Wagoner to speak to 950 graduates

Walter Houston

Walter Houston was named commencement speaker at Wake Forest University.

A message from President Bob W. Weyant:

William E. Houston, chairman of the Board of Directors of American Farm Bureau, will speak at Wake Forest University's commencement ceremonies on Monday, May 12. He will speak at 9:30 a.m. in the Lawrence Center. Houston, a native of Indiana, has been chairman of the Board of Directors of American Farm Bureau since 1977. He received a bachelor's degree in agriculture from Purdue University in 1950 and served as President of the American Farm Bureau from 1978 to 1980. He currently serves as a member of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farm Service Agency, where he has been since 1974.

A message from President Bob W. Weyant:

Faculty approves Graylor reunion

The Faculty has approved a reunion for all members of the Class of 1969. The reunion will be held on May 12, 1979, at Wake Forest University. The reunion will be an opportunity for alumni and friends to reunite and celebrate their shared experiences at the university.

Lambda Chis, Delta Sigs meet with SLC

The Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi fraternities have met with the Student Life Council (SLC) to discuss various issues.

During the meeting, the Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi fraternities presented their concerns to the SLC. They discussed issues such as the quality of life, Greek life, and the role of the SLC in addressing these concerns.

The SLC expressed its willingness to work with the Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Sigma Phi fraternities to address these concerns. The SLC plans to form a task force to address the concerns raised by the fraternities.

Cheerleading tryouts

Former judges dissatisfied with selection procedure

Sara Berry

Three family members who have judged cheerleading tryouts called the selection process a "farcical farce," according to a recent Old Gold and Black article.

The article claimed that the selection process was biased and unfair, with the three family members accusing the selection committee of favoritism and nepotism.

A spokesperson for the university denied the claims, stating that the selection process was fair and impartial.

The university has since initiated a review of the selection process to ensure fairness and impartiality.

The Selection Committee for the Academic Excellence Awards Convocation to be held on Sunday, May 7, includes the following members:

- President Bob W. Weyant
- Dean of Students Robert L. Hicks
- Dean of Faculty Debra L. Hinson
- Dean of Athletics Robert E. Myers
- Director of Athletics Mike Tornow

The Selection Committee will review the tryouts of the cheerleading team to ensure that the selection process is fair and impartial.

The Selection Committee will also consider the concerns raised by the three family members who have judged cheerleading tryouts.

The university has asked the Selection Committee to provide a detailed report of its findings, which will be shared with the students and the public.

The university has also asked the Selection Committee to make recommendations for improvements to the selection process.

The Selection Committee is expected to complete its review and provide its findings by the end of May.
Space needs studied

Math move proposed

Annette Kavanagh

The committee on Institutional Planning is conducting a study of space needs for various academic departments.

This study is part of an overall review of campus space and resources.

The committee will present its findings to the president by the end of the semester.

Gregory Pritchard, chairman of the mathematics department, said, "I have been very impressed with the work of this committee."

Van Wagstaff, a member of the committee, said, "I think this is a very important project."

This project is being funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The committee plans to meet with representatives from other academic departments to discuss their space needs.

The committee will also consult with students and faculty to gather input on space needs.

The committee hopes to complete its study by the end of the semester.

Library outlook discussed

Cheryl Roffe

The WF Board of Visitors on Monday, April 24, discussed the library's future and its budget.

Chairman Van Wagstaff said, "The library is facing some challenges, but we believe it can overcome them."}

The board approved a budget for the next fiscal year that includes funding for new spaces and technology.

The board also agreed to hire an additional staff member to help with collection development.

Sigma Chi drops charges

Bernie Franklin

City Charged of publishing libelary story against fraternity from the university and has been dropped by the Sigma Chi group.

Prevent Edwin W. White, director of the library, said, "We are pleased to see this action taken by the Sigma Chi group."}

The charges were filed after the Sigma Chi group alleged that the library had not been notified of the publication of the article.

The board recommended that the university take steps to ensure that similar situations do not occur in the future.

The board also agreed to hire an additional staff member to help with collection development.

The board also approved a budget for the next fiscal year that includes funding for new spaces and technology.
Ziggy's reopens with WF managers

Ziggy's reopened last week under the management of two students who hope to attract customers with a more relaxed atmosphere.

Two enterprising former WF students have reopened Ziggy's, a once popular pub on West Sixth. The new management, Bruce Stahl and Donald Buxton, said they plan to emphasize a more relaxed atmosphere.

"I think we're just going to make it more laid back and more friendly," said Buxton. "We're going to try to make it a better place for people to come in and have a good time."

Amanda, a student who worked at Ziggy's before, praised the new management. "They're doing a great job already. It's a lot more casual and relaxed," she said.

The two plan to attract students with a more relaxed atmosphere and a cheaper beer. "It's going to be a lot cheaper," said Buxton. "We want to make it affordable for students."

Trustees' decision

Thanks to the work of a few faculty and students, the May 1 meeting of the Board of Trustees might actually prove quite interesting.

These meetings are usually bland little affairs to which a number of reports are read, discussion approved without remark, then tabled and repeated, over and over again.

But this time, it seems, there will be a few surprises.

Firstly, the board will attempt to put a stop to the annual practice of appointing a new president.

Secondly, the board will attempt to put a stop to the annual practice of appointing a new president.

Thirdly, the board will attempt to put a stop to the annual practice of appointing a new president.

Life found in simplicity

The editorial pages are traditionally a place of intellectual turmoil, a hotbed of controversy and debate. But the pages of the WSU student newspaper are strangely calm. The editorials, written by a group of students, are often more thoughtful and measured than the usual rhetoric of political and social issues. They strive to approach each topic with an open mind, critiquing the legitimacy of current events and offering alternative perspectives.

The political climate we live in today is complex, with issues ranging from environmental degradation to economic inequality. Our student newspaper serves as a platform for the emergence of new ideas and alternative voices. It helps us navigate the chaos of our world, providing a space for critical thinking and constructive dialogue.

Our students have the power to shape the future. By joining the conversation, we can contribute to the development of a more just and equitable society. So let's continue to explore the complexities of our world and aim for a better tomorrow.
Grant voted outstanding

Charlotte's Cindy Sechler won the state singles tournament, the first for an Oklahoma player in 26 years. Sechler, who had a record of 21-2, received the Schenkel Invitational Singles Award.

Grant was named Outstanding Female Athlete of the Year by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) at its annual convention in June. The award is given to the female athlete who best exemplifies the qualities of leadership, ethics and sportsmanship.

Golfers finish second

Jeff Haddock

While Wake Forest finished second in both 1980 and 1981, the 1981 U.S. Open was held at the Olgiata Country Club in Rome, Georgia. The tournament was highlighted by a thrilling finish between Frank Johnson and Tom Knox of Wake Forest. Frank Johnson finished with a score of 216, tying Bob Toski and Don January for second place. Tom Knox finished with a score of 217, tying for second place with Bob Toski and Don January. The tournament was won by Tom Purtzer with a score of 214.

Leighton honored

Wake Forest men's tennis coach Jim Leighton was honored at the 13th Atlantic Coast Conference tennis awards dinner. Leighton has been a coach at Wake Forest since 1982. This year Leighton led the men's tennis team to its second consecutive season of second or better in the ACC. The Deacons finished in second place in the ACC tournament and in the NCAA tournament. The tournament was held in May 1981 at Stanford University in Palo Alto, California. Wake Forest finished with a score of 6-2 in the final round.

Crowe wins 5000 meters

Freshman David Crowe came off a record-setting month in the ACC indoor track meet and then followed up with a first place finish in the 5000 meter event in the final week of the prestigious Penn Relays.

Crowe clocked the 3:1.1 mile course in 13:13 in last weekend's nationally acclaimed meet in Philadelphia. Crowe's time of 12:59.1 in the meet was an easy win for the Penn Relays. The meet featured top athletes from across the country and was considered one of the biggest events of the season.

Crowe was one of the athletes who made a big move in the final 400 meters, taking second place in the event. Crowe's time of 12:59.1 was the fastest of the meet and set a new record for the event. Crowe was followed by Matt Johnson of Notre Dame and Brian Anderson of the University of Virginia. Crowe was one of the top athletes of the meet and came into the event with a strong performance in the indoor track meet.

Does the thought of being a star in cheerleading and becoming a socially acceptable career appeal to you? Would you like to hear how to be a star in 10 years what you usually pay in 207?) Are you interested in participating yourself with breaks and hours or camps? Are you tired of being an apathetic student?

The Old Gold and Black has a place for everyone.

Pep assembly is on the schedule for Monday at 9 a.m. in the Lumpkin Gym. Women of the Year are Mrs. Kaye Lord.

Senior Jay Belley has been asked to speak at the recent Lambda Chi meeting. He is also working toward the completion of his English major. He plans to continue in English education at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

There are many decisions to make about the future and many things to consider. But we should not make up our minds about others, because decisions are frequently made without consultation from the rest of the team. When making decisions, the thought should be given to the feelings of everyone involved.
