Judicial Board Declares Mistrial In Meaney Case

By Jay Woodey

The faculty advisers of the Judicial Board dismissed a trial to hear charges brought against senior Kevin Meroney in elections in 1987.

The Student Government constitution says student elections are determined by a majority vote of the faculty.
Race Relations Commission Proposes Changes

By Tom Palmer

Served in South Korea

Wake Forest Alumni

Student Shoots Two Thieves Who Stole Purse From Woman

Student Shoots Two Thieves

Who Stole Purse From Woman

By Kim Gray

Wake Forest News

On pages 1 and 3.

SAA

From Page 1

Black students and 21 white associates

Robert Devereux, junior student and a 21-year-old junior in the English Department, was standing outside the Student Union on campus when he heard a loud noise. He walked over to investigate and found that a group of kids had gathered around a burning trash can. Devereux grabbed a nearby fire extinguisher and sprayed it at the flames, extinguishing the fire. He then called the police and stayed on the scene until they arrived. The fire was caused by an electrical malfunction in one of the student dormitories.

SAA

Fire Sale

The university photography staff held its first annual surplus print sale Wednesday.
Examination-related Stress Takes Toll on Study-minded Students

Taylor also discussed the importance of maintaining a healthy balance between rest and relaxation. "Rest is not just sleeping," she said. "It's about giving your mind a chance to relax and allowing your body to heal. A healthy body has a healthy mind, and vice versa."

Race Relations Commission Report Proposes Changes

The commission also recommended that schools and communities develop programs that promote diversity and inclusion, and that they work to eliminate institutional barriers to education and opportunity. "Education is a key tool for promoting social change," the report stated. "We must ensure that all students, regardless of race, gender, or socioeconomic status, have access to quality education and the tools they need to succeed in life."

Citicbank Gets You Where You Want To Go... For Less!

The Old Gold and Black would like to congratulate all graduating seniors and wish them the best of luck while hunting for jobs in this economically repressed nation of ours.

Why not go home, kick back, and ride this baby out? Mom and Dad won't mind, you've already forced them to take out that third mortgage for your college education! Take a short vacation before heading out into the real world.

The Old Gold and Black would like to congratulate all graduating seniors and wish them the best of luck while hunting for jobs in this economically repressed nation of ours.

WANTED: INDIVIDUALS WITH INFECTIONS OF THE SKIN

If you have one of the following infections and are not currently being treated by an antibiotic, you might qualify for a research study being developed for the treatment of skin infections:

- "wound, (surgical or accidental) that has not healed or is becoming worse"
- "boils"
- "other reddened, swollen and tender areas not due to burns"

Patients who do qualify will receive a free physical examination, blood/diagnostic testing, and treatment. In addition, $200.00 will be compensated for their participation. Females must not be pregnant or nursing.

URINARY TRACT INFECTION

Piedmont Research Associates is currently conducting a research study of urinary tract infections. "If you are 13 years or older and experiencing pain on urination, fever, chills, or blood in your urine, this study may be right for you," the researchers said.

The study will involve a one-time visit to the Piedmont Research Associates office for a free physical examination, blood/diagnostic testing, and treatment. In addition, you will be compensated up to $250.00 for your participation.

Call Piedmont Research Associates for more information at 919-659-8394.
U.S. President Bush is considering reparations of up to 50 percent of Iraqi's oil income to the Security Council to clarify $500 million in Iraq sanctions committee meeting Tuesday. All Iraqi security went through before reaching him, if he had to operate the check-out desk. Security personnel were bound to silence by the Government Constitution, an associate professor of sociology, who attended the meeting Tuesday.

BushTalk: Trade with China
WASHINGTON -- President Bush is considering lifting a ban on most Chinese imports, a popular option among Republicans but one that has been met with skepticism by business leaders and environmentalists. Business groups have been calling for the president to suspend the ban, which was enacted in May 2000, in light of the recent attacks on American soil.

Mining Banned in Antarctica
SPAIN -- Diplomats from 39 nations met in Madrid on Tuesday to discuss how to protect Antarctica. The talks were attended by representatives from the United States, China, Russia, Japan, and India. The meeting was called by the United Nations' International Geophysical Service and is expected to run for three days.

The Natural Life History of a Textbook
The textbook is a living organism in the world of books. It is in many things to many people.

As an infant, it’s with a mother’s love, but the day comes when the children must be weaned. The mother’s love is necessary, but it is also a burden.

It must be remembered that a textbook is a living organism. It is not a book that is written and then forgotten. It is a living organism that continues to grow and change.

Edward R. Reynolds Library after trig-gering an alarm at the check-out desk.

Thieves Target Tribble Hall
One of the more unique occurrences at WFDD radio. A thief’s hand was found inside the door of Tribble Hall, the residence hall for the School of Law.

MINIREVIEW

Students, Faculty, Staff

This list is part of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The address is 1550 Sanderson Avenue, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3270. The address is 1550 Sanderson Avenue, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3270.
In the Wrong Place at the Wrong Time

Nature of the Job Market

War, Recession Make Companies Hesitant to Hire New Graduates

"This has been an outstanding senior class. They have some remarkable students that other classes have not had to deal with. It's very rare to have a highly recruited and top talent at the same time," Curtis said.

Curtis said that though the recession showed no signs of abating, the job market in the area had improved over the past year. He said that a few of the top companies, who were already recruiting for next year's class, had backed out from hiring.

"Just because companies are laying people off, that doesn't mean they may not be hiring as well," Currin said.

"A lot of times (recent graduates) are doing something else but may be a good idea if you are sure you want to work for a company that you know," he said.

"Most of them have agreed to help Wake Forest students in their search for employment," he said.

"We've learned to become more flexible and do not have the same mindset," he said.

"We've actually had companies reimbursing students while they were preparing to look for jobs at the company," Curtis said. "It is a different process. Just because companies are laying off people doesn't mean that they are not hiring at the entry level, though they may lay off higher up in the company."
The Good, the Bad, and The Simply Ridiculous

After this the end of the year is near, and with the season of changes, we decided to publish a final editorial. This season of transition is always a time of reflection and change. It is a time when we consider our progress and our future. It is a time when we evaluate our successes and our failures. It is a time when we decide whether we want to live in the past or look to the future.

In this issue, we have decided to list the things that are hot and not. What's hot this season is the idea of change. It is the idea of progress and the idea of growth. What's not hot is the idea of stagnation. It is the idea of stopping and the idea of complacency. It is the idea of being content with what we have and not wanting to do anything different.

We wanted to give readers a chance to think about their own lives and the lives of those around them. We wanted to encourage them to be proactive and to take control of their own destinies. We wanted to remind them that life is not just about waiting for things to happen, but about making things happen.

In conclusion, we hope that this final editorial has been a helpful and informative tool for those who have read it. We hope that it has given you something to think about and has inspired you to take action. We hope that it has helped you to understand that life is not just about waiting for things to happen, but about making things happen.
Foundations of Liberal Arts Tradition in Jeopardy

The following essays examine the core assumptions and foundational arguments from the Liberal Arts tradition in American higher education.

Chris Nichols
Colloquium Essayist

The study of the liberal arts tradition is often framed by the belief that the liberal arts higher education model, with its emphasis on the humanities, has been in decline for the past few decades. This belief is often supported by the idea that the liberal arts are not as relevant to today's students as they once were, and that they are not as effective in preparing students for their future careers.

However, this is not the case. The liberal arts tradition is as relevant today as it ever was, and it is just as effective in preparing students for their future careers. The liberal arts provide students with the critical thinking skills, creativity, and adaptability necessary for success in any field.

The liberal arts are not just a collection of subjects, but a way of thinking. They teach students to think creatively, to analyze problems, and to develop solutions. They also teach students to communicate effectively, to work in teams, and to think critically.

The liberal arts are not just for those who are interested in the humanities. They are for everyone, regardless of their career aspirations. The liberal arts are a way of life, and they provide a foundation for success in any field.

The liberal arts are not just for the past, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a well-rounded, informed, and engaged citizenry. They are essential for the success of our society.

The liberal arts are not just for a few, but for everyone. They are a right, and they should be accessible to all.

The liberal arts are not just for today, but for tomorrow. They are essential for the development of a sustainable and just society.

The liberal arts are not just for the present, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant democracy.

The liberal arts are not just for the individual, but for society. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vigorous community.

The liberal arts are not just for the present, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant culture.

The liberal arts are not just for the individual, but for society. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant economy.

The liberal arts are not just for the present, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant environment.

The liberal arts are not just for the individual, but for society. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant democracy.

The liberal arts are not just for the present, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant culture.

The liberal arts are not just for the individual, but for society. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant economy.

The liberal arts are not just for the present, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant environment.

The liberal arts are not just for the individual, but for society. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant democracy.

The liberal arts are not just for the present, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant culture.

The liberal arts are not just for the individual, but for society. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant economy.

The liberal arts are not just for the present, but for the future. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant environment.

The liberal arts are not just for the individual, but for society. They are essential for the development of a healthy and vibrant democracy.
Baseball Team Blanks Lounds, Pounds Davidson

Deacon Tops School Record with 36th Victory

Freshman Collins Leads Men's Golf

To Fourth Place at Cavalier Classic

Deacon Year in Review: Ruts, Runners, Records ... and Rodney

Women's Golf Team Takes Eighth

At Southern Intercolligate Meet

Powell Leads Track Teams in Strong Performance at 97th Penn Relays
Brown, Lane Receive Top Honors at Sports Banquets

The MVP of the football team was Anthony Williams, a senior running back, who, in the conference's comptetition, rushing 662 yards and 11 touchdowns, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. The ACC and national Rookie of the Year, with an 11-0 record, Williams was a senior offensive lineman, who, in the team's seven-game winning streak, was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Williams was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the baseball team was Jerry Remy, who, in the conference's competition, batting .382 and 36 runs, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Remy was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the basketball team was Mike Guegan, who, in the conference's competition, averaging 17.0 points and 9.0 rebounds, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Guegan was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the track team was Terry Hill, who, in the conference's competition, running 10.0 seconds in the 100-meter dash, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Hill was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the soccer team was Sarah Jones, who, in the conference's competition, scoring 7 goals, she was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Jones was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the golf team was Thomas McNeely, who, in the conference's competition, shooting 72.0 strokes, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. McNeely was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the wrestling team was David Smith, who, in the conference's competition, winning 66 matches and 16 matches, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Smith was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the tennis team was Johnathan Williams, who, in the conference's competition, winning 70 matches and 2 matches, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Williams was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the bowling team was Robert Jones, who, in the conference's competition, averaging 200.0 strikes, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Jones was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the football team was Anthony Williams, a senior running back, who, in the conference's competition, rushing 662 yards and 11 touchdowns, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. The ACC and national Rookie of the Year, with an 11-0 record, Williams was a senior offensive lineman, who, in the team's seven-game winning streak, was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Williams was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the baseball team was Jerry Remy, who, in the conference's competition, batting .382 and 36 runs, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Remy was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the basketball team was Mike Guegan, who, in the conference's competition, averaging 17.0 points and 9.0 rebounds, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Guegan was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the track team was Terry Hill, who, in the conference's competition, running 10.0 seconds in the 100-meter dash, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Hill was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the soccer team was Sarah Jones, who, in the conference's competition, scoring 7 goals, she was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Jones was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the golf team was Thomas McNeely, who, in the conference's competition, shooting 72.0 strokes, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. McNeely was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the wrestling team was David Smith, who, in the conference's competition, winning 66 matches and 16 matches, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Smith was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the tennis team was Johnathan Williams, who, in the conference's competition, winning 70 matches and 2 matches, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Williams was also named the ACC's all-conference team.

The MVP of the bowling team was Robert Jones, who, in the conference's competition, averaging 200.0 strikes, he was named All-ACC and ACSAA. Jones was also named the ACC's all-conference team.
The performance of the Wake Forest Synthetic Dance Company, which took place on April 25, 26, and 27, showcased the students' innovative and spirited movements. The second piece, "Song of the Earth," received widespread praise from the audience.

Choral selections were also a highlight of the concert. The concert began with "The Godfather, Part 1," followed by "The Godfather, Part II." The choirs performed "Suite de la Mouette" by Claude Debussy, demonstrating their collective talent and musical proficiency.

The performance concluded with a stirring version of "The Godfather, Part II," leaving the audience in awe of the students' dedication and talent.

Overall, the concert was a testament to the University's commitment to excellence in music performance and its dedication to celebrating the diverse talents and skills of its students.
COMING ATTRACTIONS

Art
Realistic Painting Exhibit: 10 a.m.-9 p.m. Tues., Sat. and Sun. 2-7 p.m., through May 31, NCSA. Open to the public. A contemporary exhibit of oil paintings and watercolors by local artist Robert Dance. $3 adults, $2 seniors, $1 students.

Southeast Seven Exhibit: 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tues.-Sun., May 12-31, SECCA. Works by the members of the Southeast Seven Artists. Open to the public. $3 adults, $2 seniors, $1 students.

Music
Choral Concert: 8 p.m. Sat., Knox Aud., 1801 Walker Ave. Knox University's Weslin-Salaun Symphony perform choral works by Monteverdi, Handel, and Bach. $3 adults, $2 seniors, $1 students. Seating limited. Call 568-5628 to reserve.

Student Stages, Directs Scenes From Richard II
By Matt Newton

Those of you who need to be reminded of the university's thriving student theater movement, meet Richard II, a production by Junior Kevin Lee.

Richard II is a play in three acts and four scenes by William Shakespeare, first performed in 1596. The play is based on the history of King Richard II of England, and is one of Shakespeare's greatest dramatic works. It is a historical tragedy that explores themes of power, ambition, and the decline of a great nation.

The play begins with King Richard II's regal entry into London, where he is greeted by his loyal subjects. However, the king's滥用 power and authority leads to a revolt against his rule, ultimately resulting in his downfall and execution. Throughout the play, Shakespeare delves into the nature of power, loyalty, and the consequences of leadership.

Richard II is a thought-provoking and emotionally resonant work that continues to captivate audiences today.
Thank You!

We salute the more than 750 Reynolds Campus faculty and staff members listed below who contributed to the success of the Campaign for the Wake and Promise and to the mission of the Reynolds Campus employees made a gift or pledge to the Campaign. Their contributions to the future of Wake Forest is greatly appreciated. Because of their generosity, $1.5 million has been raised for the people and programs of Wake Forest.