Waynesville - The Rev. Robert Lee Gaddis, 88, of 112 Cherokee St., died Tuesday, Feb. 1, in a local hospital.

A native of Haywood County, he was the son of the late Allen and Sabra Mull Gaddis. He retired from A.C. Lawrence Leather Co. and was a member of Waynesville First Baptist Church.

He was educated in Haywood County Schools and graduated from Boling Springs Junior College. He served in the National Guard and received his license to preach from Alexander Mills Baptist Church. He was ordained at First Baptist Church of Waynesville where he served as a deacon, Sunday school teacher, training union director and in other capacities. He was instrumental in organizing various churches in Haywood, Buncombe and Rutherford counties.

He is survived by his wife of 70 years, Emma Shelton Gaddis; three sons, Charles Gaddis of Canton, W. Lee Gaddis of Cullowhee and Gerald Gaddis of Newton; two daughters, Carolyn Gable of Kings Mountain and Juanita Maney of Waynesville; brother, W.H. Gaddis of Asheville; 10 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Services were Thursday at Garrett Funeral Home. The Revs. Fred Frady, Alan Greene and Jack Bishop officiated. Burial was in Garrett-Hillcrest Cemetery.
Rev. Robert L. Gaddis

Rev. Robert L. Gaddis

WAYNESVILLE — The Rev. Robert Lee Gaddis, 88, of 112 Cherokee St., died Tuesday, Feb. 1, in a local hospital.

A native of Haywood County, he was the son of the late Allen and Sabra Mull Gaddis. He retired from A.C. Lawrence Leather Co. and was a member of Waynesville First Baptist Church.

He was educated in Haywood County Schools and graduated from Boiling Springs Junior College. He served in the National Guard and received his license to preach from Alexander Mills Baptist Church. He was ordained at First Baptist Church of Waynesville, where he served as a deacon, Sunday school teacher, training union director and in other capacities. He was instrumental in organizing various churches in Haywood, Buncombe and Rutherford counties.

Surviving are his wife of 70 years, Emma Shelton Gaddis; three sons, Charles Gaddis of Canton, W. Lee Gaddis of Cullowhee and Gerald Gaddis of Newton; two daughters, Carolyn Gable of Kings Mountain and Juanita Maney of Waynesville; one brother, W.H. Gaddis of Asheville; 10 grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Services were held at noon on Thursday in the chapel of Garrett Funeral Home. The Revs. Fred Frady, Alan Greene and Dr. Jack Bishop officiated. Burial was in Garrett-Hillcrest Cemetery.