Shaw Chorale To Sing Wednesday

By Frank Drazic

The performance of Student Chorus from Wake Forest College, presented for the first time on the Wake Forest College campus on Thursday evening, January 15, will be presented again at 7:30 on Thursday evening, February 2, in the Wake Forest College auditorium. The program consists of choral music from various composers, including the works of Bach and Handel. The chorale is under the direction of Dr. James G. Conant, who will also conduct the orchestra.

The program includes works by J.S. Bach, including the B Minor Mass, and Handel's Messiah, among others. The chorale will be accompanied by the Wake Forest College Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Conant. The performance is free and open to the public.

Student Solons Note Erroneous Text and Approve Amended Bill

The Student Legislative Council meeting on Tuesday, January 10, discussed the matter of the proposed controversial parking charges. The council voted unanimously to approve an amended bill that would eliminate the proposed charges and return to the original parking system.

The amended bill was passed with a vote of 22-0, and the council members expressed their support for the return to the original parking system. The council members emphasized the need to ensure fair and equitable treatment for all students and faculty members.

The amended bill also includes a provision to study the possibility of implementing a new parking system in the future. The council members noted that this provision would allow for ongoing evaluation and adjustment of the parking system to ensure its effectiveness and fairness.

The council members also acknowledged the importance of involving students and faculty members in the decision-making process to ensure the best possible outcome for everyone involved.

22 Students Await Wednesday’s Trial

Three hundred students made the list last fall semester, 22 have been line to be eligible for the fall semester. Of those 22 students, all have been found guilty of violating the honor code. The trial of the 22 students will begin at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, February 28.

The trial involves charges of academic dishonesty, including plagiarism and cheating. The students are being tried for offenses that took place during the fall semester, and the trial will be held in the Wake Forest College courtroom.

The court will hear evidence and arguments from both the prosecution and defense, and a verdict will be reached. The students face possible sanctions, including suspension or expulsion, if found guilty.

The trial will be open to the public, and the court will make its decision based on the evidence presented. The students have the right to present their case and call witnesses in their defense.

The trial is an important event for the Wake Forest College community, as it serves as a reminder of the importance of academic integrity and the consequences of violating the honor code.

Math Fraternity To Hear About Number Theories

By MARIE F. EARL

A number of senior mathematics students here have been invited to a meeting of the National Fraternity of Mathematics, which will be held on Monday night at 7:30 in the crunch house, according to plans made by the chapter. The meeting will be open to all members of the mathematics department, and is expected to draw a large attendance.

The program for the meeting will consist of a presentation by one of the prominent members of the fraternity, who will discuss some of the latest developments in number theory. The guest speaker will be Prof. J. H. van der Waerden, who is a well-known mathematician and a member of the American Mathematical Society.

No Substitute For Action

Winston-Salem leaders are seeking an amicable solution to the problem of the Negro movement. They expect that a favorable publicity or some sort of compromise may be reached which will be effective only temporarily. Nothing less will satisfy the growing Negro discontent.

Surely city officials must recognize the movement of the Negro. Eventual satisfaction of his demands is in the best interests of the community. The time to act is now and not to wait until the present crisis is over.

Neither the congregation nor the church itself is the problem. The Negro has risen to a challenge which we cannot afford to ignore. It is evident that the time is ripe for a solution of this problem. The Negro is a citizen with the same rights and privileges as any white person, and he is entitled to be heard. We must face this situation and try to find a solution that will satisfy both the Negro and the white community.

It's high time the Trustees took some action. We must work toward a solution of this problem. The time is ripe and the moment is right.

VIEWING THE DEACS

When Frank McGovern came to the University of North Carolina at the beginning of the 1966 season, he was an unknown in the shadow of a five-year senior team that Tom Scott had left at Chapel Hill. The first reason that McGovern offered for leaving was that he had been in North Carolina for two years and had had trouble getting the material that he needed to practice on. He was also disappointed in his role on the floor because he felt that he had been a lost cause.

All of this points out that it took McGovern four years before he could truly be a representative club with the same recognition he received as a member of the Blue Impalas.

The second reason McGovern left Chapel Hill was that he had been an innocent in Wofford's coaching staff, which was an innocent in Chapel Hill's coaching staff. This year's McGovern was the second game in the ACC, and the first was Duke's first game was one composed mainly of rehearsals. They were not tested, and although talented, did not have the needed experience to win an ACC game. In the conference this year, Wake Forest had had little success in ACC games, and it did have a single medium-perform-er on its roster. J. Mark Williams, Ernie Wiggins, and Ed Davis had graduated.

In the conference this year, Wake Forest had had little success in ACC games, and it did have a single medium-performer on its roster. J. Mark Williams, Ernie Wiggins, and Ed Davis had graduated.

This year's rehearsal squad, not expected to be a very formidable outfit because of only three players being full有多大, de- veloped into one of the two or three best-three years clubs in ACC. All of the three of the schools being good, McGovern will be able to see all of them in the next three seasons. With a year's experience of Wake Forest, he feels that the Duke team will be able to win the ACC.

For the past two seasons, the game around the conference has watched Wake Forest's four games, and it had been . . . and in 1966, much more. Anything except expected victory, Wake Forest was no match for Duke. There were two more years. A good freshman crop from Duke would have Wake for quite a while. It took Duke three years. Regardless of how the Deacons did in the ACC tournament,佛教 McGovern is already the ACC Coach of the Year.

2nd Win Over Duke

Duke Deacons Rally For Win

Wake Forest's Baby Deacons won, men, with 32 points, 22 points, and 32 points, being led by Duke's Georgia, Charles, and Deacons. Deacs End Perfect Home Season

St. Francis Trounced By 94-60

Wake Forest's entertaining Deacs, heading to Raleigh this week on the crest of an eight-game winning streak, completed an unbeaten home season here Thursday by routing St. Francis, Francis in Lenoir,

The Deacs ran St. Francis out of the game in the early minutes, and coach Bones McCarver was able to use all of his starters the last home appearance. Billy Packer played 15 minutes of the contest and both teams in scoring at 16 points. The Deacons, by superiority connected on seven of eight floor attempts and scored 26 points in the first half, finishing out most of each half as McCarver played his entire team.

Wake Forest closed out its regular season with a 15-1 upset over a 1-15 Atlantic Coast Conference team. This ends the Deacs' second season at Wake Forest, which was the 1960-61 Atlantic Coast Conference Atlantic champion. Wake Forest's Southern Conference enemies of 1960-61 will now face 11 consecutive games at home, winning the last game of the 1960-61 season and winning all 11 games this year.

In the Deacs' contest, Packer, with remaining help from Lenn

Chappell, George Rylko and Jerry Steele, who totaled 17, 10 and 14 points respectively. Chappell and Davis capsulized Dave Boud's 2,000th point with a 15-8 lead in the 77-68 victory over Pennsylvania club by a 59-39 score of the Tigers, pending in the ACC.

Villanova's Billy Packer paced the game with nine second-half assists and scored 26 since the Classic win. In recent games, Packer has scored 26 times in Wake Forest's final 11 games, scoring 184 points. His best games for each half as McCarver played his entire team.

Packer, with the Deacs team to the Classic championship, and scored a most valuable in the ACC title, but has been released from his own and last week, when played in that tournament, Packer was ready to give the All-Americans another tournament performance.

The Villanova outing Billy hit 16 free throws and 13 of 13 in the half to break the game open after the in the regular season at each half as McCarver played his entire team.

Saturday, the night with 12 for 15 in the last minutes at the 37 percent, 1 for 17 for 74.1 percent. In recent minutes, 9 of 11 field goals hit to finish the game.

Bones McCarver showed the Wake Forest crowd the gold-filled memorial fund presented by the Demon Deacons.

The game with St. Francis was Shepheard's last home appearance as a Demon Deacon. The player's career was made specially by Bettehill Chicago Co. of Winfield, Illinois.

International Photography Contest Open To Students

Wake Forest photographers may enter their best work in an international photography contest. The contest, to be held at the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri, will include entries from the institution. It will include picture portfolio, features, sports and picture stories. The photograph may be submitted on slides, prints or original photography in a 3x4 inch print. The contest is sponsored by the National Press Photographers Association and the Missouri Photographers Association. The winners will receive a set of The Photographer's Bag, a prize for the best picture in each category. Deadline for submitting entries is March 15. Postmark date may be of Feb. 15.
