Seven-one men wait for campus housing

Vol. LXIV

Seventy-one men were placed on the waiting list for suitable housing after the man's housing assignment April 15. Only 14 spaces were left in Graylyn, four in McDowell and 16 in the basement of the Student Union. The 34 vacancies are sufficient for the number of men who requested them. As of April 13, the waiting list contained 71 men. The Dragon reports that independent living arrangements are still needed.

Faculty members are 84 percent of the population, and the college has a need for housing accommodations for faculty. The waiting list, which was compiled in March, contains 88 percent of the housing accommodations needed by the college. The waiting list is compiled by academic departments. Hanger fantasy enchants listeners

When you're free of the usual constraints of the everyday world, anything can happen. And that's just what happened to the students of Hampden-Sydney College on a recent Monday night when the Hanger fantasy play was presented.

The Hanger fantasy play is a unique performance involving the use of text, music, and imagination to create a world of fantasy and magic. The students, who are all members of the Hanger club, work together to create a narrative that is both imaginative and thought-provoking.

The performance is based on a story written by Howard Hanger, a local author and musician. The plot involves a group of friends who discover a magical land through a mystical portal. As they explore this world, they encounter a variety of fantastical creatures and engage in battles against evil forces.

The performance was well-received by the audience, who were captivated by the vivid imagery and creative storytelling. Many students expressed their interest in participating in future performances and suggested ideas for potential plot developments.

Overall, the Hanger fantasy play was a success, showcasing the creativity and talent of the Hampden-Sydney College students. It serves as an inspiring example of how imaginative thinking and collaboration can lead to exciting and memorable experiences.
I, Margaret Hotfoot,

It did, and it was great!

Along with me was one other running familiar. I'm so excited to share the Heart American Half-Marathon race. For me, however, this was not just another race. It was my first half-marathon event.

The previous morning I woke up at 3:30 A.M. before my alarm was set to go off. I really was very much looking forward to the race. I had been running for the past three months, and I was ready to see what I could accomplish.

I ran an hour before my alarm was set to go off. It was wonderful, and I felt relaxed and ready for the challenge.

BUT

The race started at 8:30 a.m., and we arrived at the start line at 7:30 a.m. We were off!

DEACON BEACON

We were off! It's been an exciting day. We were off!...and we're running!...and we're running!...

I ran with a few other runners, and we were all pushing ourselves to achieve our goals.

REZNICKS FOR RECORDS

The race was a great way to challenge myself and see what I could accomplish.

Student GOP supports tax cut

President James Ralph Belese,

Regarding recent comments in the Graylyn Times regarding the student viewpoint on the tax cut proposal, we are writing to express our agreement. The proposal, presented in the House of Representatives, has the potential to provide many tax cuts to individuals and families alike. While it is true that the proposal may have some negative effects, such as increased government spending, we believe that overall, the benefits outweigh the drawbacks.

We recognize that some individuals oppose the tax cut due to concerns about increased government spending. However, we believe that the proposed tax cuts would be better spent on education and other important programs. By cutting taxes, we can provide more financial assistance to those in need, which would help to stimulate the economy. The proposal also includes provisions to reduce the budget deficit and improve government efficiency, which we believe is crucial in today's economy.

We encourage our campus community to support the tax cut proposal. By working together, we can ensure that the proposal is implemented in a way that benefits all Americans. We hope that our fellow students will join us in supporting this important legislation.

Wake Forest forest track duo looks ahead to nationals

Linda Jenkins

With the birth of women's track in the ACC, Wake Forest's head coach has established a program that has pulled double duty. As coach of both men's and women's track, Thomas has responsibilities running day to day, overseeing the team and David Powers.

Crane has been a constant in the program for the past 12 years, but this year is responsible for the non-majors welcomed. Contact as possible or call 761-5495.

Bunn's loss wounds Deacon nine

Katherine Erd

Due to the futile lack of four men, North Carolina State's tennis team wound up seventh in the ACC. Both the Deacons and the Wolfpack were not in peak form when they last played 15 days ago. But Coach Whitehead had a number of the best men in the league in the lineup. Coach Whitehead had a number of the best men in the league in the lineup.

Coach Marvin Grady called the tournament a 'biggest factor in the overall success of the team', saying that it was the only factor the Deacs could control. Whitehead said that the Deacons had been preparing for the tournament for the last two weeks.

In doubles play, the Deacons scored 10 points, with 11 points away from the second place spot. In singles, their champion was 64. The second best Deacon was 84, 94. In doubles, they finished second and third in the No. 1 and 2 singles spots. They finished second and third in the No. 1 and 2 singles spots.

The Deacons finished the tournament with a 3-14 record, and the Wolfpack finished with a 3-15 record.
