

Rev. Kenneth Joines, Mooresville Native, To Speak At First Baptist

The Rev. Kenneth Joines, son of Mrs. J. R. Joines of 639 East Iredell Avenue, Mooresville, and the late Mr. Joines, will deliver the sermon at the morning worship service at Mooresville's First Baptist Church on Sunday, August 28.

Mr. Joines presently is minister of education and associate pastor of the First Baptist Church in Newton Center, Mass.

The young man is a native of Mooresville and grew up in the First Baptist Church, where he was very active in the church's youth program. At the age of 13, he first became aware of his call to the Christian ministry.

A graduate of Mooresville Senior High School and Lenoir-Rhyne College at Hickory, Mr. Joines received the master of divinity degree (cum laude) from Andover-Newton, Mass., Theological School in 1974.

At the time of his graduation from Andover-Newton, he received the Russell Chase Tuck Award for excellence in Biblical studies.

When he entered Andover-Newton Theological School in 1971, he accepted a position as student minister on the staff of the First Baptist Church in Newton Center, Mass. From then until 1974, he worked in the areas of youth ministry, administration and pastoral care. He was ordained into the Christian ministry by the First Baptist Church in Newton

Center, Mass., in 1974. At that time, he was called by the church to serve as assistant minister in education. He later was named minister in education and associate pastor of the church.

Mr. Joines is married to the former Jo Ann Heatherly of Knoxville, Tenn., and the couple has one daughter, Heather Lynn.

The pastor of the local First Baptist Church, the Rev. James B. Sides, extends an invitation to everyone to hear Mr. Joines when he preaches at the local church.

Enterprise-Record
Monroe: Enquirer-Journal
Mooresville Tribune
Morehead City: Carteret Co.
News-Times
Mount Airy News
Mount Airy Times
Mount Holly News
Mount Olive Tribune
Murfreesboro: Roanoke-Chowan
News-Herald
Murphy: Cherokee Scout
Nashville Graphic
Newland: Avery Journal
Newton: Observer-News-Enterprise
North Wilksboro: Journal-Patriot
Oxford Ledger

8/25/77

Rev. Joines Assumes Pastorate Of Rhode Island Church

The Rev. Kenneth L. Joines was installed as minister of the First Baptist Church of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, on Sunday, May 21, at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Cottage Street Baptist Church in Pawtucket.

Mr. Joines is the son of Mrs. Viola Upright Joines of 639 East Iredell Avenue, Mooresville, and the late Ray Joines.

Before assuming the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Pawtucket, Mr. Joines served as associate minister of education for three and a half years at the the First Baptist Church of Newton Center, Mass.

He received a master of divinity degree, cum laude, from Andover Newton Theological Seminary in 1974.

At the ordination service, the Rev. Gene E. Bartlett, minister of the First Baptist Church of Newton Center, Mass., preached the sermon.

Others participating were Mrs. H. Glenn Payne, a member of the pulpit committee; George Judson Jr., vice chairman of the diaconate; Alan Keyes, soloist; the Rev. W. Eugene Motter, executive minister of the American Baptist Churches of Rhode Island.

Following the installation service, there was a reception in the church's fellowship hall.

Mr. Joines is married to the former Jo Ann Heatherly, and the couple has one child, a daughter, Heather Lynn.

Rev. Joines Assumes Pastorate Of Rhode Island Church

The Rev. Kenneth L. Joines was installed as minister of the First Baptist Church of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, on Sunday, May 21, at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Cottage Street Baptist Church in Pawtucket.

Mr. Joines is the son of Mrs. Viola Upright Joines of 639 East Iredell Avenue, Mooresville, and the late Ray Joines.

Before assuming the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Pawtucket, Mr. Joines served as associate minister of education for three and a half years at the the First Baptist Church of Newton Center, Mass.

He received a master of divinity degree, cum laude, from Andover Newton Theological Seminary in 1974.

At the ordination service, the Rev. Gene E. Bartlett, minister of the First Baptist Church of Newton Center, Mass., preached the sermon.

Others participating were Mrs. H. Glenn Payne, a member of the pulpit committee; George Judson Jr., vice chairman of the diaconate; Alan Keyes, soloist; the Rev. W. Eugene Motter, executive minister of the American Baptist Churches of Rhode Island.

Following the installation service, there was a reception in the church's fellowship hall.

Mr. Joines is married to the former Jo Ann Heatherly, and the couple has one child, a daughter, Heather Lynn.

Rev. Kenneth Joines, Mooresville Native, To Speak At First Baptist

The Rev. Kenneth Joines, son of Mrs. J. R. Joines of 639 East Iredell Avenue, Mooresville, and the late Mr. Joines, will deliver the sermon at the morning worship service at Mooresville's First Baptist Church on Sunday, August 28.

Mr. Joines presently is minister of education and associate pastor of the First Baptist Church in Newton Center, Mass.

The young man is a native of Mooresville and grew up in the First Baptist Church, where he was very active in the church's youth program. At the age of 13, he first became aware of his call to the Christian ministry.

A graduate of Mooresville Senior High School and Lenoir-Rhyne College at Hickory, Mr. Joines received the master of divinity degree (cum laude) from Andover-Newton, Mass., Theological School in 1974.

At the time of his graduation from Andover-Newton, he received the Russell Chase Tuck Award for excellence in Biblical studies.

When he entered Andover-Newton Theological School in 1971, he accepted a position as student minister on the staff of the First Baptist Church in Newton Center, Mass. From then until 1974, he worked in the areas of youth ministry, administration and pastoral care. He was ordained into the Christian ministry by the First Baptist Church in Newton

Center, Mass., in 1974. At that time, he was called by the church to serve as assistant minister in education. He later was named minister in education and associate pastor of the church.

Mr. Joines is married to the former Jo Ann Heatherly of Knoxville, Tenn., and the couple has one daughter, Heather Lynn.

The pastor of the local First Baptist Church, the Rev. James B. Sides, extends an invitation to everyone to hear Mr. Joines when he preaches at the local church.

Enterprise-Record
Monroe: Enquirer-Journal
Mooresville Tribune
Morehead City: Carteret Co.
News-Times
Mount Airy News
Mount Airy Times
Mount Holly News
Mount Olive Tribune
Murfreesboro: Roanoke-Chowan
News-Herald
Murphy: Cherokee Scout
Nashville Graphic
Newland: Avery Journal
Newton: Observer-News-Enterprise
North Wilksboro: Journal-Patriot
Oxford Ledger

8/25/77