Fate of Quad Elms
To Be Debated Today

By Michael McKelvey

The Capital Planning Committee will hold a special hearing on Monday at 7 p.m. concerning the fate of the old elm trees. Quadroogler, John Anderson, the chair of the committee, announced the hearing yesterday.

The trees are dying of Dutch Elm disease.

Nina F. Allen, associate professor of biology and the chairperson of the Quadroogler's historic preservation committee, said yesterday that members of administration have decided not to act on the committee's recommendation to remove all but a small number of elm trees when they die.

"The committee will ask what actions are to be taken," Allen said.

At a news conference Oct. 24, President Thomas E. Shaw, Jr., the committee reiterated its recommendations to remove all the remaining elm trees. According to the report, the trees are "the same quality and size needed for the new planning.

The committee suggested that the two areas directly in front of Wake Forest Hall and Augustus will be most affected by the trees growing under the shade of the elm trees. The committee also suggested that when the trees are to be cut down, it be done at the end of the school year, possibly in June.

"In other words, in 10 years the quadrangle will be a very beautiful spot and the trees should all be gone by then," Anderson said.

The survey, conducted by students who have studied and written with infected individuals, has found that about ten percent of the students who have had sex with someone who is infected believe they have a legitimate reason for remaining in residence even if given permission by their roommate.

To participate in the series, students should call the Health Center at 9:30 a.m. or 10:30 a.m. on November 9, 10, 11, 12.

WFU Students Show Little Concern About AIDS

By CuBby Hunt

Editor's note: N.C. Governor James Martin proclaimed Nov. 8-14 as AIDS Awareness Week.

Though the Student Health Center has seen an increase in the number of students coming in to seek help with AIDS-related issues, the increase is not as great as might be expected.

"We have seen a 20 percent increase in the number of students coming in to seek help with AIDS," said Dr. W. G. Stouffer, director of the Student Health Center.

The increase in concern about AIDS is not as great as might be expected, according to Stouffer.

The policy of supporting the contras pushed the Sandinistas towards the Soviet camp. We are stimulating our allies in the region by reacting against theirs. What we had to do to rebuff the growing tide of communists in Asia, and that we have to do to stem the growing tide of communists in South America.

If the U.S. wants to stop the spread of communism, it would be best to involve the factors that facilitate the spread of communism. It would be best to develop the region and establish a community of reasoners and appeasers. The 100 million dollars we gave to the contras could have been used to improve people's lives instead of the killing.

This country has repeatedly been involved in making a false order. This country should not be made to pay for their unbalanced behavior; the consequences of such behavior have already destroyed this nation and its displayed symbols. Logic and ethics force us to conclude that we should immediately destroy the United States of America and all its elements, including the Sandinistas. We may think that our history has been stable and glorious, but we have learned this history with our eyes on the Swiss War, the Mexican War, the Crimean War, the various "blood" events, the various "irregular" events, and the War Between the States and the equally bloody Reconstructions, to name a few.

The Alarm is a band that has always been considered to be the forerunner of guitar pop music along with the likes of Big Country, U2, and the Call and other such bands. While most of these bands seem to be moving towards a more commercial, conformist sound, the Alarm, led by singer Mike Peters, maintains its integrity. Their previous album Strength was raw-sounding and relatively uncommercial, but with their new album Hurricane, they appear to be going back to their Top-40 roots and many of the energy and freshness that eluded them in their last few years (1984-86) presentations.

It is only fitting, I suppose, that Hurricane is the follow-up to Strength, for both albums were released at the same time. If you listen to both albums, you can hear the difference in quality. The first album is produced much more commercial, but contains more of the same old lyrical banter of the band. The second album is a much more polished and professional effort, but lacks the same lyrical depth and musicality.

One step closer to Home (pronounced "home") is the title of the album. As the reader will note, the band has not only changed its name, but has also changed its sound. Gone are the days of the raw, unpolished sound of the past. Instead, we have a more polished, professional effort that is sure to please the band's fans.

Experiencing the Casual Joger

The fitness craze seems to be a popular one this year, but perhaps it is still very much in its infancy. In my opinion, it is a good thing for people to get off their lazy, sedentary lifestyles and do something for their bodies. One of the best ways to do this is to jog, or to run.

One of the most noticeable things about jogging is the fact that it is a very popular activity. You can see people jogging in all kinds of places, from the park to the street corner. The reason for this popularity is simple: it is fun! Jogging is a great way to get some exercise and to clear your mind. It is also a great way to meet new people, as there are many other joggers who are also out for a run.

As you jog, you become aware of the fact that you are doing something good for your body. It is a great feeling to be able to say that you are doing something positive for your health.

The opening page of the magazine is devoted to the theme of dancing. The first article is about the various types of dance that are available, such as ballroom, salsa, and swing. The second article is about the benefits of dancing, such as improved flexibility, coordination, and balance. The third article is about the history of dance, and how it has evolved over the years.

The third page is devoted to a feature on the American Ballet Theatre. The article discusses the company's history, its productions, and its stars. The final page is a calendar of upcoming dance events in the area.

Men Runners Falter in ACC Meet

By Bob Baker

The Wake Forest men's cross country team began the ACC championships with a disappointing fifth-place finish, according to the Deacon's top runner, Scott Hayward. The team, held at the Pioneers Park facility, was expected to be in the middle of the ACC standings before the season started. Hayward was disappointed with the result, but noted, "We were in the top five all the way, and we recovered from a few untimely injuries." Hayward was also pleased with the atmosphere created on the course, saying, "It was a great experience for the team, and we learned a lot from it."

Previous Wake Forest cross country runners finishing in the top 15 of the standings were: Zane White, finishing 11th place with a time of 15:53.

The Wake Forest women's cross country team has set a new standard in the Atlantic Coast Conference Championships, finishing in 15th place overall with a time of 4:15:37. The team was led by Senior Monica Magnussen, who finished in 15th place with a time of 17:49:02. Magnussen was the only Deacon woman to finish in the top 15, but the team's performance was impressive. Overall, the Deacons finished in 15th place with a time of 3:34:15.

Although the odds against playing in the ACC championships were difficult, the team was pleased with their overall performance. Head Coach John Adamcyk said, "We're happy to still be in the mix, and we're proud of the way we ran." The team's performance was highlighted by the contributions of Monica Magnussen, who finished in 15th place with a time of 17:49:02.

Strengthening the Lacrosse Program

By Chris Adams

The lacrosse team at Wake Forest University is in the midst of a rebuilding process. The team, led by Assistant Coach Scott Hayward, has been working to bring back the program to its former glory. Hayward, a former Deacon lacrosse player, has been working hard to bring the team back to its former strength.

The team's performance was highlighted by the contributions of Monica Magnussen, who finished in 15th place with a time of 17:49:02. Magnussen was the only Deacon woman to finish in the top 15, but the team's performance was impressive. Overall, the Deacons finished in 15th place with a time of 3:34:15.

Although the odds against playing in the ACC championships were difficult, the team was pleased with their overall performance. Head Coach John Adamcyk said, "We're happy to still be in the mix, and we're proud of the way we ran." The team's performance was highlighted by the contributions of Monica Magnussen, who finished in 15th place with a time of 17:49:02.
Dean's Try to Stop Losing Streak, Tigers and Tar Heels Clash

W.T. Friend is hoping to clinch a weary ACC season with a win over Groves Sunday at the Duke Blue Devil Stadium. After a 1-3-0 start, Head Coach Bill Devlin finds his team in the midst of a three-game losing streak.

The Deacons were down 24-7 by Clemson Saturday, with the Tigers sometimes using three men at one position, captivating off their superior depth and size. Luckily Friend is used to a possible all-American line and defensive backs, but two games, the suffocating back has finally come to an end in the ACC. Friend's squad has cut the team's three-game winning streak in two of the last three games.

11 overall and 4-4 in the ACC, and Head Coach Danny Ford still hopes his team is "just starting to find itself." Wendy McMillan, who displayed his talents in the pre-game war warm-up before the South Carolina game, is expected back for the game with the Tar Heels.

N.C. State's programs and Wake Forest football featured a page called "According to Michael Crawford." Entitled "Dolphins from the 91, 28, 20," Perry said of NFL career, "That's my favorite's dream, and I'm not different from the rest of them. Of course, I'll like to play professional ball because it's been a longtime dream of mine since I was a little guy I - mean, a young guy.

Duke

Senior quarterback Steve Slayden flew into the ACC record book Sunday, setting his 46th passing record for Duke. He also passed for a career-high 396 yards as he helped the Blue Devils end a four-game losing streak.

Duke's football program received the ESPNU 1997 Academic Achievement Award for the third time in seven years this week, as the university's 1997 graduating class set the ACC record for percent of players who enrolled in 1982. This is his fifth consecutive record, as well as Duke's fifth consecutive ACC record book.

The Terps are in for a showdown against the Blue Devils in the game today. The Terps are coming off a convincing 23-22 win over the Deacons.

Georgia Tech

Yellow Jacket Head Coach Bobby Ross was named ACC Coach of the Year in the game to go against Steve Slayden. Ross received nine votes in the balloting, which decided the winner.

Here's a vote for David Jarvis for the ACC Athlete of the Year. Jarvis is hoping to clinch a berth in the ACC record books Saturday, tossing a career-high 396 yards as he helped the Blue Devils end a four-game losing streak.

In the four-game winning streak, the Terps' offense has scored 12 touchdowns, and the defense has given up only 4. The Terps have won six of their last seven games, and they lead the ACC in yards per game.

North Carolina

Coach Dick Copeland has his Tar Heels playing as good as they look on paper. Whatever the case, Copeland has been trying to salvage his season a few weeks ago in playing for the conference crown against Clemson in Kenan Stadium.

Offense

The Wolfpack travelled to Columbia, S.C. Sunday and got spooked 24-10 by the South Carolina Gamecocks, who were inspired by revenge.

Last season in Raleigh, the Gamecocks fell victim to a 18-yard touchdown pass with no time on the clock as the Terps snapped a 1-22-2 win.

This season the Gamecocks, calling it "Black Sabbath," seemed to average less than 23. They were held to just 36 yards on total offense in the game, seven less than South Carolina's 124 yards on total offense, including 273 yards on the ground.

South Carolina

The Gamecocks outgained the Wolfpack 288-131 in the game, leading off the ball on the ground.

ESPN took over the telecast and moved the starting time to 6 p.m., so that national/international audiences could enjoy the ACC's most anticipated game of the week.

North Dakota scored its fifth touchdown of the year over the Terps. That's no great shock, but you and Duke play Saturday — that's a great shock about that.

The senior strong safety blocked a punt and recovered it for a touchdown in the last minute of the first half for his fifth score, on defense against the Terps.

"College is the prime time for lacrosse competition," club organizer Mary Wagner said. "There are the best players coming out of the prestigous top schools and other high schools with success programs who need and have the opportunity for competition at most of the larger universities, across the nation as well as at home."
"There is also a good deal of national interest on the senior level, and there is a nationally recognized all-American team that is called the Box League, which has meant in many years to the national scene," Wagner said. The interest in the sport is growing, particularly in this area of the country. Wake Forest has been the official campus of the Wake Forest women's lacrosse, which every school in the ACC will have either a women's team on a club team, with North Carolina being a personal championship team and Davis a very competitive challenge the program.
