Faculty Approves Divestment Move

By ROGER KERNS

The Student Senate has approved a resolution favoring a student union building between the Reynolda and Reynolda South buildings. The move comes as part of a larger effort to improve facilities at Wake Forest University.

The resolution was passed unanimously by the Senate, with one abstention. It calls for the construction of a new building that would provide space for student activities, organizations, and athletic programs.

The resolution also calls for a feasibility study to be conducted to determine the cost and feasibility of the project.

The Senate has expressed its support for this initiative, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The move comes on the heels of recent efforts to improve facilities on campus, including the renovation of the Student Union Building and the construction of a new academic building.

The Student Senate has urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

Student Union

The student union building project is one of several initiatives currently underway at Wake Forest University. Other efforts include the renovation of the Reynolda Hall and the construction of a new athletic facility.

The Student Senate has expressed its support for these initiatives, as they are seen as ways to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The Senate has urged the Administration to move forward with these projects, as they are seen as priorities for the campus.

The Faculty

The Faculty has expressed its support for the student union building project, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The Faculty has urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

The Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees has expressed its support for the student union building project, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The Board of Trustees has urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

The Alumni

The Alumni have expressed their support for the student union building project, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The Alumni have urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

The University

The University has expressed its support for the student union building project, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The University has urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

Student Involvement

The Student Involvement Committee has expressed its support for the student union building project, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The Student Involvement Committee has urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

The Student Senate

The Student Senate has expressed its support for the student union building project, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The Student Senate has urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

The Student Body

The Student Body has expressed its support for the student union building project, as it is seen as a way to improve the quality of life for students on campus.

The Student Body has urged the Administration to move forward with the project, as it is seen as a priority for the campus.

Student Union Building

The new student union building will be located in the middle of campus, with the Reynolda Hall and Reynolda South Hall providing easy access.

The building will feature a variety of amenities, including a student center, a dining hall, a lecture hall, and a variety of classrooms.

The building will also feature a variety of outdoor spaces, including a courtyard and a green space.

The building will be constructed using sustainable materials and will feature energy-efficient systems.

The building will be completed in the fall of 2023.
Playboy Stripped From Campus

By JON JAMES

Last spring the College Student Shop stopped carrying Playboy magazine as a part of its normal products. The decision to remove the controversial name came from the University Executive Council.

Joe Clay, vice president and treasurer, and the council made its decision after carefully studying whether or not the Playboy name furthered the academic mission of the university.

"It is the appropriate responsibility of the Board of Directors to determine what should appear in our store," Clay said. "We want the student's voice to be heard, and to that end, we elected to remove the Playboy name from our store.

"We were pleased with the reaction, and the store has not been complained about since the decision was made. We hope that this approach will continue to be successful.

The College Student Shop displays a Playboy-name magazine each year as a result of a vote by the University Executive Council to ban the sale of the magazine on the Wake Forest campus.

Parks Interns in Research Program

By LESLIE TATE

The $36,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Energy sponsored the summer Research Participation Program this summer at Oak Ridge Associated Universities, Inc. and Oak Ridge National Laboratory, in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Among the participating Oak Ridge National Laboratory interns was 21-year-old Les Tate from Wake Forest, who spent six weeks working on a research project involving the development of a computer program to determine the chemical analysis, which "detects and separates the chemicals in a compound."

Parks is a native of Oak Ridge and is a junior biology major. The program, in which Tate participated, allowed him to gain meaningful experience in a research environment, "he said. "I am very thankful for having been given this opportunity to work for the US Department of Energy."

The program at ORAU has many advantages for the students who are accepted. They obtain practical experience in their chosen field, said Clay. Among the ORAU projects that Tate worked on was the study of the chemical composition of atomic structure, and that it also provides an opportunity for the student's advisor and instructor to have contact with national labs.

Residence Advisors Attend Retreat

By TERESA TATE

South Hill resident advisor Vanessa Streven and her 15-member resident assistant staff went on a retreat Aug. 27 to Hanging Rock State Park in the Blue Ridge Mountains. The purpose of the retreat was for the staff members to get a better perception of each other.

"One of the most important reasons for the retreat was to build closer ties between the RA staff and the students," Streven said. "This trip initially planned last April, is the first retreat for the RA staff."

When asked if she had learned anything on the trip, Streven said, "I know how I see other people." She explained, "I'm seeing how others see me. I know that the others saw her.

"I know how I see other people," Streven said. "I know how I see other people," she said. "I know how I see other people." She explained, "I'm seeing how others see me."

Faculty Contos Near Completion

By TONY GRIFFITH

Now that the three dormitories for senior faculty members of Wake Forest have opened, the Rev. Robert G. Smith, president of the university, said the students are almost ready for the fall semester.

"Begun early last spring in the Grove residence halls, the construction of the new dormitories will be completed by Thanksgiving Day. Opening dates have been set for the fall semester."

The three dormitories, located in these new four-story floor dormitories, will accommodate 280 students. About 75 percent of the finished rooms will be located in the new dormitories. The university also plans to construct additional dormitories in the future.

The new dormitory will be located in the Grove residence halls. The old dormitory was the original building where the university's first dormitory was built.

The new dormitory will be located in the Grove residence halls. The old dormitory was the original building where the university's first dormitory was built.

The new dormitory will be located in the Grove residence halls. The old dormitory was the original building where the university's first dormitory was built.
SG Notes

By DAWN McGLOHN

The Trim Project

Petitions have been turned in to the Student Government offices. Elections will be held Tuesday, Dec. 17. This year’s representative will be selected from Palmer-Piccolo. This is the first election for this new representative, and it is being held as a student government council affair.

One legislator represents fifty students. The trip to Raleigh has been turned off until further notice. If you are interested, turn in your petition to Student Government.

The Trim Project will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 17. If you are interested, turn in your petition to Student Government.

Mums For Parents Weekend

September 28th

Plan to order your mums early. The deadline is September 28th. The cost is $3.50 per order. Orders may be picked up at The Deacon Shop on Saturday, Sept. 28th from 9:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M.

College Bookstore

"On The Campus"

Campus Crime Stoppers

Valuable video equipment was stolen from the Wake Forest University College campus over the summer and Wake Forest Public Safety officers are seeking infor-

Campus Crime Stoppers

By RUTH HUDGINS

The Johnson-Bentley manual inflates the spirits of post students. The Eighty-five-old tradition continues even today at student council to make their mark in a very real way.

Campus Briefs

Library Hours

Beginning this semester, the Salem/Forsyth Campus Library and the Campus Computer Center will open at 8:00 A.M. Monday through Thursday and 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. on Friday. The computer center is open from 8:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M. Monday through Thursday. The public is invited to attend.

CU Exercise

As exercise class, featuring a 500-yard swim, flexibility and running, is being held Sept. 24. The class will be held in the Brenwyde Hall after lunch. The fee for the class is $1. All students are invited to attend.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

"Wake Forest Young Dems Almost Divert Mrs. Kennedy"

By Beverly Redmon

With all the political spirit in the air, the Wake Forest College Young Democrats are making sure their votes are heard. They will be holding an election on the campus next week to determine who will represent the people at the Political Science Club. This will be held on Monday, Sept. 23, and the results will be announced on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

In addition, the Wake Forest College Young Democrats will hold an election on the campus next week to determine who will represent the people at the Political Science Club. This will be held on Monday, Sept. 23, and the results will be announced on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

Parents Weekend

September 28th

Order your mums early. The deadline is September 28th. The cost is $3.50 per order. Orders may be picked up at The Deacon Shop on Saturday, Sept. 28th from 9:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M.

Campus Crime Stoppers

Valuable video equipment was stolen from the Wake Forest University College campus over the summer and Wake Forest Public Safety officers are seeking infor-

Campus Crime Stoppers

By RUTH HUDGINS

The Johnson-Bentley manual inflates the spirits of post students. The Eighty-five-old tradition continues even today at student council to make their mark in a very real way.

Campus Briefs

Library Hours

Beginning this semester, the Salem/Forsyth Campus Library and the Campus Computer Center will open at 8:00 A.M. Monday through Thursday and 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. on Friday. The computer center is open from 8:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M. Monday through Thursday. The public is invited to attend.

CU Exercise

As exercise class, featuring a 500-yard swim, flexibility and running, is being held Sept. 24. The class will be held in the Brenwyde Hall after lunch. The fee for the class is $1. All students are invited to attend.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

"Wake Forest Young Dems Almost Divert Mrs. Kennedy"

By Beverly Redmon

With all the political spirit in the air, the Wake Forest College Young Democrats are making sure their votes are heard. They will be holding an election on the campus next week to determine who will represent the people at the Political Science Club. This will be held on Monday, Sept. 23, and the results will be announced on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

In addition, the Wake Forest College Young Democrats will hold an election on the campus next week to determine who will represent the people at the Political Science Club. This will be held on Monday, Sept. 23, and the results will be announced on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

Parents Weekend

September 28th

Order your mums early. The deadline is September 28th. The cost is $3.50 per order. Orders may be picked up at The Deacon Shop on Saturday, Sept. 28th from 9:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M.
On Increasing our Prestige

South Africa

Regardless of how one feels about the wisdom of the Faculty vote on the controversial divestiture question, we should look at the vote in the light of a few facts. We see the vote as a concrete example of how a university can be used as a tool by political forces in this country, and a warning against the dangers of adhering to standard wishes and ignoring the wishes of the student body.

The path to a more prestigious Wake Forest is clear: reject more and more applicants.

Because Wake Forest University appears to have a policy that it is "too little, too late," the current situation is that Wake Forest is beginning to look like other universities and colleges in the nation. We are not the only ones who are being sold on the idea of being "too little, too late." The most prestigious universities and colleges are beginning to look like the rest of us.

But perhaps we can be more interested in the vote because it is the process of the vote that matters. We are interested in the process, not the outcome.

The vote is a small step in the right direction, but it is certainly not the end of the process. We urge everyone to continue to support the divestiture movement.

BARNES & BROWN

Traversing the Quads

Letters to the Editor

Bad Apples

The prevalent Bad Apple syndrome is as old as the university itself. It is a problem that we can control by following established rules and procedures.

Bad evaluation of those violent crimes, perhaps our campus security should consider changing policies. First of all, there should be clear guidelines for what constitutes a violent crime. Then there should be clear procedures for how to handle such incidents.

Although we cannot eliminate the risk of violent crime on campus, we can reduce our risk by following established policies and procedures. We can reduce the number of incidents by following established policies and procedures. We can reduce the number of incidents by following established policies and procedures.

Bad situations need not be so bad if we take the time to understand and deal with them. We need not be so bad if we take the time to understand and deal with them. We need not be so bad if we take the time to understand and deal with them.

Bartlett M. Brown

Staff Editor, Wake Forest University

Liberals' Hypocrisy

Garth Griffio's letter regarding the political climate at Wake Forest was very enlightening. I have read this letter several times and I have been impressed with the author's ability to express himself clearly and concisely.

In contrast to Mr. Griffio's letter, I would like to offer my own thoughts on the political climate at Wake Forest.

As an undergraduate student at Wake Forest, I have had the privilege of witnessing the growth of the political climate on campus. I believe that the liberal perspective is growing stronger on campus, and I applaud this trend.

The liberal perspective is growing stronger on campus because it is a more accurate reflection of the real world. The liberal perspective is growing stronger on campus because it is a more accurate reflection of the real world. The liberal perspective is growing stronger on campus because it is a more accurate reflection of the real world.

I would like to congratulate Mr. Griffio on his letter, and I would like to encourage all Wake Forest students to continue to express their views on the political climate on campus.

Peter Wood

Editor, Wake Forest University
Advice for Law Students

Many are noises to what business school is, with the rigor of the academic program. The student newspaper does not receive any official recognition for its efforts in this area, but the students' contributions are highly valued by the faculty.

The newspaper has a responsibility to ask questions and investigate. Everyone knows that less than 10% of the people who call a business school actually enroll in a course. Student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.

In the future, the Wake Forest student will have a sense of responsibility for the university? How did they

come to this decision? Perhaps the Wake Forest students

are not called the varsity weight room, but I fear that the

student interest in the project seems

overall commitment to the goals of the student body.
What’s On in Town

Fright Night
Pinetree CINEMATHEUM
Palm Rider

Pole Rider

Hassell Mall
Corner Cooperman Position
Greenline Silverado

Mall Cinemas
BEVERLY HILLS CINEMAS

Parkview Twin
Greenline E European Village

Flirt
Amélie

Back to the Future
Perry's Big Adventure
St. Elmo's Fire
Summer Rental
Teen Wolf

Reynolda 1 & 2
Bandit First Blood Part II
Return of the Living Dead
Year of the Dragon

Throwaway
Desperately Seeking Susan
The Emerald Forest

University Plaza
Platt

---

Humor Found in Most Places

By ELIZABETH A. ASHLEY

"Belly Button Bites" by Jerry Seinfeld has been performing for nine years and he says that he couldn't have been more nervous before he walked on stage. He is a smooth comedian, very personable about the business and willing to work many hours for perfecting his routines.

"Teen Wolf," which opened onto the stage to perform his first full-length show at the Plaza as part of the comedy club in Greensville called "Twilight," thrilled people. Twelve of the oldest places that he has ever played were there on stage right off the top of the tongue and immediately throughout his routine and the entire show was over. He was interestingly a color throughout the whole performance. Neither of the two shows ever had a laugh out loud.

"Elmo's World," with bright colors and subtle shades, dealt with a young doctor he dated once who simply cannot be his. Without a smile, he equated it with a young man neither sure of his future strength nor certain of his future. Yet he's always been the myth that there is probably a great deal of work to do here. "Elmo's World" was the perfect couple. Alec is a future husband. He works a lot harder at it. People do not all subjects lend themselves because you want to be funny. It's not all funny, it's just work at the funny part, the funny day.

"St. Elmo's Fire" is clearly the perfect couple. Alec is a future husband. He works a lot harder at it. People do not all subjects lend themselves because you want to be funny. It's not all funny, it's just work at the funny part, the funny day.

The FAR SIDE

By GARY LARSON

"And then saw something that grabbed his attention."

---

Friends Defined in Movie

By STEVE LAMASTRA

"Staff Writer"

"When Beach and Bob Leder got a new boss at his New York and international career, no one expected a move as dramatic as the one Dina Gold had seemed to make. New York's top lawyer was on the move. The move was an unexpected one, but it was a move that would take on even more significance as time went on.

The move was from a small firm in New York to a large firm in Los Angeles. The move was made for a number of reasons. First, Dina Gold wanted to be closer to her family in Los Angeles. Second, she wanted to be closer to her clients. And third, she wanted to move to a larger firm that would offer more opportunities for growth.

Dina Gold's move was not without its challenges. She had to learn new skills and adapt to a new environment. But in the end, it was a move that paid off. Dina Gold became one of the most successful lawyers in the city."
Mark Earnest, a senior biology major from Kington, Tenn., was inspired while thumbing through family genealogy records to discover that he is descended from a Welsh prince known as Madoc. "I was so excited," Earnest said, "I was surrounded by mystery and excitement."

Earnest's aunt compiled the basic ancestor. As a summer Carswell research project, Earnest decided to separate fact from fiction. After this journey, nothing was the same to Earnest. What he found was a prince known as Madoc.

Earnest read several books on the subject before embarking on his quest. He found that Gwen Williams, a highly regarded Welsh historian, questions the authenticity of the Madoc legend and felt that all he had been reading was fiction. On the other hand, author-baritone Richard Davies disputes this notion, believing there is in fact truth to the legend.

Much of the disagreement over the legend can be traced to problems with interpreting early Welsh records."Earnest explained, "As a written record of history was left, the exact events were only meant to pass down significant events. In this oral tradition, much was left and much was embellished, depending on the particular personality of the bard and story."

Earnest was able to obtain the truth or fiction of the legend due to a flood of conflicting sources and opinions, but in the process of his research he learned much about the Welsh people and their unique culture.

Earnest little expected to gain so much insight as he did into the Welsh character and way of life, but after living among the people for three weeks he was able to identify several parallels between Welsh and American political and social situations. He became particularly interested in the strong Welsh nationalism and patriotism favor feared among the working class people. These observations were the basis for a paper he presented before the Carswell committee.

"I have always been interested in the psychology of the Welsh," Earnest said. "Welsh nationalism is part of their culture and they don't want to be confused with the English." Earnest explained that for the most part the spiritual, magical image of the Welsh people is nothing but myth.

"The English borrowed these myths out of misunderstanding," Earnest said. "They could not understand the Welsh language and so they could not understand how they could be defeated by this comparatively small group of fighters."

Thus the English began to embellish magical powers in the Welsh, and the legend of Merlin and Macbeth were further elaborated upon by English writers such as Shakespeare in his character of King Henry the Fifth."

Strengthening the Welsh pride was the official grandstanding Earnest came up against. While traveling in southern Wales, he was forewarned that people of northern Wales were less enthusiastic about their Welsh roots and that he should not expect any help from them. Fortunately, he found quite the contrary to be true.

"They went out of their way to be friendly," Earnest said. "One night a man on a train who noticed I was staring at a map opened my suitcase and helped me find my way to a hotel, even though I wasn't paying."

Legend was never really a barrier to Earnest; his Welshness was more or less unknown to the Welsh. He often went to a pub in northern Wales he found everyone around him speaking Welsh. "I thought the people were a bit sullen and short-tempered," Earnest laughed, "but then they treated me as one of their own."

The only difficulty with the language came when Earnest began research in the National Library of Wales in Aberystwyth. He was told of a book which he wished to read, but was told it would be allowed to work with original manuscripts only 700 years old, only to discover they were all written in Welsh. While in Aberystwyth he visited the mother of Huw Davies, Aherystywth, he visited the mother of Huw Davies, the Welsh, advocating more cooperation between the Welsh and their neighbors."

"I'm different that people now," Earnest said, "told to the British Isles this summer."

Earnest's treasures and memories from this time are the buildings that Earnest's ancestors, the Welsh prince Madoc, might have lived in.

Earnest was not overly impressed with the degree to which the Welsh people were written about in Welsh. "The Welsh do talk about themselves, but never joke about it."

Earnest was impressed with the dearth of textbooks for the students he saw in Wales. "They were surprisingly objective," he said, "and many of them recognized the nature of Welsh-Welsh nationalism, as becoming a thing of the past. Many of the Welsh solutions are going back the 'Merlin complex' within Wales, of course."

Earnest was not overly enthusiastic about Welsh cuisine: "It's pretty typical of that of the English," he said, "nothing to write home about."

Earnest was not overly impressed with the generosity and hospitality of the Welsh people, remarking, "Earnest's memories of his month overseas. The land and its people are so important to the Welsh people remain vivid in Earnest's memory of his month overseas. The land and its people are so important to the Welsh people."

The beauty of Wales, along with the search for his ancestors, led Mark Earnest to the British Isles this summer. The generosity and hospitality of the Welsh people remain vivid in Earnest's memory of his month overseas. The land and its people are so important to the Welsh people remain vivid in Earnest's memory of his month overseas. The land and its people are so important to the Welsh people."

Earnest was not overly enthusiastic about Welsh cuisine: "It's pretty typical of that of the English," he said, "nothing to write home about."

Earnest was not overly impressed with the generosity and hospitality of the Welsh people, remarking, "Earnest's memories of his month overseas. The land and its people are so important to the Welsh people."

The beauty of Wales, along with the search for his ancestors, led Mark Earnest to the British Isles this summer. The generosity and hospitality of the Welsh people remain vivid in Earnest's memory of his month overseas. The land and its people are so important to the Welsh people remain vivid in Earnest's memory of his month overseas. The land and its people are so important to the Welsh people.
Plight of Peasants Featured in Play

The imaginative and exciting play "A Passion of El Salvador" will be presented by the Players Theater at the Searle Fine Arts Building. This moving drama, adapted and performed by Gould and Tenhagen, is a plantation foreman and a young Salvadorian student who has studied acting and singing at the London Academy after his days in the mountains. This play will be performed with special permission from the University of Georgia. Gould created the role of Seifert in the film "Interchange." Tenhagen has played the part of the young Salvadorian student. The play is a folk tale, the simple experiences of one peasant family. The play is how New Age Magazine has taken them from a plantation to a folk tale, as simple as it is very real, and the impact is a awakening.

William Hadley, speaking for the Students Against War, said that the faculty's decision, similar in one against another, was involved. Hadari said, "We haven't talked to the students while Heatley changes in the office, the office also to Tenhagen and her responsibilities..."

In addition to making physical changes in the office, the office also addressed to services. They agree to open the Career Counseling and Planning Office to students who have been involved in the Career Counseling and Planning Office as a new staff member.

The faculty's decision, similar in one against another, was involved. Hadari said, "We haven't talked to the students while Heatley changes in the office, the office also to Tenhagen and her responsibilities..."

The faculty's decision, similar in one against another, was involved. Hadari said, "We haven't talked to the students while Heatley changes in the office, the office also to Tenhagen and her responsibilities..."

The faculty's decision, similar in one against another, was involved. Hadari said, "We haven't talked to the students while Heatley changes in the office, the office also to Tenhagen and her responsibilities..."

The faculty's decision, similar in one against another, was involved. Hadari said, "We haven't talked to the students while Heatley changes in the office, the office also to Tenhagen and her responsibilities..."
Golfers Swing into Second

By ROB GROVER Staff Writer

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.

Deacons Want to Unleash Terriers

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.

Golfers Swing into Second

By ROB GROVER Staff Writer

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.

Deacons Want to Unleash Terriers

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.

Golfers Swing into Second

By ROB GROVER Staff Writer

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.

Deacons Want to Unleash Terriers

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.

Golfers Swing into Second

By ROB GROVER Staff Writer

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.

Deacons Want to Unleash Terriers

The Terriers were heading into a hard-fought struggle with the Indians of William and Mary this past Saturday in a meeting of the nation's top-10 teams. The Terriers were 9-3 overall and just shy of Jay Venuto's school record of 479 in 204 career starts, Maryland was 21-19, the Terriers haven't played a game this season, the Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. The Terriers will play from the home field tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. vs. the Terriers. This week's televised game on the ACC/Jefferson Pilot teleproduction.
Here's a special lunch time offer for students in a hurry:
Macintoshes to go.
Right now, anyone who qualifies can walk into our store and walk out with a Macintosh. 91

Microcomputer Center
Room 09-A Reynolds Hall
Ph. 761-5543

Test drive a Macintosh.

ARMY ROTC: BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Hiring college grads is something the Army has always done. And lately, we've been doing a lot more of it. In fact, last year alone nearly 7,000 college grads chose to begin their future as Army officers. Why? Some wanted the opportunity to develop valuable leadership and management skills early in their career. Others were impressed with the amount of responsibility we give our officers starting out. And still others wanted the opportunity to serve their country around the world. Interested? Then you can start preparing for the job right now.

ARMY ROTC: BE ALL YOU CAN BE.