Federal Changes Affect Financial Aid

by ELIZABETH CHRISTOPHER

Recent federal changes concerning the application process for local scholarships and loans will affect Wake Forest students. Ronald D. Douglass, assistant dean of admissions and financial aid, says that students will have to fill out a Financial Aid Form (FAF) — which will be subject to verification — to be considered eligible for aid.

"There is no longer annual eligibility for students whose parents' income is below $30,000," Douglass said.

By law, the FAF must be submitted to local aid administrators by April 1 to be considered. The amount awarded may be increased from $22,500 to $29,700.

Another change affects the definition of an independent student. Starting this year, a student will be eligible for independent status if he or she is 22 or younger and single.

Douglass said this rule is designed to help students on part-time, weekend or summer programs who are not living with a family.

Breedon has been a member of the Wake Forest staff since June 1953. He came to the school when the position at Wake Forest was that he thought the school was trying to make a change with such a position.

Breedon said that his original interest was in sports after the move was completed: however, he became involved in affairs of the college that he decided it would be better to stay. Breedon said one of his major goals in retirement is to remain more non-political. He has published three books. The financial of Alexander Jones has the responsibility of the National Collegiate Association. The responsibilities of the National Collegiate Association and News Bureau include reflecting the demands of the students and former students.

"It is a hotly disputed bill, but you will have no resemblance to what has taken place in school." he commented.

The responsibilities of the university for the media has been marked by a great deal of criticism. The student legislature Tuesday defeated a proposal to organize groups and petition for university recognition. The student legislature Tuesday defeated a proposal to organize groups and petition for university recognition.

"Homophobia is a problem in the same sense that, in the 1960's, racism was a problem. There comes a time when we must make specific statements on behalf of the students," Breedon said.

Opposition to the bill was the proposed change to the admissions policy.

President Breedon's decision does not sit well with some students.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.

Many legislators, including Barnes, said that, since Wake Forest's application does not sit well with some students, the university must not include a non-discrimination issue regarding the subjects. Some students feel that the proposal to make non-discrimination a part of the university's policy.

"It is important for the students to vote in the state legislature," Breedon said.
Student Legislature Approves New Budget

BY SCOTT PRESTON

The student legislature approved the Student Budget Advisory Committee's recommendations at its meeting Monday night. The $38,000 budget covers the entire year and is expected to provide significant improvements to the campus. The budget includes $15,000 for the Student Activities Council, $10,000 for the Student Government Association, and $13,000 for the Student Services Commission. The budget was approved unanimously, with no discussion.

Professor Questions Traditional Identities

BY LISA VARGAR

Men and women need to reconsider their roles in society and rethink the conventional wisdom surrounding gender. Although the idea of gender neutrality may seem radical, it is necessary to move beyond traditional gender roles.

BSU Raises Money With 'Love, You Speak a Word'

BY LESLIE TAYLOR

The OKD and Black Reporter's annual fundraising drive, "Love, You Speak a Word," was a great success. Around $2,000 was raised during the drive, which featured a spaghetti dinner and a play. The money raised will be used to support the OKD and Black Reporter's operations.

Student Foundation to Hold January Member Drive

BY BO MARTIN

A new organization, the Student Foundation, will begin its initial membership drive in January. The foundation will provide many services to its members, including financial aid, career services, and a forum for individual student clubs to discuss issues that are pertinent to them.

The foundation believes that the Student Foundation will provide many services to its members, including financial aid, career services, and a forum for individual student clubs to discuss issues that are pertinent to them. The foundation will also be able to inform students about internships and help with stress management.

The foundation's initial membership drive will give information on rush and the Greek system. Juniors will also be able to get information on the proposal and the Greek system.

BSU Needs Money With 'Love, You Speak a Word'

BY LESLIE TAYLOR

The BSU and Black Reporter's annual fundraising drive, "Love, You Speak a Word," was a great success. Around $2,000 was raised during the drive, which featured a spaghetti dinner and a play. The money raised will be used to support the BSU and Black Reporter's operations.

Three Students Are Convicted

The three students were found guilty of breaking into a North Carolina district court, a count of burglary, and possession of phencyclidine and paraphernalia, and possession of alcohol under age 21.

The three students, Andrew Remillard and Stephen Russell, were convicted of breaking into a North Carolina district court. They were sentenced to probation and community service.

The three students were found guilty of breaking into a North Carolina district court, a count of burglary, and possession of phencyclidine and paraphernalia, and possession of alcohol under age 21. The students were sentenced to probation and community service.

Student Handb

Students can pick up Dana Biren's book in the alumni relations office of the A&M Alumni Association.

Carwell School

The Carwell School is scheduled to close by 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Store Closing

The University Credit Union will close at 4 p.m. on Friday to issue payroll checks.

Students Should

Students receiving a $1000 check from the student association and a $200 check from the student association will be collecting donations for the United Way.

WXI Collee

The staff of WX1 is waiving children's clothing under the "Love, You Speak a Word" drive in the lobby. WX1 is waiving children's clothing under the "Love, You Speak a Word" drive in the lobby.

Student Handb

Students can pick up Dana Biren's book in the alumni relations office of the A&M Alumni Association.

Carwell School

The Carwell School is scheduled to close by 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Store Closing

The University Credit Union will close at 4 p.m. on Friday to issue payroll checks.

Students Should

Students receiving a $1000 check from the student association and a $200 check from the student association will be collecting donations for the United Way.

WXI Collee

The staff of WX1 is waiving children's clothing under the "Love, You Speak a Word" drive in the lobby. WX1 is waiving children's clothing under the "Love, You Speak a Word" drive in the lobby.
The legislature meets to debate issues pertinent to N.C. universities and also to discuss international and extraneous issues. Every month, delegations from over 23 colleges across the state meet for an interim council at different campuses. The N.C. Student Legislature's Annual Session is held in March at the campus of the Old Capitol Building in Raleigh. Wake Forest will host the session in March because of the establishment of a state senate, Senate 180. Legislation that is passed at this session is sent to the N.C. General Assembly and is various state bodies. Students want to have the purpose of the N.C. Student Legislature to be for the state's college students to be involved in political and legislative processes by first-hand experience. According to Lute Deeter, the N.C. Student Legislature Secretary of State, the group also wants to maintain a role as a voice for North Carolina college students to express their opinions on current issues. The organization is non-partisan, and a wide Seat, Page 8

Thirty Prospective Freshmen Preview Life at Wake Forest

The tournament is the largest in the country, which this year went to the University of Kansas. Although there were no official Wake Forest students competing in the tournament, the tournament was held at Wake Forest and was a great first-hand experience. Strauss said that most of the students were impressed with either the academic or other qualities of the students. Phillips also said that the program is "just a good opportunity for us to recruit these ten students and to let them know how effective in helping the students learn more about the school."
Groth Editorial: "Academically Sound" in Wake Forest

We have many strange holidays on the calendar. for example, at Halloween we call some things ghosts and others we call garlic. At Wake Forest we have tools that many others would consider ghosts or garlic. But we usually consider them children and weed them out of our system before We have found that the only reason these tools are still in the tool kit is that the student body has the same degree of autonomy as it had when some students used to call themselves on a bus home from a game, a losing football team, and an academic process.

Nearing Autonomy

About a month ago a controversy on the level of the Old Gold and Black Fall Festival in the Wake Forest administration (the other half of the University) was held.

We were proud of the band's performance on November 23. We had never before heard of a band conductor who could conduct in the darkness. The band was obviously inspired by the fact that they were leading the fans to the stands. The sound philosophy of a winning football team is: "If we are lucky enough to win a game, we will play the game. If we are not lucky enough to win a game, we will play the game." The band was only too happy to play the game. The band's performance was considered "exemplary." The performance of the band was considered "exemplary." We were proud of the band's performance on November 23.

Letters to the Editor

"I disagree with your position regarding the state of the Wake Forest football team. You state that we need a new bus for the team. I believe that we should receive any threats."

"We have found that the only reason these tools are still in the tool kit is that the student body has the same degree of autonomy as it had when some students used to call themselves on a bus home from a game, a losing football team, and an academic process."

Groth Editorial: "Academically Sound" in Wake Forest

"I disagree with your position regarding the state of the Wake Forest football team. You state that we need a new bus for the team. I believe that we should receive any threats."
Apartheidized

The image contains a page from a text discussing various topics. However, the content is too fragmented to provide a coherent summary. It seems to touch on topics such as education, community relations, and possibly some references to physical or emotional abuse. The text appears to be discussing the challenges and realities of living in a community, particularly in the context of a college setting.

Intolerance Is Closer Than We Think

The text appears to be discussing the challenges and realities of living in a community, particularly in the context of a college setting. It seems to touch on topics such as education, community relations, and possibly some references to physical or emotional abuse. The text appears to be discussing the challenges and realities of living in a community, particularly in the context of a college setting.

Letters Policy

The Old Gold and Black encourages the submission of the Write Stuff column to the editor in any form. Submissions will be reviewed by the author of the column and not by the editor. Please include your name and phone number.

The deadline for the Friday issue is the previous Tuesday at 3 p.m.
Dudley Shapere, the Reynolds professor of philosophy and history of science, says that the course would be improved if more light were available for students to read and study. He compared taking the course and said that it will definitely be improved again because Shapere is one of the leading experts in his field. However, he feels that too many students are trying to fulfill their divisional requirements and that more light could be available before taking such classes.

Dudley Shapere - Reynolds Professor of Philosophy and History of Science

Shapere views questions such as how and why conditions for the universe are as they are, as central to bridging disciplines - such as history of science, literature, and women's studies - and others could come under study in the course. Shapere teaches courses better known forms. The course was open to anyone from the campus or the community, or from the university because the committee felt that it was a program that was needed to start. The warm feeling and soft comfort for the babies in the maternity ward was a real treat for the staff.

Dudley Shapere - Reynolds Professor of Philosophy and History of Science

We are happy to call it a lecture class with an open door. However, we feel that students should be required to have regular discussion with professors and other students to further the sparsely populated lecture component. The course, called Symmetry, is one of the leading experts in his field. He compared taking the course and said that it will definitely be improved again because Shapere is one of the leading experts in his field. However, he feels that too many students are trying to fulfill their divisional requirements and that more light could be available before taking such classes.

Dudley Shapere - Reynolds Professor of Philosophy and History of Science

The libraries because the committee felt that it was a program that was needed to start. The warm feeling and soft comfort for the babies in the maternity ward was a real treat for the staff.
Parkening is a Virtuoso Guitar

By GARY LARSON

The audience knew that it was about to experience something quite special when they entered the auditorium and saw the violinist in the lobby. Wednesday evening Christopher Parkening performed in the Smith Center, in a capacity rarely found in the downtown theater district. It was just right for the young American virtuoso, whose new concert featured music by the great masters of the guitar.

The performance was captivating, the audience enchanted, and the virtuoso left them breathless. Parkening's technique was flawless, his expressivity powerful, and his interpretation of the music was truly remarkable. The audience was left in awe of his virtuosity and his dedication to the art of the classical guitar. The concert was a testament to the skill and artistry of Christopher Parkening, and a highlight of the cultural life of the city. It was a night to remember, and one that will be fondly remembered for years to come.
R.O.T.C Ranger Squad Travels to State Meet

By JOHN LITTLE
Old Gold and Black Reporter

The Wake Forest R.O.T.C. department sent its team to compete in the Ranger Challenge Meet held at Fort Bragg on Nov. 13. This event, which consisted of seven units from Wake Forest and two from Western Carolina University, competed against teams from throughout North Carolina.

The competition began at 6:30 a.m. with an Army Physical Readiness Test, an event featured by the posting of pull-ups, sit-ups and a two-mile run.

The Wake Forest R.O.T.C. department...

From Page 2

Elshain

From Page 3

Student

From Page 3

Orchestra

From Page 7

Debate

From Page 3

TAPACANADRAI!

Just pull the tab and pour yourself a mug of fresh, smooth draft beer. Miller Genuine Draft is new. As like real draft beers, it’s not heat-pasteurized. Instead, it is cold-filtered to give you the freshness and smoothness of draft beer straight from the keg.

MILLER GENUINE DRAFT. IT’S BEER AT ITS BEST.

Panel Rules OnSix Cases

By LISA VARGAS
Old Gold and Black Reporter

Six cases were heard by the court related panel between Nov. 17 and Nov. 26, according to Mark Run, dean of students.

A student was required, in one case, to pay for repairs to some damaged property. No charges were brought since the damage was not considered defining.

In another case, a student was ordered to perform 20 community service hours for the presence of a black in an unregistered location.

Run said that the three students charged with interrupting mentally disabled service workers, and a fourth — charged with abusive language, failure to comply with a reasonable official and threatening a fellow student — were given 20 service hours.

Three additional cases were referred to the student judicial board. One student entered a plea of "not guilty" to the charge of interrupting entry into a university facility that was locked or closed. Another student entered no plea to the charges of failure to properly register with an entry control officer and threatening a fellow student to procure his removal.

All students were billed a $25 fine and to complete service hours. A third student was given no penalty and was instructed to become more responsible.

A fourth student was referred to the judicial body. The third student entered no plea to the charge of failing to properly register with an entry control officer and was allowed to stay on campus.

The next hearing will be held in Charlotte on January 21-23. Students seeking more information can contact Eric Houser at 794-5480.

From Page 2

U.S. Senate

The January interim council will be held in Charlotte on Jan. 12-13. Following the recent election, the new delegation chairperson is Eric Hunsley.

The legislature recently considered bills pertaining to the R.O.T.C. of N.C. and second theme came in, with the melody provided by the flutes, aspects of this resolution: the access of the press to prisoners of war. This...
Wake Forest Looks Back on Up and Down Year

Wake Forest closed out its 1986 football season on a mixed note as the Demon Deacons of the Carolinas who finished second in the Atlantic Division of the Southern Conference. After missing a field goal attempt in the closing minutes, Wake Forest was held to a 24-7 halftime deficit by Kentucky. Wake Forest rallied from 13-0 down at halftime to win 30-28. The Demon Deacons' gaffes were too costly and the Cats capitalized on them. Freshman kicker Mike McDuffe missed three field-goal attempts.

Although much maligned throughout the year, the Demon Deacons found themselves in first place in the Atlantic Division of the Southern Conference, after winning the regular season championship. The Demon Deacons tied the first place team, Louisville, with a 19-19 tie in their first meeting, but lost 30-28 in the second meeting.

By MIKE DEWITT

Ron Montemurro
Old Gold and Black Reporter

The Wolfpack overcame a 24-point halftime deficit and scored 35 second-half points to win 40-35 over Virginia Tech. The Wolfpack's first 35 points were scored in the final 20 minutes. Wake Forest struggled through the first half, but rebounded for a 49-32 halftime lead before cruising to a 67-41 victory. The Deacons had the advantage in shooting percentage, outscoring the Cats 49-32 in the first half.

The Wolfpack outscored the Demon Deacons 24-7 in the second half, but could not have been happier with the outcome. Wake Forest's only score of the second half was a field goal by Mike McDuffe.

The Demon Deacons found themselves in first place in the Atlantic Division of the Southern Conference, after winning the regular season championship. The Demon Deacons tied the first place team, Louisville, with a 19-19 tie in their first meeting, but lost 30-28 in the second meeting.

By MIKE DEWITT

Ron Montemurro
Old Gold and Black Reporter

The Wake Forest women's basketball team played in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Demon Deacons lost to North Carolina State 73-65.

The Demon Deacons were led by center Lisa Carter, who scored 16 points in the game. Freshman forward Amy Pounds scored 11 points for the Demon Deacons in the tournament.

The Demon Deacons lost to North Carolina State 73-65 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Demon Deacons were led by center Lisa Carter, who scored 16 points in the game. Freshman forward Amy Pounds scored 11 points for the Demon Deacons in the tournament.

The Demon Deacons lost to North Carolina State 73-65 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Demon Deacons were led by center Lisa Carter, who scored 16 points in the game. Freshman forward Amy Pounds scored 11 points for the Demon Deacons in the tournament.

The Demon Deacons lost to North Carolina State 73-65 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Demon Deacons were led by center Lisa Carter, who scored 16 points in the game. Freshman forward Amy Pounds scored 11 points for the Demon Deacons in the tournament.

The Demon Deacons lost to North Carolina State 73-65 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Demon Deacons were led by center Lisa Carter, who scored 16 points in the game. Freshman forward Amy Pounds scored 11 points for the Demon Deacons in the tournament.

The Demon Deacons lost to North Carolina State 73-65 in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Demon Deacons were led by center Lisa Carter, who scored 16 points in the game. Freshman forward Amy Pounds scored 11 points for the Demon Deacons in the tournament.
Tennis Players Advance Far in ITCA/Rolex Tournament

By COLLEEN KOONTZ

The Wake Forest men's basketball team improved to 9-6 with a 70-55 victory over Coastal Carolina at Winthrop's Memorial Coliseum.

After a shaky start, the Deacons assumed control of the game throughout the first half and never looked back, building an eight-point lead at halftime and cruising through the second half.

Tome "Maggy" Bergman led Wake Forest with 15 points, 10 assists, and 10 rebounds in the win. The Deacons' bench contributed 19 points, led by Kerese Pierson with 10.

Coastal Carolina played well in the first half, scoring 14-26 from the field, but cooled off in the second half, shooting 15-42 (35%). The Deacons' bench combined for 19 points, with 10 coming from guard Deon Thompson.

Wake Forest won the battle on the boards, outrebounding Coastal Carolina 45-33. The Deacons had 34 points off the bench, while Coastal Carolina had 17.

The Deacons shot 46% from the field, while Coastal Carolina shot 42%. Wake Forest had 18 assists, while Coastal Carolina had 9.

Wake Forest's defense held Coastal Carolina to 55 points, while the Deacons scored 70.

Wake Forest's next game is against Old Dominion on Tuesday, January 30, at 7:00 pm in Winston-Salem, N.C. Coastal Carolina's next game is against East Carolina on Saturday, January 27, at 2:00 pm in Greenville, S.C.

Basketball Team Opens Season

By JACOB D. WHITE

The Wake Forest men's basketball team opened in 1986-87 season Monday night, with a 95-55 victory over Coastal Carolina at Winthrop's Memorial Coliseum.

After a shaky start, the Deacons assumed control of the game throughout the first half and never looked back, building an eight-point lead at halftime and cruising through the second half.

Tome "Maggy" Bergman led Wake Forest with 15 points, 10 assists, and 10 rebounds in the win. The Deacons' bench contributed 19 points, led by Kerese Pierson with 10.

Coastal Carolina played well in the first half, scoring 14-26 from the field, but cooled off in the second half, shooting 15-42 (35%). The Deacons' bench combined for 19 points, with 10 coming from guard Deon Thompson.

Wake Forest won the battle on the boards, outrebounding Coastal Carolina 45-33. The Deacons had 34 points off the bench, while Coastal Carolina had 17.

The Deacons shot 46% from the field, while Coastal Carolina shot 42%. Wake Forest had 18 assists, while Coastal Carolina had 9.

Wake Forest's defense held Coastal Carolina to 55 points, while the Deacons scored 70.

Wake Forest's next game is against Old Dominion on Tuesday, January 30, at 7:00 pm in Winston-Salem, N.C. Coastal Carolina's next game is against East Carolina on Saturday, January 27, at 2:00 pm in Greenville, S.C.
Equestrians End Autumn Schedule
In Fine Fashion

By ANNE SHUMATE
SPECIAL TO THE OLD GOLD AND Black

The Wake Forest equestrian team closed its fall season with a strong performance at Southern Intercollegiate College in Knoxville, Va., on Friday, Nov. 14.
Anne Shumate led the team into high standings with her first place in beginning Walk-Trot-Canter. Shumate also accumulated enough points to qualify for the Advanced Walk-Trot-Canter division.

Captain Margaret McManus showed well again with a second place finish in Intermediate on the Flat and a fifth-place finish in Individual over fences. Nevertheless Shumate and McManus tied for second place with perfect scores.

The team was once again aided by Salem College's coach, Les Thomas.

Although the fall season has ended, the participants look forward to the spring season, which will start on February 20 at Duke.

Golf

From Page 9

format. "It's just like summer again, because you're competing against players, not teams," Stroud said.
Matthews and Stroud bounced on the course during the first two rounds. Scores of 68 and 70 put Matthias first in place, while Stroud posted rounds of 71 and 70 to place third.

"This was another weird format," Stroud said. "Instead of playing 36 holes a day for three days, we played 72 per day for two days. I think that trend on both met, and we accounted for our total.

Both players dropped in the final round. Matthew-son's second round of 68 helped him to tie for second place, and Stroud's second round of 71 narrowed the lead on his first round of 67 to help him earn a spot in the top ten. Matthias was able to clinch the title for himself.

Matthews will unofficially close out the Demon Deacons fall season December 12 when he competes for the United States in the Japan-Australia College Cup, to be held in Japan.

"I was really honored to have the opportunity to compete for the United States," Matthews said.

Wake Forest coach Jesse Huddleston will be the coach for the competition. The position is one of the benefits of being named Coach-of-the-Year.

"The last time I was in Japan was for the 1981 Wake Forest-Clemson football game," Huddleston said. "I, too, am honored to represent the United States of America, especially since I am a member of my own.

Pressbox

From Page 9

as Wake Forest's all-time leading receiver, and Kizer enforced arguably the ACC's best defensive line. Three otherhonors will also graduate, leaving big holes to fill in the interior tackle.

The Demon Deacons split with Louisiana State College, leading backer Scott Roberts and three other offsides will graduate, leaving big holes to fill in his defensive corps next year.

How will the Deacons be able to fill the gaps on the defensive line? Kizer expects his team to improve the holes by 96. Wake Forest hopes to have the same) competitive spirit next season that it displayed this year, while winning more of the close contests that eluded them in 1986.

Deacons Spoil Georgia Tech's Bowl Dreams

The Wake Forest football team closed the 1986 season, Nov. 22, with a 24-21 victory over Georgia Tech in Groves Stadium. The Yellow Jackets were barely listed in the game, and the Deacons were without the services of four players after their suspensions earlier in the season.

The Deacons got on the board first when a fake field goal resulted in a 21-yard touchdown pass from Darrell Gun to Tom Misner. Minutes later, Tech narrowed the lead again, this time scoring on (adapted for AT&T)
Clothes that fit the hour, the day
the weather or the mood ... regardless of your age, style, or size

Share in the Enjoyment of that International Language of COLOR

Will vandalism turn our forests into an endangered species?

The destruction of signs,
public facilities and campsites in our nation's forests says
one thing loud and clear:
Respect doesn't grow on trees. It must be cultivated.
From camper to hiker,
Parent to child. Generation to generation.
The sad truth is unless we begin to help people appreciate the forest for the priceless gift it is, something valuable will be lost. Our access to it.
Vandalism. It's time to draw the line.

Give a hoot.
Don't pollute.

Forest Service, U.S.D.A.

WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY

AEROBICS

—Student Special—
All Semester
$50.00
First Class FREE

Room 308, Reynolds Gymnasium

Monday 5:00 and 6:00
Tuesday and Thursday 12:40, 5:00, 6:00 and 7:00
Wednesday 5:00

Starts Monday, January 12 • Registration taken first week of classes