

REV. J. LLOYD WOLFE

Grandview

Baptist Church

Gets New Pastor

The Rev. J. Lloyd Wolfe of Buncombe County is the new pastor of Grandview Baptist Church. He assumed the pastorate Jan. 21 and succeeds the Rev. George Mehaffey, who has been serving as supply pastor.

Mr. Wolfe comes to Grandview from the Deaverview Baptist Church in West Asheville, which he served for 12 years. A native of Buncombe County his previous churches have been in that section.

He was educated at Mars Hill College and Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute.

Mr. Wolfe's family includes his wife and four children. Two sons, Ronnie, 16, and Billy 13, are living at home, Miss Linda Wolfe is a nurse at Wesley Long Hospital in Greensboro, and another son, Earl Wolfe is employed by Southern Bell Telephone Co. and lives at Leicester.

Warrenton: Warren Record

Warsaw-Faison News

Waynesville Mountaineer

Weldon: Roanoke News

Wendell: Gold Leaf Farmer

West Jefferson: Skyland Post

Whiteville: News-Reporter

Wilmington: Journal

Williamston: Enterprise

Windsor: Ledger-Advance

Yadkinville: Yadkin Ripple

Yanceyville: Caswell Messenger

Zebulon Record

*

JAN 5 1968

Haywood