The library, a $7.3 million addition to the existing library, is named for Edwin G. Wilson, who has served Wake Forest since 1939, and, as President Thomas C. Heuser Jr., said: "Something old happened. It is a testament to the school's enduring principles, which Wilson and his students have been teaching in the school since its founding 148 years ago, that he hopes to see the next generation of Wake Forest students.

Students have to accept tuition hike, not like it

Few people in America can afford to attend a $1,200 three-credit hour course. We support the student body's fight against this rise, but we cannot help but agree that the increase is unreasonable. We are currently asking people who have never lacked for food or clothing for what seems like a lot of money. It is difficult for people who are paying for their education to understand how one of the high price items, we are being asked to pay for. We are not trying to pus...
Americans must stop blaming prey, forgetting predators

A family member of a rape victim believes that this generation is more violent than the generation of the 1960s. While this may be true, we must recognize that the issues we are facing today are not just about individuals but are systemic issues that need to be addressed. We must learn from the mistakes of the past and work towards creating a safer and more just future for all.

It is time for us to stop blaming the prey and forgiving the predator. We need to acknowledge that violence is not a result of the actions of the victim but rather the result of systemic failures. We need to focus on creating a culture that is safe and supportive for all, and we need to hold our leaders and institutions accountable for their actions.

We cannot continue to ignore the root causes of violence and blame the victim. It is time for us to take responsibility for our actions and work towards creating a world where everyone feels safe and respected. We must not remain silent and allow violence to continue to be normalized.

Family focus should shift back to educating children

In a world where technology has taken over the functions of parents, it is crucial that we shift our focus back to educating children. We need to reevaluate our current education system and create a more inclusive and responsive one.

Our education system should be focused on teaching children the values of empathy, cooperation, and critical thinking. We should be teaching them to be good citizens and leaders, not just good test-takers.

We need to create a system that is not just focused on grades but also on the development of the whole child. We need to prioritize the mental health and well-being of our children, and we need to provide them with the tools they need to navigate the challenges of the world.

We need to invest in our children's education and future. We need to create a system that is responsive to the needs of our children and empowers them to be successful and happy adults.

In conclusion, it is time for us to shift our focus back to educating our children. We need to create a more inclusive and responsive education system that prioritizes the development of the whole child and prepares them for the challenges of the world.

Black Greeks pledge a commitment to service

By Eric Sutphin

The Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity recently sponsored an Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity event in cooperation with the Black Student Alliance last semester. The event was a fundraising event for Alpha Kappa Phi. The Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity has a long-standing tradition of service to the community. The event was held at a local restaurant and featured music, dancing, and a live auction. The proceeds from the event were used to support the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity's community service projects.

According to the Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity, the event was a huge success. The fraternity hosted a series of events throughout the semester to raise money for community service projects. The events included a benefit concert, a community service project, and a fundraising drive.

The Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity is one of the many organizations on campus that are committed to community service. The fraternity's commitment to community service is evident in its many initiatives and events. The fraternity is proud of its long-standing tradition of service to the community.

Student crosses racial lines in fraternities

By Eric Sutphin

E ven in fraternities, when the issue of whom is initiated is under consideration, the lines of color still remain unwiped.

Two women have trumped all color.

Scott Kyles is the only white member of the Delta Phi fraternity. He is the only black member of the Delta Phi fraternity. According to the Delta Phi fraternity, Scott is a valuable member of the fraternity.

Kyles, an economics major, said that he joined the fraternity because he wanted to challenge the traditional views of fraternities.

"I joined Delta Phi because I wanted to be part of a fraternity that was different," Kyles said. "I wanted to prove that fraternities can be successful and that they can be diverse.

According to Kyles, fraternities are often seen as exclusive and exclusive-minded. The Delta Phi fraternity is working to change that perception.

Kyles said that he has enjoyed his experiences in the fraternity. He said that he has made many friends in the fraternity and that he has learned a lot from his experiences.

"I have learned a lot about myself and about others in the fraternity," Kyles said. "I have learned that fraternities can be diverse and that they can be successful.

A visiting lecturer in the department of speech communication at Wake Forest University, he was asked to head the direction of such a successful Wake Forest production as Under Milk Wood. The play will open Friday in the Main Stage Theatre.

"The lack of a visual image was something brought back. The struggle which makes for a great character must be much more vividly voiced, because the dialogue was much more vividly spoken than in the radio play. There was a whole set of characters which made for a whole set of voices."

At 37-29-28 inches tall, Machin stands 8 feet tall, towering over the others. He is the first African American to be nominated for an Academy Award, and he is known for his portrayal of a modern-day comic book character, Spider-Man. His latest film, "Spider-Man: No Way Home," was released last month and broke box office records.

Despite the mixed reviews, Machin remains confident. "I don't let anyone's opinion get me down," he said. "I just keep working hard and doing the best I can."

Fifty Years of Wake Forest Theatre
Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Air signs are in a serious and earnest mood at this time. If you are in the upper echelons, you may well get a promotion. If you are looking for a new job, you may find prospects improving. If your career is more in the area of personal growth and development, you may want to consider some sort of educational pursuits. Someone who had been money-minded — or class and prestige — may well call or drop by this week. Although the sun has moved out of Aquarius, Venus is still in this sign and will be in an exalted position. This is a good time to get a haircut and change your image.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20). This is a very busy and productive time for you. You may find that you are doing lots of planning and organizing. You will probably find that you are in a mood to settle down. This is a good time to make some compromises.

Gemini (May 21-June 20). Leave no plans to wait until this evening for a free consultation. Today for a free consultation.

Cancer (June 21-July 22). Monday calls for some quick decisions. If you are a student, you may have to make some difficult choices. You may also have to make some difficult decisions. If you are in business, you may have to make some difficult decisions.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). Your Venus ruler is at its peak this week. This is a very good time for you. You may find that you are in a mood to settle down. This is a good time to make some compromises.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Watch the weather. It may be a bit cooler this week. However, things will warm up again next week.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). This is a very busy and productive time for you. You may find that you are doing lots of planning and organizing. You will probably find that you are in a mood to settle down. This is a good time to make some compromises.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). This is a very busy and productive time for you. You may find that you are doing lots of planning and organizing. You will probably find that you are in a mood to settle down. This is a good time to make some compromises.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). This is a very busy and productive time for you. You may find that you are doing lots of planning and organizing. You will probably find that you are in a mood to settle down. This is a good time to make some compromises.

Wake Forest collapses at North Carolina

By Jeff Russimo

North Carolina's Justin Moose tied the game at 53 with a 3-point shot with 1:11 left to play. Then, after Virginia's score, Ross Miller played defense and the Cavaliers held to a 75-66 advantage, sophomore Trelonnie Hongre playing together, "We're going to go after them and show them we're not going to let them do what they did last time," Wake Forest head coach Fred Sanchez said. The Demon Deacons traveled to Toyota Center in Houston, Texas, for their 17th game against three losses.

The last three years of Head Coach Theresa Mosier's tenure have been marked by Clemson's attempt at a rout. "We gave them everything we had," Mosier said after the match. "We should have won this game." Mosier had 20 rebounds and 17 points to lead the way.

The Demon Deacons led the team relatively smoothly through most of the game. They were able to tie it at 11 in the first half as Wake Forest controlled the tempo and the lead to 75-66 advantage, sophomore Trelonnie Hongre playing together.

Demon Deacon basketball greats to return for alumni game Saturday

Wake Forest basketball fans have the opportunity to see some of the greatest legends in Demon Deacon basketball history when the Wake Forest-Fordham Alumni Game is held at 5 p.m. Saturday in Lawrence Joel Convocation Center.

Admission to the game is only a $5 donation to the Wake Forest-Fordham Alumni Game, which starts at 5 p.m.

The game will feature many great names from the Demon Deacons, including Charlie Davis, Jeff Jones, Jack McConnell and standing legends Bernie Ross and Bob Wooten.

Davis, known as the "Season's I'm playing, first time is the first time I'm going to be the one," said the former Demon Deacon basketball great.

Although Saturday is Wake Forest's third basketball Alumni Game, the event is a first for the school. The tournament has been phenomenally — 60 former players have signed up to select in the game from form 1990 and 1991.

The excited about playing and having the opportunity to ride up again for the black and gold. It's going to be a tremendous experience. It's going give us a chance to hang out with some of the really great people that have been the names on the tickets for the past 10 years.

Gearing up for ACCs

Track teams break six records at Virginia Tech

By Chris Heslin

The men’s and women’s indoor track teams emerged from last weekend’s meet at Virginia Tech with a split in the dual-dual competition and three school records each.

The men’s team fell to the Hokies 76-33, but celebrated a new record for the men’s 3,000-meter, as sophomore Stuart Burnham finished in 8:13.51. In the women’s meet, the Hokies fell to the Mountaineers 76-33, but freshmen Andy Bloom and Ed Weik nipped freshman teammate Kate Weber and sophomores Kelly Pancake combined for a first-place 4x400-meter relay, with Bloom finishing with a time of 4:00.07.

The two teams will next compete in the ACC Track and Field Championships April 8-10 in Greensboro, N.C.

The coaching staff was pleased with the performances. "We used the meet to prepare for the ACCs, and we’re satisfied with how we did,” coach Greg McQuaid said.

In the men’s meet, Burnham set the record in the 3,000-meter run is now ready for the Atlantic Coast Conference Championships. "Although we had the highest this previous Monday ready for the ACCs, we didn’t perform as well as we needed to, and our top three runners didn’t have our best mark," McQuaid said. “We should be very strong in the ACC Championship, and our top two runners are the defending SEC Champions." McQuaid said.

The women’s team is coming strong as well, and now have six records on the books. Freshman Tracy Bonato broke the record in the 800-meter hurdles with a time of 2:21.35, and broke the record in the 4x100-meter relay with a time of 46.80 seconds, in the 100-meter.

"I am excited about our young team and the potential we have," coach H. Kaplan said. "Our team will continue to develop as the season progresses." McQuaid said. "We are excited about the potential we have, and we will continue to work hard." McQuaid said.

The women’s team will be taking part in the ACC Championship April 8-10 in Greensboro, N.C.
