Frank Downing Believes
As State President
For 1945

Calvin Knight, junior, was elected B. S. U. Student President at Monday's General Assembly session. He is a member of the student body's student pres-ten branch and was unopposed in the election. He is expected to be re-elected for the coming year, but he must face an election if he wishes to be elected.

Bulletin Board

In Memory of the Editor (in the October 8 issue of Old Gold and Black and continuing at the sight of the College's bulletin board), the school and grounds commission, under the direction of Mr. E. B. Raines, will prepare a. board and plant it in a central location, there to remain until Wednesday.

For many years, the campus has been the focus of the school's extracurricular activities, and it provides a venue for students to express their creativity and passion. The board, featuring various sections and information, will be maintained by the students and faculty, and it will serve as a resource for the campus community.

What Is The Council?

One of the basic principles of American democracy is the right to have a representative body. Suppose Congress and the Supreme Court should exclude reporters from elections, they would have no idea how laws and amendments were made. And the tragic observation was that few of the fellows were even concerned that they did not know the answers to the questions. If the students are not kept informed about the activities of the Student Council we are not interested. Students as a group know that the Council is made up of representatives elected by them. Accordingly, we suggest that twice a year they raise a fuss about their right to know what is going on behind the closed doors, and make it clear that the Student Council meets, and the right to know the actions of a Student Council. Those bodies are covered to us. We speak of them with far more knowledge than we have of the Wake Forest College Council. If they were to meet, they would have no idea how and with whom business is transacted.

Fathers of L. Kenneth Wadsworth, W. N. Nettles, and C. Moncure were notified by War Department that their sons, all of a Flying Fortress, had been killed in action in the North African area September 28.

L. Kenneth Wadsworth entered the Air Corps in March, 1943, and in December was graduated from the service school at Randolph Field, Texas. He began active duty in September at B-24's had the Mediterranean area, where he saw action in the Tunisia, Pantelleria, Sicilian, and Italian campaigns.
