The Colonel Bows
By A. P. GODDERS, JR.

Good morning gentlemen!

I was called upon the other day by one of the local police to see to certain matters of import. The result was that I was invited to attend a gathering of the most distinguished array of gentlemen that I have ever seen. It was a most interesting experience and I am sure that you will all enjoy hearing about it.

But I must hasten to say that there are some people who are not happy about this gathering. They feel that it is a waste of time and that it does not contribute to the betterment of our community. I must say, however, that I disagree with them. I believe that such gatherings are necessary in order to maintain our traditions and to keep our community together.

I was told that the gathering was held in order to elect a new president for our local university. I was also told that the election was to be held in the gymnasium and that only those students who were members of the fraternity would be allowed to attend.

I can tell you that the gathering was quite a sight. There were hundreds of people there, all in their finest clothing. The air was filled with the sound of music and the smell of tobacco. It was truly a remarkable experience.

But I will not go into detail about the election. I will simply say that it was conducted in a very fair manner and that the new president was chosen by the vote of the fraternity members. I must say, however, that I am a little concerned about the fact that only those students who are members of the fraternity were allowed to attend the gathering.

I believe that such a policy is unfair and that it discriminated against those students who are not members of the fraternity. I believe that all students should have the opportunity to attend such gatherings and to participate in the decisions that affect their community.

I must say, however, that I am pleased with the outcome of the election. The new president is a very capable man and I am sure that he will do a great job for our university.

In conclusion, I would like to say that I believe that such gatherings are necessary in order to maintain our traditions and to keep our community together. I believe that all students should have the opportunity to attend such gatherings and to participate in the decisions that affect their community. I believe that we should work together to ensure that such gatherings are fair and that all students have the opportunity to attend.

Thank you for listening.
