

DIED

MRS. MARY E. PERKINSON was the eldest daughter of William and Sarah D. Hicks, born March 3d, 1836; married to Elder L. C. Perkinson April 11th, 1855; baptized into the fellowship of the Baptist Church in Warrenton, N. C., in September 1857; was one of the members in the organization of Sharon Church, on the 15th of July, 1858, and died in Warren County, N. C., July 20th, 1873.

Sister Perkinson bore her sickness with meekness and calm resignation. She was an affectionate wife and mother, an obliging neighbor, a consistent Christian, and died in full assurance of acceptance with her Saviour, exhorting her husband and friends to meet her (in) heaven. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

MRS. CYNTHIA BURTON PERKINSON

This venerable Christian woman fell on sleep after a brief illness on the 13th day of January, 1908. She was born on the 1st day of March 1842. Therefore, at the time of her death she lacked only a few weeks of being sixty-six years of age. She was a native of Warren County, and lived and died in the community where she first saw the light.

On December 14, 1876, our sister was united in marriage to Rev. Levi C. Perkinson, and for more than thirty-one years she was the faithful help-meet, and an abiding source of comfort and joy to that faithful man of God. In marrying Brother Perkinson she became a step-mother; and no woman ever filled that difficult and delicate position better than she. To his motherless children she was a loving and faithful mother, and they in turn repaid her with the loyal coinage of the heart, and her own children do not mourn for her more sincerely than they do. In early life Sister Perkinson made a profession of religion, and united with the Church in Warrenton. In 1858 she formed one of that noble band who went out from the Warrenton Church, and organized on the 10th day of July the church at Sharon, and through all the years that followed she was active in advancing the interests of her church. She was a member of the Woman's Missionary Society from its organization till the time of her death, and indeed every enterprise fostered by her church found in her a firm and helpful friend, not only in the gift of words and time, but in the liberal use of her means.

Sister Perkinson was a good neighbor, a genial companion and a friend to the poor. To her friends and kindred she was loving and kind, and the stranger found a welcome in her home. Her husband and children arise and call her blessed; for she was to them one of heaven's gretest gifts.

Only a little while and we shall meet again in our Father's House.

LEVI CASSIUS PERKINSON

Rev. Levi C. Perkinson was born January 18th, 1825, in Warren County, North Carolina, and was reared in Hawtree Township.

While still a young man he united with the Enon Baptist Church, but when the church at Sharon was organized, he became one of the constituent members. He was licensed by Enon Church, December 8th, 1852, and ordained by request of the same church at the Tar River Association, August 29th, 1853. He studied at Wake Forest College. After leaving college he served some time as agent of Oxford Seminary, and was at one time financial agent of the North Carolina Bible and Baptist Publication Society.

Brother Perkinson served as pastor Sharon, Enon and Enterprise churches in the Tar River Association. He did a good deal of preaching, but his pastorates were not very long.

He was a farmer for a good while engaged in the mercantile business. He regularly attended the sessions of the Association and took an active part in the union meetings and other denominational gatherings. He was a power of strength in his home church.

He lived to be more than eighty years old; and, having fought a good fight, he was gathered unto his fathers.

Chapter VIII

THE DEATH OF THE FOUNDER OF OUR CHURCH

On the morning of Friday, November the 13, 1908 our beloved ex-pastor and founder of our church passed quietly away into eternity. At the time of his death he was living in his home at Oakville -- Sometimes called the Yancey House just east of Oakville -- now owned by Gidd King of Oakville. When he died he was one of the oldest ministers in this part of the State. He was buried in Sharon Cemetary in the family plot. Services were conducted by A. V. Joyner, assisted by Rev. W. W. Rose and T. J. Taylor.

Affixed is the actual account of this written by Dr. T. J. Taylor and given to me by Rev. Perkinson's granddaughter, Mrs. Cole Nichols of Rockingham, N. C.

"Rev. Levi C. Perkinson -- We announce with sincere regret the death of our esteemed fellow citizen, the venerable Rev. Levi C. Perkinson. Mr. Perkinson was not only one of our oldest citizen, but he was one of the oldest ministers in this part of the State, being in his enghty-fourth year at the time of his death. He was a native of Warren County, and lived and died in the community where he was born. In early life he made a profession of religion and united with Enon, now Littleton Baptist Church. Later he moved his membership to Warrenton, and when the church at Sharon was constituted he became one of the constituent members of that body. Indeed, it was largely through his efforts that the church was organized and the commodious house of worship was erected. He gave to the promotion of the interest of that church the best that was in him.

"Mr. Perkinson was educated at Wake Forest College, and after his graduation was for a time the representative of Oxford Female Seminary. By nature and training he was fitted for large usefulness and was a preacher of decided ability. His last pastorate was with the church at Enterprise, which he resigned on account of the infirmities of age. Mr. Perkinson was a man of affairs. He was a successful farmer and at one time engaged in the merchantile business. He had a strong mind in his stalwart body and usually succeeded in his undertakings. He was a public spirited citizen, a broad-minded Christian, a sincere friend, a devoted husband and parent, and the world is richer because he lived in it.

"He died on the morning of Friday the 13th. of November, and was buried at Sharon church on the following Sunday afternoon. A large concourse of sorrowing friends followed his body to the grave. The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, A. V. Joyner, assisted by Revs. W. W. Rose and T. J. Taylor.

"THE RECORD extends sincere sympathy to these sorrowing sons and daughters."

Lucy Solomon Credle, daughter of Rev. L. C. and Mary E. Perkinson, was born March 16th, 1860. The 3rd. Sunday in August 1874, she became a member of Sharon, in June 1880 she graduated with honor from Chowan Baptist Female Institute. She had a special talent for teaching and taught several years in Wake, Warren and Hyde. In her youth she refused to participate in amusements that seemed to have even the appearance of evil, and thus she lived a singularly pure and consistent Christian life, daily exemplifying "the power of an endless life." She was a source of continual joy to her parents and brothers and sisters, to her beloved husband she was all that the most loving and faithful wife could be, devoted to her children and true to her many friends.
