Open Labs are Going Remote

By Betsy Barre on Mar 14, 2020 04:18 pm

After hearing from many of you this weekend, we have decided to shift the way we are providing our support next week. We were originally planning to host in-person open labs alongside 1:1 remote consultations. We have now flipped that plan and will host remote open labs alongside 1:1 in-person consultations.

If you would like to meet with us in person, we ask that you pre-schedule a 1:1 consultation here (click on a "consultation" button in a time slot that works for you and hit "save" to place it on your calendar and ours). If you would like to meet with a larger group of faculty or prefer to stay home, you can join one of our newly-remote open labs at the links below.

As always, do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or need help joining our Zoom meetings!
