Wake Forest Win
At Williamsburg

Wake Forest's Deacs deserve kudos for the big game they put on by utilizing Emily and Mary and the safety of the Wake Campus group, according to Southern Conference observers from the South Carolina. The Deacs, led by Bill Miller and the Williamsburg, Va., in front of the Wake box.

Coach Puckett Walker's Deacs needed the loop tilt, which appeared twice in the first half the afternoon. The Deacs won 47-0, as Bobbi Grant led the Wake with 14 yards on the ground.

Larson Here For Conferences

J. Frederick Larson, college archivist, arrived on the Wake Forest campus this week to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Conference of College and University Archivists. Mr. Larson serves as assistant archivist for Duke University's Department of Special Collections and Library Services.

Mr. Larson's visit coincides with the regular conference meeting of the Southern Conference, which takes place Wednesday through Friday. Larson, who has been involved in archivist work for over 20 years, has served in various capacities within the conference, including as a member of the executive committee.

Larson's role at the conference includes attending sessions, participating in discussions, and networking with other archivists. His participation is essential in fostering collaboration and sharing best practices among members.

Larson, a graduate of Duke University, has dedicated his career to preserving and documenting campus history. His expertise in archiving and preservation is highly valued within the Southern Conference and beyond.

Larson's presence on the Wake Forest campus marks an opportunity for the institution to collaborate with like-minded professionals in the field. This interaction is expected to enrich the Wake Forest archives and contribute to the institution's overall mission of preserving its rich history.

Dr. J. Trimmer Speaks In Chapel Wednesday, Friday

Dr. J. M. Trimmer, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church in Nashville, will speak in Chapel on Wednesday and Friday. At this time, Dr. Trimmer will be the regular student body is the regular staff doctor in the infirmary on Wednesday and Friday of last week.

"The most important thing is what you don’t understand, or try to fix, and a vital relation of the things you do understand or cannot understand is the situation you are in, what you have. What you have done not to do means more than what you have done to do."

Dr. Trimmer took illustrations from familiar Bible stories to point out the differences between things that are and things that are not. The infirmary at Wake Forest still maintains its infirmary, under the supervision of the president of the college. The infirmary is the only one of its kind in the nation. Gore Spends

Korean Scene
Characters Natives
As Likeable
But Tough
By Arthur Gore, Jr.
I was in Korea last fall. I was impressed by it. Yes, indeed, I was impressed, and I don't mean that in any way as a politician. I was impressed by it from several angles: As far as the situation was concerned, they can take a lot of punishment, give it back to the conquerors and ignore whatever you might think was the policy for the condition.

First and foremost, I liked the people. It's not so much in the Rotary Club of Seoul that you find the kinds of people that you find in a place like New York City, but you do find people that you'd be proud to have in your family.

The Korean doesn't have much to look forward to, and neither did the U. S. Troops when they had the place, but then they didn't try to understand the people.

"What's the Korean to talk about in the first place?
You know the old story about the man in earth, four had a man, and four died. Chat that, they say their rice paddies afford an animal to pull it. It's logical. I'm a person that has an unquenchable observer's thirst and I wouldn't have him any other way.

The peasant is considered worthless if he can't support his family. I'm didn't try to understand the people.

Pair Of 'Eds' Are New Deacon Stars

By Bob Tannoy

"It pays to have a freshness that way and if we can beat big Ed Butler after our last two losses, then maybe we'll come on strong," said Coach Walker in the wake of last week's defeat to Kentucky.

The two Eds in question are the Wake Forest guards, Ed Jones and Ed Butler. Ed Jones, who has been out with an ankle injury, was expected to return against Wake Forest.

"We haven't got the offensive punch that we so badly need," said Coach Woodruff. "We'll rig up for this new offensive set-up remains to be seen, but you can be sure that we'll try to get it right.

"The Deacons will use the Deacon offense next spring," said Dr. Carpenter. Those stalwarts will be sorely missed and were rewarded with an All-American honor.

Intramural Football Leagues Begin Play; New Schedules

By CHADY DADBEE

Intramural football got under way at a grand start last Sunday, October 6, when these well-padded students hit the gridiron for the first time in their season. The competition was keen and the weather perfect. The games were played at the parking lot near Groves Hall.

The Alpha Phi Omega football team defeated the Delta Chi team, winning by a two touchdown margin.

The Alpha Phi team was led by a spectacular performance of the Alpha Phi quarterback. He scored twice in the first half and added two more touchdowns in the second half, bringing the final score to 21-0. The Alpha Phi team was considered a strong team going into the game and came out with a convincing win.

The Delta Chi team was led by a solid performance of the Delta Chi quarterback. He scored once in the first half and added another touchdown in the second half, bringing the final score to 14-0. The Delta Chi team was considered a strong team going into the game but came out with a loss.

In addition to the regular games, there were also a couple of intramural competitions held in the gymnasium. These were played on the second Tuesday of each month, and the winners received trophies.

Club next on Tuesday, October 8, in their newly finished practice room. This was the first meeting of the season, and the club members were already hard at work, preparing for the upcoming season.

The club is divided into three sections: football, basketball, and baseball. Each section has a coach and a group of players, and they all work hard to improve their skills.

The club meets every Tuesday night, starting at 8 p.m., and members are encouraged to attend. The club is open to all members of the college, and anyone interested in playing is welcome to join.

In conclusion, the intramural football season is off to a great start, and the teams are already proving to be tough opponents. With the team spirit and determination of the participants, it’s sure to be an exciting season.
