

CORTNEY M. WOODSON JR.

Maryland Native Accepts Pastorate At Corinth Church

Cortney M. "Buddy" Woodson Jr. began serving as pastor of Corinth Baptist Church on Sunday. Woodson is a student at Southeastern Seminary at Wake Forest and is originally from Maryland.

The son of a minister, Woodson has traveled a great deal, but has spent a considerable amount of his life in Charlottesville, Va. He received an associate in science degree in business administration from Bluefield College, Bluefield, Va., and a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Mars Hill College.

Woodson is working toward a master of divinity degree at Southeastern Seminary, the same seminary from which his father received degree. His father works with the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in Eldridge, Iowa.

Mrs. Woodson, the former Lois C. Johnson of Scottsville, Va., is a teacher at Hawley Elementary School near Creedmoor. She taught in Franklin County last year.

The couple had lived in Wake Forest since their marriage about 18 months ago, but they have just moved to the Corinth parsonage.

Woodson will be ordained at 2:30 p.m. on Feb. 17 at Fluvanna Baptist Church in Scottsville.
