Council Will Award Miniature Symbols to The Students

LANCOTT IS PREPARING RECORD ATHLETIC EVENTS

Clubs to Compete in Extended Series of Events Which Will Be Awarded by Council

The coming season promises to be the most interesting season in the history of Wake Forest College athletics. In all likelihood, the present year will be one of the most difficult seasons in the history of the College, as it is a season of transition and the introduction of new policies. To this extent, the season promises to be a very exciting one, as it is expected that the new members will have an opportunity to show their ability and to establish themselves as the guardians of the prestige of the institution.

The Seaboard Line is almost considered as a Wake Forest institution. The train daily serves students in traveling to various destinations, and the Student Council has recommended that the Wake Forest rail will be run when necessary. Mr. C. W. Wilson, superintendent of the rail, will see that the train is run when necessary for the benefit of students.

The Seaboard Line is frequently used by students who reside in the town of Wake Forest and who wish to travel to various parts of the country. The train is run when necessary, and the Student Council has recommended that the rail will be run when necessary.

SENIORS CAPTURE BASKETBALL GAME

Senior glory and dignity were pre­ seared as the senior class turned the ball game over to the seniors and set the stage to satisfy its desire for equality. The game was played with enthusiasm and might have been won by either side. The gentlemen of the senior class were able to score at will, while the juniors played a tight defense and exhibted a high class of basketball. The game was an even one, and was along the way through and not an easy one for either side. It will be a game to look forward to, and the seniors hope to add to their lead in the next game, which is expected to be a more successful one.

Both teams played and played hard, but showed signs of lack of preparation. This is due to the condition of the game, which was played in the middle of each half to refer to the point. The seniors might have an opportunity to replenish their lungs with fresh air. The seniors were Quick and accurate in dropping the ball in the basket, and their quickness was one of their strongest assets. The seniors had a few more members than the juniors, but both teams played well at goal posts, preventing the juniors from scoring and the seniors from scoring in the second half.

The final score was seniors 29, juniors 16. The seniors had an advantage of 13 points, which is expected to be a more successful one in the next game.
