Endowment returns rank high

by Anne Collins

The Wall Street Journal estimated a return of 8 percent on the 1976 investment of the 50 college and university endowments surveyed in a study by the National Association of College and University Business Officers (NACUBO). This year, the 8 percent is still high, but in recent years, it has been measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is allocated to colleges and universities with a historical value of $147,478, which is an annual high rate of return.

William said a major part of last year's good performance was due to the interest rate in common stocks. The university displayed our return on investment in the last ten years, and has been investing in high risk of return.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is allocated to colleges and universities with a historical value of $147,478, which is an annual high rate of return.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is allocated to colleges and universities with a historical value of $147,478, which is an annual high rate of return.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is allocated to colleges and universities with a historical value of $147,478, which is an annual high rate of return.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is allocated to colleges and universities with a historical value of $147,478, which is an annual high rate of return.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is allocated to colleges and universities with a historical value of $147,478, which is an annual high rate of return.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is allocated to colleges and universities with a historical value of $147,478, which is an annual high rate of return.

Wall Street is now low in and 12 are still percent are .

The value of the endowment is measured by dividend and interest yield and in market value.

For the last three fiscal years, Wall Street is ranked in the top half of institutions surveyed.

According to William, the figure can range from 6 percent to 10 percent, and a new law in connection to state taxes.
Group studies alcohol

by Lynne Knapf

Eight recommendation sections of a new education program on alcohol concentration to the administration of Wake Forest University. The program, coordinated by Ross Griffith, Equal Opportunity Coordinator, will educate faculty and students about the negative effects of alcohol on health and behavior.

Pearson declined to discuss the details of the program, saying that it was still being finalized. The program will consist of nine sections, each focusing on a different aspect of alcohol use. The first section, on the effects of alcohol on the body, will be presented to all students. Subsequent sections will address topics such as alcohol and the brain, alcohol and the liver, and alcohol and the heart.

The final section of the program will be presented to faculty and staff, focusing on the role of the university in promoting responsible alcohol use. The program will be offered in both on-campus and online formats, with options for interactive lectures and self-paced modules.

The program is part of a larger effort to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus. In recent years, the university has seen a rise in alcohol-related incidents, including injuries, arrests, and academic issues. The new program is hoped to help address these problems and promote a culture of responsible drinking.

The program is set to begin next semester, with the first sections scheduled for presentation in the fall. The university hopes to see widespread participation from students, faculty, and staff.

Barr examines fundamentalism

by Lynne Knapf

Formerly, Pearson, a student at Wake Forest University and the black community. The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

Group studies alcohol

by Lynne Knapf

Eight recommendation sections of a new education program on alcohol concentration to the administration of Wake Forest University. The program, coordinated by Ross Griffith, Equal Opportunity Coordinator, will educate faculty and students about the negative effects of alcohol on health and behavior.

Pearson declined to discuss the details of the program, saying that it was still being finalized. The program will consist of nine sections, each focusing on a different aspect of alcohol use. The first section, on the effects of alcohol on the body, will be presented to all students. Subsequent sections will address topics such as alcohol and the brain, alcohol and the liver, and alcohol and the heart.

The final section of the program will be presented to faculty and staff, focusing on the role of the university in promoting responsible alcohol use. The program will be offered in both on-campus and online formats, with options for interactive lectures and self-paced modules.

The program is part of a larger effort to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus. In recent years, the university has seen a rise in alcohol-related incidents, including injuries, arrests, and academic issues. The new program is hoped to help address these problems and promote a culture of responsible drinking.

The program is set to begin next semester, with the first sections scheduled for presentation in the fall. The university hopes to see widespread participation from students, faculty, and staff.

Barr examines fundamentalism

by Lynne Knapf

Formerly, Pearson, a student at Wake Forest University and the black community. The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

Group studies alcohol

by Lynne Knapf

Eight recommendation sections of a new education program on alcohol concentration to the administration of Wake Forest University. The program, coordinated by Ross Griffith, Equal Opportunity Coordinator, will educate faculty and students about the negative effects of alcohol on health and behavior.

Pearson declined to discuss the details of the program, saying that it was still being finalized. The program will consist of nine sections, each focusing on a different aspect of alcohol use. The first section, on the effects of alcohol on the body, will be presented to all students. Subsequent sections will address topics such as alcohol and the brain, alcohol and the liver, and alcohol and the heart.

The final section of the program will be presented to faculty and staff, focusing on the role of the university in promoting responsible alcohol use. The program will be offered in both on-campus and online formats, with options for interactive lectures and self-paced modules.

The program is part of a larger effort to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus. In recent years, the university has seen a rise in alcohol-related incidents, including injuries, arrests, and academic issues. The new program is hoped to help address these problems and promote a culture of responsible drinking.

The program is set to begin next semester, with the first sections scheduled for presentation in the fall. The university hopes to see widespread participation from students, faculty, and staff.

Barr examines fundamentalism

by Lynne Knapf

Formerly, Pearson, a student at Wake Forest University and the black community. The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

Group studies alcohol

by Lynne Knapf

Eight recommendation sections of a new education program on alcohol concentration to the administration of Wake Forest University. The program, coordinated by Ross Griffith, Equal Opportunity Coordinator, will educate faculty and students about the negative effects of alcohol on health and behavior.

Pearson declined to discuss the details of the program, saying that it was still being finalized. The program will consist of nine sections, each focusing on a different aspect of alcohol use. The first section, on the effects of alcohol on the body, will be presented to all students. Subsequent sections will address topics such as alcohol and the brain, alcohol and the liver, and alcohol and the heart.

The final section of the program will be presented to faculty and staff, focusing on the role of the university in promoting responsible alcohol use. The program will be offered in both on-campus and online formats, with options for interactive lectures and self-paced modules.

The program is part of a larger effort to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus. In recent years, the university has seen a rise in alcohol-related incidents, including injuries, arrests, and academic issues. The new program is hoped to help address these problems and promote a culture of responsible drinking.

The program is set to begin next semester, with the first sections scheduled for presentation in the fall. The university hopes to see widespread participation from students, faculty, and staff.

Barr examines fundamentalism

by Lynne Knapf

Formerly, Pearson, a student at Wake Forest University and the black community. The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

Group studies alcohol

by Lynne Knapf

Eight recommendation sections of a new education program on alcohol concentration to the administration of Wake Forest University. The program, coordinated by Ross Griffith, Equal Opportunity Coordinator, will educate faculty and students about the negative effects of alcohol on health and behavior.

Pearson declined to discuss the details of the program, saying that it was still being finalized. The program will consist of nine sections, each focusing on a different aspect of alcohol use. The first section, on the effects of alcohol on the body, will be presented to all students. Subsequent sections will address topics such as alcohol and the brain, alcohol and the liver, and alcohol and the heart.

The final section of the program will be presented to faculty and staff, focusing on the role of the university in promoting responsible alcohol use. The program will be offered in both on-campus and online formats, with options for interactive lectures and self-paced modules.

The program is part of a larger effort to reduce alcohol-related problems on campus. In recent years, the university has seen a rise in alcohol-related incidents, including injuries, arrests, and academic issues. The new program is hoped to help address these problems and promote a culture of responsible drinking.

The program is set to begin next semester, with the first sections scheduled for presentation in the fall. The university hopes to see widespread participation from students, faculty, and staff.

Barr examines fundamentalism

by Lynne Knapf

Formerly, Pearson, a student at Wake Forest University and the black community. The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-

The student judicial board has not made it possible, but things have changed and there is a need to contact the black community. The need of students Wake Forest wins is champ-
VD warning signals

DISEASE: Syphilis

INDICATION: Lesions, skin sores, chancre

DESCRIPTION: It is not a startling revelation that syphilis is one of the most common and dangerous sexually transmitted diseases. Syphilis is caused by the bacterium Treponema pallidum, which is transmitted from person to person through sexual contact. Syphilis can cause a variety of symptoms, ranging from minor skin rashes to severe brain damage.

SYMPTOMS:
- Early syphilis (primary syphilis) is characterized by a painless chancre, which is a sore that appears at the site of the infection. The chancre usually heals within 2-3 weeks without treatment.
- Secondary syphilis is characterized by a rash, fever, headache, and weight loss.
- Tertiary syphilis can cause damage to the heart, brain, and nerves.

DIAGNOSIS: A blood test is used to detect antibodies to the syphilis bacterium. A positive test indicates past or active syphilis.

TREATMENT: Syphilis is treated with antibiotics. The sooner treatment is started, the better the outcome.

PREVENTION: There is no vaccine available for syphilis, but it can be prevented by avoiding sexual contact with someone who has syphilis or using condoms.

Notes:
- Syphilis is a reportable disease in the United States, meaning that healthcare providers are required to report cases to public health authorities.
- Syphilis can cause serious health problems if left untreated, including damage to the brain, heart, and nerves.

---

Veneral disease: you can control it

What's student going to the check-up or she will take a number and wait. If the student doesn't come back for the test results, rather wait in the room for more reasons other than VD. "If a student needs to see the doctor, she is welcome to come in," said Engel.

"It is not necessary to say that you want a VD check-up, you only have to tell that Information: 'I need to see the doctor,'" Engel explained. "If a student does not come back for the test results, she will enter the student in the Public Health Clinic at Bowman Gray State Hospital. Students seeking guidance and treatment for VD are asked to come in the day that they are diagnosed on the students' confidentiality, as we do not want any other diagnosis, and we remain uninsured. It is up to the student to decide which clinic to go to. Counselor Taylor explained that the confidentiality of the disease is maintained at the Public Health Clinic.

Engel said that the Mental Health Department of Forsyth County Office of Community Services, in consultation with the United States Public Health Service, is responsible for providing information on the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of VD. A patient may be referred to the Center for Disease Control and prevention for adherence confidentially.

Engel said that VD is considered to be a curable disease, and that the symptoms can be treated with antibiotics. It is important for those who have had VD to be tested for other sexually transmitted diseases, such as gonorrhea and chlamydia.

"People with VD can be cured, but they must come back for the treatment," Engel said. "If a patient is not treated, they can be reinfected."
Letters to the editor

Fulcher loss not fully explained

I am writing to you in regard to the Fulcher matter. Perhaps you read the front page of the Wake Forest Sun on Tuesday, March 1, 1978 which stated that Fulcher had been removed from the Fulcher program.

As an active participant in the American Association of University Professors, I have been following the Fulcher matter with a great deal of interest. In my opinion, the Fulcher matter is not fully explained. Many questions are left unanswered, and the truth of the matter is not yet known.

The Fulcher program is a unique and valuable program for the development of faculty. It has been an important part of the University's mission to promote scholarly research and to foster excellence in teaching. The Fulcher program is a vital component of this mission.

I urge you to release all relevant information and to conduct a thorough and impartial investigation of the Fulcher matter. It is crucial that the truth be revealed, so that the University can move forward with confidence and integrity.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Mary Nash Kelly

Blackies combat racism

In our society, non-verbal communication has reached a new level of significance. It is a means of conveying thoughts and feelings that are not easily expressed through words. In this sense, non-verbal communication is a powerful tool in our daily interactions.

As Black students at Wake Forest, we have experienced racism in various forms. We have encountered instances of non-verbal communication that have caused us distress and pain. We are committed to shining a light on these experiences and advocating for change.

We believe that non-verbal communication has the potential to be a powerful tool for understanding and addressing racism. By paying attention to non-verbal cues, we can learn to recognize and respond to the subtle ways in which racism manifests in our interactions.

We call on the University to take action to address these issues. We encourage the administration to prioritize the needs and concerns of Black students and to create a supportive and inclusive environment for all students.
Football schedule
A home game with Auburn and an away match against Georgia highlight Wake Forest’s football schedule for the week by head coach John隼
Mark Conklin. Conklin is no stranger to South Carolina, having spent the past 10 seasons as an assistant coach with the Gamecocks. He returns to the Palmetto State this season, when the Deacons will face UNC Sunday at 5:00 p.m. in Columbia. The Tigers, who are 3-0, will face UNLV in Las Vegas on Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. The game will be televised on Fox Sports Net. The Tigers are led by quarterback TomCLEMAN and running back Jonathan Doherty. The Deacons are 2-1 and have won their last two games.

Perfect teams pace IM play
by Phil Mitchell
This year’s intramural season has been one of the most successful in recent years. With the exception of the RSC tennis, basketball and volleyball teams, the Deacons are the only teams to win the IM season. The softball team has won every game it has played so far, and the Deacons have won 11 of their 12 games.

Perfect teams pace IM play
by Phil Mitchell
This year’s intramural season has been one of the most successful in recent years. With the exception of the RSC tennis, basketball and volleyball teams, the Deacons are the only teams to win the IM season. The softball team has won every game it has played so far, and the Deacons have won 11 of their 12 games.

Perfect teams pace IM play
by Phil Mitchell
This year’s intramural season has been one of the most successful in recent years. With the exception of the RSC tennis, basketball and volleyball teams, the Deacons are the only teams to win the IM season. The softball team has won every game it has played so far, and the Deacons have won 11 of their 12 games.

Perfect teams pace IM play
by Phil Mitchell
This year’s intramural season has been one of the most successful in recent years. With the exception of the RSC tennis, basketball and volleyball teams, the Deacons are the only teams to win the IM season. The softball team has won every game it has played so far, and the Deacons have won 11 of their 12 games.
Runners travel after home win

The Wake Forest Rugby Club will host its annual college tournament invitational on campus.

The Wake Forest football team defeated Boston College, 38-19, on Saturday afternoon. The second half was a rout for Wake Forest.

The Invitational will be held on Sunday, October 28th.

Golfers ready for ACC

By David Geraghty

After a series of inconsistent performances, the Wake Forest golf team hopes to finally show its ability in the upcoming ACC Tournament, which begins April 14 at the Cardinal Golf Club in Greensboro. Although the team has not been playing well, it has achieved a top 20 finish in each of its first three tournaments this year. The team's recent performances have been inconsistent, with some rounds showing promise and others falling short of expectations.

The team's primary goal for the ACC Tournament is to qualify for the NCAA Championship. To achieve this, the team must perform well in the tournament. The team's focus will be on putting together consistent rounds and minimizing mistakes to improve their chances of qualifying for the NCAA Championship.

Northern Virginia Community College

Northern Virginia Community College is a public community college located in Loudoun County, Virginia. It offers a wide range of programs and courses for students, including associate degrees, certificates, and continuing education classes. The college is committed to providing quality education to students in the region.

The college offers a variety of programs, including business, healthcare, technology, and liberal arts. It also offers adult education programs, such as GED preparation and high school equivalency courses. Northern Virginia Community College is well-known for its excellent academic programs and affordable tuition rates.

BERRY'S

Winston-Salem's Only Creperie

A Delicious Selection Of Dinner Crepes - Unique Salads - Selection Of Fine Wines - Imported And Domestic Beers Exciting Desserts Crepes

Late night dining

All ABC Permits

Sat-Thurs. 11:30 am - 11:00 pm
Fri. & Sat. 11:30-2:00
314 S. Stratford Rd. Strawfes Oen Mall Mini

Sub Station II

A Complete Meal On A Bun

ORDER BY NUMBER

1. Ham & Cheese 1.95 10.00
2. Boiled Beef & Cheese 1.95 10.00
3. Ham, Salami & Cheese 1.95 10.00
4. Saloon, Cheese & Cappiolo 1.95 10.00
5. Cheese, Turkey & Ham 2.65 14.00
6. Roast Beef & Cheese 2.65 14.00
7. Cheese, Pepperon & Herb 2.10 12.00
8. Cheese, Salami & Cappiolo 2.30 12.00
9. Ham, Cheese & Cappiolo 2.40 13.00
10. Turkey & Cheese 2.40 13.00
11. Tuna Fish & Cheese 2.40 13.00
12. Chicken Salad & Cheese 2.40 13.00
13. Salami, Cheese, Pepperon & Herb 2.20 12.00
14. Pimiento Cheese & Ham 2.15 12.00
15. Ham, Cheese & Cappiolo 2.75 15.00
16. Corned Beef & Cheese 2.65 14.50
17. Capicolo & Cheese 2.35 12.00
18. Bologna, Ham, Cheese & Cappiolo 3.20 15.00

129 OAKWOOD DRIVE

(Near Thruway Shopping Center)

Winston-Salem 27103

723-6161

Breezy Point West End

Freshman tennis sensationertil, Norman J. Wall, II, has been named to the All-American team for his outstanding performance during the 1990-91 season. Wall, a native of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, achieved a career-high ranking of 72 in the national rankings, becoming the highest-ranked Wake Forest tennis player in school history.

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels at a Greene Center are open for the summer of 1990. The Greene Center is a camp for children aged 4-17, located in the North Carolina mountains.

The Greene Center offers a variety of programs for children, including academic classes, sports, and arts and crafts. The camp also has a strong emphasis on social and emotional development, providing a supportive and nurturing environment for children.

The Greene Center is committed to providing high-quality programs and services for children. The camp has a dedicated staff of experienced professionals, and all staff members undergo rigorous training to ensure they are able to provide the best possible care for children.

The Greene Center is a great option for parents looking for a summer camp for their children. The camp provides a safe, fun, and stimulating environment for children to learn, grow, and have fun.

The New Brass Kettle Restaurant

University Place Shopping Center

11-104 / Th - Sat. 11-11 g.
Closed Tuesday 723-6205

Unisity's Hearty Hamburger

499 W. 4th 723-4494

Former Tennis Pro Wins Serve for Portsmouth

Former tennis pro, Norman J. Wall, II, has been named to the All-American team for his outstanding performance during the 1990-91 season. Wall, a native of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, achieved a career-high ranking of 72 in the national rankings, becoming the highest-ranked Wake Forest tennis player in school history.

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels at a Greene Center are open for the summer of 1990. The Greene Center is a camp for children aged 4-17, located in the North Carolina mountains.

The Greene Center offers a variety of programs for children, including academic classes, sports, and arts and crafts. The camp also has a strong emphasis on social and emotional development, providing a supportive and nurturing environment for children.

The Greene Center is committed to providing high-quality programs and services for children. The camp has a dedicated staff of experienced professionals, and all staff members undergo rigorous training to ensure they are able to provide the best possible care for children.

The Greene Center is a great option for parents looking for a summer camp for their children. The camp provides a safe, fun, and stimulating environment for children to learn, grow, and have fun.

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels at a Greene Center are open for the summer of 1990. The Greene Center is a camp for children aged 4-17, located in the North Carolina mountains.

The Greene Center offers a variety of programs for children, including academic classes, sports, and arts and crafts. The camp also has a strong emphasis on social and emotional development, providing a supportive and nurturing environment for children.

The Greene Center is committed to providing high-quality programs and services for children. The camp has a dedicated staff of experienced professionals, and all staff members undergo rigorous training to ensure they are able to provide the best possible care for children.

The Greene Center is a great option for parents looking for a summer camp for their children. The camp provides a safe, fun, and stimulating environment for children to learn, grow, and have fun.

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels

Summer Openings for Camp Counsels at a Greene Center are open for the summer of 1990. The Greene Center is a camp for children aged 4-17, located in the North Carolina mountains.

The Greene Center offers a variety of programs for children, including academic classes, sports, and arts and crafts. The camp also has a strong emphasis on social and emotional development, providing a supportive and nurturing environment for children.

The Greene Center is committed to providing high-quality programs and services for children. The camp has a dedicated staff of experienced professionals, and all staff members undergo rigorous training to ensure they are able to provide the best possible care for children.

The Greene Center is a great option for parents looking for a summer camp for their children. The camp provides a safe, fun, and stimulating environment for children to learn, grow, and have fun.
Handbook outlines Venice program

by Amy James

A handbook outlining the WF program in Venice is now available in the Provost's office. According to Heatley, the handbook is an effort to familiarize students with Venice before going overseas.

A brief description of the Camillo Arino Fund for Italian Studies is included. The scholarship covers costs to take the best clothing to take, the best ways to receive money, and suggestions forVenice in London and elsewhere. Part II of the handbook is pending. Programs in London and Spain will be covered in the second part.

Everything from the story handbook is an effort to familiarize students with Venice. Heatley said roughly 300 students apply at the Provost's office. Heatley said usually two students are chosen on the basis of both merit and need for the scholarship. Merit scholarship students are those who have Venice experience or speak Italian.

The maps, photographs and the handbook are included.

Shots combat measles

by James Gurley

The Charlotte blood drive is hoping around 300 students will participate in the WF blood donation at the gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday. The drive is being conducted by the Red Cross blood office, and last December, a student volunteer and the Red Cross visited the campus twice, once in the fall and once in the spring.

The contributor takes only 15 minutes, and the coordinator should be no one from a semester of blood was drawn for the remainder of the day.

Enforced towing works

by Scott Sapp

According to Heatley, a possible epidemic of German measles is included. The Student Health Service offered free immunization Tuesday in Reynolda Hall.

Super Saturday

Both students and their accepted brothers and sisters had a "Super Saturday.""The Charlotte blood drive is hoping around 300 students will participate in the WF blood donation at the gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday. The drive is being conducted by the Red Cross blood office, and last December, a student volunteer and the Red Cross visited the campus twice, once in the fall and once in the spring.

The contributor takes only 15 minutes, and the coordinator should be no one from a semester of blood was drawn for the remainder of the day.

Blood drive seeks 200

The Red Cross blood drive is hoping around 300 students will participate in the WF blood donation at the gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday. The drive is being conducted by the Red Cross blood office, and last December, a student volunteer and the Red Cross visited the campus twice, once in the fall and once in the spring.

The contributor takes only 15 minutes, and the coordinator should be no one from a semester of blood was drawn for the remainder of the day.

Enforced towing works

by Scott Sapp

Because of the unusually large amount of unpaid files, the WF Campus Police are enforcing regulations more strictly. Campus Police, Traffic and Security, and campus security guard a payphone that is a problem for parking and a general area.

There is one parking officer and two campus police on the job.

Enforced towing works

by Scott Sapp

Because of the unusually large amount of unpaid files, the WF Campus Police are enforcing regulations more strictly. Campus Police, Traffic and Security, and campus security guard a payphone that is a problem for parking and a general area.

There is one parking officer and two campus police on the job.

Enforced towing works

by Scott Sapp

Because of the unusually large amount of unpaid files, the WF Campus Police are enforcing regulations more strictly. Campus Police, Traffic and Security, and campus security guard a payphone that is a problem for parking and a general area.

There is one parking officer and two campus police on the job.