TAKING ADVANTAGE OF TUBERCULIN CLINIC

MORAL IS LIAID TO MORAL EVILS

Wake Debaters Emerge From Tournament Smiling, Victorious

The Wake Forest debate team followed by other schools through.

Rear of the North Atlantic conference.

Election waken the team to a national championship.

VOTERS FAVOR PUBLICATIONS CHANGE

Pan-Hellenic Council Plans Calls For Big Dances Here

College Budget May Retard Publicity Campaign Action

Pair elections for the English Historians' Club, civil and moral changes have been made.

The board may be bound by the will of the Board of Trustees.

There are no facts on which to base a judgment.

As for the new arrangement, it will have to be determined by the Board of Trustees.

The matter will be reviewed by the Board of Trustees.

The budget will be increased by the Board of Trustees.

The college will be forced to cut back on its budget.

The alumni have returned the college.

The Board of Trustees will have to be consulted.

The matter will be reviewed by the Board of Trustees.

The college will be forced to cut back on its budget.

The Board of Trustees will have to be consulted.

The matter will be reviewed by the Board of Trustees.

The college will be forced to cut back on its budget.

The Board of Trustees will have to be consulted.
Minor Mishaps Add To Fun Of Recent Band Excursion

Band Takeoff at Tulip Festival at Washington, D.C.; Nearly 200 Students Participate in the Annual Event

Minor mishaps marred the recent band excursion to the Tulip Festival at Washington, D.C. Nearly 200 students were scheduled to participate in the event, but only 150 were able to participate due to a series of unforeseen circumstances.

Despite the setbacks, the band managed to make the most of the situation and turn it into a fun-filled experience for the participants. The group arrived at the festival just in time to watch the opening ceremonies and then proceeded to enjoy the various activities throughout the day.

However, the fun was marred by a series of mishaps. First, there was a mix-up with the transportation arrangements, which caused the group to arrive late at the festival. Then, during the performance, the band's equipment failed, causing a number of songs to be missed by the audience.

Despite these setbacks, the band managed to keep the audience entertained with their renditions of popular songs and even managed to make light of the situation, much to the amusement of the crowd.

In the end, the band excursion was a success, despite the mishaps. The students were able to enjoy the festival, and the band managed to turn the situation into a fun-filled experience. The group returned home with many fond memories of their experience.
DEAC TRACK TEAM OPENS SEASON AT GUILFORD TODAY

DEacs Have Easy Time In Defeating Cornell, 12-2

Carl Byrd Alman, Only Seven Hits As Wake Forest Choke to Duke, 6-3

DICKENS STARS Afield In BAPTIST VICTORY

Delel, Mergel, Chapper, Spalding, Jim Twiflet, Two M. A. S. Appliers

Wake Forest took its first straight against West Virginia in its last game before the Bap-11ist period. The Deacs scored a 6-3 victory over the Mountaineers. The game was played in the afternoon, and Bob Givens, Wake Forest's quarterback, directed the team to a 6-3 win over West Virginia. The Deacs scored again in the third inning, and held on to their lead. The game was played in the afternoon, and Bob Givens, Wake Forest's quarterback, directed the team to a 6-3 win over West Virginia. The Deacs scored again in the third inning, and held on to their lead.

THE BEST TO ME

The Deacs' first straight against West Virginia was also its first win of the season. The Deacs scored a 6-3 victory over the Mountaineers. The game was played in the afternoon, and Bob Givens, Wake Forest's quarterback, directed the team to a 6-3 win over West Virginia. The Deacs scored again in the third inning, and held on to their lead. The game was played in the afternoon, and Bob Givens, Wake Forest's quarterback, directed the team to a 6-3 win over West Virginia. The Deacs scored again in the third inning, and held on to their lead.
VETERAN TRIO TO HEAD WAKE FOREST PUBLICATIONS NEXT YEAR

Three rising seniors have worked diligently since coming to Wake Forest as freshmen to win the allegiance of their classmates by their contributions to the college publications here. David Morgan of Creedmoor, newly elected editor of the Gold and Black, has charged the staff with the responsibility of carrying on the traditions of the paper which his predecessors have made famous. Russell H. Morgenstern, editor of the Student Directory, and L. D. Poteat, editor of the Student Directory, have been working closely with Morgan in planning the future of the Gold and Black and the Student Directory.

Local Summer Session To Offer Varied Curriculum

More than 120 Courses To Be Offered; Credits At Colleges May Be Earned

BRYAN AND TYLER HEAD DIVISIONS OF SCHOOL

Max Brischke to Head Practice Football Squad as Local Branch; Ski and Snow Sports Planned.

The 1931 session of the Wake Forest-Wofford-Montreat summer school, to be held at Wake Forest, will open on May 25, according to plans announced by W. R. Keating, director. By that time, it is expected that nearly all the classes will be completed. The enrollment is expected to be larger than last year, and the classes will be better equipped for the work.

In an address to the members of the school's executive committee, President B. T. Bryan declared that the school will continue to offer a wide variety of courses, including those in business, science, and education. The school will also continue to offer courses in the arts and sciences, including those in English, history, and mathematics.

In the business department, the school will offer courses in accounting, economics, and business administration. The science department will offer courses in chemistry, physics, and biology. The arts and sciences department will offer courses in English, history, and mathematics.

The school is proud of its long tradition of excellence in education, and it is determined to continue to offer a high-quality education to all its students. The school is confident that it will continue to attract the best students from all over the country.

MINISTERIAL OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the ministry committee, the following officers were elected to direct the activities of the College Assembly in their area:

President, R. F. Bryan;
Vice President, H. L. Perry;
Secretary, J. E. Harris;
Treasurer, W. S. Taylor;
Editor, W. B. Johnson;
Reporter, R. W. Pool.

The ministry committee will consist of the officers of the College Assembly, and it will meet at least once a month to discuss the work of the school.

Proposed Plan Wins Approval from Faculty and Administration

(Continued from front page)

The proposed plan for the 1931 session of the school was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

The plan was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

Increasing numbers of students are enrolling in the school, and the school is confident that it will continue to attract the best students from all over the country.

Proposed Plan Wins Approval from Faculty and Administration

(Continued from front page)

The proposed plan for the 1931 session of the school was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

The plan was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

Increasing numbers of students are enrolling in the school, and the school is confident that it will continue to attract the best students from all over the country.

Proposed Plan Wins Approval from Faculty and Administration

(Continued from front page)

The proposed plan for the 1931 session of the school was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

The plan was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

Increasing numbers of students are enrolling in the school, and the school is confident that it will continue to attract the best students from all over the country.

Proposed Plan Wins Approval from Faculty and Administration

(Continued from front page)

The proposed plan for the 1931 session of the school was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

The plan was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

Increasing numbers of students are enrolling in the school, and the school is confident that it will continue to attract the best students from all over the country.

Proposed Plan Wins Approval from Faculty and Administration

(Continued from front page)

The proposed plan for the 1931 session of the school was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

The plan was approved by the faculty and administration, and it was presented to the students for their consideration. The plan was designed to provide a wider variety of courses and to attract more students to the school.

Increasing numbers of students are enrolling in the school, and the school is confident that it will continue to attract the best students from all over the country.