The Rev. Paul Lack, a native of Arkansas, has assumed new duties as pastor of the Clyde First Baptist Church. He conducted his first services last Sunday.

Lack, who came to Clyde from the First Baptist Church of Ormond Beach, Fla., succeeds the Rev. James E. Morgan. His family includes his wife and two daughters, Amy, 5, and Judy, 3.

The new minister is a graduate of Stetson University, Deland, Fla., and Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex. He was ordained in 1953 and since that time has served churches in Texas, Florida, and Michigan.
Revival services will begin next Sunday at 11 a.m. and continue at 7:30 p.m. nightly though Friday night at Trinity Baptist Church.

Dr. Paul Lack, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clyde, will be the visiting evangelist. The music will be under the direction of Rodney Douglas.

Dr. Lack spent his childhood and teenage years on a farm in Arkansas. During World War II he was drafted into the Special Forces of the 10th Mountain Division as a ski trooper and he attained the rank of staff sergeant while serving in the mountains of Europe. After World War II ended he was employed by Ford Motor Company as a test driver for the engineering department. Dr. Lack surrendered to the ministry while employed by the Ford Motor Company in Detroit.

He has graduated from the following schools: Detroit Bible College, Luther Rice Seminary, Stetson University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

He has served as pastor in Michigan, Florida, Texas and is presently serving as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clyde. He is also serving on the faculty of Haywood Technical Institute as Bible teacher.

Dr. Lack is married and the father of two daughters, ages 8 and 10.

The public is cordially invited to attend each service.
Clyde Pastor
Again Leads
Bible Seminar

Dr. Paul D. Lack, pastor of Clyde First Baptist Church and Bible teacher at Haywood Technical Institute, for the fourth consecutive year has been appointed an associate for the Bible Land Seminar.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Wayne DeHoney, Louisville, Ky., said "our 'in-depth' travel seminar is designed for persons who are serious-minded students of the Bible with a deep desire to visit the Holy Land and who want the comfort of deluxe hotels and service."

The faculty will be from seminaries and colleges in the United States as well as local guides. For the first time, the group will be able to visit Syria and Jordan as well as Israel. The dates for the seminar this year will be Jan. 9-20, 1978.

There have been several from Haywood County who have gone with Dr. Lack on the seminar each year. Dr. DeHoney has sent him a supply of the brochures describing the places to be visited. The seminar is open to all local people upon Lack's recommendation. Interested persons may write him at P. O. Box 356, Clyde, or call 627-2144.
