Approximately 30 University students, a few of whom compose a group known as the Confederate flag and a copy of the song, "Dixie, after chapel Tuesday, are planning a 'sensitive protest' to the University administration against a possible change in the old $5 fee frequently would not cover the entertainment expenses. The committee had abolished the $5 fee for non-fair students.

Wise recommended that the city's bar association, along with the city attorney, form a legal aid committee to deal with legal problems of low-income persons.

In his recommendation, Wise specified that the office of Economic Opportunity, a new federal agency, could make the law a legal aid plan on the same scale as those conducted completely on a volunteer basis.

Wise also used the graduates of the formal courses in law school to assist him in law school report meetings for persons who were not legal aid.

He said, "This is the key to the amount of legal aid work we do."

Many former students of the college had not heard of the college's name.

In fact, the college's name was not even mentioned at the time.

The name of the college is now known as "Wake Forest University."

Freak Snowstorm Causes Damage

By BARRY DODGSON

The worst storm to occur recently in the area caused a series of delays throughout the campus due to the cancellation of classes for the first time since there was a snowstorm five inches in Wilmington-Salem on November 28. In November, the Weather Bureau at Wilmington reported a winter climate ocurring.

Weather reports at Friendship's campus had previously been a matter of concern. Since the first snowfall occurred, the campus was also cut off from communication with Friendship's campus offices.

The snowstorm was heavy throughout the area, causing many problems. At Friendship, students were unable to travel to the university, and the campus remained closed for several days.

Blood Donors To Compete For Trophy

In order to boost student participation in this year's blood drive, which averaged only 3.5 per cent last year, compared with over 70 per cent at many other institutions - the administration officials said they believed it was the highest percentage of participation in the university's history.

The drive will be held next Tuesday, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the gym. The administration officials said the drive would continue until the drive is completed, and the drive will be held in the gym. The drive will be open to all students.

John Kipper, president of the blood drive committee, said they believed it was the first time scheduled classes had been cut off due to the snowstorm. The classes were interrupted for approximately 3 hours and 5 minutes. The administration officials said it was the first snowfall since Friendship's campus had been closed. Finally, the student body was warned to be prepared for weather changes.

Some damage was also due to dormitory windows because of snowfall. Some damage was done to the computer room by the snowstorm.

A Review

There is something about a Western that makes it different from our usual fare. The story is fast, the action is quick, and there is a lot of excitement. When you think of a Western, you think of good vs. evil, right vs. wrong. And that is what we have in this film.

The thing that some students did not become black or exchange a flag for a newspaper; there has been more thought and attention paid to this issue this year apparently have matured. The developments we have welcomed the most are genuine, and a copy of an editorial written by a Negro student on campus this year that has a lot of merit.

Today some of the Negroes on campus are mature. There are a lot of them. There are a lot of Negroes on campus that are enclaves of Negroes, and more honest and sagacious, and are doing a lot of good here, and will do a lot of good here, and will do a lot of good here. There are a lot of Negroes on campus that are enclaves of Negroes, and more honest and sagacious, and are doing a lot of good here, and will do a lot of good here, and will do a lot of good here. There are a lot of Negroes on campus that are enclaves of Negroes, and more honest and sagacious, and are doing a lot of good here, and will do a lot of good here, and will do a lot of good here.

To the Editor:

Winston-Salem has made a great improvement recently in the area of Negro admissions for the present year. There are fewer Negroes than ever before in our campus, and the Negroes are of better quality than ever before. There are fewer Negroes than ever before in our campus, and the Negroes are of better quality than ever before. There are fewer Negroes than ever before in our campus, and the Negroes are of better quality than ever before. There are fewer Negroes than ever before in our campus, and the Negroes are of better quality than ever before.

The real issue is being avoided. As a member of the white minority that has grown up on campus, I feel that this is a great improvement. As a member of the white minority that has grown up on campus, I feel that this is a great improvement. As a member of the white minority that has grown up on campus, I feel that this is a great improvement. As a member of the white minority that has grown up on campus, I feel that this is a great improvement. As a member of the white minority that has grown up on campus, I feel that this is a great improvement.

It's not that I don't like Negroes. I do like Negroes. I do like Negroes. I do like Negroes. I do like Negroes. I do like Negroes.

Time Has By-Passed Electorale College

By SCOTT REESE

C.V. Columbus

First of A Series

The time has come when the United States is not elected by direct popular vote, but by a series of popular votes. The electoral college is the institution that has been established by the Constitution to elect the President of the United States.

The electronic college system was promulgated by Alexander Hamilton as a compromise between a direct popular vote and an hereditary aristocracy. Hamilton argued that the electoral college would serve as a check on the people's will, and that the winner of the electoral college would be a more enlightened choice than the direct popular vote.

In 1968, the electoral college system was abolished, and the direct popular vote was restored. However, the electoral college system is still used in most states, and its influence is still felt in the election process.

The time has come when the United States is not elected by direct popular vote, but by a series of popular votes. The electoral college is the institution that has been established by the Constitution to elect the President of the United States.

The right to vote is a basic human right, and it should be protected. The electoral college system is outdated and unfair. It is time for a change.

N.C. State Troopers Explain Speed Device

Two North Carolina state troopers explained and demonstrated VASCAR Monday to members of Psi Alpha Delta law fraternity.

The device, called the curvimeter, was invented by John Marshall, a reformed alcohol police officer, in 1955. In 1962, Illinois was the first state to use the device. The system is now in use in 10 other states.

The curvimeter can be used to compute the speed at which a vehicle has passed on a curved street. By putting the device on the road, or shadows across the street, a record is made of the amount of time that it takes the vehicle to complete a set distance. The officer says that the device is extremely accurate and has eliminated some of the problems that were caused by speed traps. It is also a way of computing the speed can be done while the vehicle is moving. The device is not used in the usual speed trap, but is instead used in emergency situations.

All-American Sellers To Lead FSU In Toughest Test Of WF Pass Defense

by ROBERT SINGAM

 Wake Forest, N.C. — One of the most pass-minded teams in the nation, this Saturday in Tallahassee, faces a defense every two out of three teams it plays with the exception of Duke and Georgia Tech, and has Deep Dale, they probably have the ball in front of more than any other major college team in the nation. Band coach George Hightower and defensive coordinator Ed Kelly have been asked to do their best to stop the Seminoles.

 Last year's great quarterback, Alvin Calhoun, has had no success here. Ron Sellers, 6-4, 200, has been highly effective in FSU's passing game, but Gary Payton, a center linemen in the trenches, has still been successful in his own way. The Seminoles have the ball in front of more than any other major college team in the nation. Monogram Club Ballgame
To Have Revised Format

By BOB HAYNES
ASSOCIATE SPORTS EDITOR
The basketball season began Monday night in the Collegram Club game, which will be played under a new format this year.

In past years, the freshmen team has played the varsity in the court, but this year a new com-

Team made up of junior out-rangers and sophomores.

The change was made in the hope of giving a novelty to the season and the opportunity for the freshmen and sophomores and not to the opponents opposite.

Already, assistant coach
Sid Johnson and Bill Tucker, who will coach the two squads, are building up a rivalry for the season.

Johnson will coach the Monogram Club players and has elected the varsity team to compete at the Wake Forest basketball game Friday night in part of the program.

Parker has selected the two squad players for the Monogplayed at the Carolina Colle-

Forest basketball game.

Among the players selected for the Monogram Club are Bill
McGregor, Christofer Bell,
Larry DeClercq, Jerry Tadpole,
Charlie Simpson, Jerry Tadpole
and John Gregor.

Once again, the Monoggram Club will include students in both the basketball and the football teams.

Whether the freshmen and sophomores team will win will be determined by the Monogram Club.

The nucleus of our team will be freshmen, and the sophomore men will be the
