Armed Man Robs Campus Wachovia Branch

By JONI JAMES

Last Friday a unidentified white male robbed the Wachovia Bank & Trust Co.

The crime took place about 5 p.m. March 14.

Said the suspect,

Herr in the fifth lecture of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, was: "Historians and government scholars have puzzled over the 1986-87 election season, in which there was no clear winner.

We are in a period of history "where the old order has been abandoned and the new order is not yet felt" and "we live in a world where totalitarianism is discredited, and we are looking for a new kind of order," he said.

Heller claimed that this period has been characterized by a disenchanted public and a "new kind of citizens" who are thinking being created by a

Students Create New Sign Language Course

By SHARON STANZLANO

Students at registration this spring had a new language course option — sign language. It is one of two new majors available in the speech communications department. It is also one of the only classes at Wake Forest for one at Wake Forest and was observed by professors to come from the past.

Gerrigan, measle syndrome, is considered to be one of the only classes at Wake Forest for one at Wake Forest and was observed by professors to come from the past. Gerrigan, measle syndrome, is considered to be one of the only classes at Wake Forest for one at Wake Forest and was observed by professors to come from the past.

Doug Valchar and Todd Sanford are the originators of the class. Doug, a junior transfer from the University of Alaska, noticed the need for communication with the deaf at his church. Not being able to take the class offered there, he looked for one at Wake Forest and was disappointed. Valchar and Sanford sought to change the situation.

A class that taught sign language and was willing to be the instructor, it is also one of the only classes at Wake Forest for one at Wake Forest and was observed by professors to come from the past.

These students are practicing what they have learned in the new sign language course. The class, created by students, is a two-week seminar course.

Key Involvement

Throughout this school year, "controversial" decisions by the administration have sparked heated argue-ments in the student body. However, one group has always been the exception; the students have remained silent and did not raise any objections. This group is known as the Student Government. The protest that students had virtually no role in policy making and were not informed of policy proceedings is really self-criticism. Surprises decisions may be made by the administration, but they are only made possible by general student apathy.

Theme Housing

When you think of themes, you probably think of students living on campus, studying and socializing with their classmates. However, there are also very positive aspects of the plans the Administration has been developing. If you happen to be interested in applying for the housing, you should definitely think of the benefits of the plan. I'm not saying that there are no problems with the plan, but in my eyes it is a good plan.

SDI CAN'T DEFEND the American population against nuclear attack, and is not even offered as a defense against civil defense measures, bombers and nuclear terrorism. It would be a waste of money, and it would be a threat to peace. Let's not adopt SDI.

SDI WILL AFFECT the poor and the members of the middle class. The poor and the members of the middle class are very important to our country.

SDI WILL UNDERMINE our defense system. SDI would be a waste of money, and it would be a threat to peace.

THE COSTS would be enormous, at a time of budget deficit. It would be a waste of money.

The administration should not force us to make a decision about the SDI program. It is a very important decision, and it should be made by the students and the faculty.

It is a threat to the freedom of the country that Mr. Bowen is willing to die for.

"THESE REASONS, so we urge the President of the United States to take the lead in this critical international situation, are of such weight and urgency that we are prepared to commit the power of our organization to the quest for a genuine arms control solution to this problem."

The letter is to the editor of the Wake Forest University's newspaper. The group is trying to express their views on nuclear disarmament and the SDI program. They are concerned about the safety of the American population and the threat to peace that SDI poses. The letter ends with a call to action, urging the institution to take a leadership role in arms control negotiations.

The Pledge

I am an advocate of nuclear disarmament. I believe that nuclear weapons are a threat to the future of humanity and that we need to work towards a world without nuclear arms. I am a member of the International Campaign to Abolish Nuclear Weapons (ICAN) and I support the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons (TPNW).

I pledge to speak out against nuclear weapons and to support international efforts to promote nuclear disarmament. I will work to educate myself and others about the dangers of nuclear weapons and the need for disarmament.

Letters to the Editor

A Sadddening Lack of Understanding

Old Gold and Black

The writer is a Junior.

I'm writing in response to Mike Bowen's letter in Old Gold and Black. In my opinion, his article was very misleading and did not reflect the true stance of the administration.

It is a sad day when someone who is supposed to be a leader in our country writes such a letter. Mike Bowen's letter is not only misleading, but it is also disrespectful of the opposition. He should be more respectful of those who disagree with him and not try to silence them.

The Pledge of Resistance is an important commitment to the fight against nuclear weapons. I urge everyone to sign the pledge and show their support for a world free of nuclear arms.

The Firm's New Album Hits Bottom
By PAUL GABBER

It is part of the unpredictability of the music business that good tunes don't issue great success. Sometimes, for example, the Firm. With guitar great Jimmy Page (formerly of Led Zeppelin) and singer Paul Rodgers (formerly of Bad Company) as members of the group, it looked as though The Firm was destined to become an important new group to the rock scene. But the band's mediocre first album showed that with the talent of those two legends, it was no guarantee for success. The Firm's latest album, "Mean Business," also fails to establish the Firm as a band of major artistic significance. The lack of songwriting is not an isolated problem behind "Mean Business." It is the band's most serious problem. When Page or Rodgers might have written an entire album, most of which could have been performed by any competent session player. And Rodgers also contributed a few of the tracks on the album. The material he is singing.

Students Vie for Student Government Positions

By KAREN BRICE and ROBERT HOPE

The Student Government Association's positions will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Students will be able to vote at polls in each dorm for the offices of president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer. These elections will be under the same polling hours.

The campaigns officially began Friday with a meeting of the candidates and most of the campus. Candidates are: Matt Crawford, Matt Davis, and Neal Brantley, who are running for SG president; John Little, who is running for SG vice president; Mike Davis and Artie Washburn, who are running for SG secretary; and Mike Gerwe and Artie Washburn, who are running for SG treasurer.

Matt Crawford, Ken Hunt, Todd Sanford and John Little have their sights set on the vice presidency.

Another English major, sophomore Donna McIlhenny, also seeks the position of secretary. She has both chaired the Food Service Committee and served on the Student Government Student Judicial Council and to keep students informed while gathering new ideas." I feel I can be an important link," she said.

Mike Gerwe and Artie Washburn, both sophomores, are running for the office of treasurer. Gerwe, an economics major, served last year as the freshman representative to the SG executive board. Gerwe explained, "I've had a lot of transfer experience gives him a good perspective. "I've had a lot of transfer experience gives him a good perspective. He stated that due to recent budget changes made by the university the SG has more power to allocate financial resources. "I want to provide the students and the organization of Wake Forest with all the available funds necessary for their continuing operation of..." he said. Gerwe also wants the SBAC, bearing influential advisory de- cisions for the coming year, moved from the spring to the fall to give more time to assess those financial needs.

Washburn, a philosophy major, is a member of the SG Appropriations and Budget Committee and has served on the SG committees for Apportioned Research and Health and Psychological Services. "These three points I want to accomplish," he said, "are increasing the amount of money which can be given through the SG, working more closely with organizations which receive money from the Appropriations and Budget Committee, and preserving the ef- ficiency of the student fund program."

measures individual and national security. The problem, then, is one of strategy. There is a certain number of political positions that are taken in order to maintain the status quo. The President and his advisors believe that the best way to maintain this status quo is to maintain the political support, keeping the national interest in mind. However, the problem is that there are many different ways to achieve the same goal. The President and his advisors have to decide which of these ways is the best way to achieve the goal. This means that the President and his advisors have to make decisions that are based on the national interest. This is a difficult task, and it is one that the President and his advisors must deal with on a daily basis.
