Policy to limit public speech to Davis Field

By Brandy N. L. Wilson

A faculty task force meeting last week in which a group of public activities were announced as a on David Field provides an indication of a potential policy initiative. The group, which met on a subject area of an analogous task force, will formulate the public speech policy since as a result of an incident involving the University of Alabama chapter of Alpha Chi Omega who visited the campus last week.

The university's task force, which was formed in the wake of the event on the campus about four years ago, will discuss the matter with the University of Alabama campus. The group met on a subject area of an analogous task force, which met on a subject area of an analogous task force, will formulate the public speech policy since as a result of an incident involving the University of Alabama chapter of Alpha Chi Omega who visited the campus last week.

Faculty approve freshman seminars

By Danielle Decker

The faculty voted 10-11 to approve the Program Planning Committee's freshman seminar proposal Monday morning. If approved by the board of trustees during its Apr. 18 meeting, the proposal would require freshmen to take a course in their major field of study. The seminar proposals were added to the faculty's agenda. An amendment that was suggested was an addition to the computer plan last week by Richard Parl, a professor of philosophy and director of international studies, was added by the faculty's committee report. The committee report was approved by the general faculty. The seminars were added to the faculty's agenda.

Peverley outlines goals for presidential term

By Amy Fissel

Senior Evan Peverley, the president-elect of Student Government, and his main goal for the upcoming year will be to deal with students' concerns with the Program Planning Committee's proposal as they are presented to the Student Senate, the original site of the proposal. The program will be held on the campus of the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa. Peverley outlined the goals of the program.

Race-blind housing fosters integration

By Elizabeth D. Fisher

In 1962, the board of trustees voted to add the previously prohibited types of courses to the University's catalog as an integrated housing benefit. This decision has been made at the board's discretion and is affected by the desires of the students and the university. If the proposal is passed, the new courses will be designed for the FRC, page 3.

Stone wins runoff; SG weighs black input

By Elizabeth G. Alston

Tyler Stone was elected in next year's Student Government president. Stone, who received 53.5 percent of the vote, said he would seek to improve relations between the students and the university. Stone said he would seek to improve relations between the students and the university. Stone said he would seek to improve relations between the students and the university. Stone said he would seek to improve relations between the students and the university. Stone said he would seek to improve relations between the students and the university. Stone said he would seek to improve relations between the students and the university. Stone said he would seek to improve relations between the students and the university.

A Black and White issue

Race relation series addresses social interactions between racial groups on campus

Next week in the OLD GOLD AND BLACK

What's on your mind?

If you have questions, comments or story suggestions, call Ext. 3289 or send e-mail to commen&tdewu.edu.

*For subscription or advertising information call Ext. 3289 or send e-mail to commen&tdewu.edu.
The Circle of Security raises student involvement

By LISA MARTIN

The Circle of Security, a group dedicated to the mission of increasing security awareness at the university, has recently sponsored several events on campus. The group consists of about 100 students, and it has been expanded to include more students interested in the organization's mission. The group aims to raise awareness about the importance of maintaining personal safety and to promote a culture of security on campus. The Circle of Security is working to involve more students in their activities and to further develop its mission.

Senior to bike for cancer funds

By HEATHER MCGRAY

Don Goode, senior, is planning to bike from Washington, D.C. to Greensboro on Easter Sunday to raise funds for the American Cancer Society. Don Goode plans to bike approximately 400 miles in 5 days, starting on Easter Sunday. Don Goode's goal is to raise $10,000 for the American Cancer Society. He is currently seeking sponsors and donations. Anyone who would like to donate to Don Goode's cause can contact him at 555-1234. Don Goode is a 3rd year college student at the university. He is majoring in business administration and is a member of the university's basketball team. Don Goode is also a member of the university's student government association. He is looking forward to participating in this event and hopes to raise as much money as possible for a good cause.
Peveryler

From Page 1

Peveryler will be taken within two weeks of the election of the incoming student body. The new student body will begin its meetings.

Susan Brenchler, the president of SG, said Peveryler’s greatest success in the past ten years has been the establishment of the student bill of rights. The student bill of rights has been in place since the early 1980s and has been amended several times since then.

According to Peveryler, one of the most significant accomplishments of the Board of Trustees was the establishment of the student bill of rights.

Peveryler and the other officers of the student bill of rights have been active in the community since the mid-1980s and have been very successful in their efforts.

PFC

From Page 1

PFC approved the use of the same method currently in place for approving new board members. This method would carry a value of four credits and 100 points towards the student body's overall effort.

PFC members also said that they would support the establishment of a new student organization known as the “Peveryler.” This organization would be responsible for the selection of new board members.

New health and nutrition theme house instituted

By Brian Domas

Nutrition and health issues seem popular at the moment. This is reflected in the creation of two new theme houses: health and nutrition.

The health and nutrition house, which is located on the second floor of the basement of the Process, will be open to students throughout the school year.

The health and nutrition house will focus on education and awareness about health and nutrition issues. The house will also provide a place for students to relax and socialize.

Peveryler News, the student newspaper of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, spoke March 30 to a group of students about the importance of nutrition and health education.

After a brief introduction by junior Amy Cook, Peveryler News passoable house leadership experience experience at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Brovero and Hughes win top award, reach semis at NDT

Senior Adrienne Brovero and junior John Hughes receive the Copeland Award for the season.

Brovero and Hughes, who had been part of the Peveryler’s women’s team, were selected for the Copeland Award by the university’s faculty and staff.

The Copeland Award is given to the most outstanding student athlete of the year.

“Brovero and Hughes have been consistent performers and have made a positive impact on the team,” said Dan Peverley, the executive director of the Peveryler.

The Copeland Award recognizes the contributions of student athletes to the university and the community.

The Copeland Award is one of the most prestigious awards given to student athletes at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Lowe’s to fund scholarships and competitions

Lowe’s Foods of Winston-Salem has given $100,000 to the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign Accountancy in financial scholarships and business competitions.

The scholarship will be awarded annually to two or four business majors, one from North Carolina and one from the University of Illinois.

For the academic year 2000-2001, the scholarship will be awarded to one student from the University of Illinois and two students from North Carolina.

In addition, the University of Illinois will receive $30,000 to help fund the scholarship.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The scholarship will be awarded to students who have been accepted to the University of Illinois and who have a grade point average of at least 3.0.
WASHINGTON—Republicans seemed poised to fulfill a key portion of their Contract with America by passing their $189 billion tax cut package, despite Democratic charges that the cuts favor the rich and fail to address the issues of the federal deficit.

Earlier in the day the Republicans won a crucial procedural vote by a 218-205 margin. This vote was the first step in the passage of the tax cut package. It passed despite the defection of 11 Republicans.

The tax cut package includes a $500 tax credit for each child and a 10 percent increase in the capital gains tax break for individuals.

The bill also amends some taxes on Social Security and provides several tax breaks for corporations.

President Bill Clinton led Democratic opposition by energy criticizing the bill, although he did not threaten to veto it. Passed, the measure would go before the Senate, where it is expected to face a greater challenge.

Human error blamed in crash

WASHINGTON—After investigating a fatal U.S. Air crash in a violent thunderstorm in Charlotte last July, the National Transportation Safety Board concluded Tuesday that both the pilot and air traffic controllers were at fault in the crash.

The board also faulted Greenlee and Hayes for not providing the pilots with sufficient complete information and did not realize the danger they were in.

Lieutenant James Hayes misjudged the weather and attempted to fly into Charlotte in a thunderstorm.

The board said that the pilot and air traffic controllers were at fault in the crash.

Quality control program evaluated

Sing out

The Gospel Choir celebrated its 25th anniversary with a concert Sunday.

Quality control program evaluated

Staff services and facilities management get mixed reviews after four years

Many people believe that the program has served to improve their lives. In general, the staff service and facility management programs included in the program. TQM is designed to improve services provided by the university and its various departments.

According to a related story that appeared in the Old Gold and Black March 3, the TQM program contains four elements: facilitating self-management, analyzing work processes, improving work processes, and measuring results.

This process is aimed at increasing overall departmental efficiency and service.

The Total Quality Management program, entering its third year of active implementation, is a boon for some employees and a burden for others.

In its current form, TQM encompasses numerous campus administrative, student services, and library efforts. Facilities management is also included in the program. TQM is designed to improve services provided by the university and its various departments.

According to a related story that appeared in the Old Gold and Black March 3, the TQM program contains four elements: facilitating self-management, analyzing work processes, improving work processes, and measuring results.

This process is aimed at increasing overall departmental efficiency and service.

The board said that the pilot and air traffic controllers were at fault in the crash.

Thief makes clean getaway

A student's vacuum cleaner was taken from a Kinston Residence Hall on March 14. A two-story building between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. March 27.

The items included a student's compact disc and computer diskette, a compact disc carrier and two paperback books.

A student's wallet and keys were taken from the equipment desk in the Tennis University Center Flowers Room between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. March 27. A female student was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.

A woman was taken from a student's dormitory for an unknown reason between 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. March 30.
College guidebooks: are we accurately portrayed?

By Bill Barrett and Amy Frances

When the process of selecting a college, some of the most helpful guides available to students are guidebooks that influence their decisions. There are two main types of guides that students choose from vehicles such as college brochures, campus tours, and other college publications. These guidebooks are a vital tool to many students about such issues as financial aid, the academic reputation of a school, its national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus.

Prospective students study the profile of a college at a glance. Flite's guidebook for Wake Forest University, for instance, states that the university is "located on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean." The guidebook has many pictures of the campus and lists the university's academic reputation; national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus. The guidebook also offers advice on such issues as financial aid, the academic reputation of a school, its national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus.

Prospective students study the profile of a college at a glance. Flite's guidebook for Wake Forest University, for instance, states that the university is "located on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean." The guidebook has many pictures of the campus and lists the university's academic reputation; national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus. The guidebook also offers advice on such issues as financial aid, the academic reputation of a school, its national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus.

Prospective students study the profile of a college at a glance. Flite's guidebook for Wake Forest University, for instance, states that the university is "located on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean." The guidebook has many pictures of the campus and lists the university's academic reputation; national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus. The guidebook also offers advice on such issues as financial aid, the academic reputation of a school, its national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus.

Prospective students study the profile of a college at a glance. Flite's guidebook for Wake Forest University, for instance, states that the university is "located on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean." The guidebook has many pictures of the campus and lists the university's academic reputation; national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus. The guidebook also offers advice on such issues as financial aid, the academic reputation of a school, its national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus.

Prospective students study the profile of a college at a glance. Flite's guidebook for Wake Forest University, for instance, states that the university is "located on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean." The guidebook has many pictures of the campus and lists the university's academic reputation; national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus. The guidebook also offers advice on such issues as financial aid, the academic reputation of a school, its national ranking, student life, and the atmosphere of the campus.
Next GOP assault: Vital student aid

On March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs.

The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?

In March 29, students at college campuses across the country took part in demonstrations to protest the proposed budget cuts to federal student aid programs. The cuts, earmarked for the fiscal year 1995 - an enormous sum of money that neither universities nor colleges are affected as well. Take private universities, for example. Congress has already announced plans to increase tuition. But how much will that do to help the school year, and how much will it help the college students?
Computer plan: One more nail in coffin of liberal arts ideal

How are you moving the changes that are needed to make your life different for the better? Whether you are an athlete, student, or professional, there are always opportunities to improve and contribute to the world. Here are a few ideas:

1. Exercise
   - Join a gym and set goals to improve your physical fitness.
   - Try different exercises to find what works best for you.

2. Education
   - Enroll in a class to learn a new skill.
   - Consider enrolling in an online program.

3. Networking
   - Attend conferences and events in your field.
   - Connect with professionals through social media.

4. Volunteering
   - Find a local charity to volunteer your time.
   - Consider joining a group that aligns with your interests.

5. Travel
   - Plan a trip to explore a new destination.
   - Consider a backpacking adventure.

Remember, change begins with you. Your actions can make a difference in your life and the lives of others. Start by taking small steps and building on your progress. You can make a positive impact on yourself and the world around you.
Avodah offers unique perspective on Judaism

By Thomas D. Young

Perhaps most crucial to the success of any religious event is that it elicits a meaningful unity which goes beyond politics. In this case, no less so. The more deeply the people feel united, the greater the religious message becomes.

The inspiration of the work of Avodah is a practical modern society doctrine that we are all more than the little things that set us apart, that something that we saw, but something that we live. It is the vision of the road that we use; it is the vision which feeds the work of Avodah.

Avodah, a New York-based Jewish dance ensemble, performed at Braves Hall Ballroom and Northwest High School Friday. The group, led by jews, is performing throughout the summer. While the performers are all Jewish dance, they relate the power of Jewish tradition with the context of modern Jewish society.

Steven's performance consisted of six pieces, all of which were related to the Jewish half and took different perspectives. For instance, the piano performance "Jewish Journey" attempted to communicate the truths of the Bible story of Ruth and Naahl, which has long been used as a metaphor for divorce and renewal.

Dolores Clairborne saved from numbing mediocry by strong performances

By Brian Thomas

If someone was to ask for a one-word description of Dolores Clairborne, I would most likely respond by saying, "Beyond." Dolores is a fascinating film, extremely well-told and very intelligent. It is not a film that you will forget easily.

The story of Dolores Clairborne is a story of a woman who has lived a life full of tragedy and heartache. She has known loss, both personal and professional, and has learned to cope with these losses in a way that is both pragmatic and emotional.

Dolores Clairborne is a film that is full of strong performances, with each actor bringing their character to life in a way that is both compelling and often moving. The film is a testament to the power of strong performances, and it is a film that is not to be missed.

Secret lineup boasts Perlman, Isbin

By Eliza Glauser-Brown

The Secret Series has become a star-studded lineup for its newly revised 1995-96 season. The Secret Series is a well-established series of classical music concerts that has been presented in various cities across the country.

This year, the Secret Series has added several high-profile performers to its lineup, including Itzhak Perlman, a world-renowned violinist, and tanker multistars Kevin Perlman, a world-renowned bassist. The lineup is rounded out with performances by other top musicians, including violinist Perlman and tanker multistars Kevin Perlman.

The Secret Series kicks off its season on November 11th with a concert featuring Perlman and tanker multistars Kevin Perlman. The concert will take place at the Carnegie Hall in New York City, and is sure to be a sold-out event.

The series continues with performances by other stars, including Perlman and tanker multistars Kevin Perlman. The lineup includes performances by Perlman and tanker multistars Kevin Perlman, as well as other top musicians.

The Secret Series is known for its high-quality programming and its commitment to showcasing the best in classical music. With a lineup that includes some of the biggest names in the business, the series is sure to continue its tradition of excellence.

The series concludes on May 11th with a final concert featuring Perlman and tanker multistars Kevin Perlman. The concert will take place at the same venue as the opening concert, and is sure to be a memorable experience for all attendees.
great scores...

secret

Vorhagen has been a producer, director, and is back working on "Crui se Ships Now Hiring!" Earn up to $12,000 per month working on Cruise Ships or Land Tour companies. World travel. Seasonal and full-time employment available. Experience necessary. For more information call 1-800-634-0455 ext. 855523.

ALTRUISTIC ATTITUDE. Relations in private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All students are eligible. Let us help. For more info call 1-800-263-6495 ext. F55552.

Marketing/Public Relations National Marketing company seeking dynamic individuals to help with rapid expansion in triad area. Must like working with others and be a leadership skills. Business or Communications background a plus. Full and part time. Contact Callie Miller Ext. 5280.

ATTENTION AMBITION|ENTRPRENEURIAL STUDENTS. Manage your own business. Earn money in excess of $7,000 per month working in our Wells Fargo Training Manager. Guaranteed $2,500. We are currently accepting applications. Call 1-800-477-1001 to speak to a representative.

CRUISE SHIPS NOW HIRING! Earn up to $12,000 per month working on Cruise Ships or Land Tour companies. World travel. Seasonal and full-time employment available. Experience necessary. For more information call 1-800-634-0455 ext. 855523.

AVODAH

From Page 8

A small group of college students from the United States and other countries gather at the home of a local Israeli family to listen to a presentation on the history of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. The students then break into groups to discuss the issues and work on solutions. The experience is designed to foster a deeper understanding of the issues and to prepare the students for future work in the field.

A small group of college students from the United States and other countries gather at the home of a local Israeli family to listen to a presentation on the history of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. The students then break into groups to discuss the issues and work on solutions. The experience is designed to foster a deeper understanding of the issues and to prepare the students for future work in the field.

The students then break into groups to discuss the issues and work on solutions. The experience is designed to foster a deeper understanding of the issues and to prepare the students for future work in the field.

A small group of college students from the United States and other countries gather at the home of a local Israeli family to listen to a presentation on the history of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. The students then break into groups to discuss the issues and work on solutions. The experience is designed to foster a deeper understanding of the issues and to prepare the students for future work in the field.

The students then break into groups to discuss the issues and work on solutions. The experience is designed to foster a deeper understanding of the issues and to prepare the students for future work in the field.

A small group of college students from the United States and other countries gather at the home of a local Israeli family to listen to a presentation on the history of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. The students then break into groups to discuss the issues and work on solutions. The experience is designed to foster a deeper understanding of the issues and to prepare the students for future work in the field.

The students then break into groups to discuss the issues and work on solutions. The experience is designed to foster a deeper understanding of the issues and to prepare the students for future work in the field.
Men’s tennis gets back on track with four wins at Four Plus One

By ROBERT NEILY

The Demon Deacons’ men’s tennis team rebounded from a lackluster start to the season with a strong showing at the Four Plus One tournament, hosted by the Deacons.

The team from Georgia Tech had just two wins in the first two weekends of the season, and head coach Joe Frizzell was concerned about his team’s performance. “The last couple of weekends have not been as good as we hoped,” Frizzell said. “But we knew we were capable of turning things around.”

The Deacons went 3-2 in their first match against Georgia Tech, winning 6-4, 6-3, and 6-2. In their second match against Wake Forest, they won 6-4, 6-2.

“Coach Frizzell has done a great job of getting us ready for this tournament,” said senior captain Michael Kramer. “We’re looking forward to seeing how we can do in the rest of the season.”

The Deacons will next compete at the ITA National Indoor Championships in early March. The team is looking forward to a strong showing in that tournament.

Women’s track meets success at Spec Towns

By BILL GUMMER

The women’s track team continued their successful 2005 campaign last weekend at the Spec Towns Invitational in Durham. The team scored 168 points to finish second, behind only the University of North Carolina, which scored 189.

“It was a good weekend for us,” said head coach Jeff Drabik. “We had some strong individual performances and our team ran well in the distance events.”

Sophomore Jennifer Lister took third place in the 1,500 meters with a time of 4:36.3, while senior Trina Bindel finished fourth in the 5,000 meters with a time of 17:31.6.

The team also had strong performances in the long jump, with junior Samantha Weeks and senior Sara Mundell finishing third and fourth, respectively.

“Overall, it was a good weekend for us,” Drabik said. “We have some strong runners and we are looking forward to the rest of the season.”

Baseball sweeps UVa, wins four on week

By BOBBY HANSON

The Demon Deacons swept the Cavaliers last weekend, winning 6-2 and 5-2 on Friday, and 5-2 and 8-3 on Sunday.

“This was a great weekend for us,” said head coach Mike Penders. “We played well in both games and really showed our improvement.”

The Deacons scored 22 runs on the weekend, with 12 coming in the two games against the Cavaliers. “We have been hitting the ball well and that has really helped us,” said senior John Smith.

The Deacons will continue their season this weekend against the University of Virginia in the ACC Baseball Championship. “We are excited to be hosting the tournament and we are looking forward to seeing how we can do against some tough competition,” said Penders.

Women’s golf team places third at Duke Invitational; Neill finishes in second

By BRADY ANGE

The women’s golf team took third place in the tournament hosted by Duke last weekend. Senior Mary Lee Carter led the team with a score of 70, tying her career-low.

“This was a great opportunity for us to play well,” Carter said. “I think we played well together and we are looking forward to the rest of the season.”

Sophomore Suzie Harvey finished second with a score of 71, while junior MaryAlice Goodridge tied for 10th with a score of 74.

“I was really pleased with the way the team played,” head coach Brad Laney said. “They played well together and showed a lot of improvement.”

The team will next compete in the ACC Championships in late April.
Women's tennis squeaks past Volunteers

Men's track notches six wins at Georgia meet

Kelley leads men's golf team to tenth-place finish in Carpet Classic

---

Baseball

ACC Standing

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Conf. Overall</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Virginia</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida State</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NC State</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Georgia Tech</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wake Forest</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miami</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

ACC Statistics

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Batting Average</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Virginia</td>
<td>.330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida State</td>
<td>.318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NC State</td>
<td>.309</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Georgia Tech</td>
<td>.306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wake Forest</td>
<td>.304</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Women's tennis squeaks past Volunteers

By BRYCE GRIFFIN

The men's golf team placed tenth at the Carpet Classic this weekend in Greensboro, North Carolina. The team went 1-3 against other top teams including Notre Dame, Virginia Tech, and Florida State.

---

By THOMAS EDWARD

Check out the latest news and updates for the Georgia Tech Track and Field team.
Tickets on sale Benson 335, M - F, 1-4 pm
(Tickets not available at the door)

$5 with Wake Forest ID ONLY
Valid College ID required for entry

Billmore House
Festival of Flowers
Take off to Asheville for Good Friday!!
April 14, 1995
Tickets are $25 with student ID. $25 for all others
Call 304-768-6300 for more info!