Alcohol Problem Prompts Changes

By Chad Kilbourn

Wake Forest fraternity and sorority parties will serve more non-alcoholic drinks to comply with state law and the university's drinking policy. The move is part of a larger effort to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus.

The new policy, which was approved by the Student Government, will go into effect on February 10. It requires fraternities and sororities to serve only non-alcoholic drinks at their events unless they have obtained a permit from the state Department of Alcohol and Tobacco Control.

The university's decision comes after several incidents involving alcohol abuse, including a fraternity hazing incident last fall that resulted in the arrest of two fraternity members.

The new policy is part of a broader effort to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus, said Gary Reynolds, director of Student Affairs. "We want to make sure that students are able to enjoy their college experience without being consumed by alcohol," he said.

The university has also implemented a new alcohol education program for first-year students, which includes a mandatory seminar and online course.

The Wake Forest Housing Committee approved a proposal that would increase the number of housing options available to students.

The proposal, which was presented by the College Democrats, would create a new housing model for the Wake Forest Community. The new model would allow students to live in shared rooms with other students, which would increase the number of options available to them.

The proposal was approved by a vote of 7-2, with two abstentions. The College Republicans opposed the proposal, saying that it would increase the cost of housing for students.

The College Democrats said that the proposal would help to address the housing shortage on campus, which has been a problem for several years.

Three Students Receive Summer Study Grants

By Kevin Dougher

Kevin Dougher, a senior biology major, received a Reynolds Charitable Trust Grant for a summer study on the African Evolution of Fish. The grant will provide Dougher with $2,000 to conduct research in Africa, where he will study the evolution of fish species. Dougher is interested in understanding the evolutionary processes that have shaped the diversity of fish species in Africa. The grant will allow him to travel to Africa and conduct fieldwork, which will contribute to his understanding of African fish evolution.

Rev. Hastings Receives Award for Ecumenism

The Board of Directors of the Ecumenical Institute of Wake Forest University has named the Rev. C. Brownlow Hastings, a native Texan born in Hastings, Texas, and a native of the Baptist Church, Virtie Milligan, to the Hastings Award for Ecumenism for his superior work in the ministry of the church. Hastings has served as the minister at the Ecumenical Institute of Wake Forest University for 40 years, during which time he has been deeply involved in the ecumenical dialogue and has been a leader in the Baptist Church. In recognition of his contributions, Hastings will receive the Hastings Award for Ecumenism at a special ceremony on March 1, and awards will be announced at a later date.

Committee Sizes Back WFU’s FM Attempt

By Michael McKelvey

The house council of the Baptist View of Wake Forest University has voted to support the station’s attempt to go FM. The WFU FM station is currently at 90.1 MHz on the FM band, and the council believes that this is a good move for the station. The council also believes that the station should continue to support local artists and community events, and that the station should continue to provide a diverse range of programming.

Violations

The university’s alcohol policy is designed to ensure a safe and enjoyable environment for all students. Violations of this policy can result in disciplinary action, which may include fines, suspension, and even expulsion. The university takes these violations very seriously, and students who violate the policy may face serious consequences.

ROTIC Is Taking Applications For Scholarships

Old Gold and Black Staff Report

ROTIC recruiters are accepting applications for the spring scholarship selections. Scholarship winners receive full tuition plus a $200 summer book allowance and a $500 month stipend.

The value of a two-year scholarship at Wake Forest is $1,500. A three-year scholarship is valued at $2,100.

The U.S. Army says that scholarship cadets serve either in the active army or in the reserves. They enter the U.S. Army Reserve. Cadets who opt for the U.S. Air Force- ROTIC program can continue their enrollment in graduate or professional studies or pursue a career in private industry.

Senior Jerrell Ruff, a cadet in the ROTIC program, said the salary of an U.S. Army officer increases with the salaries that private firms offer in the marketplace.

"Basically, the starting salary for most college graduates is $15,000 or over per year, and if you serve four years' service and promotion, your salary may be over $20,000. That's why we choose the ROTIC program," he said.

The starting salary for a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army is $15,250 if single and $15,710 if married. After four years of service and promotion, a Second Lieutenant's salary may be over $20,000.

The ROTIC program offers an extra $6,000 a year for a Second Lieutenant and an extra $5,000 a year for a Captain — including medical and dental coverage, military shopping facilities, privileges, and educational opportunities.

"They pay for being a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve is a fantastic way to earn additional income on top of your career job," Ruff said.

He said the average incentive for a weekend duty is $95.

Band Takes Semifinals In MTV Rock Contest

Old Gold and Black Staff Report

MTV Pop, a Wake Forest band, is a regional sensation and has made the national finals of the MTV StudioVideocast Challenge and will compete in a five-competition Tuesday event. A panel of judges selected Wake Forest as one of four bands to compete in the MTV StudioVideocast Challenge.

If Wake Forest wins the competition Tuesday, the band will{} go to the national finals in Disney Beach, Fla. The final competitions will be televised live on MTV.

Band members are: Andrew Bass, Nick Bond and Jon Heyer, guitarists; Jeff Seabrook, bassist; Jerry Crull, drummer; and Grant Williams, keyboardist.

BOOK SHOW

On Display In Library

The HSP Book Show of the American Association of University Professors (AUP) will be on display in the library circulation room through March 4.

The Design and Production Committee of the AUP has sponsored the show every year since 1964. The show travels worldwide and is intended to display better design, inform and inspire through example.

Many books were entered for competition and were selected by Herbert Leupin, a type designer, calligrapher, typographer, architect and book designer. Fifty winners were chosen in celebration of the 50th anniversary of AUP.

Said the “Every book in an attempt to give an ideal unity of design, composition, color, registration, printing, and binding. This is always the dream, to handle all the components in the most appropriate manner. This is the responsibility of a designer within the set of book design.”

Wfu Post Office Will Process Mail Later in the Afternoon

Old Gold and Black Staff Report

Beginning Feb. 23, the United States Postal Office will put up the University's outgoing mail to begin processing it two full work days later in the afternoon.

A mailroom worker said, "I'll say we have had to delay existing mail up to 4:55 p.m. With this new arrangement we will be able to process it as late as 5:55 p.m."

She said the University will have two mail rooms because of the change. The box at the women's dorms and the boxes on the U.S. Post Office in Reynolda will be in front of the post office and the boxes for Reynolda Hall will remain.

Students Poisoning Themselves With Alcohol

There is a tradition of alcohol use and abuse on college campuses, and this year's events at Wake Forest are no exception. In response to increasing concerns about alcohol-related issues, the administration has taken steps to address the problem, and the student body has also been made aware of the issue through awareness campaigns and education initiatives.

One of the main concerns is the high rate of alcohol consumption among students. According to recent surveys, close to 80% of Wake Forest students engage in some form of alcohol use, with many reporting frequent and heavy drinking.

In addition to the social implications, alcohol use on campus has also raised questions about academic performance and health consequences. Studies have shown that excessive alcohol consumption can negatively impact students' academic achievements, leading to lower grades and increased rates of academic probation.

The administration has responded by implementing stricter policies and regulations surrounding alcohol use on campus. These measures include increased enforcement of existing laws, restrictions on alcohol sales and consumption, and heightened awareness campaigns to educate students about the risks and consequences of excessive alcohol use.

As part of the ongoing efforts to address these issues, the administration has also held meetings with student leaders and organizations to discuss strategies for reducing alcohol consumption and promoting a safer campus environment.

The goal is to create a culture where responsible alcohol use is encouraged, and students are made aware of the potential risks associated with excessive drinking. Through collaborative efforts and continued dialogue, the wake forest community is working towards a safer and more responsible future for all students.

Candidates After Iowa and NH

Rob Spears
Student Columnist

Michael Dukakis was the first Democrat that I'd ever listen to. He is the governor of Massachusetts. He has a strong record of opposing U.S. involvement in Central America and wants to continue to do so. He has been endorsed by the environmentalists of this country.

George Bush has been endorsed by the business community. He is the president of the United States and has a strong record of opposing U.S. involvement in Central America and wants to continue to do so. He has been endorsed by the business community.

The decision, in the spring of 2008, is a difficult one. It is not just a matter of choosing between two candidates, as many people have been doing. It is a matter of choosing between two ways of life.

As usual the press had a wonderful time telling us what the candidates were offering. They didn't talk about what they wanted to accomplish, but only what they wanted to accomplish. They didn't talk about their programs, but only their promises. They didn't talk about what they wanted to accomplish, but only what they wanted to accomplish.

What is your solution to the problems that you see in this country? What do you want to accomplish as president? What do you want to accomplish as president?

The time is now to make a choice. The time is now to make a choice. The time is now to make a choice.

Let's follow Xavier on his interview with Wake Forest. Xavier is in a meeting with one of the other interviewers. Xavier is waiting for his appointment with dates. All were on a small clock as well as it clicked down the time that was already spent in paradise.

Suddenly, the first one who appears and announces that they have a representative Wake Forest. Any Xavier? As Xavier, he leaves the clock to go to the next interview that is a little bit more important. Xavier is in the middle of his interview and the interviewer who is in the middle of his interview.

Xavier's interview includes a variety of topics, including his views on the American presidential election.

Xavier is speaking "corporate"

The change is subtle but first, performative. In his behavior, Xavier is not who he is; he is who he is. In his speech, Xavier is who he is; he is not who he is.

Tuition and fees are not just a matter of money. They are a matter of culture. They are a matter of culture. They are a matter of culture.

The world is changing. The world is changing. The world is changing.

The selection of candidates for the next election is a matter of culture. The selection of candidates for the next election is a matter of culture. The selection of candidates for the next election is a matter of culture.

International Studies Program Was Recommended by Faculty Committee

A recent letter from Professor Brown argues that while the International Studies Program is well-intentioned, its goals are not well-defined. He suggests that the program should have a clearer focus on specific issues and provide more opportunities for students to explore these issues in depth.

"It seems that the International Studies Program is aimed at providing students with a broad understanding of the world, but it is not clear how this is supposed to be achieved," Professor Brown writes. "There is a danger that the program will become a Catch-all for courses that are vaguely related to the study of other cultures, but do not necessarily contribute to a deeper understanding of any particular culture."

Letter to the Editor

We are writing in response to Professor Power's letter in the January and February issue. We found that most of the points made in the letter are valid and that they raise important questions about the current state of education in the U.S. However, we do not agree with the conclusion that the system is broken and that the only solution is to return to a system of closed party politics.

We believe that there are a number of things that can and should be done to improve the current system of education in the U.S. We disagree with Professor Power's assertion that the only solution is to return to a system of closed party politics.

Cerfshel, the publicity director of College Democrats, said the student body has no problem with the policy being implemented.

"There's a good chance the committee will decide what to do before we have to worry about it," he said.

Smith said her experience with the student body has been positive. Many people who are critical of homosexuality are not uncomfortable in her country.

Dodd Thrusts Women's Team Over Clemson

By Teresa Colby

The Wake Forest women's basketball team held off the hot-shooting Gamecocks, 59-43, in a game where the 20th-rankedUniversity of South Carolina won the contest on Thursday night butwas held to 55% shooting from the field, while the Deacs shot 45%.

The Gamecocks (10-10, 2-3 Atlantic Coast Conference), who are tied for fourth place in the ACC, were led by 14 points at the half and extended their lead to 15 points early in the second half. The Deacons (16-7, 4-2 ACC) came back to trail by six with 10:20 left in the game, but South Carolina would not be denied. The Gamecocks took over and finished the game on a 12-4 run to win by 16 points. The Deacons fell to 3-2 in ACC play and 18-7 overall.

The Deacons had a 21-6 lead in the first minutes of the game and added 10 more to that advantage in the first half. The Gamecocks closed within six at the half, and the Deacons went on a 7-2 run to begin the second half. The Gamecocks finally broke the Deacons' run when they got within two, but the Deacons again went on a 7-2 run to take a 49-40 lead with 10 minutes left in the game. The Gamecocks' 7-2 run cut the Deacons' lead to 16 points, but the Deacons immediately responded with a 3-0 run to increase their lead to 19 points.

The Gamecocks scored 19 points in the first half and added 13 more in the second half to secure the victory. The Deacons scored 22 points in the first half and added 27 more in the second half. The Gamecocks were held to 15 points below their season average, while the Deacons were held to 10 points below their season average.

The Deacons were led by 22 points in the first half, but the Gamecocks were held to 16 points below their season average. The Deacons were led by 22 points in the second half, but the Gamecocks were held to 10 points below their season average.
Conference Teams Jockey for Position As ACC Tourney Nears

Just one week remains in the ACC regular season and all of the teams are still fighting for their spots in the conference tournament, which begins on March 12.

Wake Forest stretched its winning streak to seven games, and the Deacons are now 7-4 in the conference. Wake Forest hosts four ACC games.

The following week the Deacons host Maryland, which compiled a 7-4 record last year in the ACC. The Terrapins are set to keep Maryland in the conference. The Terrapins are set to keep Maryland in the conference.

The Deacons see their first ACC action against Duke, which compiled a 7-4 record last year in the ACC. The Blue Devils are in a must-win situation against the Blue Devils. The Blue Devils are in a must-win situation against the Blue Devils.

Wake Forest hosts two home ACC games.

THEME HOUSE APPLICATIONS

Theme House Applications are now available in the Residence Life and Housing Office (111 Davis).

Deacons Drop 2 Games To Hurricanes in Florida

By John White

The Wake Forest basketball teams dropped two games to the powerful Miami Hurricanes earlier this week, dropping to season marks of 2-4. The Deacons fell 90-73 Thursday and 76-72 Wednesday night.

In both games, the Deacons were outplayed by the Hurricanes, who have been one of the top teams in college basketball this season. Miami outscored Wake Forest 49-23 in the first half of Thursday's game and 40-32 in the second half.

On Wednesday, Miami dominated the Deacons in the first half, building a 42-23 lead by halftime. Wake Forest cut the lead to 44-36 with 10:10 left in the game, but Miami responded with an 11-0 run to put the game out of reach.

The Deacons were led by George Gross with 16 points, while Miami's Eddie Cibak scored 24 points to lead the Hurricanes. Wake Forest shot just 36% from the field and committed 17 turnovers, while Miami shot 52% from the field and held the Deacons to just 15 points in the second half.

With the losses, the Deacons' record drops to 2-4 on the season, while Miami improves to 10-1. Wake Forest will look to regroup this weekend as they face another tough test against the Virginia Cavaliers on Saturday.
Players can disagree as to who's played the better game, but Lisa Carter can't disagree about the game that sealed the win.

"Millikan was at the free-throw line and didn't do much. I just had to go and try to shoot. We had some girls see me hitting, hopefully it will rub off on them," Carter said.

"Lisa is a great competitor," Head Coach Russell Blake said. "She wants to win and she doesn't want to lose. She has been outstanding in her quest to win." Carter's usually play has been in tandem with the 6-7 sophomore who averages 4.8 points and 4 rebounds per game this season.

"I think we have one of the best coaching staffs in the country," Carter said. "Coach Sam Sanchez has turned the program around and his coaching and experience has been huge to this time.

"But he's in the business, too, work on defense [Gary Ory] and work on the inside game [Thri Harrison] was a very good example. She has the ability to do anything in terms of her flashiness, but Lisa Carter just worries throughout. The winners combined patient offense with good defensive rebounding to earn the victory.

"Lisa has a strong head for the game of basketball," Sanchez said. "She's always been able to do the job. She can be a lot of things; I think we can get a lot to the NCAA tournament, she said."

The Rev. Howard John Marquardt was a very good game, too. She's definitely improved the inside game. She's getting a lot more production out of her inside game this season," she continued.
