Rev. Carroll R. Cagle, native of Asheville, is the new pastor at Asheville Street Baptist Church. He assumed his duties last Sunday and lives at 239 Asheville Street.

Rev. Mr. Cagle is a 1967 graduate of Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute. He is a former pastor of Jupiter Baptist Church and Blantyre Baptist Church. His wife is the former Mildred Webb. They have three children, Darlene, in ninth grade; Sandra in sixth grade and Vicky in second grade.

Revival services begin Sunday at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Mr. Cagle as evangelist. There will be special music each night and the Saturday night service will be youth observance and the youth choir from Blantyre Baptist Church in Hendersonville will provide the music.

The public is cordially invited.
Rev. Carroll Cagle, Baptist pastor, dies at age 58

The Rev. Carroll R. Cagle, 58, of Lot 56, 1418 Brevard Road, died Thursday, March 24, in a local hospice center.

A native of Buncombe County, he graduated from Fruitland Bible College and pastored various Baptist church in North and South Carolina.

SURVIVORS:

SERVICES: 2 p.m. Saturday, Pole Creek Baptist Church where he was a member. BURIAL: Acton United Methodist Church Cemetery.

VISITATION: 7 to 8:30 p.m. Friday, Groce Funeral Home where the body will remain until placed in the church 30 minutes before services.

MEMORIALS: Mountain Area Hospice, P.O. Box 16, Asheville 28802.
Carroll Ray Cagle was born August 12, 1935 in Buncombe County. He grew up in the Bent Creek community; and as a boy, attended the Reeves Chapel Methodist Church. While attending a cottage prayer meeting held by the Starnes Cove Baptist Church (where Johnnie Tiller was pastoring) Carroll, at the age of 12, made a profession of faith.

Carroll was married to Mildred Webb, who was reared in the Candler area, on November 27, 1953. They have four children, Darlene Woody of Bryson City, North Carolina, Sandra Montgomery and Vicky Montgomery of York, South Carolina and Ray Cagle of Asheville.

After answering the call into the gospel ministry in 1963, he attended Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute. After being called to his first pastorate by the Jupiter Baptist church in 1965, he was ordained by the Bent Creek Baptist Church August 15, 1965. He served Jupiter Baptist Church for two years. He was called to pastor the Blantyre Baptist Church in Transylvania County from 1967-1969. He then pastored Asheville Street Baptist Church in Morganton in late 1969 before moving to Fairview Baptist Church in 1970, where he pastored for three years. In the spring of 1976, he became pastor of Pine Grove Baptist Church in Clover, South Carolina until 1980 when he moved to Beverly Hills Baptist Church in Rockingham, North Carolina. Moving from Rockingham to Wadesboro in 1985, he became pastor of Mt. Beulah Baptist Church until 1988. After a bout with heart attacks and open heart surgeries, he was placed on disability. Moving home to Asheville in 1989, he was able to preach occasionally as his health would allow.

Carroll had an evangelistic thrust to his ministry and churches grew under his leadership. On one occasion, in a revival meeting in Rockingham, there were 25 professions of faith and baptisms.

Carroll went to be with the Lord on March 24, 1994.
Carroll Ray Cagle was born August 12, 1935 in Buncombe County. He grew up in the Bent Creek community; and as a boy, attended the Reeves Chapel Methodist Church. While attending a cottage prayer meeting held by the Starnes Cove Baptist Church (where Johnnie Tiller was pastoring) Carroll, at the age of 12, made a profession of faith.

Carroll was married to Mildred Webb, who was reared in the Candler area, on November 27, 1953. They have four children, Darlene Woody of Bryson City, North Carolina, Sandra Montgomery and Vicky Montgomery of York, South Carolina and Ray Cagle of Asheville.

After answering the call into the gospel ministry in 1963, he attended Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute. After being called to his first pastorate by the Jupiter Baptist church in 1965, he was ordained by the Bent Creek Baptist Church August 15, 1965. He served Jupiter Baptist Church for two years. He was called to pastor the Blantyre Baptist Church in Transylvania County from 1967-1969. He then pastored Asheville Street Baptist Church in Morganton in late 1969 before moving to Fairview Baptist Church in 1970, where he pastored for three years. In the spring of 1976, he became pastor of Pine Grove Baptist Church in Clover, South Carolina until 1980 when he moved to Beverly Hills Baptist Church in Rockingham, North Carolina. Moving from Rockingham to Wadesboro in 1985, he became pastor of Mt. Beulah Baptist Church until 1988. After a bout with heart attacks and open heart surgeries he was placed on disability. Moving home to Asheville in 1989, he was able to preach occasionally as his health would allow.

Carroll had an evangelistic thrust to his ministry and churches grew under his leadership. On one occasion, in a revival meeting in Rockingham, there were 25 professions of faith and baptisms.

Carroll went to be with the Lord on March 24, 1994.
Rev. Carroll R. Cagle, native of Asheville, is the new pastor at Asheville Street Baptist Church. He assumed his duties last Sunday and lives at 239 Asheville Street.

Rev. Mr. Cagle is a 1967 graduate of Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute. He is a former pastor of Jupiter Baptist Church and Blantyre Baptist Church. His wife is the former Mildred Webb. They have three children, Darlene, in ninth grade; Sandra in sixth grade and Vicky in second grade.

Revival services begin Sunday at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Mr. Cagle as evangelist. There will be special music each night and the Saturday night service will be youth observance and the youth choir from Blantyre Baptist Church in Hendersonville will provide the music.

The public is cordially invited.

Lumberton Robesonian
Morganton News-Herald
New Bern Sun-Journal
Raleigh News & Observer
Raleigh Times
Reidsville Tribune
Rockingham Richmonner Co. Journal

MAY 2, 1969
Rev. Carroll Cagle, Baptist pastor, dies at age 58

The Rev. Carroll R. Cagle, 58, of Lot 56, 1418 Brevard Road, died Thursday, March 24, in a local hospice center.

A native of Buncombe County, he graduated from Fruitland Bible College and pastored various Baptist churches in North and South Carolina.

SERVICES: 2 p.m. Saturday, Pole Creek Baptist Church where he was a member. BURIAL: Acton United Methodist Church Cemetery.

VISITATION: 7 to 8:30 p.m. Friday, Groce Funeral Home where the body will remain until placed in the church 30 minutes before services.

MEMORIALS: Mountain Area Hospice, P.O. Box 16, Asheville 28802.