SEASON'S GREETINGS
Old Gold and Black

Volume 68, No. 16
Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, N.C.
Friday, December 7, 1984

New security guard hired to improve dorm access

By CRISTINE VAROLY

Beginning next semester, a security guard will be on duty at Babcock and New Dorms. This position was created to ensure the safety and security of the dormitories, said Assistant Dean of Students for Housing, John Anderson.

The new position will be responsible for 24-hour security at the Babcock and New dorms, and will be staffed by a full-time employee.

Babcock and New Dorms have experienced decrease in crime rates, said Anderson. "This position is a direct response to the public's concern with the safety and security of the dormitories, and is a positive step in improving the overall safety of the campus." The position will also be responsible for the enforcement of dorm policies and procedures.

Babcock and New Dorms have experienced a decrease in crime rates, said Anderson. "This position is a direct response to the public's concern with the safety and security of the dormitories, and is a positive step in improving the overall safety of the campus." The position will also be responsible for the enforcement of dorm policies and procedures.

Substance abuse prevention receives monetary donation

By LOHI WIPPER

A new position has been created at the University to address the issue of substance abuse. The position is funded by a donation from the Student Government Association (SGA).

The donation was received by the University, and will be used to hire a full-time employee to address the issue of substance abuse on campus.

The employee will be responsible for developing and implementing strategies to prevent substance abuse, and will work closely with other University departments to address the issue.

The University is committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of all students, and is dedicated to preventing substance abuse on campus.

University Center

Community considers options

By RONALD L. BART, JR.

As the University Center Task Force continues its work, the Wake Forest community remains aware of the financial constraints facing the University. The Task Force is responsible for developing a comprehensive plan to improve the financial situation of the University Center.

The Task Force is comprised of representatives from various University departments, including faculty members, staff members, and student representatives.

The Task Force's recommendations are expected to be presented to the University at the end of the semester.

The University Center is responsible for providing a variety of services to the University community, including residential services, dining services, and recreational facilities.

The University Center's financial situation is currently facing significant challenges, due to increased costs and decreased revenue.

The University Center is responsible for providing a variety of services to the University community, including residential services, dining services, and recreational facilities.

The Task Force's recommendations are expected to be presented to the University at the end of the semester.

The University Center's financial situation is currently facing significant challenges, due to increased costs and decreased revenue.
Program challenges students

By DAVID DESHUR

The courses being offered next semester as part of the Humanities Program promise to challenge students in different ways. The program administered by the Department of Humanities invites students to discuss specific topics in the arts and sciences.

Paul M. Gross, Jr., coordinator of the Humanities Program and professor of chemistry and the cell sciences, said, "We are committed to an approach that permits students to discuss and develop ideas presented both in selected works of art and in class."

No seminars or papers are given in lower division seminars, but in the lower division seminar, students are asked to discuss ideas presented in the course and in the readings on the student's behalf.

In the lower division seminar, students are asked to present a seminar-like discussion of ideas presented in the course and in the readings on the student's behalf. This discussion provides both for the class and the faculty members, who are not necessarily experts in the field of study, an opportunity to see their work being done in an open discussion. This discussion provides them for the class and the faculty members, who are not necessarily experts in the field of study, an opportunity to see their work being done in an open discussion. This discussion provides them for the class and the faculty members, who are not necessarily experts in the field of study, an opportunity to see their work being done in an open discussion.

Computer center notes

By JEAN SEEMAN

(1) During the exam period, the library terminal room will be available only during the hours of 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. on the following days: Dec. 6, 8, 12, 15. The library terminal room will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Dec. 14, 17. (2) The Computer Center will be closed on December 22nd through the 25th. The library terminal room remains open all the time, even when classes are not in session. During the final exam period, the Computer Center is closed. Please remember that when the Computer Center is closed, the library terminal room provides access to the computer system.

Campus Crime Stoppers

Wallets,ures stolen

Five wallet thefts were reported to the Campus Police in the past two weeks, according to Campus Police. These incidents, which took place between 12:00 noon and 3:00 p.m., on December 16th and 17th, were reported to the police. The Campus Police are investigating these incidents. Anyone with information about these thefts should contact the Campus Police at (505) 314-1234.

Overseas employment

More than 30,000 Americans are interested in overseas employment. The Overseas Employment Office provides information about current job openings in a wide range of fields, including information about current job openings in a wide range of fields, such as deck hands, cooks, baristas, and waiters. The Overseas Employment Office provides information about current job openings in a wide range of fields, including information about current job openings in a wide range of fields, such as deck hands, cooks, baristas, and waiters. The Overseas Employment Office provides information about current job openings in a wide range of fields, including information about current job openings in a wide range of fields, such as deck hands, cooks, baristas, and waiters.

Lisheen Purvises

Students participate in alcohol awareness

By ALAN CAMERON

As the semester nears completion, I've found myself reflecting on the past month and thinking about the effects that some students' actions have had on campus life. What I've noticed is that many students have made poor choices and have contributed to a more relaxed and casual atmosphere on campus. This semester, I've noticed that many students have made poor choices and have contributed to a more relaxed and casual atmosphere on campus. This semester, I've noticed that many students have made poor choices and have contributed to a more relaxed and casual atmosphere on campus. This semester, I've noticed that many students have made poor choices and have contributed to a more relaxed and casual atmosphere on campus.
ROTC program offers scholarships

The popularity of ROTC programs across the nation has been on a steady rise due in part to the many undergraduate and postgraduate benefits that are available. These benefits enable a student to attend college at a reduced cost.

The undergraduate student has the opportunity to apply for and receive a scholarship which ranges from two to four years. The benefits to the student include payment for tuition and books, and in addition, a one-time allowance of $500. The type of scholarships available include Army Reserve, National Guard and the regular Army ROTC scholarship. Therefore, the undergraduate receives in the course of his or her 4-year college education, a scholarship which maintains approximately $5,000 to $5,000.

There are also many postgraduate benefits available to the scholarship recipient. The Army has many scholarship funds available for a career in medical and postgraduate fields of science. For example, a student in Southern Maryland which offers the student a variety of different monetary and educational types.

In addition to the benefits available to the ROTC cadet while he or she attends college or graduate school, there exists many opportunities for the cadet in private career training and government institutions. In particular, the ROTC student, upon arrival to his or her first year of active duty, is given an opportunity to serve in any branch of the military service.

Finally, the training an ROTC graduate receives is considered to be among the best available. Upon leaving the military, corporations and different private companies view the lieutenant as a highly skilled and disciplined individual. As a result many young officers who receive the Fortson training in the civilian business market are in a high demand from the firms.

PINEBROOK CINEMA PUB
Serving: BEER, WINE, PIZZA, NACHOS, SUBS, CHILI DOGS, & POPCORN

Thief Of Hearts (R)
3 Miles From Campus
3 Exit South of University Exit
On Route 52, Next to Zayre’s

Our Shoes Will Carry You Down The Road To Success

People judge you by the way you look. That’s why you’ve got to look the part. Floreshim® Shoe Shops can help you dress for success in everything you do.

Whether it’s for on campus, on the town, or your first job interview, we’ve got shoes to make you look like a winner. The visible signs of success can be summed up in one word—quality. People notice quality, not only when you’re on your best behavior, but also when you’re on your worst behavior. Floreshim® Royal Imperial® shoes are just the ticket for Floreshim® Royal Imperial® shoes! So you’ll be remembering that you gave them to the person you’re going to that job interview.

Floreshim® quality isn’t just something you see. It’s how they feel on your feet. When you’re a pair of Pro-Action® joggers, Floreshim® classic penny loafers, dress moccasins or boots, they’ll be comfortable. And Floreshim® quality means you get a pair of shoes that last a long time. That’s why Floreshim® shoes are also the best value.

Pushy salesmen? You’re free from that Floreshim® Shoe Shop. This assurance means you’ll be able to shop Floreshim® quality shoes without any pressure. Our salespeople are trained to help you put that winning look together.

Quality in the low to medium range and no one knows quality shoes better than Floreshim®. Come into Floreshim® Shoe Shop today and find out how we can help you dress for that new job interview.

Quality is the key to success and no one knows and likes it. Floreshim® Royal Imperial® shoes better than Floreshim® Royal Imperial® shoes. Come into Floreshim® Shoe Shop today and find out how we can help you down the road to success in everything you do.

For reading this ad and trying on a pair of shoes, Floreshim® Shoes gives you a free gift for you.

Just fill out the coupon below, bring it to your Floreshim® Shoe Shop, and try on any pair of Floreshim® or Pro-Action® shoes. We’ll give you a free Pro-Action® or Floreshim® shoes that is applied, so hurry in.

FLORESHIM® SHOE SHOPS
MAIL OR PHONE ORDER CALL 000-0000
765-7127
Hanes Mall
Winston-Salem, N.C.

American Express and most major credit cards welcome.
Letters to the Editor

The Light

In its editorial entitle "The Political Future of Human Spirituality" ran Blaine L. Birdsall, "It is a wonderful thing to discover new spiritual insights that can help shape the course of human history."

I wish to make a few comments on this topic. For one, a high school school, no matter what the reason, should not be able to start or end a school term. However, since the school term is an extracurricular activity of the school, I do not think that the school term is the right time to do that work. As Blaine Birdsall wrote in his current piece:

As Blaine Birdsall wrote in his current piece:

I hope that this idea is helpful in shaping the course of human history.

The Light

I would like to make a few comments on this topic. For one, a high school school, no matter what the reason, should not be able to start or end a school term. However, since the school term is an extracurricular activity of the school, I do not think that the school term is the right time to do that work. As Blaine Birdsall wrote in his current piece:

I hope that this idea is helpful in shaping the course of human history.
Spanish Renaissance carols played

Spanish Renaissance carols played during the Christmas season rang through Reynolda Hall last Thursday evening when the Wake Forest University undergraduate choral group presented a concert of Spanish and Flemish carols. Under the baton of Charles F. Linker, the Wake Forest Chorale performed a variety of carols from the Spanish Renaissance.

The group of student musicians ended the concert by treating their audience to an encore, a rousing performance of "Tu namorada y mía" by Alonso Lobo. The performance was well received, and the audience nodded approval as the concert drew to a close.

The program included selections from the Olmedo's 10th volume of Spanish carols, as well as works by other composers such as Tomás Luis de Victoria and Juan de Torrijos. The concert concluded with a medley of carols from the Renaissance period and modern instruments.

The concert was well attended, with the audience clearly enjoying the music. The performers were praised for their skill and precision, and the evening was a resounding success.
Features

Twins excel in martial arts

By BERNARD ARNETT

Though they enjoyed watching Bruce Lee and Chuck Norris watch TV, young JC; the brothers learned that they needed to do martial arts to be the best.

The brothers, better known as the "Green Brothers," started their training at Lakeview, and both brothers started at the age of four. They have been training for over ten years and have competed in various tournaments.

The brothers, better known as "Bruce" and "Wade," started training in 1994. They have been competing in tournaments ever since, and have won many awards.

"I'm happy with the results," JC said. "We've been working hard, and we've been able to show our skills."

The brothers, who are twins, started training together. They have been training in the same school for the past ten years.

The older brother, JC, has been training since he was four years old. He started training under his father, who is also a black belt.

The younger brother, Wade, started training when he was two years old. He was able to pick up the techniques quickly, and has been improving ever since.

The brothers, who are both students at Woodberry Forest, have been training together since they were young. They have been competing in tournaments ever since they started training.

The brothers, who are both students at Woodberry Forest, have been training together since they were young. They have been competing in tournaments ever since they started training.

The brothers, who are both students at Woodberry Forest, have been training together since they were young. They have been competing in tournaments ever since they started training.
Rodtwitt's story reveals a rich tapestry of life during World War II, depicting the resilience and ingenuity of the Norwegian people. The occupation of Norway by Nazi Germany was a brutal period, and Rodtwitt, born in Oslo in 1920, experienced it firsthand. The Nazi regime imposed strict control on Norwegian society, including the suppression of language and culture. Despite the oppressive conditions, Rodtwitt and her family managed to maintain their cultural identity by keeping alive their Norwegian heritage.

Her father, a teacher, played a significant role in instilling in her the importance of education and the pursuit of knowledge. During the war, when schools were closed, Rodtwitt continued her studies through correspondence courses. She learned English, which was useful in her work as a secretary after the war.

Rodtwitt's story is a testament to the determination and courage of the Norwegian people who, despite the hardships and sacrifices, managed to preserve their values and traditions. Her story is a reminder of the resilience of the human spirit and the importance of education in times of adversity.
The New York music scene contains a diversity of styles that makes it exciting. While some concerts are held at Carnegie Hall or the Apollo, others are at smaller venues that offer a more intimate atmosphere. These local venues attract a wide range of performers, from established artists to up-and-coming talents. The diversity of the music scene in New York is a testament to the city's vibrant cultural landscape.

Music Reviews

Bunnyjemmy strive for mix

By KEN RUBIN

The new British music scene contains a diverse range of artists, and perhaps none more so than Bunnyjemmy. Their concerts feature a mix of bands that range in style from rock to pop, with an occasional appearance by a more experimental act. The result is a truly unique experience that is sure to satisfy music lovers of all types.

Companies cash in

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

“Mozart on the Hudson” is the story of a Russian ambassador, Dima Williams, who is in New York to decide if America would be better off as a Russian satellite. The film revolves around his meetings with various American figures, including Salieri, who becomes obsessed with destroying Mozart’s music. The music is performed by the New York Philharmonic, conducted by Sir Neville Marriner.

The film is written in the style of a satirical novel and is narrated by Mozart’s “Don Giovanni” character, a jester often referred to as “The Clown of the Court.” The film’s success is due in part to its humorous take on the classical music world, as well as its insightful commentary on the human condition.

The film features Mozart’s music, written for Haydn’s “symphony No. 90,” which was performed at an all-black concert in America, and which is referred to as “The Toast of the Town.” The performance is notable for its inclusion of a Negro quartet, which is a novelty at the time.

The film’s success is also due to its portrayal of Mozart as a bawdy, fun-loving imp, who is often portrayed as a wild and unpredictable character in real life. The film’s humor is woven throughout the story, with Mozart’s music providing the backdrop for the antics of his fellow musicians.

The film features Mozart’s music written for Haydn’s “symphony No. 90,” which was performed at an all-black concert in America, and which is referred to as “The Toast of the Town.” The performance is notable for its inclusion of a Negro quartet, which is a novelty at the time.

The film’s success is also due to its portrayal of Mozart as a bawdy, fun-loving imp, who is often portrayed as a wild and unpredictable character in real life. The film’s humor is woven throughout the story, with Mozart’s music providing the backdrop for the antics of his fellow musicians.

The film features Mozart’s music written for Haydn’s “symphony No. 90,” which was performed at an all-black concert in America, and which is referred to as “The Toast of the Town.” The performance is notable for its inclusion of a Negro quartet, which is a novelty at the time.

The film’s success is also due to its portrayal of Mozart as a bawdy, fun-loving imp, who is often portrayed as a wild and unpredictable character in real life. The film’s humor is woven throughout the story, with Mozart’s music providing the backdrop for the antics of his fellow musicians.

The film features Mozart’s music written for Haydn’s “symphony No. 90,” which was performed at an all-black concert in America, and which is referred to as “The Toast of the Town.” The performance is notable for its inclusion of a Negro quartet, which is a novelty at the time.

The film’s success is also due to its portrayal of Mozart as a bawdy, fun-loving imp, who is often portrayed as a wild and unpredictable character in real life. The film’s humor is woven throughout the story, with Mozart’s music providing the backdrop for the antics of his fellow musicians.

The film features Mozart’s music written for Haydn’s “symphony No. 90,” which was performed at an all-black concert in America, and which is referred to as “The Toast of the Town.” The performance is notable for its inclusion of a Negro quartet, which is a novelty at the time.

The film’s success is also due to its portrayal of Mozart as a bawdy, fun-loving imp, who is often portrayed as a wild and unpredictable character in real life. The film’s humor is woven throughout the story, with Mozart’s music providing the backdrop for the antics of his fellow musicians.

The film features Mozart’s music written for Haydn’s “symphony No. 90,” which was performed at an all-black concert in America, and which is referred to as “The Toast of the Town.” The performance is notable for its inclusion of a Negro quartet, which is a novelty at the time.

The film’s success is also due to its portrayal of Mozart as a bawdy, fun-loving imp, who is often portrayed as a wild and unpredictable character in real life. The film’s humor is woven throughout the story, with Mozart’s music providing the backdrop for the antics of his fellow musicians.

The film features Mozart’s music written for Haydn’s “symphony No. 90,” which was performed at an all-black concert in America, and which is referred to as “The Toast of the Town.” The performance is notable for its inclusion of a Negro quartet, which is a novelty at the time.

The film’s success is also due to its portrayal of Mozart as a bawdy, fun-loving imp, who is often portrayed as a wild and unpredictable character in real life. The film’s humor is woven throughout the story, with Mozart’s music providing the backdrop for the antics of his fellow musicians.
Deacons rally to win in second half

By DANIEL BAKER

The Wake Forest men's basketball team emerged as third win of the season on Wednesday as an exciting game against Davidson. Seventy-six points at the half, the Demon Deacons nearly broke into the Wake Forest 95-58 game to gain the lead. But Davidson came out on top in the final 20 minutes, eventually winning 104-90.

Cold shooting and a lack of defensive aggressiveness allowed the Deacons to fall behind by as much as 27 points in the first half. As a result, they fell 60-76 to Davidson in the final 20 minutes.

Deacons depth allowed them to recover in the final 20 minutes, outscoring Davidson 44-34 in the second half to win 104-90.

"We were down by 27 points at the half," said Wake Forest coach Carl Torrey. "I think we had 14 turnovers in the first half, and we gave them 14 points. We can't do that.

"Our defense was better in the second half. We held them to 10 points in the second half, and that's what we need to do."

Last week, the Demon Deacons fell to Davidson 89-75. This week, the Deacons rallied to win with a score of 104-90.

Deacons leading scorer was Jalen Suggs, who scored 15 points and had four assists.

Deacons depth allowed them to recover in the final 20 minutes, outscoring Davidson 44-34 in the second half to win 104-90.

"We were down by 27 points at the half," said Wake Forest coach Carl Torrey. "I think we had 14 turnovers in the first half, and we gave them 14 points. We can't do that.

"Our defense was better in the second half. We held them to 10 points in the second half, and that's what we need to do."

Last week, the Demon Deacons fell to Davidson 89-75. This week, the Deacons rallied to win with a score of 104-90.

Deacons leading scorer was Jalen Suggs, who scored 15 points and had four assists.

HOLIDAY SCHEDULE

Wake Forest Basketball Women's Basketball

Hank's Basketball #4 Appalachian State 11/22/2023
Delta Gams at #11 North Carolina 11/22/2023
#1 Deacons at Georgia 11/22/2023
Maryland 11/22/2023

All Games in Caps at NC State 11/22/2023

Winter Games at #11/13 Georgia Tech 11/22/2023
Clemson 11/22/2023

Casey continues tradition

By FRANK LANCANTHER

Dorothy Casey, Wake Forest's Women's Athletic Director, recently received the Honor Award from the National Coalition for Athletics, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance. The award recognized her "for her dedication to the profession, commitment to excellence, positive influence on her students, and for her contributions in leadership and service to women's athletics, physical education, and recreation programs in the United States and around the world." Casey has been a leader in women's intercollegiate athletics for more than 30 years and has served on numerous national committees and boards.

Casey's leadership has been instrumental in the growth and development of women's sports at Wake Forest. She has been a proponent of expanding the opportunities for women in athletics, and her efforts have contributed to the growth of women's intercollegiate athletics at Wake Forest.

Casey's dedication to her work has been recognized on numerous occasions. She has been honored with a number of awards, including the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletes' Distinguished Service Award, the National Women's Athletics Coaches' Association's Woman of the Year Award, and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' Woman of the Year Award.

Casey's commitment to excellence and her dedication to her students have been evident throughout her career. She has been a mentor to many of the women athletes who have followed in her footsteps, and she has been a role model for others who have entered the field of athletics.

Casey's achievements are a testament to her hard work and dedication. She has been a leader in women's athletics, and her contributions to the field have been significant. Her work has been recognized on numerous occasions, and she has been a role model for others who have entered the field of athletics.
Students—
Have The Advantage
With a Total Performance
Computer System.
ZF151-52 Dual Drive Computer, with ZVM-133 High Resolution Color Monitor and MS-DOS Operating System

- 320K Memory, 640K Expandability • Dual 5¼" Disk Drives • 4 Open
  Expansion Slots • Full Color* Screen with Graphics Capability • Clearly
  Labeled, Easy-to-Use Keyboard • Excellent/Price Performance Ratio
- Zenith Total Service, Technical and Training Support

Both Systems include . . .
Microsoft Word and Multiplan—
Two of Today's Hottest Software
Programs
ZF161-52 Dual Drive Computer
with Built-In Nine Inch Amber
Monitor and MS-DOS
Operating System.

 Reg. Price: $2,688.00
Student Price: $2,399.00

OFFER EXPIRES
DEC 31, 1984

FOR INFORMATION & DEMONSTRATION
CALL: (919) 727-0290
2070 Beach Street, Winston-Salem N.C.