WF Executive Committee Rejects SG Visitaton Bill

By DIANNE JONES
Managing Editor

Limited visitations, a volatile student isue for over two months, failed last night when the University’s executive committee rejected the student government’s proposal to allowKnock visitors into dorms at least three times a week.

WF Spanish Professor Killed

Marcelino Delgado, an instructor of Spanish at the University for 23 years, was shot and killed Dec. 18, at the rural store where he worked part-time.

Delgado, who was 53, was shot fom front, the left side, the left forearm, and the right thigh. He was pronounced dead at a local hospital about a half-hour after the shooting.

The Forsyth County Sheriff’s Office said that Delgado, who was known as Jack to his friends, was killed by two assailants who shot him while he was working at a dirt bank behind the store.

When he asked Delgado which way the market was, according to Sheriff Shore, the assailants went, although it is unknown whether Delgado fired at the store

Delgado’s wallet, containing $40, was found on the ground near the scene of the shooting.

Complete renovations will be extended over Shore speculated that Delgado fired at the store, when found. The visitation in the men’s dorms from Friday to Monday, calling for a committee of students, faculty, administrators, and trustees will “be an important step toward finding out whether the issue is being seriously considered with the students’ social life on campus.”

The report also stated the the oroposal about social life on campus."
Pigures Tell Part Of The Wake Story Of The Sixties

The 1960's: what effect did they have on the University's development and what do they forecast for its future?

The pictures on this page give only a smattering of the progress of Wake Forest over the last ten years: a new president was inaugurated, a new business school and stadium constructed, and several classroom buildings and coed dormitories built.

Obviously, however, there are some facts of the University's history that cannot be captured in pictures. Pictures, though they may be worth a thousand words, cannot describe the impact of ten years on the University in anything but a physical sense. In the issue of Feb. 13, Old Gold will review with words as well as photographs the story of Wake Forest College and Wake Forest University 1969-1970.
McAULAY

The Men’s Residence Council (MRC) is a student organization at Wake Forest University, which has been established to promote student participation in the planning and decision-making process of the university. The MRC is composed of students from all backgrounds, and it is dedicated to fostering a sense of community and engagement among its members.

The MRC is responsible for a variety of tasks, including the planning of events on campus, the promotion of student involvement in campus activities, and the representation of student interests to the university administration.

The MRC has several committees, each with a specific focus, such as the Housing Committee, the Social Committee, and the Academic Committee. These committees work together to ensure that the needs and interests of all students are met.

The MRC also sponsors various programs and events throughout the year, such as the Welcome Week, the MRC Dance, and the MRC Ball.

The MRC is open to all students, and membership is free of charge. Interested students are encouraged to join and participate in the activities of the organization.

The philosophy of the Men’s Residence Council remains true to its conception: to offer an exciting and educational experience for those who attend Wake Forest University.

By CASAES CLAIRE

MRC President

IFC President

Jim Spears

MRC Is Not Open, Says IFC Head

The Men’s Residence Council (MRC) at Wake Forest University has been established to provide students with a meaningful and engaging experience on campus. The MRC is composed of students from all backgrounds, and it is dedicated to fostering a sense of community and engagement among its members.

The MRC is responsible for a variety of tasks, including the planning of events on campus, the promotion of student involvement in campus activities, and the representation of student interests to the university administration.

The MRC has several committees, each with a specific focus, such as the Housing Committee, the Social Committee, and the Academic Committee. These committees work together to ensure that the needs and interests of all students are met.

The MRC also sponsors various programs and events throughout the year, such as the Welcome Week, the MRC Dance, and the MRC Ball.

The MRC is open to all students, and membership is free of charge. Interested students are encouraged to join and participate in the activities of the organization.

The philosophy of the Men’s Residence Council remains true to its conception: to offer an exciting and educational experience for those who attend Wake Forest University.

By CASAES CLAIRE

MRC President

IFC President

Jim Spears

MRC Is Not Open, Says IFC Head

The Men’s Residence Council (MRC) at Wake Forest University has been established to provide students with a meaningful and engaging experience on campus. The MRC is composed of students from all backgrounds, and it is dedicated to fostering a sense of community and engagement among its members.

The MRC is responsible for a variety of tasks, including the planning of events on campus, the promotion of student involvement in campus activities, and the representation of student interests to the university administration.

The MRC has several committees, each with a specific focus, such as the Housing Committee, the Social Committee, and the Academic Committee. These committees work together to ensure that the needs and interests of all students are met.

The MRC also sponsors various programs and events throughout the year, such as the Welcome Week, the MRC Dance, and the MRC Ball.

The MRC is open to all students, and membership is free of charge. Interested students are encouraged to join and participate in the activities of the organization.

The philosophy of the Men’s Residence Council remains true to its conception: to offer an exciting and educational experience for those who attend Wake Forest University.

By CASAES CLAIRE

MRC President

IFC President

Jim Spears

MRC Is Not Open, Says IFC Head

The Men’s Residence Council (MRC) at Wake Forest University has been established to provide students with a meaningful and engaging experience on campus. The MRC is composed of students from all backgrounds, and it is dedicated to fostering a sense of community and engagement among its members.

The MRC is responsible for a variety of tasks, including the planning of events on campus, the promotion of student involvement in campus activities, and the representation of student interests to the university administration.

The MRC has several committees, each with a specific focus, such as the Housing Committee, the Social Committee, and the Academic Committee. These committees work together to ensure that the needs and interests of all students are met.

The MRC also sponsors various programs and events throughout the year, such as the Welcome Week, the MRC Dance, and the MRC Ball.

The MRC is open to all students, and membership is free of charge. Interested students are encouraged to join and participate in the activities of the organization.

The philosophy of the Men’s Residence Council remains true to its conception: to offer an exciting and educational experience for those who attend Wake Forest University.

By CASAES CLAIRE

MRC President

IFC President

Jim Spears

MRC Is Not Open, Says IFC Head

The Men’s Residence Council (MRC) at Wake Forest University has been established to provide students with a meaningful and engaging experience on campus. The MRC is composed of students from all backgrounds, and it is dedicated to fostering a sense of community and engagement among its members.

The MRC is responsible for a variety of tasks, including the planning of events on campus, the promotion of student involvement in campus activities, and the representation of student interests to the university administration.

The MRC has several committees, each with a specific focus, such as the Housing Committee, the Social Committee, and the Academic Committee. These committees work together to ensure that the needs and interests of all students are met.

The MRC also sponsors various programs and events throughout the year, such as the Welcome Week, the MRC Dance, and the MRC Ball.

The MRC is open to all students, and membership is free of charge. Interested students are encouraged to join and participate in the activities of the organization.

The philosophy of the Men’s Residence Council remains true to its conception: to offer an exciting and educational experience for those who attend Wake Forest University.

By CASAES CLAIRE

MRC President

IFC President

Jim Spears

MRC Is Not Open, Says IFC Head
Letters To The Editors

All I Want For Xmas...

Dear Santa,

'Twas the night before Christmas,
When all through the house
Not a sound was heard, for the boys
Were sleeping, all sound asleep.

But, oh! O dear, the old cheery
Hat and stocking hung on the chime,
While the stove crackled cheerfully,
And the hearth glowed with a warm flame.

Santa, Santa Claus,
With his enormous sack,
Was making his way over the plains
As the clock struck twelve, you can bet.

Five minutes to Christmas morning
And the world was asleep,
When out on the lawn there arose
A strange racket and noise.

Not a creature was stirring,
Not even a mouse,
When suddenly out of the darkness
There appeared Santa Claus.

He came gliding through the air,
Like a spirit of glee,
And he spread across the starry night
With a bound and a gleam.

Then, in a flash, he was gone,
Away to the land of dreams,
But his magic touch left the earth
With a promise of joy and cheer.

Soothe your hearts with this tale,
Of the spirit of Christmas
That brings love and happiness
to all within its reach.

'Merry Christmas to you all!'
Budget Committee Proposed
Legislature To Vote Wednesday

By DIANE JONES
A proposed appropriations committee that will regulate the budgets of student organizations will be voted on by the Legislature Wednesday night.

The bill provides that each student organization listed in the bill will have to accept the proposal before the appropriations committee can assume financial direction of that particular organization.

The proposed committee would directly only those student organizations, as defined by the Student Government Association, that have received appropriations for the current semester.

Organization's budget would be administered by the Student Government Association at the Dec. 16 meeting, pending by Clap Board, Business Manager, Other G.C. President, the Co-Universities, and the Committee on Committees.

Cross explained that the purpose of the bill was "to fast track the student government appropriation process, in order to start the work on the project in a timely manner, but to leave the student government appropriations committee in charge of the student government budget and the Student Government Association in charge of the Student Government Association budget, so that they are separate, and in order that there will be a financial guide for those organizations.

"It's more than financial clearinghouse. It's more than just a way to get money. It's also a way to get feedback," Cross explained. "We need a way to see where their money was being spent, and it would give more power to the students who would want government officials to have more power because the money would be spent.

Cross also emphasized that the organizations themselves would be able to decide whether or not to let the student government appropriation committee approve their budgets, and to see if a more effective organization committee would have more power than it did before.

TODAY'S BUDGET

The bill states that such student organizations would have to submit a total budget at the beginning of each fiscal year. Budgets will be submitted to the budget committee, and that the appropriation committee would submit that budget to the Student Government Association, which would be the final authority.

Cross said that most of the organizations in charge of the organizations would be able to have more or less than a normal load, and that the committee would have to decide whether the budget is budget approved.

"The administration is all for it," Cross said.

"The publications are left out, so we have included them in the making of the pressure of the press. We refer to the national publications and the University Press, which are separate from the Student Government Association, and if they turn down the publication committee, then the Student Government Association can assume financial direction of that particular organization.

"The publications are left out, so we have included them in the making of the pressure of the press. We refer to the national publications and the University Press, which are separate from the Student Government Association, and if they turn down the publication committee, then the Student Government Association can assume financial direction of that particular organization.

SAVE THE DATE

The Preservation Hall Band is an annual student event that brings together student groups and faculty to present a variety of musical performances. It is held on the campus of Wake Forest University, and is sponsored by the Wake Forest University Student Activities Council. The band will perform on Friday, March 1, 1973.

Pizzazz Inn

1750 University Road

Order by Phone For Faster Service

725-1740

Aline Approximately 30 Minutes

College Beverage

For the Finest of champagnes
imported wines - beer

A wide selection of imported foods
Feta - Cheeses - Olives
The Southern Association of Anatomists was established more than 30 years ago. It now has a membership of approximately 250 members who represent 11 national medical schools and three sections in this country. Dr. Hightower, also associated with the Southern Association of Anatomists, will be installed as president next November and will hold the post for a two-year period. In addition to his work at Bowman Gray School of Medicine and his responsibilities as chairman of the Department of Anatomy at the school, Dr. Hightower has served in executive capacities with the association for the past 10 years.

Debate Team WinsHonors Over Holiday

The debate team remained unbeaten of this year's meeting in the annual invitational tournament held at the University of Texas at the School of Medicine, in Houston. The team was one of five additional awards at both

The team of Keith Vaugha, president of the School of Medicine at the University of Texas at the School of Medicine, in Houston. The team was one of five additional awards at both.

UNIVERSITY RECEIVES $3,000 GIFT

An unannounced gift of $3,000 has been received in the University by Fairlawn Cofa, a program which provides scholarship funds for graduate students employed at the university. This program, which was established 15 years ago, the

Renaud's

Sportsman's Supply Company, Inc.

Your Complete Sporting Goods Store

604 N. CHERRY ST.
Winston-Salem, N. C.

Winston-Salem's Newest and Finest Restaurant

Welcome Your Patronage and the Opportunity to Serve You.
All college coaches realize that recruiting is not the most important part of their job, yet the majority of them spend a great deal of time courting the high school teams in the Northeast to play in the East. This is because almost all the top basketball players want to attend the schools in the East. But, some schools in the East have not been able to build a winning team and many times have not been able to recruit the top basketball players in the East. The coaches of Wake Forest University, Florida State University, and Duke University have been able to build winning teams and recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. The reason for this is because these schools have been able to offer these basketball players the opportunity to play for a national championship.

Wake Forest University, Florida State University, and Duke University have been able to build winning teams and recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. The reason for this is because these schools have been able to offer these basketball players the opportunity to play for a national championship. Wake Forest University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Florida State University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Duke University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast.

The coaches of Wake Forest University, Florida State University, and Duke University have been able to build winning teams and recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. The reason for this is because these schools have been able to offer these basketball players the opportunity to play for a national championship. Wake Forest University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Florida State University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Duke University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast.

The coaches of Wake Forest University, Florida State University, and Duke University have been able to build winning teams and recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. The reason for this is because these schools have been able to offer these basketball players the opportunity to play for a national championship. Wake Forest University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Florida State University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Duke University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast.

The coaches of Wake Forest University, Florida State University, and Duke University have been able to build winning teams and recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. The reason for this is because these schools have been able to offer these basketball players the opportunity to play for a national championship. Wake Forest University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Florida State University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Duke University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast.

The coaches of Wake Forest University, Florida State University, and Duke University have been able to build winning teams and recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. The reason for this is because these schools have been able to offer these basketball players the opportunity to play for a national championship. Wake Forest University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Florida State University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast. Duke University has been able to build a winning team because they have been able to recruit the top basketball players in the Northeast.
The Demon Deacons entered the 1970 ACC part of their schedule hoping for a strong showing against Virginia and Virginia Tech. The Deacons were led by Gil McGregor, their ACC Coach of the Year, and Phil Hetzel, who scored 26 and 14 points respectively.

Virginia led through much of the first half, getting up 26-22 at the break. Hampton scored the first 10 points of the game on a pair of free throws to cut the lead to eight, 36-28, with 12:08 left in the second half. However, Virginia took control, winning the game 88-74 to extend their winning streak to 25 points in the first three minutes of the game. With 11:37 remaining in the half, the Deacons led by eight, but trailing in the dressing room.

Paul Davis, who entered the game in the first half, scored his first points of the game to tie the score at 26-26. As Virginia went on to outscore Wake in the second half, 44-42, the Deacons were up by two, 58-56, with 3:01 left in the game. However, Virginia scored the next 11 points of the game to lead by 71-58 with 2:21 left in the game. The Deacons would score the final two points of the game to end the game at 75-60.

Virginia's leaders went 6-3 from the field, while Wake Forest shot 32-70 from the field. Virginia's leading scorer was John Wiles, who scored 21 points for the game. Wake Forest's top scorer was Phil Hetzel, who scored 26 points for the game. The Deacons struggled to find their scoring rhythm and were held to a season-low points total.

The following Saturday, the Deacons would take on the ACC's top team, Duke, in Durham. The game was played on the campus of Duke University and was a highly anticipated game. Despite a strong performance by Virginia, the Deacons were able to pull out a narrow win, 72-67.

The game was a highly competitive one, with both teams trading leads throughout the game. The Deacons were able to hold off the Blue Devils in the final minutes to secure the win. The victory extended the Deacons' winning streak to three games and solidified their position as one of the top teams in the ACC.

The Deacons' next game would be against the Virginia Tech Hokies, who were coming off a win against the University of North Carolina. The game was scheduled to take place on the campus of Virginia Tech and was a highly anticipated match-up. Despite a strong performance by Virginia Tech, the Deacons were able to pull out a narrow win, 68-64.

The game was a highly competitive one, with both teams trading leads throughout the game. The Deacons were able to hold off the Hokies in the final minutes to secure the win. The victory extended the Deacons' winning streak to four games and solidified their position as one of the top teams in the ACC.