Informal Poll Shows Students Support U.S. Policy in Libya

By BOGAN KERISH

Wake Forest students strongly support U.S. policy in the Libyan affair, according to an informal poll conducted by the Old Gold and Black. Other members of the university community were less enthusiastic.

Among the students, over 70 percent of those questioned clearly "approved" and only 20 percent "disapproved" of the United Nations' recent decision to fly a no-fly zone over Libya. Over half of the students who expressed any opinion on the issue favored the U.N.'s decision.

"I feel the United Nations had no choice," said one student. "The world is too divided to do anything else."

Students who opposed the U.N.'s action felt it was "unfair" or "unwise." "I think the UN is just dragging its feet," said another.

The poll was conducted on Tuesday by the Old Gold and Black, which published its results the same day.

Waiting List Students to Get Housing

By SUSAN BRAMBLET

Students on the housing waiting list now have a chance to get assigned a room. Directed housing Ed Cunnings said in an interview Thursday that these students are going to be housed in a new buildings. Over the past five years the average number of students on the list has been 70 to 80. Cunnings went on to say that they will be no problems assigning housing to these students.

He explained that these are the only students at Wake Forest who are going to be housed in a new buildings. Over the past five years the average number of students on the list has been 70 to 80. Cunnings went on to say that there will be no problems assigning housing to these students.

The Department of Housing and Residence Life made a decision to add a new dormitory to the campus last month. The new dormitory will house 100 students.

Students Attend Minority Conference in Georgia

By CHRIS SHABAB

Reggie Perkins, Cordy Williams, Andrew Chatos, Nancy Davis, Karen Reynolds, and George Nase attacked a conference for black students on white campuses at Samford University in Atlanta last weekend. They said they were inspired by the black students who participated in the Civil Rights Movement.

"We see ourselves as part of a tradition," said Perkins. "We are trying to carry on the legacy of those who went before us."
West Cites Education's Lack of Morals

By CRISTINE SARBOY

The year-round sports program provides students with an opportunity to participate in a variety of activities, ranging from traditional sports such as soccer, basketball, and baseball to more unique options like ultimate frisbee and snowboarding. The program is designed to offer students a balanced approach to athletics, promoting both physical fitness and academic success. Students are encouraged to participate in both individual and team sports, fostering a sense of community and teamwork.

COMPETITION: The Wake Forest University Department of Public Safety received a report earlier this week of a sexual assault that occurred on campus last week. The first category concerns sexual offenses. Rape, sexual assault, or other sexual behaviors were reported in the public safety incident reports. The second category involves property offenses. Burglary, theft, or other property losses were reported in the incident reports.

Female Administrators Are Minority

By SCOTT PRETORIUS

The number of women in leadership positions at Wake Forest University has increased significantly in recent years. According to the university's annual report, women now hold 40% of the total administrative positions, up from 30% five years ago. This trend is part of a broader national movement towards gender equity in higher education institutions. The increase in female administrators is a positive development, as it is believed to enhance diversity, improve decision-making processes, and create a more inclusive campus environment.

Rummage Sale

The Junior League of Wake Forest and the Wake Forest University Student Council invite you to participate in the annual Rummage Sale on Friday, April 22, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The sale will feature a variety of items, including clothing, household goods, and electronics. All proceeds will go to support the local community and the Junior League's various initiatives. You are encouraged to donate items in good condition to help make the sale a success.

Introducing the Commodore: Amiga 25%

The Commodore-Amiga 25% is a revolutionary computer that combines advanced graphics and sound capabilities with a user-friendly interface. It is designed to be a more affordable alternative to high-end personal computers, offering exceptional value for students and educators alike.

Campus Crime Stoppers

The Wake Forest University Department of Public Safety re- quests your assistance in investigating two different crimes that occurred on campus last week. The first crime involved an incident of assault, while the second was a larceny. The university's Crimestoppers Program is offering a reward for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the suspect. Anyone with information is encouraged to contact Crimestoppers at (919) 727-2800.

Freemasonry: The Secret Society of the Brothers

By NICK MILLER

Freemasonry is a worldwide fraternal organization that emphasizes the values of brotherhood, charity, and moral character. The history of Freemasonry dates back to the medieval periods, when it was a form of social and intellectual gathering among craftsmen. Today, Freemasonry continues to flourish, with over 10 million members worldwide. The organization has a rich history of contributions to society, including support for education, charity, and community service.
Student Alumni Club Members Drive

By CAROLYN COOPER
Walt Warner

The Student Alumni Club is looking for a membership drive for our students who can renomen for the club. Our goal is to increase our club to 200 members.

The drive will take place June 1-30, and we are looking for students to look at as aspirants for the club.

President, Jennifer Kojo, and Executive Assistant, Leslie Glassman, are available for assistance.

The council will present a variety of music, including jazz music, for the club.

The meeting will be held on April 29, 10 am, in the Student Union, at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Library Holds Workshop

Students interested in learning more about credit will attend the first workshop on April 21 at the Winston-Salem Public Library from 7:30 pm. The workshop, held as part of National Consumer Credit Education Week, is free of charge and open to the public. The workshop will provide information on how to manage credit cards, maximizing credit worth, and avoiding napping a damaged credit score.

To participate, contact Karen Proctor, Area Specialist, Management and Money Center, with the Agricultural Extension Service at 755-8162.

Symposium: Examines Ethics

By CHERIE VANHOVE

How can we predict a life worth living? "Every one of these cases is very different," said Boswell.

The workshop will be held on April 29, 10 am, in the Student Union, at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The keynote speaker will be John Stott, the president of the World Evangelistic Movement. He will present a case study on the topic of ethics.

A Needed Policy

Weeks after a very regrettable incident, Student Government President Steve LaMastra's formation of a committee to deal with date rape comes as a welcome development. Although the problem of date rape is unfortunately an issue at many other universities, the occurrence of such an incident at UNCG is so evident that it makes us wonder why it took so long for a committee to be formed. Even though some facts of the incident are fairly well-known, the whole incident should be viewed in the public eye with the formation of this committee. Although the committee's task may be long and tedious, it feels that a more specific treatment of the matter will help the majority directly concerned.

We all know that our student government has had difficulty in covering it. It was the kind of incident which generated considerable interest when it was brought to the public eye in the beginning, but which good newswriters couldn't sustain. Even though some facts of the incident are fairly well-known, it has not been discussed in our campus media. However, the committee feels that a more specific treatment of the matter will help the majority directly concerned.

We have known for some time about the incident, but did not publish anything about it in hope that it would all die down and everyone could go on with their normal activities. Yet for various reasons this has not been the case, such as the unending news cycle which has permitted them to come to an end. Spreading rumour about events which we did not witness can only hurt those in need and show a tremendous disregard to fellow members of our community.

Time to Vote

Yes, students, it's that time again. It's time to go to the polls and cast your votes. Elections for new members of the House, Senate, the Student Board, and Student Senate Admissions Committee as well as the new student member for the Board of Trustees will be held Tuesday. But this is not all.

Several amendments to the student body constitution will also be voted on at this time. Amendments include proposals to increase the number of students representing the Old Gold and Black, to change the student senate to a bicameral board, to restrict the leadership of the student government to those who are not majoring in education and to eliminate the student body senate sign-up for the pledge books.

The committee that was responsible for working on these proposals has spent the entire semester working on the proposal and amending it, and their hard work has paid off. This year, our campus has a say and we should use it.

Student Government, along with the committees that have put these proposals together, has put too much time into their research and evaluation for us to ignore it by not voting. So take the time to go to the polls, to vote, to find out what they really mean to us. Too many times the committee know how you feel.

Time to vote. Parsing the pledge through a computer card is an easy way to say, "I'm not a sycophant", I vote yes.

Editor's Note

The Student Senate and the Student Council both have elections this spring. There are some outstanding candidates running for each position.

Two years ago my vote was for a very reasonable candidate who may have won the race if he didn't campaign. I had hoped that the next one would be more intelligent and I was left to deal with it as I could, but was not too bright. The time is not right for the comparatively effective voters that are科学发展于自然界。

Although the incident has not been covered in our media, we feel it is important to protect our policy and the privacy of victims. We have had discussions with the student administration and have thoroughly investigated the matter. We feel that our policy is sound and that it should be taken seriously.

While I do not wish to see the incident forgotten, I do wish to say emphatically that the rumors that are so often spread are not true.

The time is now right for the committee to start working on the incident and the situation that has arisen out of it.

The students of this institution should be proud of the committee and the work that it is doing.

Old Gold and Black

Dear Mr. Gingrich,

I wrote to you last week about the need for a more thoughtful and comprehensive approach to the Libyan crisis. I do not want to intrude into, or interfere with, your own personal views on foreign affairs.

I was writing to point out that the United States is not acting on behalf of its own interests. It is acting on behalf of the interests of others. It is acting on behalf of the interests of others because it believes that the United States is acting on behalf of the interests of others.

If there is anything I can do to help you, I would be happy to do it.

Sincerely,

Please Put Unfortunate Incident in the Past

We fully support the efforts of all those who have been affected by this unfortunate incident. We also support the efforts of those who are working to prevent similar incidents from happening again. However, we believe that it is important to move on from the past and focus on the future.

I am a student at UNCG and I want to express my support for the efforts of all those who have been affected by this unfortunate incident. I also want to express my support for the efforts of those who are working to prevent similar incidents from happening again. However, I believe that it is important to move on from the past and focus on the future.

Cooler Policy is Injustice

Another incident has been reported at the USF faculty and students. This time it concerns the cooler bottles and ice that are being cut off. It may be true that it is happening, but I doubt that it is going to help.

If I were a student at UNCG, I would be angry. I would be angry because I believe that the administration is not doing enough to prevent similar incidents from happening again. I would be angry because I believe that the administration is not doing enough to prevent similar incidents from happening again. PLAY REVIEWS

It seems that some local school play is to be played. We already had a play at the local high school last week, but this one was a lot better. It was called "The Great Gatsby." It was a play about a man named Jay Gatsby who was always trying to get the attention of women. It was a lot of fun and the students did a great job.

Annually, the Springfest program is a large and popular event on campus. It is a time for students to come together and enjoy various activities. This year, the program was titled "Springfest '86: The Right Way to Go!" and it was attended by many students.

The program included a variety of events, such as music, dance, and sports. The music was performed by local bands and featured a range of styles, from rock to pop. The dance performances were performed by students and faculty, and the sports events included a soccer match and a volleyball game. The program was well-organized and provided a variety of entertainment options for everyone.

The Springfest program is an important event on campus and it provides a platform for students to express their creativity and participate in a variety of activities. It is a time for students to come together and enjoy each other's company. The program is a reminder of the importance of enjoying life and having fun.

Theatre Round-Up

It all seems like a horrible day to be in the theatre, and our new editor, the Director (Grayson, Director of the American). Frighteningly, these changes are not due to our own fault. The only problem here is that the people of the stage are more likely to be unlike us. What is urgently needed is for the Director to do his job and lead the actors back to the path of success. The Old Gold and Gold to the right, and Black to the left, are the three areas of the American. The number of space needed for the three areas is not well-organized. The American Theatre isirlines of not being organized. The reasons are: the space is not marked off, there are too few people, and the actors are not following the rules.

SFA's new students have arrived. Our new student is a brilliant director, with a deep understanding of the American Theatre. He is the one who will lead us back to the path of success.

DODDING BRINGS MUSICAL TO LIFE
By MARIA JENKINS
Waketon Chronicle
It's never easy to practice in a hallway, but for Trinity's newest opera group, the results have been outstanding. Louis Adler, a junior English major, is the director and he believes that the success of a musical is due to the hard work of the performers.

The setting is a corner of a high school auditorium where the performers are preparing for the opening night of their show. The opera is a classic and the performers are excited about bringing it to life. Louis Adler explains the challenges and strategies they have used to bring the opera to the stage.

Czech Trio Performs at Reynolda House
By ED RONBAUGH
The First American Tour: The New Prague Trio from Czechoslovakia and Eastern Europe presented a chamber concert Wednesday night for a Reynolda House audience.

The trio consists of three young and talented musicians from the Czech Republic. They have been performing together for several years and their concerts are always highly anticipated.

The performance included works by Czech composers such as Dvořák, Smetana, and Janáček, as well as pieces by Beethoven, Schubert, and Brahms. The trio's performance was praised for its technical mastery, musicality, and expressive interpretative style.

What Obsession

Like mainstream. She is far beyond the accepted norms of filmmaking. Week's movie is a study in human nature, and Lyne has shown us what he means by bringing together an extraordinary ensemble cast, and exploring the depths of the human psyche. Any filmmaker who attempts such a project will find it a daunting task.

The film, however, is not without its limitations. The narrative is often fragmented, and the pacing can be slow at times. Additionally, the use of voice-over narration can be distracting. Nevertheless, the film is a remarkable achievement, and will undoubtedly be remembered as one of the most important films of the year.

Kirk Bingham, the sexy star of "Three Weeks," named "The Paragon" was a good choice for the role. He portrayed Elizabeth as a woman who is consumed by her love for John. This is a very good transformation from his role in "Three Weeks." The result is a very good performance, and he is sure to win an Oscar nomination for his work.

Kirk Bingham and his co-star, Kim Basinger, are excellent as the couple. Their chemistry is undeniable, and they carry the film on their shoulders. Their performances are masterful, and they will undoubtedly win critical acclaim for their work.

The film has received much acclaim, and it is a must-see for anyone who loves a good film. It is a film that will be remembered for years to come, and it is a film that will inspire a generation of filmmakers to pursue their dreams.

Track Squads Are Successful At Tennessee

By H. R. THOMAS

Last weekend, at the prestigious Preseason Relays held at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, the Wake Forest men's and women's track teams continued to run well, despite the high quality of competition that was there. Their performances resulted in several personal and school record setting efforts.

In the 100 meters on Friday, running for the Deacon men, Fred Smith finished second with a time of 10.43, just behind the fourth-place man. Fred's time broke the 10.45 record set by denne Golden in 1982.

For the men's team, the top performance came from Steve Bastrop, who placed fourth in the men's 100 meters with a time of 10.34. In the same race, Joni Bown was also fourth, with a time of 11.49.

The results of the 200 meter relay were also impressive. The team of Steve Bastrop, Allen Herrin, Steve Greenburg, and Steve Simpson finished first, with a time of 19.60, breaking the school record set in 1982 by the team of Steve Bastrop, Jack Bennetts, Allen Herrin, and Steve Greenburg.

For Atlantic Coast Conference basketball previewers reading this one of your favorite players before they do the忽然 to the semi-finals of the National Collegiate Basketball Championship on Thursday night's key game in ACC School Basketball. The Wake Forest men's basketball season was the needed perception.

Almost all the top-seeded teams were there. Johnny Dawkins, the number one ACC player, played center for the Seattle SuperSonics. The number one player on the Wake Forest basketball team in the nation and the leader of Duke's team. The championship game of the National Conference Tournament, Maryland's Leonard Lee, was also the ACC players' favorite to lead a junior and senior. Cecil Daughtery, who was an inside player for North Carolina, was one of the team's leaders.

Wake Forest has finished third in both the past two seasons and ACC All-Stars Mark Allen, David Henderson, and John Kobs from the Blue Devil team that finished 27-3.

It was also a key test for Wake Forest men's basketball, coming off its second-place finish in the ACC School Basketball. Coach Leonard Lee said he had no fire the tempo he wanted for his coaches to be able to overcome and a number of officials nationally. Coach Dawkins finished the season in the top three of the ACC. Coach Lee finished the season in 1996 that was less than the next team shooting for the Redshirt and the Bloomberg of the Year.

Men's Tennis Team Wins 7-2

By MARK LATTI
Sports Editor Emeritus

Wake Forest defeated Appalachian State 7-2 in their last regular season match on Tuesday at the Indoor Tennis Center, and began play in the 20th annual Atlantic Coast Conference Men's Tennis Championships, which are being held on the campus of North Carolina State in Raleigh.

The Deacons will be matched up against the top seeded defending champions Georgia Tigers, who are also ranked fourth nationally.

Against the Mountaineers, John Visser defeated Leonard Vaughan 7-6, 6-4, Stefan Dallwitz beat Rob Brady 6-4, 6-3, Christian Siddons was over Frank Carson 6-2, 6-5, Fred Soyey came from behind to overcome Dan McMillan 6-2, 6-1, and Mark Ericsson beat Alex Burchell 7-6, 6-1. The Deacons won all but one of the sets in these matches.

Fred Wilbur also won one of the three doubles matches, which was the only method of winning in these sets when the Deacons could not hold back the number one doubles team of Vaughan and Carson and led 2-6, 6-3 7-6.

The number three doubles team of Van Wagoner and Locatell continue to be formidable opponents this year, dismantling McMillan and Carson in straight sets 6-6, 6-2. Rife and Kissam were not their usual form, having a tough time against Shriver and Burchell, but prevailing in three sets 6-4, 6-7, 7-6.

The Tigers have won the ACC Tournament Five of the past seven years and are heavily favored to do so again. Carson finished this year's regular season unseeded in 50 and are 26-4. The Tigers have won 33 of 34 dual matches against ACC foes in the past seven years.

The Deacons received the chance to battle the Tigers through the ranks of the draw. The first four teams are seeded and the bottom four teams are drawn out of a hat to see where they are seeded. N.C. State, the second seed in the league this year, will be facing the number 11th ranked team in the ACC, Georgia Tech.

In other first round matches, seeded seeded Maryland, which is the conference, will take on Virginia, and fourth seeded Duke will battle the Tar Heels of North Carolina.

On Sunday, the Deacons beat Virginia and came away with a hard earned 2-1 victory.

The Deacons took a four-run lead in the first, and they held the Deacons until the fourth inning when Mississippi stayed and bagged down home base with a trip to rightfield. Bagdad scored, and then hit a Homerun in the sixth to give the Deacons a lead. Virginia gave a run in the eighth, but Wake Forest wrapped it up in the ninth, keeping their season alive.

The Deacons will be matched up against the top seeded Tigers, who are also ranked fourth nationally.

And today, the legend of Miller Beer lives on, in every glass. In every can. In every crystal-clear back.

Miller contains no additives or preservatives. Pure you can taste.

So when you want a beer that's made to be the best, ask for a Miller.

Just like Bobby Allison, it's a legend made the American way.

BOBBY ALLISON AND MILLER BEER.

It takes more than desire to become a legend. It takes a will to win. A determination to be clearly superior to the competition.

These are the qualities that have driven Bobby Allison to over 80 NASCAR victories, the Grand National Championship and virtually every other honor the sport can bestow.

And they are the qualities that have made Bobby Allison, driver of the Miller American Buick, into one of the legends of stock car racing.

For over 130 years, we've been brewing Miller Beer with the same kind of desire. The same kind of determination to be clearly superior.
