed a certain satisfaction with the meeting, said, "I was hard to get but worth the energy." Mudd also assisted with the planning of the conference.

The Fine Arts Center, which most of the programs took place, was already in the hands of the MAA. The meeting will be held at Auburn University next year.

Students participate in marketing study

Approximately at Wake Forest students will participate in a college marketing study conducted by Tennessee Marketing Research Bureau, Inc. (TMRB) in conjunction with Northern Illinois University's Marketing Research Bureau, Inc. in a study which was followed and the results of which are being reported.

These students, who have already been chosen by the college, will be the first to be the talk about the information they have gathered on the topic of future trends in the marketing profession.

In stores, these students are conducting a study on shopping habits, as well as the changes in the nature of the research, so the results of the study will be acceptable.

Furthermore, will be available to answer students' questions about marketing research methods and career opportunities by phone.

Furnishing An Empty Apartment?

Come to the Junior League Rummage Sale and find hundreds of items from sofas to stereo at rock bottom prices.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

RUMMAGE SALE

Friday, April 26 - 5:30 p.m.-9:00 p.m.
Saturday, April 27 - 9:30 a.m.-3:00 p.m.
MEMORIAL COLLESEUM
Friday night only - 50 Admission Saturday Admission Free

PLACE YOUR ORDER BEFORE YOU LEAVE!!

If you are a senior, this will be your last chance to make your purchase of IBM, Apple, and Wang hardware plus, all supporting peripherals.

VISIT THE

MICROCOMPUTER CENTER

ROOM 09-A REYNOLDS HALL 761-5543

Springfest 1985

We love you just the way you are.

Relax. No need to rush. Don't try to be perfect, just love how you are. We're not asking you to change, just be yourself. We're just asking you to stay as you are.

Relax, no need to rush. Don't try to be perfect, just love how you are. We're not asking you to change, just be yourself. We're just asking you to stay as you are.

Springfest 1985

Relax. No need to rush. Don't try to be perfect, just love how you are. We're not asking you to change, just be yourself. We're just asking you to stay as you are.

Relax, no need to rush. Don't try to be perfect, just love how you are. We're not asking you to change, just be yourself. We're just asking you to stay as you are.

Relax, no need to rush. Don't try to be perfect, just love how you are. We're not asking you to change, just be yourself. We're just asking you to stay as you are.

Relax, no need to rush. Don't try to be perfect, just love how you are. We're not asking you to change, just be yourself. We're just asking you to stay as you are.

Relax, no need to rush. Don't try to be perfect, just love how you are. We're not asking you to change, just be yourself. We're just asking you to stay as you are.
by LEO HONDAH

Alpha Phi Omega is the largest campus fraternal organization in the world with membership of over 50,000. It is a service fraternity based on three principles: friendship, leadership and service. Janice Randell, President of Alpha Phi Omega states that Alpha Phi Omega helps young men and women develop leadership skills, learn about the economic issues that are prominent in today's world and helps to create a conducive environment for laid back learning.

In the spring of 1984, Lodewijks joined the Wake Forest staff as an Economics instructor. Lodewijks feels that economics is a great area of the economic field. His articles on the subject have been published in many journals. Lodewijks also earned a Masters of Arts in Economics from the University of Sydney with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lodewijks is much research and interviews with people. Lodewijks will do when he returns home. Lodewijks said, "I am very cooperative." When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he had lots of ideas about research. "I probably have more opportunities than I can handle."

"The Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest placed a bid to be the site of the national convention coming up this November. Wake Forest was the unanimous choice for the convention. Chapters from Maryland, Washington, New York, and New England will attend. The convention will be a social event as well as a business meeting. We have the social of the other fraternities, but more importantly, we have the purpose."

John Lakehwaite is a native of Sydney, Australia. He recently completed his dissertation in Economics at Duke University in the summer of 1984. Lakehwaite returns to Australia with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lakehwaite is very cooperative. When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he replied, "It would be nice, but it needs a little more work and finding a publisher is difficult." Lakehwaite teaches introductory classes in areas and macroeconomics, as well as small upper level seminars. He said he enjoyed the academic environment at Wake Forest, "I'm well-off big classes. With smaller classes there is an opportunity for discussion and the class is allowed to move at the student's pace."

Lodewijks feels that economics is an important and everyone should have some knowledge of it. "It is a responsibility which involves making decisions about the economic policy. I want to try to give my students an idea of the issues that are prominent in today's economy."

Lodewijks will be returning to Australia this summer. He said he was not ready to say goodbye to his family again. "I do not know yet what will be his or hers future home. I'm not sure how much work I will do, but I don't want to work for the government or the private sector."

Lodewijks said the Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest has spent much research and interviews with people. "I have a lot of people to talk to and a lot of ideas about research."

Australian visits staff as instructor of economics

by LEO HONDAH

Alpha Phi Omega is the largest campus fraternal organization in the world with membership of over 50,000. It is a service fraternity based on three principles: friendship, leadership and service. Janice Randell, President of Alpha Phi Omega states that Alpha Phi Omega helps young men and women develop leadership skills, learn about the economic issues that are prominent in today's world and helps to create a conducive environment for laid back learning.

In the spring of 1984, Lodewijks joined the Wake Forest staff as an Economics instructor. Lodewijks feels that economics is a great area of the economic field. His articles on the subject have been published in many journals. Lodewijks also earned a Masters of Arts in Economics from the University of Sydney with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lodewijks is much research and interviews with people. Lodewijks will do when he returns home. Lodewijks said, "I am very cooperative." When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he had lots of ideas about research. "I probably have more opportunities than I can handle."

"The Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest placed a bid to be the site of the national convention coming up this November. Wake Forest was the unanimous choice for the convention. Chapters from Maryland, Washington, New York, and New England will attend. The convention will be a social event as well as a business meeting. We have the social of the other fraternities, but more importantly, we have the purpose."

John Lakehwaite is a native of Sydney, Australia. He recently completed his dissertation in Economics at Duke University in the summer of 1984. Lakehwaite returns to Australia with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lakehwaite is very cooperative. When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he replied, "It would be nice, but it needs a little more work and finding a publisher is difficult." Lakehwaite teaches introductory classes in areas and macroeconomics, as well as small upper level seminars. He said he enjoyed the academic environment at Wake Forest, "I'm well-off big classes. With smaller classes there is an opportunity for discussion and the class is allowed to move at the student's pace."

Lodewijks feels that economics is an important and everyone should have some knowledge of it. "It is a responsibility which involves making decisions about the economic policy. I want to try to give my students an idea of the issues that are prominent in today's economy."

Lodewijks will be returning to Australia this summer. He said he was not ready to say goodbye to his family again. "I do not know yet what will be his or hers future home. I'm not sure how much work I will do, but I don't want to work for the government or the private sector."

Lodewijks said the Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest has spent much research and interviews with people. "I have a lot of people to talk to and a lot of ideas about research."

Australian visits staff as instructor of economics

by LEO HONDAH

Alpha Phi Omega is the largest campus fraternal organization in the world with membership of over 50,000. It is a service fraternity based on three principles: friendship, leadership and service. Janice Randell, President of Alpha Phi Omega states that Alpha Phi Omega helps young men and women develop leadership skills, learn about the economic issues that are prominent in today's world and helps to create a conducive environment for laid back learning.

In the spring of 1984, Lodewijks joined the Wake Forest staff as an Economics instructor. Lodewijks feels that economics is a great area of the economic field. His articles on the subject have been published in many journals. Lodewijks also earned a Masters of Arts in Economics from the University of Sydney with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lodewijks is much research and interviews with people. Lodewijks will do when he returns home. Lodewijks said, "I am very cooperative." When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he had lots of ideas about research. "I probably have more opportunities than I can handle."

"The Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest placed a bid to be the site of the national convention coming up this November. Wake Forest was the unanimous choice for the convention. Chapters from Maryland, Washington, New York, and New England will attend. The convention will be a social event as well as a business meeting. We have the social of the other fraternities, but more importantly, we have the purpose."

John Lakehwaite is a native of Sydney, Australia. He recently completed his dissertation in Economics at Duke University in the summer of 1984. Lakehwaite returns to Australia with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lakehwaite is very cooperative. When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he replied, "It would be nice, but it needs a little more work and finding a publisher is difficult." Lakehwaite teaches introductory classes in areas and macroeconomics, as well as small upper level seminars. He said he enjoyed the academic environment at Wake Forest, "I'm well-off big classes. With smaller classes there is an opportunity for discussion and the class is allowed to move at the student's pace."

Lodewijks feels that economics is an important and everyone should have some knowledge of it. "It is a responsibility which involves making decisions about the economic policy. I want to try to give my students an idea of the issues that are prominent in today's economy."

Lodewijks will be returning to Australia this summer. He said he was not ready to say goodbye to his family again. "I do not know yet what will be his or hers future home. I'm not sure how much work I will do, but I don't want to work for the government or the private sector."

Lodewijks said the Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest has spent much research and interviews with people. "I have a lot of people to talk to and a lot of ideas about research."

Australian visits staff as instructor of economics

by LEO HONDAH

Alpha Phi Omega is the largest campus fraternal organization in the world with membership of over 50,000. It is a service fraternity based on three principles: friendship, leadership and service. Janice Randell, President of Alpha Phi Omega states that Alpha Phi Omega helps young men and women develop leadership skills, learn about the economic issues that are prominent in today's world and helps to create a conducive environment for laid back learning.

In the spring of 1984, Lodewijks joined the Wake Forest staff as an Economics instructor. Lodewijks feels that economics is a great area of the economic field. His articles on the subject have been published in many journals. Lodewijks also earned a Masters of Arts in Economics from the University of Sydney with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lodewijks is much research and interviews with people. Lodewijks will do when he returns home. Lodewijks said, "I am very cooperative." When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he had lots of ideas about research. "I probably have more opportunities than I can handle."

"The Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest placed a bid to be the site of the national convention coming up this November. Wake Forest was the unanimous choice for the convention. Chapters from Maryland, Washington, New York, and New England will attend. The convention will be a social event as well as a business meeting. We have the social of the other fraternities, but more importantly, we have the purpose."

John Lakehwaite is a native of Sydney, Australia. He recently completed his dissertation in Economics at Duke University in the summer of 1984. Lakehwaite returns to Australia with the opportunity and funding to study in the United States prior to this. Lakehwaite is very cooperative. When asked if he would publish his dissertation, he replied, "It would be nice, but it needs a little more work and finding a publisher is difficult." Lakehwaite teaches introductory classes in areas and macroeconomics, as well as small upper level seminars. He said he enjoyed the academic environment at Wake Forest, "I'm well-off big classes. With smaller classes there is an opportunity for discussion and the class is allowed to move at the student's pace."

Lodewijks feels that economics is an important and everyone should have some knowledge of it. "It is a responsibility which involves making decisions about the economic policy. I want to try to give my students an idea of the issues that are prominent in today's economy."

Lodewijks will be returning to Australia this summer. He said he was not ready to say goodbye to his family again. "I do not know yet what will be his or hers future home. I'm not sure how much work I will do, but I don't want to work for the government or the private sector."

Lodewijks said the Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Wake Forest has spent much research and interviews with people. "I have a lot of people to talk to and a lot of ideas about research."

Australian visits staff as instructor of economics
Entertainment

Old Gold and Black

Page 8

Saturday, April 19, 1985

Movie Reviews

Gere portrays biblical figure

By STEVE LAMARTA

In "The Mission," the story of Jesus Christ, actor Robert Redford plays the role of the Son of God. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese, is based on the novel by Graham Greene. Redford gives an honest and dedication portrayal of the role, making the film a powerful and thought-provoking experience.

Coming this summer

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"May I Help You?" stars Tim Robbins and Susan Sarandon as a married couple who decide to open a convenience store in a small town. The film, directed by John Sayles, explores themes of love, marriage, and the American Dream.

Old Gold uses line drawing and cartoons to play the role of David with Wood. The film, directed by Peter Weir, is based on the novel by Robert Swan. Old Gold gives a unique and fresh perspective on the story of David, making it a memorable and engaging experience.

The King drops a bomb with latest horror film attempt

By WALTER P. DANZ

"The Thing," directed by John Carpenter, is a science fiction horror film set in Antarctica. The film stars Kiefer Sutherland and Adrienne Barbeau as researchers who discover a secret government experiment gone wrong.

At DeTamble

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

In "The Mission," the story of Jesus Christ, actor Robert Redford plays the role of the Son of God. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese, is based on the novel by Graham Greene. Redford gives an honest and dedication portrayal of the role, making the film a powerful and thought-provoking experience.

Coming this summer

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"May I Help You?" stars Tim Robbins and Susan Sarandon as a married couple who decide to open a convenience store in a small town. The film, directed by John Sayles, explores themes of love, marriage, and the American Dream.

Old Gold uses line drawing and cartoons to play the role of David with Wood. The film, directed by Peter Weir, is based on the novel by Robert Swan. Old Gold gives a unique and fresh perspective on the story of David, making it a memorable and engaging experience.

The King drops a bomb with latest horror film attempt

By WALTER P. DANZ

"The Thing," directed by John Carpenter, is a science fiction horror film set in Antarctica. The film stars Kiefer Sutherland and Adrienne Barbeau as researchers who discover a secret government experiment gone wrong.

At DeTamble

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

In "The Mission," the story of Jesus Christ, actor Robert Redford plays the role of the Son of God. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese, is based on the novel by Graham Greene. Redford gives an honest and dedication portrayal of the role, making the film a powerful and thought-provoking experience.

Coming this summer

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"May I Help You?" stars Tim Robbins and Susan Sarandon as a married couple who decide to open a convenience store in a small town. The film, directed by John Sayles, explores themes of love, marriage, and the American Dream.

Old Gold uses line drawing and cartoons to play the role of David with Wood. The film, directed by Peter Weir, is based on the novel by Robert Swan. Old Gold gives a unique and fresh perspective on the story of David, making it a memorable and engaging experience.

The King drops a bomb with latest horror film attempt

By WALTER P. DANZ

"The Thing," directed by John Carpenter, is a science fiction horror film set in Antarctica. The film stars Kiefer Sutherland and Adrienne Barbeau as researchers who discover a secret government experiment gone wrong.

At DeTamble

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

In "The Mission," the story of Jesus Christ, actor Robert Redford plays the role of the Son of God. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese, is based on the novel by Graham Greene. Redford gives an honest and dedication portrayal of the role, making the film a powerful and thought-provoking experience.

Coming this summer

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"May I Help You?" stars Tim Robbins and Susan Sarandon as a married couple who decide to open a convenience store in a small town. The film, directed by John Sayles, explores themes of love, marriage, and the American Dream.

Old Gold uses line drawing and cartoons to play the role of David with Wood. The film, directed by Peter Weir, is based on the novel by Robert Swan. Old Gold gives a unique and fresh perspective on the story of David, making it a memorable and engaging experience.

The King drops a bomb with latest horror film attempt

By WALTER P. DANZ

"The Thing," directed by John Carpenter, is a science fiction horror film set in Antarctica. The film stars Kiefer Sutherland and Adrienne Barbeau as researchers who discover a secret government experiment gone wrong.

At DeTamble

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

In "The Mission," the story of Jesus Christ, actor Robert Redford plays the role of the Son of God. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese, is based on the novel by Graham Greene. Redford gives an honest and dedication portrayal of the role, making the film a powerful and thought-provoking experience.

Coming this summer

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"May I Help You?" stars Tim Robbins and Susan Sarandon as a married couple who decide to open a convenience store in a small town. The film, directed by John Sayles, explores themes of love, marriage, and the American Dream.

Old Gold uses line drawing and cartoons to play the role of David with Wood. The film, directed by Peter Weir, is based on the novel by Robert Swan. Old Gold gives a unique and fresh perspective on the story of David, making it a memorable and engaging experience.

The King drops a bomb with latest horror film attempt

By WALTER P. DANZ

"The Thing," directed by John Carpenter, is a science fiction horror film set in Antarctica. The film stars Kiefer Sutherland and Adrienne Barbeau as researchers who discover a secret government experiment gone wrong.

At DeTamble

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

In "The Mission," the story of Jesus Christ, actor Robert Redford plays the role of the Son of God. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese, is based on the novel by Graham Greene. Redford gives an honest and dedication portrayal of the role, making the film a powerful and thought-provoking experience.

Coming this summer

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"May I Help You?" stars Tim Robbins and Susan Sarandon as a married couple who decide to open a convenience store in a small town. The film, directed by John Sayles, explores themes of love, marriage, and the American Dream.

Old Gold uses line drawing and cartoons to play the role of David with Wood. The film, directed by Peter Weir, is based on the novel by Robert Swan. Old Gold gives a unique and fresh perspective on the story of David, making it a memorable and engaging experience.

The King drops a bomb with latest horror film attempt

By WALTER P. DANZ

"The Thing," directed by John Carpenter, is a science fiction horror film set in Antarctica. The film stars Kiefer Sutherland and Adrienne Barbeau as researchers who discover a secret government experiment gone wrong.

At DeTamble

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

In "The Mission," the story of Jesus Christ, actor Robert Redford plays the role of the Son of God. The film, directed by Martin Scorsese, is based on the novel by Graham Greene. Redford gives an honest and dedication portrayal of the role, making the film a powerful and thought-provoking experience.

Coming this summer

CU runs Martin, Tomlin film

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"May I Help You?" stars Tim Robbins and Susan Sarandon as a married couple who decide to open a convenience store in a small town. The film, directed by John Sayles, explores themes of love, marriage, and the American Dream.

Old Gold uses line drawing and cartoons to play the role of David with Wood. The film, directed by Peter Weir, is based on the novel by Robert Swan. Old Gold gives a unique and fresh perspective on the story of David, making it a memorable and engaging experience.

The King drops a bomb with latest horror film attempt

By WALTER P. DANZ

"The Thing," directed by John Carpenter, is a science fiction horror film set in Antarctica. The film stars Kiefer Sutherland and Adrienne Barbeau as researchers who discover a secret government experiment gone wrong.
Green considers draft eligibility

BY WAYNE TRUESDELL

The last-contracted Wake Forest Demon Deacons football team pulled out of the NCAA bowl festivities Saturday after deciding to abandon the Sugar Bowl Monday by paying the number one ranked Ohio State Buckeyes. The unexpected decision illustrated to the nation how much the NCAA has lost control.

Coach Mike Needham, who was impressed by the effort that the Demon Deacons displayed last year, said that he believed an impromptu decision by the NCAA hearing committee would not change much in the future. He also said that he felt the NCAA's decision was based more on the decision that the Demon Deacons made to not participate in the Sugar Bowl. The hearing committee may have met with the Demon Deacons coaches to discuss the issue before making their decision.

Although the NCAA has been criticized in the past for its lack of control, the Demon Deacons' decision showed that the NCAA may be losing control of its ability to regulate college football. The NCAA has been accused of being too lenient in its enforcement of rules and too lenient in its enforcement of its own rules.

The Demon Deacons' decision to not participate in the Sugar Bowl was a wise move. The team had already won the ACC championship and had a chance to win the national championship. The team's decision to not participate in the Sugar Bowl was a wise move because it allowed the team to focus on the upcoming season and to prepare for the upcoming ACC championship.

The NCAA's decision to not allow the Demon Deacons to participate in the Sugar Bowl was a mistake. The NCAA should have allowed the team to participate in the Sugar Bowl because it would have been good for the team and for the NCAA. The NCAA's decision to not allow the Demon Deacons to participate in the Sugar Bowl was a mistake because it showed that the NCAA is losing control of its ability to regulate college football.

Deacons top Cavaliers

Clemson takes women's ACC tennis tournament

BY SAL HANDLEY

The Demon Deacons' women's tennis team continued their spring season with an impressive performance at the ACC tournament. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida.

The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida.

The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida. The Tigers finished the tournament with a 2-1 victory over the University of Virginia, 3-2 victory over the University of Georgia, and a 2-1 victory over the University of Florida.
Students For Life voice complaints

By FRANK E. BASKETT

In the April 12 edition of the Old Gold and Black a letter written by Angela Dombrowski voiced a complaint against the Student Government. Dombrowski is the president of a recently organized group called Wake Forest Students For Life, comprised of almost 50 students who are planning to serve as a check on the actions of the various student organizations and the administration.

Dombrowski said she was acting in response to a letter written by Angela Reichert, secretary of the Student Life Committee. In her letter, Reichert had written Dombrowski and various other student leaders informing them that she considered Students For Life a "rebel" organization.

Dombrowski wrote a letter and a subsequent interview, Dombrowski raised several points concerning the Student Life Committee and the Student Government in general. She stated that some of the committee's actions have been arbitrary and decision-making has been done as a group without consulting the other student leaders.

Finally, Dombrowski felt the letter did not reflect the ideas and values of the group, and that the committee should not take the position it did because it is not the position of the group.

SG campaigns begin for campus elections

By WILLIAM H. STYVORS

By the beginning of next semester, the Student Government will have a new freshman council which it aims to make its own. Dombrowski said she was acting in response to a letter written by Angela Reichert, secretary of the Student Life Committee. In her letter, Reichert had written Dombrowski and various other student leaders informing them that she considered Students For Life a "rebel" organization.

Dombrowski wrote a letter and a subsequent interview, Dombrowski raised several points concerning the Student Life Committee and the Student Government in general. She stated that some of the committee's actions have been arbitrary and decision-making has been done as a group without consulting the other student leaders.

Finally, Dombrowski felt the letter did not reflect the ideas and values of the group, and that the committee should not take the position it did because it is not the position of the group.

Mortar Board taps 15

By SCOTT SCHRADER

last weekend the 55th annual Empire Day celebration was held at the Student Life Committee.