

Casa Artom, along with visiting Venice, is a dream come true for me. I have never seen such beauty all in one place. I don't believe I'll ever be quite the same when I return to the states. My visit here has put much into perspective for me. The learning experience has been wonderful, but the waters of Venice have cleansed me and helped me through one of life's greatest challenges, the death of my mother. I was here on Mother's Day and it helped. I will return to Venice and hopefully stay at Casa Artom again.

A i miei amici a Wake Forest - I was here in Spring 1981 and am overjoyed to finally be back. The city is as beautiful as I remembered, made more so by being able to share this experience with my beloved wife and son. Few things I have done in my life have been as important as my semester at Casa Artom - It's clear the experience has been so to others as well.
