

H. J. Younts is ordained into ministry

Henry Jackson Younts of Locust, a former resident of Lexington, was ordained into ministry Sunday night at Barbee's Grove Baptist Church in Oakboro.

Younts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Younts, who formerly lived on Willowbrook Circle, and he is a graduate of Wingate College and the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. He will complete his studies at Southeastern Baptist Seminary at Wake Forest in May.

The Rev. Randal Dockins preached the ordination sermon, and the Rev. Floyd Helms presented the charge to the new minister. A unison reading, "How Can I Be An Instrument For God?" was written by the Rev. J. Harley Cecil, former pastor of Wesley Heights United Methodist Church in Lexington.

Younts, who is a grandson of Mr and Mrs. Osco Weaver of Lexington, is married to the former Judy Little of Locust.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. T.G. Bumgardner of Lexington, an aunt and uncle of Younts, attended the ordination service.
