DEACONSHIP: HOW YOUTHFUL IS IT?

Cyrano de Bergerac is a remarkable achievement in the history of modern drama. It is tinged with the attractions of wit, pathos, and humor, in the large and elaborated concept of the grand manner.

B.S.U. NOTES by ERMA LANIER

All ministerial students are invited to attend the Culling Memorial Conference at 9:00 Tuesday night at 1:15 in the Little Chapel. An informative program featuring a well-known musician has been planned for the benefit of members and visitors.

For those planning a major in religious education, there will be a meeting this Thursday night at 7:30.

CAUDLE PROGRESS

Elsewhere on this page, a letter from T. L. “Pete” Caudle, president of the student body, will be found. In this letter, Caudle sets forth the progress of the Student Council since they assumed office last May, and what is more important, his plans to publish in this paper the progress of the Council.

If the students at Wake Forest are really interested in the policies and actions of their Student Council, they will read these releases. And in them, presented in a clear, straightforward manner, the part played by the Council in student activities will be found.

These letters will not be written to convey the impression that the Council exists in order to lead the student body to believe they are not loosing. The purpose is to present a resume of activities, and to inform the students of what their Student Council is doing.

In the past, many students have been heard to complain that the Council exists in name only, and that no evidence of any progress made by the Council has been found; these releases will be published in hopes of ending these misunderstandings, by explaining in detail the problems of the student Council, to the student body.

Much of the work and many of the duties of the Council are taken for granted at Wake Forest. Such things as freshmen orientation, a better system of procuring tickets for ball games, and strict enforcement of the hot water system require much work on somebody's part; this is the task of the Student Council.

Under the direction of Sara Lake, Professor Soule, Professor Helm, Professor Seola, Professor Chandler, Dorrie Smith, and Doctor Lake. Morning worship is every Sunday at 10:00 with Doctor Glenn Blackham presiding the sermon and Professor Pauline McDonald presenting the music.

Incapacity Training Unit groups to the Church Sunday evening services are also invited to participate in the singing of the choral responses. The arrangements and instruction were presented by the Women's Auxiliary, organized primarily for women students, and it is well to point out that the women students are cordially urged to be present at these meetings, as the group does not wish to restrict the opportunities to present these choral responses to the members of the Women's Auxiliary.

After a hard day's rushing and worrying, there is nothing more relaxing and inspiring than a peaceful half-hour of quiet meditation. The 20 minute Vestry Service held in the Church each evening at 6:30 meet the student's need for a period of spiritual refreshment.

HOT WATER

We realize, as many as students on the campus do, the giant task confronting the Building and Grounds workers during the first few weeks of a school term. They have done very well at a hard task. Getting the campus and plant facilities ready for the opening of school and turning over details which arise as the facilities are again put into use, have, for the moment, been armyed by Mr. Holliday and his assistants.

We were well satisfied when we resumed our rooms in the dormitories for the fall; we were very well satisfied, with the exception of one small window, where the dwellers before each cock o'clock each morning is rapidly becoming a sore spot with us. The availability of hot water and the lessening of the day is a blessing for which we are truly thankful. But, in most instances, hot water is needed more in the early morning hours than at any other time.

The students who are on this campus hate to waste a fresh clean shave every night on a pillow in a rooming house; they find it fast and look much more presentable if they could shave before class each morning. The building committee should consider this, and in the early morning hours than at any other time.

The students of this campus have the right to do so, of course, and should be placed high on the list of duties of the department.

A hot shave and shower before nine cock o'clock each morning would feel fine.
Many Students Join Societies

A number of new members were accepted into the Philomathian and Philo-Literary Societies which held their regular meetings on Friday afternoon, September 30.

Many which began with a demonstration in the main campus during which a group of Phi's from Wake Forest announced today the planned list of speakers and entertainers for the October 2nd program. Doctor A. C. Howren, and an oration on liberal education was given by Robert E. Oliver, chairman of the board of trustees of the college.

The following list does not cover the last week in next month which is still under speculation. Doctor Blackburn, however, expects to have a more complete list in the near future.

TRIP TO DALLAS

Wednesday, October 13.

At 5:30 p.m., the students are scheduled to depart for Dallas.

The first day will be spent visiting the various oil companies headquartered in Dallas. The students will also have the opportunity to visit the Dallas World Trade Center and the Dallas Convention Center.

The students will then return to Raleigh on Thursday, October 14, arriving late in the afternoon.

The trip is being organized by Professor David Johnson, head of the English department, and will include visits to various businesses and organizations in Dallas.

Baptists Seek Revenge Over Boston College

George, Palmer, Stater Sidelines With Injuries

Baptists seek revenge over Boston College tonight. The Eagles lost their most memorable game of their modern title claimants of 1942. Only one man was lost from the two teams of last season. Leading the tragic “T” Boston will be Snig, quarterback, who paces in the nation last year on his fine passing, and who was the leading scorer of the 1940 season.

The Deacons will be out for revenge against Boston College, although Bill George, Tom, and Lewis tackles to be alternated in the regular line-up with Statt

Intramural Sports Scheduled To Start

Several fraternity teams have been working out every day preparing for the opening on Tuesday, Oct. 12. Boston College announced for October 4th. "The scheduling has been worked out in the Student Senate," said the announcement, "with an eye set on getting the best in-the-stand摩擦 and the University to cooperate in the first games today.

At the present the schedules for these events have been announced, but will definitely be completed by October 13. It was also announced that the schedules for the rest of the season will be published throughout the campus.

Deacons Scare SMU; Battle Boston Eagles Tonight

There is little doubt in the minds of Deacon followers that Paul Jones and his men have a great chance to win. But to lose of the remaining eight contests, people will be moderately surprised. The way it is looking, one of the last four games. As of now, that ‘ol Peahead and his band of Deacon Mustangs sure gave Southern Methodist University’s Mustangs a real scare before bowing 13-7. People will say too, that lock didn’t go down as planned.

Dook Walker proved to be the difference with his passes. The All-Americans were held in check as if they were playing on a frozen ground, but experienced little difficulty in hitting his aerial targets. Oddly enough, the Deacons didn’t even try the Mustangs top passer, but excels more as a pass receiver. He is quick in the extra point, and in addition to that, he calls the plays.

Baby Deacs Face Duke Blue Imps Today in Opener

The Wake Forest Baby Deacs will meet what will probably prove to be their sternest test of the season when they take on Duke's Blue Imps in the 1949 Big Four freshman football opener at 3:30 this Friday afternoon in Wake Forest.

The highly-touted Blue Imps have already established a heavy scoring gain relative to the 32-7 pounding handed them last year by the Baby Deacs. Reviewing a 25-man squad led by tailbacks Charlie Smith and Steve Taylor, the Duke backfield will be faced against a front four deep in manpower.
